'Melba' returns to the stage today, Saturday

July 17 — 23, 2015

'Melba' is the talk of the town

Musical on stage today, Saturday at Venango College

"Melba, The Toast of Pithole" is coming to town — Oil City to be more precise. Melba, along with some Oil Valley characters from Pithole will entertain audience members at 7:30 p.m. today and Saturday in the Rhoades Auditorium of Venango College.

Community Playhouse, Inc., members will reprise their signature theatrical production, "Melba, The Toast of Pithole," featuring a cast of legendary figures from the pages of the region's celebrated oil history.

It has been six years since "Melba" was previously staged in conjunction with the Oil Heritage Festival in 2009. CPI is shaking the dust off Melba's boas and firing-up Granny's wood stove as they return "Melba" to the stage this weekend.

Directed by the husband-and-wife team of Bill and Fay Trimble and produced by CPI president Deb Mitchell with assistance from the board of directors, "Melba" is a musical melodrama that welcomes participation from the audience.

About the show: Cindy Jarzab, a member of the CPI board, will use cue cards to buoy audience members in cheering the hero, Danny Sweetapple (David Zlotnicki) and booing the villain, Ben Hogan, (Ben Bodamer). This humorous, heartwarming play tells the story of Widow Miller, more affectionately known as Granny, (Joyce Dittman) and her oil rich farm land. Little Bertha, (played by Jenna Ronchi) has lived with Granny for 16 years, ever since Granny found Little Bertha, an abandoned waif, on her doorstep one day during the coldest winter Pithole had seen in years. Since Granny had lost her beloved husband, Old George, Little Bertha's arrival filled an empty void in Granny's heart. To show her love for Little Bertha, Granny tells her neighbor, the pipe smoking Mrs. O'Day, (Jeannine Guth) that she plans to bequeath her farm to Little Bertha. But those plans go awry when conniving, swindling Ben Hogan presents Granny with mortgage foreclosure papers to sign. Who can save Granny and her farm from the "wickedest man in all the world?" An unsolicited visit to the humble, morally strong Granny by that sinful woman from Ben Hogan's Sporting Palace, Melba (Deb Hardy), the Toast of Pithole, sparks a surprising twist to the plot. Melba, who harbors in her heart a very sad and haunting secret from the past, promises Granny and Little Bertha that she will come to help them if they ever need her. But beating Ben Hogan at his devious, deceitful schemes takes a number of tangled turns and tumbles before an exciting climax has the audience jeering Ben, cheering Granny, Danny and Little Bertha, and endearing

Melba as the most memorable and fondly admired character in oil heritage folklore.

Jessica McFadden will provide piano accompaniment for the production.

Other production staff members include:

Set construction — Dick Swartzlander, Joe Gerzina, Roger Baker, Terry Bussard, Dave Guth and Bob Monroe on set construction

Set dressing — Fay Trimble

Stage manager — Tammy Schwab

State crew — Tammy Schwab, Joe Gerzina, Mary Jane Bussard and Ron Farrell. Props — Tammy Schwab and Mary Jane Bussard

Costumes — Patti Fryman

Make-up — Fay Trimble

Sound — Dave Weaver

Lighting — Gary Dittman

Programs — Joyce Dittman

Billboards — Judy Reynolds and Dick Swartzlander

Publicity — Dave Heath, Deb Mitchell and Cindy Jarzab

Reservations — Kate Newman

Box Office — Gary and Tammy Botts and Jim and Patti Fryman

Greeters — Sherri Emrick and Rina Anderson

CPI information table — Mary Lee Riley and Bell O'Neil.

Tickets are $12. Community Playhouse patrons and members are admitted for free. Due to the popularity of the show, admissions will begin at 6:30 p.m. and continue until seating capacity of the auditorium is reached. Those who make advance reservations will have guaranteed seating.

Because this melodrama occasionally exposes the dark and seedy underside of the oil era in Pithole during the mid-1800s, parental guidance is advised in regard to admitting children to this show.

About the cover ...

Little Bertha (Jenna Ronchi), Danny Sweetapple (David Zlotnicki), Melba (Deb Hardy) and Granny (Joyce Dittman) dream about the money they will get from outsmarting Ben Hogan in a scene from the Community Playhouse's production of "Melba, The Toast of Pithole."

Vintage baseball game scheduled July 26

Drake Well Museum and Park, along with Friends of Drake Well, will present a vintage baseball game and ice cream social as part of the 150th anniversary of Pithole on Sunday, July 26, at Pithole. The event will begin at noon with opening pitch set for 1 p.m.

The baseball game will pit two established teams — the Frosty Sons of Thunder of Somerset and the Pittsburgh Franklins. Players from both teams will wear 1860s-style uniforms and the game will be played using the rules from that time period.

The Frosty Sons of Thunder Base Ball Club is comprised of a group from the Laurel Highlands area of western Pennsylvania.

The Pittsburgh Franklins are another team made up of vintage baseball enthusiasts who follow the rules that were commonly used during the 1860s, a period of time when the game first became consistently ruled and played, but shortly before the game became a profession.

The players were competitive, the competition was fierce, but honor prevented one's aggressive side from becoming disgracing his name.

In addition, the Wildcat Regiment Band, a Civil War re-enactment band, will perform on the lawn above the baseball field at noon and also provide atmosphere music during the game.

Tickets for the event are $8 for adults and $5 for youths and will be available at the gate.

Museum to host tea party

The Venango Museum of Art, Science and Industry in Oil City is accepting reservations for its tea party. The party will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday, July 22, at the museum.

Pat Young will speak about her quilt that she made regarding the Underground Railroad signs.

Gary Dittman will provide music for the party and refreshments will be served.

Cost is $5 and reservations are requested but not required.

More information is available and registration can be made by calling the museum at 676-2007.

Knox theater group to present musical

COOK FOREST — The Knox Community Theatre, Act I, will present "Something's Afoot" at 8 p.m. Friday through Sunday, July 22-25, at the Sawmill center's Verna Leith Theatre.

About the show: A zany, entertaining musical that takes a satirical poke at Agatha Christie mysteries and musical styles of the English music hall in the 1930s, the tale is set at Lord Rancour's isolated country estate. During a raging thunderstorm, 10 people are stranded on an island, where one by one they're picked off by cleverly fiendish devices. As the bodies pile up in the library, the survivors frantically race to uncover the identity and motivation of the cunning culprit.

Directed by Rae Saver (Lettie), the cast includes John Greenawalt (Flint), Laura Blake (Tweed), Clark Wise (the Colonel), Beth Saylor (Grace), Liz Saver (Hope), Claire Saylor (the Doctor), Eli Busch (Clive), Adam Pastorik (Nigel), and Jonah Landfried (Geoffrey), who assume they are invited to enjoy a quiet weekend in the country.

The ensuing mayhem builds to a surprising conclusion.

Tickets are $15 and are available by calling (814) 927-5275.

Music on the Square concert

The second Music on the Square concert is scheduled for 7 p.m. today in downtown Oil City featuring members of the local band Constant Distraction.

Constant Distraction frontman Randy Moorehead and lead guitarist Elliot Grandelis will perform. Constant Distraction was formed in 2012 and has played various venues locally. The band was featured in a Battle of the Bands event in the Pittsburgh area.

Music on the Square performances are free and open to the public. Attendees should take a lawn chair or blanket to sit on. Performances will be held from 7 to 8:30 p.m. on a stage on Sycamore Street, which will be closed to vehicles during the events. The Bill Huber Jr. Trio is scheduled to perform Friday, Aug. 7.

'Shrek the Musical'

"Shrek the Musical" will be presented at 7:30 p.m. today and Saturday and at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Barrow-Civic Theatre. The musical tells the tale of an unlikely hero who finds himself on a life-changing journey alongside a wisecracking donkey and a feisty princess.

The production is based on the Oscar-winning DreamWorks film.

Tickets are $18, $16 and $12 and are available by calling the box office at 437-3440 or online at barrowtheatre.com.

Musical

COOK FOREST — "A Year with Frog and Toad" will be presented at 8 p.m. today and Saturday at the Verna Leith Sawmill Theatre in Cook Forest.

About the show: Based on Arnold Lobel's beloved children's books, "A Year with Frog and Toad" is a whimsical musical that tells the story of two best friends — the cheerful Frog and curmudgeonly Toad. The musical follows Frog and Toad through four seasons, from hibernation to hibernation. Frog and Toad, along with their playful, quirky friends Snail, Turtle, the Birds and more, enact many adventures.

Children and adults alike will enjoy the vignettes of "A Year With Frog and Toad," which feature catchy tunes, funny dialogue and bright, memorable characters.

Tickets for the Sawmill Center performances are $15 and can be purchased www.sawmill.org or by calling (814) 927-5275.

'Melba, the Toast of Pithole'

"Melba, the Toast of Pithole" will be presented at 7:30 p.m. today and Saturday at Rhoades Auditorium of Venango College.

Directed by Fay and Bill Trimble, "Melba, the toast of Pithole" is a melodrama which features a cast of memorable characters from the pages of our legendary oil history. The show encourages and welcomes audience participation in cheering the hero, Danny Sweetapple and booing the villain Ben Hogan as he tries to swindle Granny out of her oil rich farm.

Tickets are $12 and reservations can be made by calling 677-7469 and leaving a message.

David Church in concert July 25 at Barrow

RFDTV's "most requested" country music artist David Church and Terri Lisa Church will perform at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, July 25, at the Barrow-Civic Theatre in Franklin. David Church is the star of RFD-TV's most popular show, "Midwest Country." The Barrow show "Hillbilly & Honky Tonk" will feature some great classic country, popular originals and also a tribute to Hank Williams Sr.

An established Nashville recording artist, Church has produced over eight albums, and is recognized for both originals and classic covers. He is also recognized for his authentic rendition of Hank Williams.

David Church has gained both national and international acclaim. Church, along with his wife, Terri Lisa, have been lighting up the TV sets throughout the U.S. for more than 12 years. Terri Lisa Church is also a recording artist and songwriter. She sings lead and backup vocals.

A strong patriot, he wrote a song called, "The Old Red White & Blue" dedicated to American active duty soldiers and veterans. The song climbed the charts on ReverbNation.com to the top six in the national country charts in just a few days, and stayed for over a week. He also had three additional songs that were in the top 20, "I Don't Live in Lonely Anymore," "Falling," and "A Dime At A Time," a remake of a Dale Reeves song.

Tickets are $29 for the orchestra section and $25 for the main floor admission. Showtime is 7:30 p.m. and the doors open at 7 p.m. Tickets are available by calling 437-3440.

Steam and gas engine show begins today in Saegertown

SAEGERTOWN — The 48th annual summer show of the Pioneer Steam and Gas Engine Society of Northwest Pennsylvania begins today and runs through Sunday at the club grounds located off Exit 154 on Interstate 79 and Route 198 at Saegertown. The event features Allis-Chalmers tractors and equipment and Iowa built engines. The offers a daily parade at 12:30 p.m.; tractor games at 6 p.m. today and Saturday; antique tractor pulls at 2 p.m. Saturday and 1:30 p.m. Sunday; and kiddie tractor pulls at 11 a.m. Saturday. A church service by Dan Schall will be held at 9 a.m. Sunday.

Agricultural demonstrations include an antique rock crusher, working sawmill, machine shop, blacksmith shop, threshing machine and more.

The women's building will feature on-farm butchering and ice harvesting displays.

Musical entertainment and a pioneer pageant will be held in the entertainment barn. Today, the Peterman Family singers perform from 2 to 4 p.m. and Country Blue plays from 7 to 9 p.m. On Saturday, Earth Angels play from 2 to 4 p.m.; the Pine Valley Boys perform from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. and Traditional Country plays from 7 to 9 p.m.

The Pioneer Steam kitchen will be open and other food vendors will be available. A flea market will be held.

Cost is $5 at the gate. More information is available by calling Judy Dengler at (814) 763-5053 or Dave Goodwill at (814) 663-1291.

'Shrek: The Musical' continues this weekend

By Richard Sayer

Brett Sloan applies his make-up for his rendition of Shrek in the basement of the Barrow-Civic Theatre in Franklin where "Shrek: The Musical" is being performed.

Sloan said he's got the make-up down and it takes about an hour. He also said he mimics the Scottish accent that Mike Myers used in his movie portrayal of the cartoon Ogre. "Voices come pretty easily to me," he admitted with broguish laugh.

"Shrek: The Musical" will be presented at 7:30 p.m. today and Saturday and at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Barrow-Civic Theatre.

This Tony Award-winning musical tells the tale of an unlikely hero who finds himself on a life-changing journey alongside a wisecracking donkey and a feisty princess. The production is based on the Oscar-winning DreamWorks film.

Tickets are $18, $16 and $12 and are available by calling the box office at 437-3440 or online at barrowtheatre.com.

Programs scheduled at Oil Creek State Park

Several programs have been scheduled for the coming weeks at Oil Creek State Park. All events are free and open to the public.

■ Kids love animals — 9 to 11 a.m., Wednesday

The program will explore the animals that call Oil Creek State Park home. Participants will look at skins, skulls, live animals in the park and wade in the stream to catch live stream creatures. Those attending should plan on getting wet and muddy. Participants should take a snack, drink and bug spray and meet at the Blood Farm Area. This program is open to children and their parents.

■ Woods Hike to Pioneer Falls — 9 a.m. to noon, Friday, July 24

This hike to Pioneer Falls will help visitors discover how the valley has changed in the past 150 years. Those attending should wear sturdy footwear, take drinks, snacks and bug spray. Participants should meet at the parking area on Pioneer Road. More information and directions are available by calling 676-5915.

■ Plants people use for food, medicine and survival — 10:30 a.m. to noon, Saturday, July 25

This easy walk will include information on the many historic uses of plants that grow in Oil Creek State Park. Participants can meet at the Jersey parking lot near the Drake Well Museum.

■ Intro to birding — 9 a.m. to noon, Saturday, Aug. 1

This program is for the true beginning birder. The program will teach aspiring birders how to use binoculars, set up wildlife attraction areas, observe live birds, and identify the 15 most common birds in the area. Interested persons should meet at the Oil Creek State Park office.

■ Veteran Ventures: Hike Series — 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Saturday, Aug. 8

Participants should meet at the Oil Creek State Park office, 305 State Park Road, Oil City, for a caravan to the Wolfkiel Run Shelter Site. Participants will have the opportunity to explore the shelter area. Participants will then hike approximately five miles on the scenic Girard Trail down to Oil Creek at Pioneer Road where they will shuttle back to their vehicles at the park office. Registration can be made by calling y 676-5915. Participants should take water, a packed lunch, bug spray and wear hiking boots. The program is open to veterans and their friends.

More information on these programs is available by contacting the park office at 676-5915.

Canoeing adventure scheduled in September

The Clarion River Canoeing Adventure will be held Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 26-27. The event is an overnight outdoor interpretive canoeing and camping experience designed for families and friends. Children age 12 years old and up must be with a participating adult. Participants should be in relatively good physical condition. At least one experienced canoeist should be in each boat. Each participant must be able to be comfortable in possibly cold and wet conditions. Appropriate footwear, apparel, utensils and sleeping bags are the participant's responsibility. The Clarion River Canoeing Adventure is hosted by Cook Forest State Park in partnership with Clear Creek State Park.

Weather and water conditions permitting, the activities will include:

- Canoeing, birding, and fishing along the Clarion River from Heath Pump Station to Cook Forest State Park, a 17-mile trip.
- Overnight canoe camping along the river at Clear Creek State Park
- Investigating lumber boom ghost towns and relics along the river
- Enjoyment of local foods

The adventure will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 26 at the Clear Creek State Park Office on Route 949 in Sigel, where participants will gather to be shuttled to Heath Pump Station. The float will conclude at 5 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 27, at Cooksburg where participants will be transported back to Clear Creek.

Transportation throughout the adventure is included in the trip package. Canoes, paddles, flotation devices and tents will be provided. Participants must take their own sleeping bags, utensils, fishing poles and tackle.

Meals provided include Saturday lunch on the river, a buffet dinner Saturday night, Sunday morning breakfast, and a catered lunch on Sunday provided. Snacks and non-alcoholic beverages will be available throughout the weekend.

Overnight canoe camping will be at Clear Creek State Park's new canoe camping area with nearby washroom and shower facility.

The total cost of the Clarion River Canoeing Adventure is $125 per person and is due upon registration. Checks or money orders should be made to Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and sent to Cook Forest State Park. The registration deadline is Sept. 11. Participation will be limited to 16 people. Confirmation will be sent upon receipt of registration.

MUSIC MURDER MAYHEM

Movie Review: 'Minions'

Silly, colorful flick lacks charm of predecessors

The most unlikely of individuals can find where they belong in "Minions," a prequel to the popular "Despicable Me" franchise from directors Kyle Balda and Pierre Coffin that's goofy and colorful, but lacks the spirit of the original. The film follows the Minions — the tiny yellow, banana-loving, gibberish spewing henchmen — as they search for a new, evil boss in the 1960s.

The Minions have always lived to serve the most despicable master alive. In 1968, after decades without guidance, Kevin, Stuart, and Bob — three of the most unlikely candidates — embark on a journey to find a new master and save their tribe from apathy. Their search brings them to Scarlett Overkill voiced by Sandra Bullock, a self-proclaimed mastermind who offers the Minions leadership if they can do one thing for her: Steal the royal crown from England's Queen Elizabeth. But the Minions soon become wrapped in a treacherous plot, and must decide between saving their tribe and doing what is right.

Showing its own origin for the henchmen, "Minions" has mass appeal for children. Propelling what were formerly characters for comedic relief to the center of the narrative, the visuals overflow with vibrant colors, slapstick, and exaggerated jokes. The Minions' cute appearances and antics, blended with jokes for kids and parents, makes them extremely popular.

While some movies for children direct too much double entendre at adults, the Minions as presented are characters not dissimilar from toddlers. Their jokes do not degrade beyond laughing at their exposed yellow bottoms, or youthful squabbles over food or toys. They are beings with very innocent, child-like personalities and world-views, allowing young audiences to identify with them and enjoy the story. Older audiences on the other hand will enjoy the jokes based around 1960's culture.

However, there is only so far that the writers can take a coalition of yellow squabbling gumdrops. Moments such as the Minions' introduction, from evolution through history, feel more like short features from the beginning of another complete film. This suspicion occurs frequently during the rough pacing of the 91-minute runtime. The Minions will do something that starts off silly but soon turns into an annoyance. This forces the writers to introduce new characters to round out the plot.

The key problem is that "Minions" lacks the distinct human element of the previous films. Although characters voiced by Bullock and Michael Keaton are possibly the more enjoyable aspects, they are pushed aside by the Minions who have zero character development. Younger children will surely enjoy the film more than adults; older audiences can appreciate it and laugh, but the story's lesson is not as insightful as its predecessor.

Children and adults may find humor in "Minions," but directors Kyle Balda and Pierre Coffin's film soon becomes tiresome. While the "Despicable Me" films utilized an identifiable, complex hero-antagonist, the Minions overload their own story with juvenile humor and visual gags. The movie provides comedy and entertainment, but loses the spirit that made its parent franchise heart-warming.

My grade: 6 out of 10 stars.
