A peek at what's showing around town

Rumi Vesselinova: Pizote and Collarito, 2013, photograph. Catenary Art Gallery (616 ½ Canyon Road) celebrates its grand opening with a group show that includes photographs from Rumi Vesselinova's series Ever After, wearable art from Margarita Mileva's Upcycled Media Project, paintings by Miro Kenarov, and ceramic and glassworks by Maria Kenarova. The reception is on Friday, March 28, at 5 p.m. Call 505-982-2700.

Michael Peralta: Girl With Pomegranate, 2014, bronze. Beals and Co. presents a pop-up show and art demonstration at a historic Santa Fe home at 429 Sandoval St. The open house is a joint project between Beals and Santa Fe Realtor Richard Anderson. The event includes work by artists represented by Bobby Beals. There will be a demonstration by sculptor Michael Peralta, and painter Kiki Martinez will be on hand to discuss her equine-based art. Axle Contemporary's mobile gallery is parked outside the home during the open house, and viewers can see its current exhibition Excavations, an installation by Laurie Ann Larimer. The open house starts at 5 p.m. on Friday, March 28. Contact Beals and Co. at 505-577-5911 for more information.

Patrick Nagatani: Christine Banfield in Flight, 2013, archival digital print. Outer/Inner: Contemplation on the Physical and the Spiritual, an exhibition of works in photography and mixed media by Patrick Nagatani, continues at Andrew Smith Gallery Annex (203 W. San Francisco Street) through April. The show includes selections from Nagatani's Tape-estries and Novellas series and prints based on characters from his novel The Race, a work in progress. Call 505-984-1234.

David Hoptman: Sculpted Vessel Green Triangle, 2001, cast bronze. Chiaroscuro Contemporary Art ushers in the season with Spring Thaw, a show of works by New Mexico-based artists Jamie Hamilton, David Hoptman, Carl Moore, and Leah Siegal. This year's annual exhibit focuses on underrepresented artists who work in a variety of mediums including sculpture, photography, and mixed media. The opening reception is on Friday, March 28, at 5 p.m. The gallery is at 702 ½ Canyon Road. Call 505-992-0711.

Lucy Lyon: Sandy Hook Memorial, 2014, cast glass, stained glass, bronze, and powder coated-aluminum. LewAllen Galleries (1613 Paseo de Peralta) presents a memorial sculpture by glass artist Lucy Lyon that commemorates the shooting at an elementary school in Newtown, Connecticut. Sandy Hook Memorial depicts in miniature a school library with empty chairs. Etched into the base is the date "December 14, 2012," the day of the massacre that took the lives of 20 children and six adults. There is a 5 p.m. opening reception on Friday, March 28. Call 505-988-3250.
