SANTA ARRIVES BY TUGBOAT AS MYSTIC CELEBRATES THE START OF THE HOLIDAY SEASON

Holiday traditions meet maritime charm in Downtown Mystic on Saturday, November 28, as Santa Arrives by Tugboat and the 22nd Annual Lighted Boat Parade bring a full day of festivities to the waterfront.

Held on Shop Small Saturday, these events invite families and visitors to enjoy downtown shops, browse an artisan market and gather along the Mystic River for a memorable start to the holiday season.

The festivities begin with an artisan market on Cottrell Street from 11 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Visitors can browse the market and explore nearby businesses as they get a head start on holiday shopping.

At 2 p.m., all eyes turn to the river as Santa Claus makes his grand entrance aboard Cross Sound Ferry's tugboat, the John Paul. Crowds will welcome him to Mystic River Park, where kids can spend time with Santa beside the Christmas tree and share their holiday wishes.

Families can look forward to photo opportunities with Santa, Christmas-themed items, carolers and a few surprises. With the river as a backdrop, Santa's arrival offers a distinctly Mystic twist on a familiar holiday tradition.

The celebration continues into the evening. At 6 p.m., the community will gather in Mystic River Park for the official lighting of the Christmas tree, marking the start of the 2026 Christmas season.

The 22nd Annual Lighted Boat Parade begins at 6:15 p.m., with spectators lining both sides of the Mystic River to watch decorated vessels pass by. Holiday lights and creative displays transform the boats into a moving waterfront celebration.

Participation in the parade is open to the public. Boaters who would like to showcase their vessels can register at www.gomystic.org

Boats will be judged on creativity and team spirit, with prizes awarded in five categories: Most Charismatic Crew, Innovative Vessel, Best Dressed Vessel, Most Holiday Spirit and Miss Mystic Vessel of Grandeur.

For those seeking a dedicated viewing area, a VIP event will take place on the riverside of the Mystic Museum of Art. Guests will have access to a clear view of the parade, food and heaters to help keep them warm. Each adult VIP ticket includes one bar drink. Tickets available at www.gomystic.org

Whether visitors come to greet Santa, shop downtown or watch the river light up, the day brings together the traditions that make the holidays in Mystic special.

A PERFECT PLACE TO SAY "I DO" restaurants, photographers, florists, entertainers, salons, jewelers, transportation providers, and other vendors who understand what makes a wedding memorable.

A wedding in Greater Mystic can become much more than a single-day celebration. Couples can welcome guests with dinner overlooking the water, plan a morning of shopping or sightseeing, or even go on a private cruise or wine tasting excursion. Guests can explore historic attractions, local restaurants, museums, vineyards, shops, entertainment, and outdoor experiences. The wedding may bring them here, but the region gives them plenty of reasons to extend their stay.

One of the first and most important wedding decisions is choosing the venue. Greater Mystic offers settings for nearly every style, guest count, and season.

The Haley Mansion at the Inn at Mystic offers a classic setting filled with historic character and sweeping views. Stone Acres Farm combines beautiful gardens and natural surroundings with an atmosphere that feels both elegant and inviting. Overlooking Long Island Sound at UConn Avery Point, the historic Branford House provides a setting for a coastal celebration. Couples can also exchange vows surrounded by the scenery of Saltwater Farm Vineyard, Jonathan Edwards Winery, or Stonington Vineyards, or celebrate among the art, gardens, and history of the Florence Griswold Museum.

For couples seeking event space, accommodations, and guest services in one location, the Mystic Marriott Hotel & Spa, Hilton Mystic, and Delamar Mystic offer convenient options for the entire wedding weekend. Great Wolf Lodge New England can accommodate larger gatherings and family-centered celebrations, while nearby Foxwoods Resort Casino and Mohegan Sun provide additional lodging, dining, entertainment, and event options.

Transportation can also be arranged through Joshua's Worldwide, which offers airport pickups, guest transportation, party buses, and limousines. From welcoming out-of-town guests to ensuring everyone arrives safely at the celebration, its team can help keep the wedding weekend moving smoothly.

Food is one of the most anticipated parts of any wedding, and the Greater Mystic region has earned a strong reputation for its exceptional culinary scene. Chamber members such as Gourmet Galley Catering, A Thyme to Cook, and 85th Day Food Community can help couples create a memorable menu and dining experience. Many local restaurants also offer private spaces for rehearsal dinners, welcome gatherings, farewell brunches, and other wedding celebrations.

One of the best parts of hosting a wedding in Greater Mystic is the opportunity to incorporate local character into the celebration.

Couples can also create memorable guest experiences around the wedding itself. A private cruise, group aquarium visit, museum outing, wine tasting, or downtown shopping itinerary gives friends and family more time to connect. These activities are especially helpful when guests arrive before the wedding or stay through the following day.

A wedding is more than a ceremony and reception. It is a collection of moments shared with the people who matter most. At the Greater Mystic Chamber of Commerce, we are proud of the businesses and professionals who make this region such an exceptional wedding destination. Our members bring experience, creativity, hospitality, and genuine care to every celebration they support.

Hobart & Co

Since 2009, Hobart & Company has cared for homes through painting and restoration, with close attention to the people who live inside them. Founded and led by Justin Hobart, the company brings deep experience with historic properties, complex surfaces, custom color, and the details that decide whether a finished space truly feels right.

The work is personal. Justin and her crew listen, explain their process, and include clients in the decisions that matter. They bring the same care to the relationship that they bring to the house. That's why clients trust them with more than paint: restoration questions, and introductions to skilled local tradespeople.

Hobart & Company is also the craft behind HUE, Justin's color design practice, accessible to every client who hires them. The company takes pride in its clients, in their homes, and in the proper steps that lead to a fine finish. The intention and responsibility Hobart & Company feels toward a client's home is always revealed in the finishes. As Justin says: "Your home is our home while we're here."

Hue

When we walk into our homes, we need to exhale. Color has the ability to do just that.

HUE is the color design practice of Justin Hobart, owner of Hobart & Company, painting contractors for 17 years. Justin creates color palettes for people based on who they are: the stories they carry, the light they live in, what has to stay, and how they want to feel every day. When the right color doesn't exist, she makes it.

Her work grew from a lifelong interest in how our surroundings shape us, and from years of working one-on-one with people in their homes. She has seen how the right color can change the way a space feels to the people who live in it.

HUE creates palettes for homes, offices, and buildings, from a single room to a larger design project, wherever you are. Every project begins with the same question: how do you want to feel?

Based in Mystic, Connecticut, HUE is rooted in the historic homes and coastal light of southeastern New England. To learn more, visit huebyjhobart.com or follow HUE on Instagram at @hue_byjhobart.

333 Long Hill Road, Groton, CT 06340

A&Y Coastal Collective is a locally owned bamboo clothing brand founded by Ana Aiello, a Connecticut mom of twins who believes everyone deserves a little luxury in life. Its beautiful showroom is located right in Groton, downstairs from Baby Go Round.

Inspired by her family and a love of coastal New England, Ana created A&Y to bring together softness, quality, and affordability. As a mom raising children with sensory needs, she understands how comfortable clothing—with no itchy tags—can make a huge difference in the morning dressing routine.

The collection features buttery-soft, breathable bamboo fabric with a substantial feel, original coastal-inspired prints, and classic details. Styles include baby rompers, pajamas, and twirl dresses, with sizes ranging from newborn through age eight across the collection.

A&Y's original prints celebrate coastal charm and childhood wonder, creating pieces that feel special while remaining practical for everyday adventures. Each design reflects Ana's love for families and the coastal community she calls home.

A&Y Coastal Collective is excited to join the Greater Mystic Chamber of Commerce, connect with neighboring businesses, and share its one-of-a-kind designs with more local families.
