Mayo's Difference!

It extends beyond the workplace!

Our employees are organizers, caregivers, nature lovers, and loyal community members. We value our staff and encourage a work/life balance for everyone.

We are in this together, we gotta work to beat cancer!

There is so much for me and my family to do so close to home.

Mayo's owner Fred Laferriere has had family and friends who have been affected by cancer. The "Relay for Life" fundraising event is so important to him that he became its chairman. He is also captain of the Mayo's team and would love to have you come walk with him.

In addition to "Relay for Life" he and other Mayo's staff have organized and contributed to causes that benefit families, friends, and the community.

Craig from the Flooring department, like many of his co-workers is passionate about the outdoor adventures the Northeast Kingdom affords him. Why? "Because there's so much for me and my family to do so close to home." It's important to him that the area remains safe, that open spaces are preserved and that clean waters and woods allow for all kinds of outdoor activities.

Star Garden Center is going into its 6th season. I started gardening as a toddler, planting vegetables with my mother and strawberry plants from my grandfather. Am I a gardening expert? Absolutely not. As much as I have learned since then, I continue to learn about new species and techniques, as well as information from customers.

As a quiet person, I put my effort into listening and enjoy sharing my knowledge and experiences. I try to keep all aspects of gardening in mind to sustain the plants that provide for the human and animal populations.

Star Garden Center offers handmade hypertufa pots and solid garden statues. Perennials and shrubs are grown on site and wintered over for at least one season, before being put out for sale, to ensure hardiness for my growing area in zones 3-4. Despite being in my backyard, I provide a good selection of quality plants and products at affordable prices.

Open Saturday and Sunday from Memorial Day weekend through Labor Day weekend. Please call to confirm Saturday hours at 802-626-3727. Welcome to all who choose to visit.

Why do you need a REALTOR® in a real estate transaction?

A REALTOR® can represent either a Buyer or Seller in two different ways. In a "client" relationship, the REALTOR® and the client sign a Contract, the REALTOR® has a fiduciary responsibility, a loyalty to the client, and more importantly works for the client, looking out for the client's best interests in the transaction. In a "customer" relationship, the REALTOR® facilitates the transaction, working with the customer, there is no fiduciary responsibility, no Contract between the customer and the REALTOR®. Regardless of the relationship, conversation and trust form between the parties, the REALTOR® is cognizant of contract timelines, inspection, financing, and appraisal process and coordinates all parties to bring the transaction to a smooth closing. At Begin Realty Associates, our agents are trusted professionals with years of experience, walking the road to a purchase or sale in any aspect the Buyer or Seller needs. We are proud to have many satisfied, appreciative clients and customers. Here is what has been said about our agents:

"... Provided stellar communication throughout the purchase process of our land. He reached out on a continual basis via email and phone, making the transaction virtually seamless. -Chris C"

"... Thank you for helping us find our dream home on the mountain top! Without you, we would've been lost. We were truly honored to have had you by our side during the homebuying process. Thank you for everything you do, everyday! -Frank & Lindsey J"

"... Thank you so much for being there when we needed you. And holding my hand when it got crazy. You are a wonderful realtor, but more importantly, you are a good friend. -Gratefully, Geri & Scott"

Your REALTOR® relationship should be one of the best experiences of your life. Hearing your wants & needs and making them happen is as important to us as it is to you. Being a REALTOR® is a "person-to-person" experience in which we will strive to work for you, or work with you, and bring your real estate goals to life.
