EXHIBITIONISM

A peek at what's showing around town

Rita Bernstein: Journey, 2009, photograph on handmade paper with beeswax and oil paint. Verve Gallery of Photography (219 E. Marcy St.) presents a retrospective exhibition of photography by artists featured in Diffusion, an independent Portland, Oregon-based annual that celebrates unconventional photographic processes and artwork. The exhibit Diffusion: A Five Year Retrospective includes work by Don Anton, Polly Chandler, and Tina Maas. There is a 5 p.m. reception on Friday, March 7, and a gallery talk at 2 p.m. on Saturday, March 8. Call 505-982-5009.

Patricia Pearce: Borrowed Dimension, 2014, mixed media. Vivo Contemporary's Awakening Image celebrates the arrival of spring with gallery artists Paul Biagi, Ilse Bolle, Joy Campbell, and others who work in a variety of media including book art, printmaking, sculpture, and collage. The opening reception is on Friday, March 7, at 5 p.m. The gallery is at 725 Canyon Road. Call 505-982-1320.

John Tollett: Blowing Kisses, 2014, charcoal and pastel on paper.

Argos Studio/Gallery and Santa Fe Etching Club (1211 Luisa St.) presents Skin Deep, an exhibition of live-model works by members of Argos' Tuesday-night drawing group, which has been active since it was started by artist Eli Levin in 1969. There is an opening reception at 6 p.m. on Friday, March 7. Call 505-988-1814.

Paul Caponigro: Seaside Treasures, Cushing, Maine, 2013, photograph.

Paul Caponigro: Old and New features a selection of work by the American photographer ranging from the 1960s to the present. The show includes Caponigro's mystical landscapes, architectural photographs, and still-lives that reflect his ongoing interest in natural forms. The exhibit is on view through March 14 at Andrew Smith Gallery (122 Grant Ave.). Call 505-984-1234.

William Haskell: Divide, 2013, acrylic. Manitou Galleries (123 W. Palace Ave.) presents a group show of New Mexico landscape painters. It includes work by Fran Larsen, Harry Greene, and William Haskell and features a selection of paintings by Douglas Aagard, whose landscapes are rendered in rich colors and bathed in light. "I have found that my work has a more dimensional feel or depth when painted with a knife, and often times the texture is more fun than the composition," he writes. The show opens with a 5 p.m. reception on Friday, March 7. Call 505-986-0440.
