NEWS BRIEFS

Citrus County COVID cases

According to the Florida Department of Health, 23 positive cases were reported in Citrus County since the latest update.

Six new deaths were reported, for a total of 453.

To date in the county, 11,185 people have tested positive (including 99 non-residents).

Two new hospitalizations were reported, for a total of 728 hospitalized.

Totals reflect preliminary reports received by the state, and are subject to revision.

Gov. declares emergency after pipeline shutdown

TALLAHASSEE — Florida Gov. Ron DeSantis declared a state of emergency Tuesday evening in response to gasoline shortages caused by the shutdown of a major pipeline by hackers.

The executive order signed by DeSantis activates the Florida National Guard, as need, and directs state emergency management officials to work with federal and local officials.

The Colonial Pipeline, the biggest fuel pipeline in the U.S., delivering about 45% of what is consumed on the East Coast, was hit on Friday with a cyberattack by hackers who lock up computer systems and demand a ransom to release them. A large part of the pipeline resumed operations manually late Monday, and Colonial anticipates restarting most of its operations by the end of the week, U.S. Energy Secretary Jennifer Granholm said.

More than 1,000 gas stations in the Southeast reported running out of fuel, primarily because of what analysts say is unwarranted panic-buying.

Name reading of fallen Citrus soldiers

The annual reading of the names of Citrus County's fallen heroes from the Civil War to current conflicts will take place at 6 p.m. Sunday, May 30, at the Fallen Heroes Monument in Bicentennial Park, Crystal River.

Attendees should bring their own chairs. Iced bottled water will be provided. The ceremony will be about 30 minutes long.

Culver's coming to county

Popular Midwestern fast-food chain looking to open two new locations here

MICHAEL D. BATES

Culver's doesn't have the name recognition of many fast-food restaurants, but those who have eaten there swear by the chain's butterburgers, cheese curds and custard.

Patrons had to travel to Ocala or Brooksville to sample a taste of the Midwest. Now, Citrus County is getting two of them.

In about four weeks, demolition will begin on the now-vacant West Gate Plaza at State Road 44 and Pleasant Grove Road in Inverness. The adjacent empty bank will also get leveled. By December, the franchise owner hopes to open the first Culver's in Citrus County.

The second restaurant will be at 1652 County Road 491, at the corner of County Roads 491 and 486 in Lecanto and construction could begin in early 2022. Culver's has requested a building permit for a new 5,169-square-foot restaurant at that location. "I've met a lot of people who have actually told me they would love (a Culver's) in Inverness," said Joseph Knight, who will be the restaurant's general manager.

The new Culver's will have a double drive-thru and be accessible off State Road 44 and Pleasant Grove Road.

Nate Drury, the owner of the new Inverness Culver's, who also owns one in Hernando and Pasco County, said when time gets closer, he will need to hire 70-80 employees. The restaurant will seat 98-118 guests.

Memorial honors fallen officers

MATTHEW BECK/Chronicle

Citrus County Sheriff's Deputy and Community Resource Officer Heath Schaffer gets an up-close view of the newly unveiled Citrus County Sheriff's Office Fallen Law Enforcement Memorial Tuesday, May 11, at the Citrus County Sheriff's Office Operation's Building. The names of three Citrus County law enforcement officers who died in the line of duty are inscribed on the memorial.

Newly-unveiled marker erected to honor lawmen killed in line of duty

FRED HIERS
Staff writer

Feb. 11, 1997, was like most Tuesdays for Myrtle Johnson until Citrus County sheriff's deputies came to her door.

They came because of her husband, 16-year veteran Master Detective Aubrey Fred Johnson.

"There were two of them that came to the house and they took me to (Bayfront Health) Seven Rivers hospital," recalled the 76-year-old widow after a ceremony to unveil a statue memorializing fallen Citrus County law enforcement officers.

"But he was already dead when I got there," she told the Chronicle.

She was the mother of six and had been married to her husband 29 years. He died in a vehicle collision while on duty.

The event was the unveiling of the first of three statues at the Citrus County Sheriff's Office building in Inverness to commemorate the county's three law enforcement officers who died in the line of duty.

Myrtle Johnson never remarried.

Divided board backs new animal shelter

Members vote 3-2 for new site in Lecanto

MIKE WRIGHT
Staff writer

Commissioner Jeff Kinnard took a tour of the Citrus County Animal Shelter on Friday and came away with one conclusion:

Citrus needs a new shelter.

"There is no rehabbing that place," he said during Tuesday's commission meeting.

At Kinnard's suggestion, the board voted 3-2 to ditch any idea of renovating the existing shelter in Inverness, and instead will start planning for an $8 million to $9 million shelter on county-owned property in Lecanto.

The vote essentially erases direction given just two weeks ago to include exploring costs associated with renovating the existing shelter, along with estimates for a new one.

Commissioner Ron Kitchen Jr. and Chairman Scott Carnahan each cited that decision in voting no. Kitchen said he wanted all information before voting to eliminate renovating the shelter, and both said they opposed seeking plans for a multi-million dollar project with no means to pay for it.

Kitchen said "some rich people" were driving the push for a new shelter in Lecanto.

Commissioner Ruthie Schlabach said the community supports a new shelter and will be willing to financially support additions for special programs. She noted an anonymous $100,000 donation for a new shelter and said more support is expected.

City gets update on blighted shopping center

BUSTER THOMPSON
Staff writer

After spending roughly a year sitting apart in their city hall's chambers because of COVID-19, Crystal River City Council members were shoulder-to-shoulder together on the dais.

"It's very nice to get things a little bit back to normal," Mayor Joe Meek said, starting council's Monday, May 10, meeting.

In his regular update to council about the future of the vacant and blighted Crystal Square shopping plaza at 579 SE U.S. 19, City Attorney Robert Batsel Jr. said the property's code enforcement hearing is still on for Thursday.

Crystal Square's code-violation case has been running simultaneous to the city's attempt to get the plaza's New York-based owners to demolish the 8-acre site in exchange for the city's

"I never looked for anyone else," she said, smiling. She had a wonderful husband and was grateful for the time she had with him, she said.

About 100 members of the public and dignitaries came to the event.

Myrtle Johnson has forgotten many of the details of the day her husband died.

But she remembers that she never worried about the risks associated with the job.

"Not at all. That's what he wanted to do," she said.

He was 61 when he died. Of his six children, two were still living at home when those two deputies took his widow to the hospital.

Local businesses and organizations donated about $32,000 toward the bronze statue of a Citrus County deputy kneeling and holding a folded American flag. With the donation of materials and services, the donations are worth $60,000. No public money was used for the project.

Sheriff Mike Prendergast told the public and dozens of deputies at the event that the plan is to add two more figures alongside the current statue to make up the Fallen Law Enforcement Memorial.

"These three men epitomized selfless service," Prendergast told those attending during the unveiling. "We pledge to always remember those who didn't come home ... to their families."

Prendergast said there was an outpouring of local support for the project.

"The citizens of Citrus County love their deputy sheriffs and appreciate everything the Citrus County Sheriff's Office does for them," he said.

People stood silent when Col. Elena Vitt removed the statue's covering.

"I just got a chill down my back and I hope you did too," Prendergast said. "For a long period of time, work came to a standstill (because of the pandemic) but the community came out... dedicating this hallowed ground," he said.

The statue unveiled at the Tuesday event reflects the uniforms and patches worn by current deputies, and Prendergast called the efforts to build and fund it "a labor of love."

The other two Citrus County law enforcement officers who died while on duty were:

Deputy Sheriff James McIntosh McMullen. McMullen died Dec. 26, 1899, when he was ambushed and killed outside his home by a local fugitive. He had a wife and three children.

Floral City Marshal J.W. Newsome. Newsome was ambushed and shot in a local saloon March 3, 1908, while attempting to apprehend a murder suspect. He had a wife and three children.

Elected officials also came to the event. One was Inverness Councilman David Ryan, who said memorials remind us of our past and the sacrifices others made for our behalf.

"The important thing is to show honor to those who have died in protecting the rest of us," Ryan said. "We should never forget the sacrifice people have made."

As many communities across the country call to defund their police departments and protest their law enforcement personnel, Ryan and other local elected officials told the Chronicle that Citrus County residents are proud of their deputies.

"We respect people who are serving us and that's the way it should be," Ryan said.

Crystal River Mayor Joe Meek said the county is made up of professional law enforcement and grateful residents.

"We're 100% pro law enforcement. We take every opportunity we can to celebrate them," Meek told the Chronicle. "We're blessed to have a great group of folks that make up our communities."

Andrew Freund, 78, was a volunteer at the sheriff's office before his stroke. He thought it important to come to the event.

"We want to put up these memorials," he said. "They protect society in general. Without the police it's a lost cause. I believe people respect them and love them."

For Jody Johnson, son of deputy Aubrey Fred Johnson, the ceremony was an opportunity to fondly remember his father.

He remembers riding along with his father in his patrol car.

He said Citrus County was far less developed and populated in the early and mid 1980s.

Jody Johnson said there were not many 911 calls for help then, and being with his father while on duty allowed for the two to bond and spend time together.

He said he enjoyed the time with other deputies too.

Jody smiled as he recalled the time for the Chronicle.

"It was just driving around with dad," Jody Johnson said of the time then, and that he was proud of his father.

Boy, 14, held on murder charge

ST. JOHNS — Classmates, friends and family members gathered for a candlelight vigil Monday night in honor of a 13-year-old cheerleader whose body was found in the northeast Florida woods.

Sheriff's officials said in a news release on Tuesday that a 14-year-old boy fatally stabbed Tristyn Bailey, and left her body in a wooded area in the community where they both lived.

The suspect made his first appearance in court earlier Tuesday, via a Zoom call which his parents were also on. A judge ordered him held on a second-degree murder charge for 21 days. State attorney's officials told the judge they would likely have a decision by then on whether he will be tried as an adult.

The Associated Press does not generally publish the name of juveniles charged with crimes unless they are charged as adults.

Indicted school official gets $740K severance

FORT LAUDERDALE — The superintendent of the Florida school district who was indicted on a perjury charge by a grand jury investigating the 2018 school massacre in Parkland will leave his job under a $740,000 severance package approved by a divided board Tuesday.

Broward County Superintendent Robert Runcie's tenure will end no later than Aug. 10, but it could be sooner if an interim replacement is chosen by the board. If that happens, he will remain as a consultant until August.

The agreement was approved by a 5-4 board vote, with opponents arguing it was too generous.

Tourist tax revenue trending upward

Citrus County Tourist Development Council meets today in Lecanto

MICHAEL D. BATES
Staff writer

For the first six months of this current fiscal year, Citrus County has already received 1.4% more in tourist tax revenue than the same time period last year.

And with nationwide traveling restrictions lifting, look for an even stronger showing the next six months. The county's fiscal year runs from Oct. 1 to March 30.

"We're very optimistic the remaining six months will prove to be strong as we close out the fiscal year," said Citrus County Visitors Bureau Director John Pricher.

From Oct. 1, 2019, to March 31, 2020, the county netted $941,554 in tourist tax revenue. From October 2020 to March 2021, the net was $954,736 — an increase of $13,182, or 1.4%.

Pricher on Wednesday will update members of the Citrus County Tourist Development Council (TDC) on the state of tourism in Citrus County.

Pricher said all indications point to people getting more comfortable traveling, especially with the vaccinations available.

"I think it shows the leisure people are feeling more comfortable," he said. "We're still without the international segment. But it shows we're able to reach close to pre-pandemic numbers and that's a positive thing for the industry."

John Pricher
 director, Citrus County Visitors Bureau.

The first couple of weeks of March 2020 had been business as usual for hotels and travel. But when the pandemic hit the last half of that month, travel stopped and hotel occupancy was down to practically zero, Pricher said.

The same in April. "Nobody was traveling," Pricher said. "There was no business travel."

The Citrus County Tourist Development Council will meet at 9 a.m. today, May 12, in Room 166 of the Lecanto Government Center, 3600 W. Sovereign Path.

Today's HOROSCOPES

Birthdays: Keep your life in perspective. If you let the little things get to you, it will affect what you can accomplish this year.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): Set goals and follow through. Don't wait for someone to make the first move or put you in a vulnerable position.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): Don't overdo it. Too much of anything will work against you. Stay on top of your administrative work.

Cancer (June 21-July 22): You are overdue for a change. Reach out to someone you trust for sound advice.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): Reconnect with people you have enjoyed collaborating with in the past. A partnership looks promising, but don't go over budget.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Choose your words wisely. If you act on your emotions, you will disrupt your relationship with someone important.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23): It's all about enlightenment, finding your bliss and figuring out what you want out of life.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 22): When in doubt, sit tight. Don't feel that you must make up your mind because someone pressures you.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23-Dec. 21): Keep moving forward. Stick to your plan and budget. Assess your lifestyle, relationships and the changes you need to make to ensure you reach your goal.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): High energy coupled with determination and hands-on work will lead you to the winner's circle. Don't overspend to impress someone.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 19): You'll face difficulties with a friend, relative or colleague. Sit back and observe the changes going on around you.

Pisces (Feb. 20-March 20): It's up to you to make the changes that will increase your well-being. Don't give in to a manipulative person.

Aries (March 21-April 19): Be careful whom you trust. Don't mix business with pleasure or overspend on something you don't need.

Stacey Abrams signs book deal

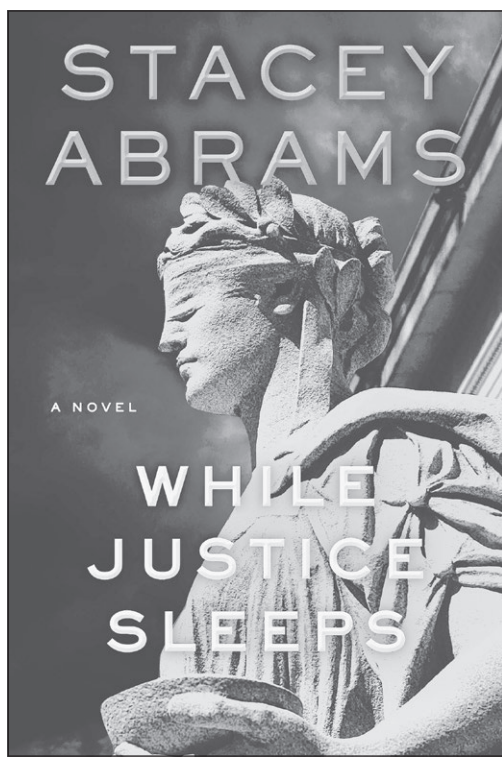

LOS ANGELES — Stacey Abrams' new political thriller was snapped up for a small-screen adaptation.

The rights for "While Justice Sleeps" will go to Working Title Television, part of NBCUniversal International Studios, it was announced Tuesday.

Abrams will serve as an executive producer for the project, which is based on the first work published under the name of the politician, activist and writer.

Abrams served in Georgia's House of Representatives, was the Democratic candidate for governor in 2018 and is a leading voice on ballot access.

Working Title said it won a bidding war for the book, which was described as revolving around a Supreme Court justice whose "descent into a coma plunges the court, and the country, into turmoil," with young law clerk Avery Keene pulled into the fray.

Actor Seth Rogen to tell stories

NEW YORK — Actor Seth Rogen is jumping into the podcast world later this year with a series where he interviews people who have memorable stories to tell about their lives.

The unnamed series will be produced by Stitcher, the podcast company and subsidiary of SiriusXM, which made the announcement on Tuesday.

Each episode will feature him talking to someone with a different story, from a person who had a near-death encounter with a grizzly bear in Canada to another who had a life-altering celebrity encounter.

He will also invite some of his favorite musicians, actors and comedians to discuss the creative process.

The series is being produced by Richard Parks III, who will add music and archival material.

"Bringing people's stories to life in these sort of 'audio documentaries' has given me amazing insight into what makes up the most impactful moments in people's lives and how they contextualize these moments," Rogen said.

CULVER'S

Drury said he likes Inverness because it is rural but growing and has an atmosphere all its own. The chain, he said, weathered the adversity of the past year by keeping its drive-thrus open and keeping all its employees working.

"It's been a really good year for us," Drury said. "We made it through the pandemic."

Inverness City Manager Eric Williams said: "We're always excited to see redevelopment opportunities."

All three former tenants of West Gate Plaza were able to find new storefronts.

Mama's Kuntry Kafe, a local favorite, is now at 104 U.S. 41 in downtown Inverness — site of the old Townhouse restaurant.

The Little Flower Shop moved to 3816 State Road 44, in the Times Square Shopping Center about 1.5 miles west of their current shop.

Victoria Parr, owner of Vapor This Florida, said recently she was moving to

Williams said he is pleased the tenants found new homes and believes the new Culver's will be a success.

"We've often heard from folks who wanted more diversity in restaurants to choose from," he said. "Culver's provides that."

BOARD

"I don't think it has anything to do with the rich or the wealthy," Schlabach said.

Carnahan said he didn't know how the county could consider a new shelter without a financial plan. Approving a shelter, he said, would likely require a tax increase — which both he and Kitchen said they will not support.

Commissioner Holly Davis said it isn't fair to ask the shelter staff to work in unfavorable conditions that construction during renovation would bring.

Carnahan suggested the county could avoid borrowing money for the new shelter by using proceeds from the potential sale of the Betz Farm property near Crystal River. The property, which the county has for sale, is appraised at $5 million.

Commissioners supported that idea, though Kitchen noted that they couldn't vote to do anything that a future board couldn't undo.

release of the property's $333,550 in accrued code fines and other unpaid assessments.

Batsel told council a redevelopment agreement is being drafted, but noted the city's leverage over the property would vanish if the owners complete demolition.

"Once they scrap it," the lawyer said, "we'll have no say on what's going there."

Owners of the former Village Inn building next to Crystal Square are also considering a similar course of action for their property, which, along with the shopping plaza, has been the focus of council's mission to fight city blight since early 2020.

Crystal Square ownership has been looking at just fixing the lot's 17 code violations, without any demolition, before renting out its 10-12 storefronts to class-A tenants, Batsel said.

Batsel said he and Crystal Square's own legal representative have been trying to convince the plaza's owners it would be impossible to make such extensive repairs without having to raise the entire structure to federal flood-building codes.

If improvements to a building exceed 50% of its market value, according to a regulation of the National Flood Insurance Program, the entire structure has to be brought into compliance with current flood regulations.

Batsel said selling Crystal Square as is wouldn't attract any buyers because of the overhanging city lien, and the city can't force its owners to sell after they go through with demolition.

Vice Mayor Pat Fitzpatrick cautioned council, saying the owner will keep stalling on progress.

"They're going to try and yank our chain," the councilman said, "until we step on their neck."

Also during council's meeting on Monday:

■ City Manager Ken Frink announced Three Sisters Springs and access to its boardwalk will be closed in 2024 because of shoreline restoration by the springs entrance of Idiots Delight.

Frink said the Southwest Florida Water Management District will do its work outside of the local manatee migration season, which runs from mid-November to the end of March.

Crews with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, which manages the springs refuge, are also planning to do maintenance work on the boardwalk overlooking the springs.

■ Without discussion or comment, council voted 5-0 to approve its consent agenda, which included an open-container waiver and road-closure plan for the city's 2021

Fourth of July Celebration from 3 to 9 p.m. July 4 at Crystal River Town Square.

Along with the 2 p.m. closure of South Citrus Avenue, access via Northwest Third Street to Kings Bay Park, where the fireworks viewing will be, will also be limited to kayak vendors and pedestrians.

■ In a pair of second and final public hearings, council voted 5-0 to OK the redesign and rezoning of the 2.6-acre lot at 2035 SE U.S. 19 for a car dealership development to replace the Liquid Lagoon Bar. Council had approved a first round of hearings in April.

Once permits are secured, the developer plans to demolish the former bar to make way for one-story dealership on a repaved lot surrounded by vegetative buffers.

Dorothy Koehler, 82
CRYSTAL RIVER

Dorothy Koehler, 82, passed away April 22, 2021 at Citrus Memorial Hospital in Inverness. She was born April 1, 1939 to Florence and L a r s Thompson in Brooklyn, New York.

Dorothy Koehler

Dot married the love of her life, Robert (Rob) Kohler, in May 1959. They were high school sweethearts and devoted to each other spending 42 happy and productive years together until his demise in 2001. They previously lived in St. Petersburg, Florida moving to Citrus County in 1985.

Dot owned a prosperous antique business, Cobblestone Alley Antiques, located in the downtown area of Crystal River in Heritage Village. She was known for her unique primitive furniture and decorative items, drawing customers from far and wide. Together, she and her husband, Rob, were popular personalities in Crystal River, assisting in the Community Development Block Grant. That granted helped many business owners on Citrus Avenue renovate their store fronts. They also were instrumental in planning and promoting the boardwalk near Kings Bay in the beginning stages.

Upon her retirement from Cobblestone Alley Antiques, she went on to work at All About Nature, a popular tourist establishment also in Heritage Village, for approximately 12 years. Dot loved working with the public in retail sales and never met a stranger! She loved entertaining was an avid baker excelled at floral arranging and enjoyed gardening. But her main passion was antiques! She was always on the prowl for the special item to add to her collection or purchasing for others when she came across items for their collections. Dot had many friends who have been influenced by her knowledge and endearing personality.

Dot is survived by her sister, Gail Switzer and husband Kevin in New Hampshire. She also has two nieces residing in New Hampshire. She absolutely adored her two cats "Cookie" and "McKenzie", who are sadly missing their mom. Rest in peace dear Dot, we miss you and know you are busy shopping in the great antique store in the sky!

Arrangements are under the direction of Heinz Funeral home and Cremation in Inverness.

AAA predicts travel for Memorial Day weekend

Associated Press

U.S. highways will be far busier over the Memorial Day holiday weekend than last year, but traffic still won't reach pre-pandemic levels, according to a forecast by the AAA auto club.

AAA officials say travel will increase because more Americans have been vaccinated against COVID-19 — about one-third of U.S. adults — and consumer confidence is growing.

The auto club and insurance company said Tuesday it expects more than 37 million people to travel at least 50 miles from home during the holiday weekend, up 60% from last year, which was the lowest since AAA began keeping records in 2000.

If the AAA forecast is right, however, it would still be 6 million people, or 13%, fewer than left home over Memorial Day in 2019.

AAA said 34 million Americans plan driving trips between May 27 and May 31, a 52% increase over last year, and nearly 2.5 million will take plane trips, nearly six times more than the same period in 2020. A small number will take buses or trains.

So far in May, nearly 1.5 million people per day have gone through U.S. airport checkpoints, according to the Transportation Security Administration.

Zoo Miami welcomes endangered baby crocodiles

Associated Press

MIAMI — Officials at Zoo Miami have been welcoming critically endangered baby Orinoco crocodiles over the past week.

The mother laid 45 eggs on Feb. 5 at the South Florida park, and they began hatching last week, the zoo announced on Facebook.

To prevent any loss due to predation or extreme weather, zoo staff collected the eggs several days after they were laid and placed them into incubators. The hatching period is spread out over nearly two weeks because the eggs have been incubated at different temperatures, officials said. The sex of all crocodilians is determined by the temperature that the eggs are incubated at, with cooler temperatures producing females and warmer temperatures producing males.

Officials hope to return the endangered reptiles to the wild eventually.

Former county resident vies for university role

TALLAHASSEE — Nine candidates vying to become president of Florida State University, including a mix of academic leaders and politically connected players, are set to be interviewed as the school seeks a replacement for retiring President John Thrasher.

The university's Presidential Search Advisory Committee whittled a list of 22 applicants Tuesday, with interviews of the nine remaining candidates scheduled to start Friday.

Three candidates — state Education Commissioner Richard Corcoran, Florida State Athletic Director David Coburn and Tallahassee attorney and lobbyist Sean Pittman — have deep political ties in the state Capitol.

Corcoran, who once lived in Citrus County, served as state House speaker before getting appointed by Gov. Ron DeSantis as education commissioner. Before moving to FSU, Coburn spent three decades in staff positions in the Legislature, including chief of staff for two House speakers and a Senate president.

Other candidates who will be interviewed include Richard McCullough, vice provost for research at Harvard University; Giovanni Piedimonte, vice president for research at Tulane University; Mary Ann Rankin, a former provost at the University of Maryland; and Michael Young, a former president of Texas A&M University.

BOCC seeks lay member for water authority

The Citrus County Board of County Commissioners is seeking applications for one lay member for a term ending January 31, 2023, to serve on the Citrus County Water and Wastewater Authority.

This board provides for regulation of private, for-profit water, bulk water, and wastewater utilities within the unincorporated areas of Citrus County. Applicants are required to be Citrus County residents and registered to vote in Citrus County.

Although experience in any area of relevant utility service and management other endeavors is not required, applicants for the lay member position may be appointed from the same area of expertise as technical members.

Meetings are quarterly at 1 p.m. on the first Monday of Feb., May, Aug., and Nov. at the Lecanto Government Building.

Applications will be accepted until May 15 and can be found at tinyurl.com/tjy5zy2f. Completed applications should be sent to Citrus County Administration, 3600 W. Sovereign Path, Suite 267, Lecanto, FL 34461.

REMARKABLE ACHIEVEMENT

A community gift that keeps giving

This past May 1 was a banner day for both the Citrus Memorial Health Foundation YMCA of the Suncoast and Citrus County.

For the Citrus Y, it marked an astounding celebratory milestone. Since opening its doors to county residents five years ago on May 1, 2016, it has experienced unprecedented community support that has propelled membership growth to more than 12,000 residents and two major expansions of its new facility. For Citrus County, the Citrus Y's fifth anniversary stands as testimony to the remarkable achievement of county residents in transforming a decades-long community dream of a Citrus Y to an invaluable community asset.

The decades-long community dream of a Citrus Y was first given life by a group of county residents who, having benefited from YMCA programs as youths, dared to dream the seemingly impossible dream of building a YMCA facility in Citrus County.

With the dream of a local Y germinating interest over the years, a survey to gauge the extent of community support was sidetracked by the Great Recession until 2012. At that time, 10,000 survey respondents indicated strong support for the YMCA's mission of putting Christian principles into practice through programs that build a healthy spirit, mind and body for all.

With the dream of a Citrus Y buoyed by the survey, a dedicated group of county supporters boldly initiated an ambitious fundraising campaign. Living up to the 2012 survey results, extremely generous county residents, with both large and small contributions, exceeded all expectations by raising $8.3 million for a debt-free, state-of-the-art facility.

Despite the passage of five years and the COVID-19 pandemic, the Citrus Y continues to surpass all expectations by continuing to grow in membership and financial support with this year's annual fundraiser reaching $353,000 in a single evening — a feat not matched by the much larger YMCAs of Orlando and Tampa.

Today, the Citrus Y is a community gift that keeps giving by attracting residents of all ages from retirees to young families. With bustling activities as health seminars, fitness classes, youth programs, coffee and conversation groups, an investing club, and free swimming lessons for every elementary student, it is the place to gather for individual and community enrichment.

Thanks to those who dreamed, those who persevered, those who loyally support it and those who devotedly staff it, the impossible dream of a Citrus Y is now a reality that stands as one of the most remarkable achievements that our community has ever made to help people live to their fullest potential.

A community gift that keeps giving, the Citrus Y will have a lasting, positive impact in making Citrus County a better place in which to live and proudly call home.

THE ISSUE:

Citrus Y's fifth anniversary.

OUR OPINION:

An invaluable community asset.

Celebrating Hospital Week

Good health. We all want it — a life where our bodies remain strong and able, allowing us to do the things we most enjoy. And, there's never been a time when good health and wellbeing have been more essential for our human connections, whether it is the opportunity to hug our loved ones, meet the first grandchild, play with our teams, or gather with friends again.

Linda Stockton
 GUEST COLUMN

At Bayfront Health Seven Rivers, we understand how important your health is, so whenever you need us, we're dedicated to helping you get well and live healthier. Delivering on this mission takes tremendous resources, coordination and the commitment of a skilled and compassionate team.

Many essential workers keep hospitals open and running 24/7 — always available for your family. Housekeepers and maintenance workers keep our facilities safe, clean and operational.

Registration staff welcome you and case managers make sure you are discharged safely when your visit is over.

In between, physicians review your condition, make diagnoses, order care and perform procedures that can save your life or improve your condition. Nurses provide care at the bedside to help ensure better outcomes, recovery and comfort. Surgical, imaging and other technicians perform important tests and procedures. Lab techs, pharmacy workers, therapists, supply chain managers, educators and so many more people work together to make sure you have access to the medical care you need.

The people inside the walls of Bayfront Health Seven aren't just skilled professionals and hard-working support teams. This past year, against a global pandemic, they have been heroes in our midst, unwavering in the fight for the health of their patients and the wellbeing of our community.

So I hope you will join us during National Hospital Week, May 9 to 15, 2021, as we salute and honor our local hospital team along with hospitals and health care workers across this country and around the world. Take time to thank your doctors and nurses and all of the others who are here for you — always.

Linda Stockton is CEO of Bayfront Health Seven Rivers.

Outside the box: Server tips matter

Most of us are quite aware that a substantial number of workers are being paid not to work. We also know that there are many local businesses struggling to get back to pre-pandemic profitability. Workers are hard to find, and those who have returned to work are struggling to fill all the shifts for all the days that the business needs to operate. Sadly, some businesses have closed permanently.

So, since these are not normal times, I have a not-normal suggestion, one that is clearly outside the box. While it will not help all businesses and all workers, many food service employees depend a lot on their tips, so my suggestion is (for those who can afford to do so), leave a significantly larger tip whenever the opportunity presents itself.

How much? What is significant? Personally, I like to use a factor of 10. If I would normally leave a tip of a couple of bucks, I now leave a 20, assuming I know that the workers and business are struggling due to a worker shortage. I ask about that.

It is a bit counter-intuitive since waiting extra minutes for the food to get cooked and to the table might not make everyone think about a much bigger tip rather than a much lesser tip. When you think about it, the entire staff is likely struggling, so it might occur to some very generous customers to tip the entire staff, not just the waiters and waitresses. That might be as few as six workers, all striving to do their best. Ask the question?

In Citrus County, we have many retired people and snowbirds who are well able to be that generous, even if the snowbirds are again leaving, now that summer is upon us. The exodus of migratory customers will not make things easier for local businesses that need customers, making my suggestion timely even if not easily embraceable.

As for businesses that have closed permanently due to the pandemic, those business owners could be sponsored by our several civic organizations and churches, aggressively pushing them back into business where possible. What wonderful news stories could then be told, before, during, and after each such project!

Is that far enough outside the box for you?

Locked down for a suspicious person

I'm responding to Sound Off about your (Wednesday, April 21, 2021, front-page News Brief) article, "Lawn crew mistaken as suspicious," where you closed the schools down for 30 minutes on lockdown. I think it's totally ridiculous just because you saw an alleged suspicious person out there. You mean to tell me the principal couldn't go out there and say, "Excuse me, sir, can I help you?" Or go find out what's going on. Really? This is what this world is coming to. You see someone suspicious and right away you've got to lock everything down and go hide. It's getting to be really pathetic. I think anyone from the school could have went out there and said, "What are you doing, sir, can I help you?" Really pathetic.

Shutdown of major fuel artery leads to lines, shortages

CATHY BUSSEWITZ, JEFF AMY AND BOBBY CAINA CALVAN
Associated Press

CHAMBLEE, Ga. — More than 1,000 gas stations in the Southeast reported running out of fuel, primarily because of what analysts say is unwarranted panic-buying among drivers, as the shutdown of a major pipeline by a gang of hackers entered its fifth day Tuesday.

Government officials acted swiftly to waive safety and environmental rules to speed the delivery of fuel by truck, ship or rail to motorists and airports, even as they sought to assure the public that there was no cause for alarm.

The Colonial Pipeline, the biggest fuel pipeline in the U.S., delivering about 45% of what is consumed on the East Coast, was hit on Friday with a cyber-attack by hackers who lock up computer systems and demand a ransom to release them. The attack raised concerns, once again, about the vulnerability of the nation's critical infrastructure.

A large part of the pipeline resumed operations manually late Monday, and Colonial anticipates restarting most of its operations by the end of the week, U.S. Energy Secretary Jennifer Granholm said.

Motorists may still feel a crunch because it takes a few days to ramp up operations, but she said there is no reason

Stocks pull back on Wall Street as inflation concerns grow

Banks and energy companies led a broad pullback for stocks Tuesday, knocking the Dow Jones Industrial Average more than 470 points lower and wiping out the market's gains from last week.

The S&P 500 lost 0.9%. That, plus its losses Monday, outweigh the benchmark index's gains last week. The Dow sank 1.4%, its worst day since Feb. 26. Treasury yields mostly edged higher.

The market's downturn so far this week reflects growing worries among investors that inflation is rising. Any significant acceleration of inflation would be a drag on the overall market and could crimp the broader economic recovery. The selling comes ahead of a key measure of inflation at the consumer level due to be released by the government Wednesday.

Commodity prices have been rising, particularly for industrial metals such as copper and platinum, as well as for energy commodities like gasoline and crude oil. Tech stocks, which get most of their valuation from the future profits those companies are expected to earn, become less valuable if inflation decreases the value of those earnings.

Big technology companies were among the biggest decliners for a second straight day. Still, financial and energy companies, the best-performing sectors of the S&P 500 so far this year, fell the most. These sectors, in addition to industrials, have been favorites of investors betting that the economy will continue to recover from the pandemic. It's not uncommon for the stocks that have notched the biggest gains over time to fall sharply when investors turn cautious.

The S&P 500 index lost 36.33 points to 4,152.19. The Dow fell 473.66 points to 34,269.16. The blue chip index hit an all-time high on Friday for the third straight day. The Nasdaq lost 12.43 points, or 0.1%, to 13,389.43.

Small company stocks also gave up some ground. The Russell 2000 index fell 5.71 points, or 0.3%, to 2,206.99.

to hoard gasoline.

"We know that we have gasoline; we just have to get it to the right places," she said.

S&P's Oil Price Information Service put the number of gas stations encountering shortages at more than 1,000.

"A lot of that is because they're selling three or four times as much gasoline that they normally sell in a given day, because people do panic," said Tom Kloza, an analyst with S&P. "It becomes a self-fulfilling prophecy."

The pipeline runs from the Texas Gulf Coast to the New York metropolitan area. The states most dependent on the pipeline include Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee and the Carolinas, Kloza said.

In Virginia, 7.7% of the state's nearly 3,900 gas stations reported running out of fuel Tuesday, according to Gasbuddy.com, which tracks supply. In North Carolina, 8.5% of almost 5,400 stations were out, the company said.

There were scattered reports of higher gasoline prices, but prices were rising even before the pipeline incident heading into the busy summer driving season. Nevertheless, Granholm warned gas station owners, "We will have no tolerance for price gouging."

To ease brief shortages, the White House is considering temporarily waiving a law that says ships delivering products between U.S. ports must be built and manned by Americans.

The Transportation Department also is relaxing some workforce requirements and enlisting railroads to deliver fuel inland. And the Environmental Protection Agency lifted some fuel quality requirements on an emergency basis.

"We're looking at every option we have across the federal government and all of the federal agencies," Granholm said.

In Georgia, Gov. Brian Kemp suspended state taxes on motor fuels through Saturday. Georgia collects a gasoline tax of 28.7 cents per gallon and a diesel tax of 32.2 cents per gallon.

Nation/World BRIEFS

Russia

Associated Press

A girl lays flowers near a school after a shooting in Kazan, Russia, Tuesday, May 11. Russian officials say a gunman attacked a school in the city of Kazan and that at least nine people were killed.

School shooting in Russia kills 9 people

MOSCOW — A gunman launched an attack on a school in the Russian city of Kazan that left at least nine people dead Tuesday — including seven youngsters — and sent students hiding under their desks or running out of the building.

At least 21 others were hospitalized, six in extremely grave condition, authorities said.

The attacker, identified only as a 19-year-old, was arrested, officials said. They gave no immediate details on a motive.

But Russian media said the gunman was a former student at the school who called himself "a god" on his account on the messaging app Telegram and promised to "kill a large amount of biomass" on the morning of the shooting.

"I was in the classroom when a man with a firearm broke into our classroom and just started shooting," said student Akhmat Khairulin. He said students hid under their desks at their teacher's direction, though one jumped out of a window.

Attacks on schools are rare in Russia, and President Vladimir Putin reacted by ordering the head of the country's National Guard to revise regulations on the types of weapons allowed for civilian use.

Four boys and three girls, all eighth-graders, died, as well as a teacher and another school employee, said Rustam Minnikhanov, governor of the Tatarstan republic, where Kazan is the capital.

US job openings soar to highest level on record

WASHINGTON — U.S. employers posted a record number of available jobs in March, illustrating starkly the desperation of businesses trying to find new workers as the country emerges from the pandemic and the economy expands.

Yet total job gains increased only modestly, according to a Labor Department report issued Tuesday. The figures follow an April jobs report last week that was far weaker than expected, largely because companies appear unable to find the workers they need, even with the unemployment rate elevated at 6.1%.

Job openings rose nearly 8%, to 8.1 million in March, the most on records dating back to December 2000, the government said. Yet overall hiring that month rose less than 4% to 6 million. The hiring number is a gross figure, while the government's jobs report — which said 770,000 jobs were added in March — uses a net total. Tuesday's report is known as the Job Openings and Labor Turnover Survey, or JOLTS.

Judge dismisses NRA bankruptcy case

DALLAS — A federal judge dismissed the National Rifle Association's bankruptcy case Tuesday, leaving the powerful gun-rights group to face a New York state lawsuit that accuses it of financial abuses and aims to put it out of business.

The judge was tasked with deciding whether the NRA should be allowed to incorporate in Texas instead of New York, where the state is suing in an effort to disband the group. Though headquartered in Virginia, the NRA was chartered as a nonprofit in New York in 1871 and is incorporated in the state.

Judge Harlin Hale said in a written order that he was dismissing the case because he found the bankruptcy was not filed in good faith.

"The Court believes the NRA's purpose in filing bankruptcy is less like a traditional bankruptcy case in which a debtor is faced with financial difficulties or a judgment that it cannot satisfy and more like cases in which courts have found bankruptcy was filed to gain an unfair advantage in litigation or to avoid a regulatory scheme," Hale wrote.

Israel-Hamas fight heats up

JOSEF FEDERMAN AND FARES AKRAM
Associated Press

JERUSALEM — Israel on Tuesday stepped up its attacks on the Gaza Strip, flattening a high-rise building used by the Hamas militant group and killing at least three militants in their hideouts as Palestinian rockets rained down almost nonstop on parts of Israel.

It was the heaviest fighting between the two bitter enemies since 2014, and it showed no signs of slowing.

Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu vowed to expand the offensive, while Gaza militants unleashed a fierce late-night barrage of rockets that set off air-raid sirens and explosions throughout the densely populated Tel Aviv metropolitan area.

Three women in Israel were killed by rocket fire, and dozens of people wounded. The death toll in Gaza rose to 32 Palestinians, including 10 children, according to the Health Ministry. Over 200 people were wounded.

In another sign of widening unrest, demonstrations erupted in Arab communities across Israel, where protesters set dozens of vehicles on fire in confrontations with police.

The fighting between Israel and Hamas was the most intense since a 50-day war in the summer of 2014. In just over 24 hours, the current round of violence, sparked by religious tensions in the contested city of Jerusalem, increasingly resembled that devastating war.

The booms of Israeli airstrikes and hisses of outgoing rocket fire could be heard in Gaza throughout the day, and large plumes of smoke from targeted buildings rose into the air. Israel resumed a policy of airstrikes aimed at killing wanted militants and began to take down entire buildings — a tactic that drew heavy international criticism in 2014.

In Israel, the nonstop barrages of rocket fire left long streaks of white smoke in their wake, while the explosions of anti-rocket interceptors boomed overhead. Air-raid sirens wailed throughout the day, sending panicked residents scurrying for cover.

In a nationally televised address, Netanyahu said that Hamas and the smaller Islamic Jihad militant groups "have paid, and I tell you here, will pay a heavy price for their aggression."

He claimed that Israel had killed dozens of militants and inflicted heavy damage on hundreds of targets.

Take Stock wants students, mentors

Take Stock in Children is a school-based mentoring program that assists in creating a brighter future for deserving youths by providing college and vocational scholarships, volunteer mentors, tutoring and long-term support. Take Stock is not a tutoring program; rather, it is a program that provides support and encouragement for students as they work their way through middle and high school and prepare for college. Although we are living in unique times, the work of Take Stock in Children of Citrus County goes on as we adapt to a new way of fulfilling our obligations to our students and our mentors. We are preparing to add new students to our program and are hoping that you might consider joining us as a major component of our organization. You can help make a tremendous difference in the life of a student — starting with an application and a desire to make a difference. Call Pat Lancaster, student

Piano students display their talents at a recital

Special to the Chronicle

On Sunday, August 18, Elaine Baker presented four of her piano students in an hour-long recital. Parents, spouses and grandparents attended the recital to listen to their family members entertain them.

First on the program was Melanie Morra, who played “Grandfather Clock,” “Bubble Gum” and “Amazing Grace.”

Second was Marta Iler, who played “Scottish Bluebells” and “Dance of the Swans.”

The third performer was Megan Morra, who played “O Worship the King,” “Can-Can” and “Who’s Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf.”

The fourth pianist was Stephanos Vernikos, who played “Menuet in D Major” and “Super Boogie.”

Baker also played three songs, “Waltz in C Sharp,” “Arabesque No. 1” and Citrus Springs Library is seeking good, reliable volunteers to work a three hour shift each week. Library experience is not required. The library is open 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. Monday through Friday. Office volunteers will greet patrons, check items in and out, reshelve items, make copies etc. Volunteer applications are available at the library.

An Ice Cream Social, "School's Out" is set noon, Friday, June 4. Ice cream will be $1 per bowl (two scoops). Due to the pandemic, ice cream will only be served in bowls with your choice of toppings. Workers will wear masks and social distancing is requested. The event is from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Instead of a door prize, all children will be given a gift bag. The ice cream social is free to the public.

Thrift shop donates to Dunnellon High volleyball

Special to the Chronicle

Dunnellon Community Thrift Shop volunteer, Sue Silvernail, presents a $499 check to the Dunnellon High School boys' varsity volleyball team and coaches. The check will help cover the cost of a new volleyball net. COVID-19 mitigation expenses have put stress on school budgets, so there weren't any funds to replace the worn-out net. The 13-member team successfully completed their regular February to April season and will compete in the district volleyball tournament at Forest High School in Ocala. Beginning in May, the Dunnellon Community Thrift Shop will expand their business week to 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Montgomery goes 6 strong innings

Yankees beat Tampa Bay 3-1

MARK DITLER Associated Press

ST. PETERSBURG — Jordan Montgomery pitched six strong innings, Aaron Judge and Gary Sanchez homered, and the New York Yankees beat the Tampa Bay Rays 3-1 on Tuesday night.

About two hours before the start, it was announced that Yankees third base coach Phil Nevin is away from the team after a positive COVID-19 test.

The Yankees beat Tampa Bay for just the second time in seven games this season. The AL champion Rays had won 18 of the last 23 meetings, including a five-game victory in last year's Division Series.

New York slugger Luke Voit went 0 for 3 in his first game this season. The major league home run leader last year with 22, he was reinstated from the 10-day injured list after having knee surgery on March 29.

Voit was hit by a pitch around the right wrist in the fourth inning and had a flyout to the right-field wall in the seventh.

Montgomery (2-1) gave up one run, two hits, walked one and tied a career high with nine strikeouts. After Jonathan Loaisiga worked two innings, Aroldis Chapman got three outs to get his eighth save and complete a three-hitter.

Chapman had an eventful ninth, eighth inning. Athletics 3, Red Sox 2: Chris Bassitt struck out a season-high 10 over seven effective innings. Matt Chapman and Elvis Andrus hit RBI singles.

including a visit by a trainer. Austin Meadows reached on shortstop Gleyber Torres' error, but Sanchez later threw out the Rays DH attempting to advance to second. The lefty also walked one and struck out one.

Judge started in right field after being rested Sunday and hit a first-pitch, first-inning solo homer off Luis Patiño (1-1). Judge, who entered with two hits in his previous 24 at-bats, has been dealing with what manager Aaron Boone is calling "lower leg stuff."

Sanchez made it 3-1 with his shot in the seventh off Josh Fleming. It was his second homer in three games after a career-high tying 18-game homerless streak.

Mike Zunino connected on a 472-foot solo drive in the third for the Rays. It was the fourth longest homer in MLB this season, behind Yermir Mercedes (485 feet), Ronald Acuña Jr. (481 feet) and Marcell Ozuna (479 feet).

Patiño allowed two runs and three hits in four innings. MOVING DAY The Rays designated INF-OF Yoshi Tsutsugo for assignment. The former Japanese star hit just .167 with five RBIs this season.

UP NEXT Yankees ace Gerrit Cole (4-1, 1.61 ERA) will start Wednesday night's game. The Rays have not announced their starter. Cole is 3-0 in four postseason starts against Tampa Bay but is 0-4 over eight regular-season appearances.

THIS DATE IN BASEBALL

1910 — Chief Bender of the Philadelphia Athletics pitched a 4-0 no-hitter against the Cleveland Indians.

1937 — St. Louis' Joe Medwick hit two home runs and two doubles to lead the Cardinals to a 15-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

1955 — Sam "Toothpick" Jones of the Cubs got a no-hitter the hard way. In the ninth inning against Pittsburgh, he walked the bases full and then struck out the next three batters for a 4-0 victory.

1956 — Carl Erskine of the Brooklyn Dodgers pitched a 3-0 no-hitter against the New York Giants.

1966 — Lou Brock's RBI single in the 12th inning gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 4-3 victory over Atlanta in the opening of Busch Memorial Stadium. Felipe Alou hit two home runs for the Braves.

Volunteer groups return

Well, hello again. Just as April brought May flowers, the pandemic has slowed down enough for volunteer groups to meet again. Last weekend, Lion Jackie DeGraft and I represented the Crystal River Kings Bay Lions Club as delegates to the 100th anniversary celebration of District 35-0, which is a comprised of Florida, the Bahamas, Aruba, Bonaire and Curacao. The conference was at the Florida Hotel Conference Center in Orlando.

It has been more than a year since we had seen many of our Lions Club friends. Billy J. Blankenship, international director of our Lions Club friends from Lafayette, Tennessee, was the special guest of honor. His wife, Carolyn, was the guest speaker at the second conference session. She spoke appreciatively and from the heart about her personal experiences of her life as a shy child, who was told she was never going to amount to anything.

She was too tall, in adulthood, she rose to a leader in Lions as a district governor, garnering many awards from the community for her keen insights on leadership.

Carolyn Blankenship spoke of the many parallels there are in children – observations and Lions Clubs. She had observed her two 8- and 9-year-old nieces and was their favorite aunt, comparing her relationship with them to the way we relate to a new member. Her remarks are applicable to all volunteer organizations that recruit new members. She said the girls were talkers, asking many questions: why this? How this? Do we listen and answer the questions of new members?

One girl was athletic, participating in girls basketball; the other girl like ballet and was creative with crafts. Not all new Lions are

Special to the Chronicle

Recently, the St. Scholastica Knights of Columbus Council 14485 hosted their fourth annual Car Show at Wallace Brooks Park in Inverness.

Last year, the Car Show was canceled due to the pandemic. The proceeds from the Car Show will go to help fund the many charitable acts that the St. Scholastica Knights help support.

There were 50 vehicles on display at the event. Plaques were handed out for the winners in each category.

For the General Motors Category, Brad Chappell was awarded first place for a 1957 Chevy Belair; Donald Schultz was awarded second place for a 2020 Chevy Camaro and James Rzigada was awarded third place for a 1954 Chevy Belair.

The Ford Category winners were: first place, Jim Wright for a 1932 Ford Roadster; second place, Ed Abel for a 2020 Ford Mustang GT; and third place, Arlene Hamilton for a 2015 Ford Mustang.

For the Mopar Category, first place was given to Don Hoover for a 1967 Dodge Dart, second place was given to Butch Arnold for a 1974 Plymouth Duster and third place was given to John Boman for a 2018 Dodge Challenger Hellcat — Wide Body.

The Other Category winners were: first place, Don Graves for a 1963 Studebaker Lark and second place, Tim McLane for a 1960 Studebaker Lark. Jeff Bowers won Best of Show for Modern Vehicles

Camera Club sets meetings

The Citrus County Camera Club, in conjunction with the Art center of Citrus County invites local photographers and anyone interested in photography to join them for their monthly Zoom meetings.

This month they will present four Zoom meetings to the public:

■ 7 p.m. May 17, Larry Munne will instruct how to use LED constant lights from Lumcube with on and off camera technique.

■ 7 p.m. May 19, the Special Interest Group (SIG) will meet to discuss "Still Life" photography, moderated by Larry Dombrowski.

■ 7 p.m. May 24, will be "Dick's Challenge," with the theme, "Shoes." These are structured photo exercises that challenge participants to expand their photographic vision.

To get a meeting link, email ArtCenterVP@gmail.com or lawrencemunne@gmail.com. For information, visit artcenterofcitruscounty.org.

Sunshine Poets sets meetings

Join the Sunshine Poets'

monthly meeting and poetry reading at 10 a.m. on the last Thursday of each month at the Central Ridge Library in Beverly Hills.

Attendees are welcome to bring poems to share, or just listen. If you would like the members to critique your poems, bring several copies on which they can write suggestions. Attendees are also welcome to join the group afterward for lunch at a local restaurant.

Additional details are available on the Sunshine Poets Facebook page. For questions, contact Cheri Herald, Sunshine Poets president, at sunshinepoets@gmail.com.

Support local artists at Lakes Region Library interested in the same project. Do we allow them the choice of project that they are passionate about?

Carolyn Blankenship attended the basketball game, taught the other one cross-stitch and made bracelets with her. She was an encourager to both girls, listened and spoke to them with sincere interest and kindness.

Do we allow our new members to have a voice when projects are being considered to meet the needs of others that we serve as Helen Keller's Knights of the Blind did? Or do we say, "That's not the way we do this project?" And then continue along the same old, same old way?

The girls loved to have fun just as Lions are well-known fundsters and their tail twister sees to it with their stunts and quizzes at meetings. Lion Carolyn Blankenship took the girls to Disney and they were so excited riding the monorail, asking many questions while they were there.

Mickey and Minnie paled in interest compared to the monorail experience.

Do we take the time to make our meetings fun, or do we do allow boredom to set in with new members?

We can learn from the open minds and open hearts of children giving dignity, respect and sincere interest in the attention and needs of new members wanting to be needed and appreciated.

Carolyn Blankenship received a well-deserved standing ovation.

Shelter, rescue ADOPTABLES

Louey is a very good-looking brown and gray male tabby. He's shy upon first meeting, but he's gained lots of confidence and is friendly and loveable. He's at our rescue with brothers Huey and Dewey. Louey will make a devoted companion; he just needs a chance to get to know you! Several Hardin Haven cats are in residence at Petsense in Beverly Hills, and also at Pet Supermarket in Inverness from 11:30 to 4 p.m. on Sundays.

Tigger is a black and gray tabby male about 9 months old. He is very social wants to be with you — will follow you about — sit on your lab and enjoy some cheese with you at lunch time. He gets along with other cats and will make a great family pet. Come and meet Tigger and a few of his friends at the Precious Paws Rescue Adoption Center.

Mini Fact:

Martha and George Washington raised their grandchildren, Washy and Nelly.

Lady Washington

Americans often call George Washington the father of our country. Some people consider his wife, Martha, to be the mother of the United States.

(During her life, Martha Washington was known as Lady Washington.)

The Mini Page celebrates Mother's Day, May 9, with a story about the busy life of a famous mother and wife, Martha Washington.

Early life

Growing up, Martha Dandridge was taught the skills that it would take to be a good wife in 18th-century America. These included housekeeping, religion, music and dancing.

Her father was a planter and county official. She was the oldest of eight children.

When she was almost 19, she married the richest man in the colony of Virginia, Daniel Custis. He was 20 years older than she. They were married seven years before he died. They had four children, but two of them died. Her husband's death left Martha a very rich woman.

Martha and George

Martha Custis met George Washington after her husband died. Washington was already famous as a hero in the French and Indian War.

Martha was born on June 2, 1731. This is a painting of her in 1757 when she was 26 years old.

They were married on Jan. 6, 1759, at Martha's plantation, White House. They moved to Mount Vernon, George's home.

John Parke (Jacky) Custis (1754-1781) was 4 years old and Martha Parke (Patsy) Custis (1756-1773) was 2 when their mother married George Washington.

Family life

While Martha and George never had children of their own, they did raise the two surviving children she had before she married him.

When he grew up, Jacky Custis married and had four children. He died at the age of 27 when he was serving with George Washington in the Revolutionary Army.

Patsy Custis (1756-1773) died at an early age. The Washingtons were always concerned about her health. Martha was very sad when Patsy died of epilepsy at the age of 17.

Martha's family was the most important part of her life. She was always very protective of her children.

As a wife

Martha Washington was very friendly and loved meeting new people. This was important because so many people came to visit, and George was not as outgoing as she.

In one year, 1798, they had more than 600 guests. Some visitors stayed for weeks.

Martha did not like public life, but she was a warm and gracious first lady and a great help to the president.

As grandparents

Both of the Washingtons liked having young children around.

They raised two of their grandchildren, George Washington (Washy) Parke Custis and Eleanor (Nelly) Parke Custis. Their father was Martha's son, Jacky, who had died.

Slave owners

In the painting at the top left, of George and Martha Washington and Washy and Nelly Custis, you can see an enslaved person in the background.

The Washingtons had more than 300 slaves at Mount Vernon. They worked around the house and in the fields.

George Washington's slaves were freed one year after his death. But some of the family's slaves were Martha's from her first husband's estate. They were not able to be freed by George.

Eco Note

California wildlife officials warn that a new neurological, or brain, illness is causing some black bear cubs in the state to exhibit overly friendly "doglike" behavior with humans. Several have been fearlessly eating and camping out in backyards as humans look on. One young bear that was picked up was sleepy and underweight, with head tremors and a head tilt. "At this point, we don't know what causes the (illness)," said wildlife veterinarian Brandon Munk.

Annie offers advice

DEAR ANNIE

Dear Annie: I have been with my husband for more than 25 years, and I have allowed things to get out of hand. Over the years, he has done a lot for my daughter and her kids, and he has brought me used cars that I did not ask for but appreciate.

I cannot do anything right in his eyes. All our problems are my fault, and he never listens to what I have to say and how I feel. This makes me feel like I don't want to be with him anymore. He has put his hands on me before for saying something that he didn't like, so now I don't like to argue with him because I don't know if he will do it again.

Dear Unhappy: I am very sorry that you are going through this. You are undoubtedly in an abusive relationship. Domestic abuse, also called "domestic violence" or "intimate partner violence," occurs when one person bullies the other to maintain power and control.

Dear Annie: My husband and I have been married for many years. He is now in his 80s and should be chauffeured around rather than driving himself. He is adamant that he is a great driver and will drive till the day he drops dead.

Bridge

PHILLIP ALDER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Leonard Cohen was best known as a singer, but he was also a poet and novelist. In "The Favorite Game" he wrote, "Seven to eleven is a huge chunk of life, full of dulling and forgetting."

In bridge, though, seven from 11 can be vital. When partner leads what you expect to be a fourth-highest card, apply the Rule of Eleven. Subtracting the value of the card led from 11 tells you how many cards above the one led lie in the other three hands combined. (You ignore the leader's hand.)

In this deal, look only at the North and East hands. Defending against three no-trump, your partner (West) leads the spade seven. After declarer calls for a low card from the dummy, which spade would you play?

Although three no-trump by North is laydown here, it is right to open one no-trump with that South hand.

If South starts with one of a minor, and North responds one spade, South has no accurate rebid. Seven from 11 is four. So, there are four spades higher than the seven in the North, East and South hands combined. And East can see them all: dummy's king and his ace-jack-nine.

So, declarer has no spade above the seven. (If you study the spots carefully, you can work out that South has exactly the four-three-doubleton.)

If declarer cannot beat the spade seven, neither should East. He underplays his two, leaving West on lead. Another spade allows the defenders to take the first four tricks. Later, the club king is the fifth defensive trick.

Note that if East plays any spade other than the two at trick one, the contract makes.

Bridge deal diagram showing North and West hands (spades, hearts, diamonds, clubs) and South and East hands, including dealer information and opening lead.
