EXHIBITIONISM

A peek at what's showing around town

Crystal Worl: Bear Man, painting. The Visual Arts Gallery at the Santa Fe Community College (6401 Richards Ave., 505-428-1501) presents Gray, Matters: An Exhibition of Contemporary Native American Art and Design. It is the gallery's inaugural show in a series of exhibits focusing on Native American artists in the Santa Fe area and includes work by Sam Haozous, Pilar Agoyo, and Frank Buffalo Hyde. The reception is Thursday, March 27, at 5 p.m. A free panel discussion with the artists and curator David Gaussoin, moderated by Rod Lambert, director of the Community Gallery, takes place in room 711 of SFCC's Fine Arts Center on April 3 at 1 p.m.

Todd Ryan White: A Game Of Thrones: Wolf Dream, 2014, ink on paper. Mortal Mirrors is an exhibit of works on paper by Todd Ryan White that are inspired by author George R.R. Martin's fantasy series A Song of Ice and Fire. White infuses his artwork with symbolic references and characters derived from Martin's novels. The reception is at 4 p.m. on Friday, March 21, at the Jean Cocteau Cinema (418 Montezuma Ave.) at 4 p.m. Limited-edition screen prints are available for purchase during the run of the show. Call 505-466-5528.

Eddie Adams: Muhammad Ali, undated, archival Epson print. When Cool Was King, an exhibition of photographs from the 1950s and 1960s, continues at Monroe Gallery of Photography (112 Don Gaspar Ave.) through April 20. The show includes images of Andy Warhol, Frank Sinatra, Marlon Brando, and other celebrities by photographers such as Steve Shapiro, Richard C. Miller, and Bill Ray. Their pictures helped define what was cool for a generation. Call 505-992-0800.

Helen Maringer: Study With Hands 3, 2011, cyanotype on handkerchief. An exhibition of images by alumni of the photography department at the Santa Fe University of Art and Design continues through March 30. The show includes works by Helen Maringer, Cliff Shapiro, and Thea Rose Light. The exhibition is at the university's Fogelson Library (1600 St. Michael's Drive); a closing reception is scheduled for Thursday, March 27, at 5 p.m. Call 505-473-6569.

Jonathan Sobol: Sloucher, 2014, ink on aluminum. Wilder Nightingale Fine Art (119 Kit Carson Road, Taos) presents The Fringes of Beauty: Celebration of the Infinite, an exhibit of grotesque portraits by Jonathan Sobol. Sobol's works include monstrous figures such as werewolves and ogres as well as people. The imagery in his Grotesque series expresses a range of feelings and emotions and is rendered in vibrant colors using an iPad paint application. The show opens with a 5 p.m. reception on Saturday, March 22. Call 575-758-3255.
