PUZZLES

SUDOKU High Fives

HOW TO PLAY: Sudoku High Fives consists of five regular Sudoku grids sharing one set of 3-by-3 boxes. Each row, column and set of 3-by-3 boxes must contain the numbers 1 through 9 without repetition. The numbers in any shared set of 3-by-3 boxes apply to each of the individual Sudokus.

PREVIOUS SOLUTION

3	7	1	6	2	5	8	9	4				2	9	4	6	8	1	3	7	5
6	5	8	7	4	9	1	3	2				8	6	7	9	5	3	2	1	4
2	4	9	8	3	1	7	6	5				1	5	3	2	4	7	8	6	ç
7	9	2	1	6	4	3	5	8				6	2	9	5	7	4	1	8	3
8	1	5	3	9	2	6	4	7				7	1	8	3	6	9	5	4	2
4	6	3	5	7	8	2	1	9				4	3	5	1	2	8	6	9	7
1	3	4	2	5	7	9	8	6	7	5	1	3	4	2	7	1	6	9	5	8
5	8	7	9	1	6	4	2	3	6	8	9	5	7	1	8	9	2	4	3	6
9	2	6	4	8	3	5	7	1	2	4	3	9	8	6	4	3	5	7	2	1
						2	1	9	8	7	6	4	3	5	Г
						7	6	8	4	3	5	1	2	9
							5	4	1	9	2	7	6	8
3	1	5	4	6	2	8	9	7	5	2	4	6	1	3	9	2	5	4	8	7
4	9	7	5	1	8	6	3	2	9	1	7	8	5	4	7	6	1	9	3	2
6	8	2	3	9	7	1	4	5	3	6	8	2	9	7	3	8	4	6	1	5
1	4	9	2	3	5	7	6	8				3	8	5	2	4	9	7	6	1
7	2	3	9	8	6	4	5	1				1	2	9	6	7	3	5	4	8
8	5	6	1	7	4	3	2	9				4	7	6	5	1	8	3	2	9
2	7	4	6	5	1	9	8	3				7	6	8	4	9	2	1	5	3
5	3	1	8	4	9	2	7	6				9	3	1	8	5	б	2	7	4
9	6	8	7	2	3	5	1	4				5	4	2	1	3	7	8	9	6

© 2019 JFS/KF -- Dist, by Andrews McMeel for UFS 6-2-19

ACROSS

"Full Frontal With Sa-

Counterpart of "high

Little rapscallions

way" in an mpg rating

Weapon that's thrown

Male buddy, in slang

penetrating notes

Took a chill pill

Danger for coastal ever episode of

Event in nuclear physics

slangily

Reveals

say

Boost

37

41

46

52

55

61

He hosted the second-

'Saturday Night Live'

It "should comfort the disturbed and disturb

according to a saying

Braves' division, briefly Pirouette War loser, usually

Like beer and baking douah 35

Try Sinatra at karaoke,

Member of a South

Fate, in Greek myth

Depiction in Bosch's

'The Garden of Earthly

Like some sheets

Format accommodating

Asian diaspora

poor vision

Requests

Delights'

Presage

"I kid you not!"

Went white

Vittles

Vietnamese soup

For the most part

1972 Bill Withers hit

The miser's daughter in

Molière's "The Miser"

Cuddly-looking bear

They're full of hot air

Fleet-footed

Shoe with lots of holes

A S A S A G A W A R D

the comfortable,

Incompetent sort,

18 Source of some

20 In two pieces

19 İnfiltrator

23

25

27

WORKSPACE: 36× 2÷ 10+ 2÷ CHALLENGING RULES utlined boxes, called cages, must ombine using the given operation in any order) to produce the targel umbers in the top-left corners. Each row and each column must contain the numbers 1 through 4 (easy) or 1 through 6 (challenging) ithout repeating 3 Freebies: Fill in single-box cages with the number in the top-left corner. 2 The numbers within the heavily 7 7 9 3 ε 7 Puzzle Answers 1 3 2 4 ς L ε Þ 7 9 ε L S 7 I S E 9 7 7 7 ε L Þ € 9

by David L. Hoyt I enjoyed watching him at any time of day. DRRAA He worked for Blake LNAIDS DUSBIDE | Clue: Jerry and George Clue: In 2004, TV Guide ranked this person #1 on their list of "25 Greatest NURYOEG Ray B., to Robert B. Sci-Fi Legends." and clue

2 1 2 4

7

ers to 5/26/19

Jumbles: KNIGHT AUTHOR JERSEY FRANCE

"The _____ Show," which aired on ABC for two seasons, was filmed at the Ryman Auditorium in Nashville, Tennessee. 02/19 libure Corter Agency LIC. JOHNNÝ ČASH

Mechanic's overblown advice is 50 years too late

Dear Car Talk: I own a 2013 Chevy Sonic with a turbo engine. I love the car and it gets great gas mileage. I don't drive like a grandma, but I tend to drive a little on the easy side in order to maximize my gas mileage. I get in the upper 30s to lower 40s mpg. My buddy, who is a mechanic, says that I drive my car too gently. He says driving the way I do does not let the engine get hot enough, and I need to periodically "put the pedal to the metal" in order to

"blow out the carbon. He says this is especially true with a turbo engine, as you need to "make the turbo howl" every once in a while.

I know that taking too many short trips can cause problems with the engine not getting hot enough, but most of my trips are in the 15- to 20-mile range. My buddy specializes in hot rod cars from the 1970s and '80s. so I think that is affecting his thinking about today's cars. Is my buddy right? Or are things different now? — Ed Your buddy has his headlight firmly implanted in his taillight socket, Ed. Put your fingers in your ears the next time he starts talking to you.

There is no carbon in engines anymore. Computer controlled engines, like yours, run so efficiently that they really leave no deposits at all to "blow out." The goal of modern engine management is to protect the catalytic converter, minimize emissions and maximize fuel economy. To do that, the engine must burn the fuel as completely as possible, which leaves nothing behind. We almost never see carbon deposits in engines anymore. If we did, they couldn't be "blown out" by driving hard anyway.

As for the turbo, "turbo howl" is something that costs about $1,500 to $2,000 to fix in our shop. That's nonsense, too. The more gently you drive, the longer your engine and turbo will last. Period. So yes, I think your buddy is still living in the 1960s and '70s. And I think he may have been exposed to too much leaded gasoline and exhaust fumes over the years. Set him straight about modern engines the next time you see him, Ed, and keep doing exactly what you're doing.

Australia and drive a 2000 Holden Commodore Executive VX. The car is in great condition for its age, but lately I've been having an issue with the turn signals. When I first start my car for the day, the turn signals work fine.

However, once I drive to work and park the car, the next time I start it up, the turn signals don't work

Dear Car Talk: I live in

BY RAY MAGLIOZZI

at all. It takes about 10 minutes of continuous driving for the turn signals to start working again.

What could be the issue? I'm reluctant to take it to the mechanic. I don't want to fork out a lot of money if it's something I could fix myself. Any advice on what to do would be awesome. Cheers from down under. — Jarrod

Well, I've seen exactly zero Holden Commodores in the shop in the past 30 or 40 years Looking it up online, I see it's a run-of-the-mill, turn-of-the-century GM sedan. The equivalent of an old Chevy Lumina or Oldsmobile Calais. So first, you have my deepest condolences.

It could be something really inexpensive, Jarrod. If you're lucky, it could be the turn signal flasher. The flasher is a little $5 or $10 square or cylindrical thing that plugs in under the dash, and it's responsible for making the turn signals do what? Flash!

So, it's worth taking a trip to your local auto parts store and asking them for a flasher for a 2000 Holden Commodore. Presumably, you'll get a less confused reaction from them than vou did from me. Then, either ask them to show you where it's locat ed with their parts locator chart. or go home and get under the dashboard with a flashlight and look for a part that looks exactly like the one you just bought. When you find it, unplug it and plug in the new one. If that fixes the problem, I imagine you'll be the happiest guy in all of Australia.

If that doesn't fix it, you can return the flasher and get your five bucks back. Then take that money. add a chunk of your last paycheck to it, and drive the car to your mechanic. If it's not the flasher, then it's probably the multifunction switch on the steering column. On a car that's going on 20 years old, you can only imagine how many times that turn signal switch has been turned on and off. It wouldn't surprise me at all if that's what you need. Here in the states, a new multifunction switch will cost you somewhere north of 100 bucks. Or as they say in Australia, somewhere north of 100 bucks.

Got a question about cars? Write to Ray in care of King Features, 628 Virginia Drive, Orlando, FL 32803, or email by visiting the Car Talk website at www.cartalk.com.

YORK TIMES SUNDAY CROSSWORD

HOOK-UPS

By Natan Last / Edited by Will Shortz

- 69 Crash site? 72 Alternative to
- Corinthian First word in many a
- limerick H.H. Munro's pseudonym
- "You've gotta be
- kidding' It may lead to 77
- tax-evasion charges
- Sci-fi subgenre with
- "retrofuturistic"
- technology
- Blabbed
- Widespread unrest
- Shield of Greek myth

- ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE:

ANOMALY OOCYTE

M A M M O T H P

A L A R M K O R E A M A G O A G A W A R D P O T T S

0 C T 0 P

- 107 "Wonder Woman" antagonist 108 Over
- 109 Feature of an old-fashioned swing
 - 110 Peace Nobelist Walesa 111 What the Czech word "ano" means in English, paradoxically

Oscar winner for

'Shakespeare in Love'

Language family that includes Crow and

Rain unsteadily

100 Hot chili designation

102 Not like the odds of, say featuring the madam

104 Title in "Monty Python

and the Holy Grail

Digital world

French toast

103 Steinbeck novel

Dora Flood

106 Comedic actor

Wareheim

- DOWN Gym rat's development
- High pitch, maybe 1984 Steve Perry hit Act overprotectively
- toward Bygone Apple laptop
- Word with boom or
- Ache Acher's lament

Ragtag

- 11 One working on an estate
 - 12 Role for a biology grad student, perhaps
 - Works with numbers One might be thrown from a horse
 - 15 Flotilla of merchant
 - ships 16 Hospital tube
 - 17 Animal with tusks Worker with numbers. for short
 - French fashion icon Does groundbreaking work?
 - The "Aladdin" song "A Whole New World" takes place on one
 - Approx. 1,055 joules Refuses to share What a cake candle often represents
 - Give it up, so to speak Reckless Fencing sword
 - 39 Like "mailman" and "waitress" Clobber Cowboys and Spurs
 - Barbra Streisand album "A Love Like "Uh ... sure
 - Like the central planet in "Dune" Surprised
 - Not 100% Rival of BAL and BOS Gave extra juice

Family business

Tres y tres

58

No. 0526

Actress Petty of "A League of Their Own" 62

- What might get you a 'ladle" drunk'
- Handyperson's inits
- Sushi topper Quaff quickly
- 68 Engineer who coined
- the term "horsepower" Hilton alternative
- 71 Sounds of disappointment
- 73 Larrups Something journalists
- may work on Its wingspan can reach
- Problem usually
- encountered at night Aetna's business: Abbr. 85 Say uncle
- Searched for truffles 86
- maybe Delightful event?
- 88 Stretching or tightening
- muscle Dangling part of a
- 91 Isle named for a Gaelic goddess 92 Shade of black 93 Capital once known as
- Thang Long ("Ascending Dragon" Like some booms Bow-wielding god
- Mini manufacturer 99 Winnow 100 Meter reading 101 Erato's instrument

animation

103 Bit of old-fashioned

YOUR HOROSCOPE

SUNDAY, JUNE 2, 2019 Don't be afraid to go it alone this year. Believe in yourself and what you are capable of doing. Much can be accomplished if you plan and execute what you want to achieve with precision. ARIES (March 21-April 19): Dig up files, information or personal paperwork that will help you make a decision regarding an investment, partnership or settlement that's pending.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Visiting a friend or relative or attending a reunion will bring back memories. A positive change to the way you live looks promising. GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Choose your words wisely. If you are evasive, someone will get the wrong impression, and you'll be left in a sticky situation. CANCER (June 21-July 22): Put your energy to good use. Offer to lend a helping hand or do something constructive. and organize your personal documents or make changes to your home environment. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Put a plan in place, and stick to it. Refuse to let anyone talk you into something you don't need or

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Emotional situations will spin out of control if you don't address matters swiftly. Share your feelings LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Get involved in something that excites you. A seminar, trade show or gathering of like-minded people will encourage you to make positive changes to the way you think. SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): A trip will do you good. Look for the perfect spot to relax and contemplate what you want to

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You can elaborate, but don't mislead, How you deal with others will make a difference to the way others perceive you. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): What you do will encourage you to surround vourself with people who support Emotional issues will surface if you let what others do affect you. Concentrate on what PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Say little and do a lot. How and what you do to bring about positive changes will influence your emotional well-being.

MISS MANNERS

(a man) asked me (a woman) how he could go about using a certain building to hold an event. When I was finished explaining it to him and it was time to go home. I said goodbye and walked towards the door.

called out my name. He said, I suppose as an explanation, "I'm a touchy-feely person," and asked for a hug. I didn't know what else to do, so I hugged him and left.

his name. The past three times he has boyfriends (present and past) and very his wife) the other hand, he has not done anything that is obviously inappropriate. I don't really feel like hugging him again, but it is likely that we will be running into each other more often in the future. How can I avoid hugging him again without starting a feud?

vagueness: The reason that you are disturbed is that this behavior is disturbing. No one has any business hugging you without your permission, or inquiring about your personal

Miss Manners is alarmed that you feel that politeness requires you to put up with this through subtle evasiveness. It does not The response to his declaration of being "a touchy-feely person" should be, "Well, I am not." And to the questions, "That is my private life.

pursue

and contribute to your goals. Romance is in the stars AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18):

you know and what you want to achieve.

By Eugenia Last

By Judith Martin, Nicholas Ivor Martin and Jacobina Martin

Dear Miss Manners: An acquaintance

When I was about 10 feet away, he I have seen this man here and there at community events over the past few years, and have just recently been reminded of run into me, he has asked me about my little else. (Heis married and I have met I find this vaguely disturbing, but on

Dear Gentle Reader: Never mind that

Address your etiquette questions to Miss

Manners at her website, www.missmanners com: to her email, dearmissmanners@gmail Kansas City, MO 64106.

com; or through postal mail to Miss Manners Andrews McMeel Syndication, 1130 Walnut St.,

Dear Miss Manners: I am a 36-year-old dve their hair. One of the ladies in the group is in her late 50s and completely gray herself, yet she loves to point out how much I've grayed over the past few years. When she does this, she's quite loud, and it embarrasses me.

mother of four, and am prematurely graying.

I choose not to dye my hair for my own personal Christian beliefs. I go to church with a few ladies who also believe that they shouldn't

I know she doesn't mean anything by it. She's just blunt. But still, it hurts my feelings, and she embarrasses me in front of others by mentioning it.

She does it so often that I now avoid her. I feel like this is rude of her. How can I let her know what she's doing without hurting her feelings or being rude myself?

Dear Gentle Reader: People who repeat the same inane remarks should be given the same responses until they finally give up. In this case, Miss Manners would suggest, "Well, as you have guessed, I keep hoping I'll get to look like you" — said loudly enough to get a laugh from the bystanders. But Miss Manners has a question of her own: What is embarrassing about gray or graying hair?