Position Available

The Antigo Daily Journal, located in northeastern Wisconsin is looking for a full-time editor who is passionate about journalism. Our ideal candidate is a creative and energetic leader who is enthusiastic about their role in the Antigo Community. Our editor is responsible for the organization of both digital and print products, the development of story ideas and meeting established deadlines.

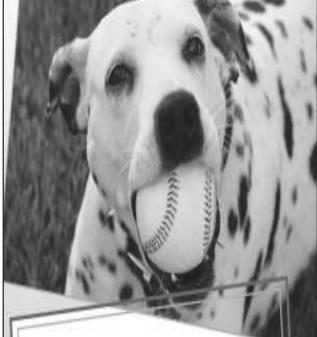

Additional duties include: manage, coach and give assignments to reporters, write stories and update digital platforms alongside our other team members. The successful candidate will be an experienced journalist who can offer fresh ideas to the news department. You must be a self-starter, a leader, and have the ability to become involved in the Antigo Community. The position requires both day and evening hours. Some weekends.

Our benefit package includes access to medical, dental, vision, paid vacations/holidays and more. The Antigo Daily Journal delivers a morning print product three times each week and digital content six days a week. The Antigo Daily Journal is a member of Adams Publishing Group.

To apply, send a resume and cover letter, along with three writing and page design samples to:

> Kathy Springberg, General Manager 612 Superior St., Antigo, WI 54409 or email to kspringberg@eagleherald.com

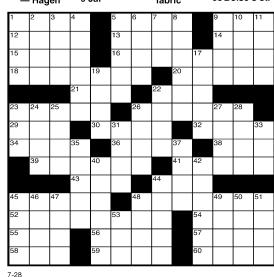

Pete's owners just found the deal of a lifetime and it was so easy. They simply picked up their newspaper, browsed through the Classifieds and there it was: the bigscreen TV they had always wanted. Now Sam can watch the baseball game in style.

The Classifieds... everything you could ever want or need all in one place.
