state championships.

A large throng of Smith's family and friends cheered the stoic coach, with four or five waving their Peabody green pom-poms.

At 1,039 wins, Smith is 32 away from surpassing former Southern Lab and Lake Providence coach Joel Hawkins, who has the Louisiana record for wins with 1,071. Having won 30 or more games every year since 2000, it's almost certain Smith can reach that mark late in the 2019-20 season or early in 2020-21.

The sold-out crowd highly anticipated Miles and Manning taking the stage.

But it was former Louisiana Tech quarterback Matt Dunigan decked out in a blue tuxedo who had the large crowd entertained with several funny stories from his days at Tech.

The then 5-foot-9 quarterback from Dallas didn't hesitate when asked why he chose Louisiana Tech with interest from Texas among others.

"(Louisiana Tech assistant coach E.J. Lewis) came for a home visit, and he didn't spit for the entire six hours when he chewed tobacco," Dunigan said. "That was an easy sell."

Dunigan, who broke several of Terry Bradshaw's records, moved with his family from Ohio to Texas when he was younger.

"I credit my family moving down to Texas from Ohio – the Dallas competition was sink or swim. I fought to get on a football field every day, and sometimes I got in two or three fights a day. Well we would get detentions but couldn't serve them because of football practice. I had to burn off those detentions, and I would come to practice with my ass bleeding (from spankings)."

As for not playing in the NFL?

"I was vertically challenged," Dunigan said of his height.

Dunigan even brought the Grey Cup to the Natchitoches Event Center. The CFL Hall of Famer won two Grey Cups.

One of the delightful inductees was the 6-foot-2 Danielle Scott, who earned All-America honors and was selected as the National Player of the Year in 1993 after leading Long Beach State to an NCAA title.

A year later, Scott joined the USA Volleyball national team and remained on the top U.S. team for 20 years. She played in the Olympics from 1996 to 2012. She helped lead the USA to its first volleyball medals since 1992 in 2008 and 2012, while, in between, becoming a mother.

"If it was up to my dad, I would be trying out again this year," Scott said with a laugh.

But it was a more serious moment when Scott, who regularly speaks against domestic violence.

Last November, Scott's sister Stefanie died as the result of a domestic attack by her estranged husband. Scott herself was hospitalized for stab wounds suffered while defending her sister.

USA Volleyball created a Courage Award and presented it to Scott at its Hall of Fame induction held May 22 in Columbus, Ohio.

After months of physical therapy, Scott returned to the court as a player-coach in the USA Volleyball Open Division championship.

"My mom built a strong Christian foundation as a woman of God and integrity," Scott said. "Knowing who I am in Christ and knowing what the word says and His promises for me helped me in my career and to deal with circumstances that seem unfathomable.

"I lost my sister in an attack that landed me in the hospital. When I was unable to pray for myself, there were so many who were praying for me, and I had an overwhelming sense of comfort and peace."

But leave it to my close friend Teddy Allen, the moderator on the night, to lighten the mood when Scott walked off the stage.

"Hey Danielle, our church volleyball team just lost our spiker if you are looking for a church home," Allen said. "Think about and it pray about it and then let me know."

Allen, who has his own website, Designated Writers, works alongside Tech broadcasting great Dave Nitz, who was inducted Saturday night, and has written countless columns for state newspapers.

Allen wrote one of the funniest columns I have ever read years ago about his night in the Waterproof High press box covering a game, talking about the P.A. announcer chugging on a bottle of Jack Daniels during the game and relieving himself in the corner of the press box.

Allen kept the flow going Saturday night, although it was tough at times with a live broadcast, and was spot on with his remarks and jokes.

But, as I said, the sold out crowd had a lot to do with inductees Miles and Manning.

Miles took the stage to a thunderous applause and delivered. Yes, there were Les moments.

He seemed lost in his stories a couple of times.

Miles, who was "forced" to lead a clapping tutorial in which one's "hands don't sustain injury," asked if former Tennessee coach Phil Fulmer "was out there," and jokingly said "I'm coming after you" in reference to Tennessee's Monday night win in Tiger Stadium after Hurricane Katrina hit in 2005.

Peyton enjoyed the playful quips.

After a loss to Tennessee, Miles said his daughter, Kathryn "Smacker" Miles had a classmate walk up to her and tell her his dad said he could call plays better than her dad.

"Smacker said tell your dad that I can shake you like a rag doll," Miles said.

I glanced over at the Miles table and Smacker was laughing and holding her face down in her hands.

Surely she has to be used to that.

Rollins then asked Miles to show the crowd his famous clap so they could send him off in that way.

Miles looked up and pointed at Peyton who was doing the clap.

"Stop," Miles to Rollins as he could not contain his laughter. It was practically a silent laugh (only Miles) and he looked like he couldn't breathe and certainly could not continue talking.

When Miles took his seat Allen commented that the former LSU coach is a "Carol Burnett skit all in one."

Peyton talked about the popular documentary "The Book of Manning,"about his family that showed Peyton crying several times while playing ball outside with Cooper and his friends.

"It was a good documentary on my dad and how he was a wonderful father," Peyton said. "I think they showed a few too many crying videos.

Peyton looked at his dad in the audience and said, "You think at what point do you stop filming your 3-year old son getting kicked in the head by his older brother? Maybe you should go and help the kid. They never mentioned that here's 3-year-old Peyton playing against a bunch of 8-year-olds."

Manning said throwing passes to his brother Cooper as a high school sophomore topped the list.

"We would play on the Superdome turf while Dad was doing interviews as kids, and that season in high school was the best," Manning said. "I had 120 completions that year, and 90 were to Cooper. Some of our teammates didn't like that, but Cooper was the was the best player."

But this night was all about Max Fugler.

For the first time since 2010 I will not be writing a column about Fugler being snubbed by the state Hall of Fame.

But LSHOF officials made up for that in a big way Saturday night.

Max Fugler is a member of the Louisiana Sports Hall of Fame.

Congrats, my friend.

The Water We Drink

MONTEREY RURAL WATER SYSTEM INC
Public Water Supply ID: LA1029007

We are pleased to present to you the Annual Water Quality Report for the year 2018. This report is designed to inform you about the quality of your water and services we deliver to you every day (Este informe contiene información muy importante sobre su agua potable. Tradúzcalo o hable con alguien que lo entienda bien). Our constant goal is to provide you with a safe and dependable supply of drinking water. We want you to understand the efforts we make to continually improve the water treatment process and protect our water resources. We are committed to ensuring the quality of your water.
Our water source(s) are listed below:

Source Name	Source Water Type
WELL 4	Ground Water
WELL 1 WEST YARD	Ground Water
WELL 3 NEW	Ground Water

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity. Contaminants that may be present in source water include:

Microbial Contaminants - such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife.

Inorganic Contaminants - such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial, or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.

Pesticides and Herbicides - which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban stormwater runoff, and residential uses.

Organic Chemical Contaminants – including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff, and septic systems.

Radioactive Contaminants – which can be naturally-occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

A Source Water Assessment Plan (SWAP) is now available from our office. This plan is an assessment of a delineated area around our listed sources through which contaminants, if present, could migrate and reach our source water. It also includes an inventory of potential sources of contamination within the delineated area, and a determination of the water supply's susceptibility to contamination by the identified potential sources. According to the Source Water Assessment Plan, our water system had a susceptibility rating of 'MEDIUM'. If you would like to review the Source Water Assessment Plan, please feel free to contact our office.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations which limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. Food and Drug Administration regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health. We want our valued customers to be informed about their water utility. If you have any questions about this report, want to attend any scheduled meetings, or simply want to learn more about your drinking water, please contact MILTON SANDERS at 318-386-2232.

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. MONTEREY RURAL WATER SYSTEM INC is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead.

The Louisiana Department of Health and Hospitals - Office of Public Health routinely monitors for constituents in your drinking water according to Federal and State laws. The tables that follow show the results of our monitoring during the period of January 1st to December 31st, 2018. Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk.

In the tables below, you will find many terms and abbreviations you might not be familiar with. To help you better understand these terms, we've provided the following definitions:

Parts per million (ppm) or Milligrams per liter (mg/L) – one part per million corresponds to one minute in two years or a single penny in $10,000.

Parts per billion (ppb) or Micrograms per liter (ug/L) – one part per billion corresponds to one minute in 2,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000.

Picocuries per liter (pCi/L) – picocuries per liter is a measure of the radioactivity in water.

Treatment Technique (TT) – an enforceable procedure or level of technological performance which public water systems must follow to ensure control of a contaminant.

Action level (AL) – the concentration of a contaminant that, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements that a water system must follow.

Maximum contaminant level (MCL) – the "Maximum Allowed" MCL is the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCL's are set as close to the MCLG's as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum contaminant level goal (MCLG) – the "Goal" is the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to human health. MCLG's allow for a margin of safety.

Maximum residual disinfectant level (MRDL) – The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.

Maximum residual disinfectant level goal (MRDLG) – The level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.

Level 1 assessment – A study of the water system to identify potential problems and determine (if possible) why total coliform bacteria have been found in our water system.

Level 2 Assessment – A very detailed study of the water system to identify potential problems and determine (if possible) why an E. coli MCL violation has occurred and/or why total coliform bacteria have been found in our water system on multiple occasions.

During the period covered by this report we had the below noted violations.

Compliance Period	Analyte	Type
No Violations Occurred in the Calendar Year of 2018

Our water system tested a minimum of 6 samples per month in accordance with the Total Coliform Rule for microbiological contaminants. With the microbiological samples collected, the water system collects disinfectant residuals to ensure control of microbial growth.

Disinfectant	Date	Highest RAA	Unit	Range	MRDL	MRDLG	Typical Source
	2018		ppm		4	4	Water additive used to control microbes

In the tables below, we have shown the regulated contaminants that were detected. Chemical Sampling of our drinking water may not be required on an annual basis; therefore, information provided in this table refers back to the latest year of chemical sampling results.

Regulated Contaminants	Collection Date	Highest Value	Range	Unit	MCL	MCLG	Typical Source
BARIUM	8/1/2018	0.11	0.11	ppm	2	2	Discharge of drilling wastes; Discharge from metal refineries; Erosion of natural deposits

++++++++++++++Environmental Protection Agency Required Health Effects Language++++++++++++++
Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800–426–4791).

Additional Required Health Effects Language:

Coliforms are bacteria that are naturally present in the environment and are used as an indicator that other, potentially-harmful, bacteria may be present. Coliforms were found in more samples than allowed and this was a warning of potential problems.

Some people who drink water containing radium 226 or 228 in excess of the MCL over many years may have an increased risk of getting cancer.

Some people who drink water containing trihalomethanes in excess of the MCL over many years may experience problems with their liver, kidneys, or central nervous systems, and may have an increased risk of getting cancer.

There are no additional required health effects violation notices.
