WALK

“It’s a very heartwarming event because it’s volunteers, it’s families, it’s supporters of those with Alzheimer’s,” said Terry Sandvold, co-chair of the team recruitment committee for the Twin Cities Walk to End Alzheimer’s and a member of the Alzheimer’s Association Minnesota-North Dakota Chapter’s board of directors. Booths with information and resources for people with Alzheimer’s or dementia and their families will also be part of the event, which drew about 8,000 participants last year, and organizers hope will draw close to 10,000 this year.

‘PIRATES OF HARRISON BAY’

The area’s first-ever, large-scale theater production starring seniors with memory loss, Alzheimer’s disease and related dementias, ‘Pirates of Harrison Bay,’ will take place at a public performance at 1 p.m. Tuesday, September 29 at the Old Log Theatre, 5185 Meadville St., Excelsior. The event is free and open to the public.

Written by Minneapolis-based playwright J.B. Eckert, ‘Pirates’ is a radio drama-format play about the importance of imagination and friendship in a world of smartphones and stressed-out parents.

The actors, singers and chamber musicians are participants in Sojourn Adult Day Services, a Mound-based provider of artistic and therapeutic activities for seniors and adults with special needs. Eckert, a radio and TV broadcaster who has directed theater productions at the Bloomington Theatre and Art Center and Minneapolis Theater Garage, wrote the original drama expressly for the Sojourn troupe.

Minnetonka’s Harrison Bay, the family-friendly story traces the relationship between an overprotected boy and a lonesome retiree. Singers and shadow puppetry bring their imaginations to life, as a merry band of magical pirates close in on them.

Sojourn owner Sally Hebson, who operates eight residential care suites in the Lake Minnetonka area, has been on the forefront of senior care issues since founding Sojourn in 1984. “In all my years as a health care professional, I know of no other artistic and community performance like this,” said Hebson. “We’re extremely proud to be part of this ground-breaking production that proves age and disabilities are no barrier to creativity, energy and talent.”

The all-volunteer production team includes assistance from Old Log Theatre staff and owners Greg and Marissa Frankenfield who donated the use of their 561-seat state-of-the-art auditorium and

A public reception will follow the performance.

ALZHEIMER’S FRIENDLY BUSINESS PROGRAM ADDRESSES ISOLATION

Home Instead Senior Care of Minneapolis is launching a new campaign designed to make the community more Alzheimer’s friendly. Through the Alzheimer’s Friendly Business program, the Home Instead office will provide free training to local businesses to help equip employees with information and resources needed to welcome families who are caring for a loved one with Alzheimer’s disease.

In a recent survey cited by Home Instead of Alzheimer’s caregivers, 74 percent reported that they and their loved ones have become more isolated from the community as a result of the disease. Furthermore, 85 percent reported that they feel a reduced quality of life due to isolation.

“For many caregivers, the unpredictable nature of the disease can make going out in public with their loved one intimidating,” said John Stuck, owner of the Home Instead office serving Minneapolis and the western suburbs. “Our research shows that family caregivers might be reluctant to frequent public places because of the behaviors that could be associated with the disease.”

“Given the statistics, most businesses that deal with the public will be serving people with Alzheimer’s and their families,” said Stuck. “It’s critical that local businesses start working now to build Alzheimer’s friendly communities to better serve their customers with Alzheimer’s and other dementias.”

Local businesses can work directly with the local Home Instead office to coordinate an in-person training. An interactive, online version of the training also is available at AlzheimersFriendlyBusiness.com. Once the training is successfully completed, businesses will receive a window cling with the Alzheimer’s Friendly Business designation. The designation will be valid for two years.
