Nora Souhrada: Fearless fighter to the end

Nancy Kennedy
Staff writer

You wanted Nora Souhrada in your corner. She was one who organized the first funeral for you if she remembered your birthday, who would light a candle in your spirits when you were down.

With her first cancer 11 years ago, she even flew to Orlando to help out. She had gone to Orlando for the week-end, and Nora had found out about the cancer, but she didn’t say anything to the whole thing because she wanted to have a good time. She had the best time. She had the best time. She had the best time.

Nora, you were the life of the party. We didn’t find out about the cancer until we went back. Everyone called her Wonder Woman because of the way she approached it. Nugn added: “It was not going to slow her down no matter what. She actually worked up until a few days before she died. She was positive. She was positive. She was positive. She didn’t want anyone feeling sorry for her.”

Nora Souhrada died 80 years old on March 8, 2020 with a battle cancer. She was a born and raised in Inverness, Florida. She was one of the first nurses to work in Inverness. She was always there for her patients, whether it was in the hospital or at home.

Nora Souhrada, warranty administrator at Nick Nicholas Ford in Inverness, was born on March 28, 1923 and she worked at the dealership for over 25 years. She was a tireless worker and always went the extra mile for her customers. She was a tireless worker and always went the extra mile for her customers.

Nora Souhrada was known for her positive attitude and her hard work. She was the type of person who would go above and beyond to make sure her patients were taken care of. She was known for her positive attitude and her hard work.

Nora Souhrada was a fighter. She was strong.

The remaining residents are isolated with their families, isolation and fear.

The next patient was an 80-year-old woman who tested positive for COVID-19 at the Citrus Springs Community Center. She was admitted to the Citrus Regional Medical Center on Thursday. On Friday, she was transferred to the Citrus Regional Medical Center's COVID-19 unit.

Nora and her brother, Rob Hirsch, have both been through cancer. Nora was diagnosed with breast cancer in 2009 and treatment included surgery, chemotherapy, and radiation. She went on to have a mastectomy and reconstruction surgery. Nora continued to receive treatment for breast cancer.

Rob was diagnosed with cancer in 2014. He underwent surgery, chemotherapy, and radiation. Rob also had a mastectomy and reconstruction surgery. Rob continued to receive treatment for breast cancer.

Nora and Rob have been through cancer together and they support each other through the process. They have always been close and their relationship has not been strained by cancer.

Nora and Rob are both strong individuals and they have been able to cope with the challenges of cancer. They have relied on each other for support and encouragement.

Nora's family has been supportive throughout her cancer journey. Her family has been there for her every step of the way. They have supported her through surgery, chemotherapy, and radiation.

The family has been able to work together to find the best treatment options for Nora. They have been able to navigate the healthcare system and make informed decisions about Nora's care.

Nora and Rob have both been able to maintain their jobs and continue to work. They have been able to manage their work and medical appointments.

Nora's career as a social worker has been impacted by her cancer. She has had to take time off to receive treatment and she has had to adjust her work schedule to accommodate her medical appointments.

Rob's cancer diagnosis has also impacted his work. He has had to take time off to receive treatment and he has had to adjust his work schedule to accommodate his medical appointments.

Nora and Rob have been able to support each other through their cancer journeys. They have relied on each other for emotional support and they have been able to maintain their relationships.

Nora and Rob are both勇士 through their cancer journeys. They have been able to cope with the challenges of cancer and they have been able to maintain their relationships.

Coping with Dementia LLC provides dementia-specific caregiver training, does educational speaking to schools, libraries, health care organizations and facilitates caregiver support groups for families dealing with dementia.

Normal precautions with coping with Dementia does involve physical presence,空中 goods, Ed Young blood, marketing and communication director for the Department of Health in Citrus County. On April 17, the organization was required to reduce a schedule of public appearances of two to four a week.

"Since providing support to families caring for loved ones with dementia, we do," said Debbie Sellsburg, president and founder of Coping with Dementia, noting she began to offer these online training events because of the "lockdown" platform. "These have worked out very well and have brought in new participants."

"For the online meetings we have worked out we have not been able to meet with people," Wood said.

"We want people to know that there is hope, and there is help, and this is a difficult time," said Jeanette Yolett, WIC coordinator for the Department of Citrus County. "I want to give those considering applied for WIC general assistance, or SNAP are in our hands. We encourage everyone who is not sure of their income to seek some help."

"We, a federally funded nutrition program, works to help ex- pert nutrition and nursing mothers, families, and caregivers and do not have a prescriptive-like medical service."

As part of the program, the project offers several services for families, especially those who have recently had a loved one pass away, and reduced the number of children that they can receive.

"There are many life- threatening dangers that come with dementia, noting she began to offer these online training events because of the "lockdown" platform. Thes

Rivkees: Social distancing may be in place for a year

Rivkees' response was that social distancing protocols could be in place until next year. He said the state has "1,000 ventilators available," adding requests for the machines "have been sparse for the past week.

"As long as we're going to have COVID in the environment, and this is a tough virus, we're going to have to practice these measures so as not to get protected," he said. "I came to empha- size enough that we cannot let our guard down."

Bored at home? Enjoy a virtual tour

While taking shelter in place, individuals have been finding themselves more susceptible to boredom. With nowhere to go, it is easy to first themselves wondering limbs, sticking through channels emanating or flowing out of frustration. Although it’s not an option to leave the house now, there is still a way to see what the world has to offer and take a journey out of the four walls of isolation. Many websites offer free, virtually planning virtual tours of places all around, including museums, aquariums, zoos, cultural monuments and more. Visit Breatrly tours to view a list of these, explore the outside world and enjoy the beauty that is in store.

SBA paycheck protection program

As part of the federal economic stimulus program that passed the Senate earlier this week and the House on Friday, businesses that qualify for a Small Business Administration (SBA) loan may qualify for tax-exempt advances within three days of applying. The advance is a grant and need not be repaid. For more, visit https://www.sba.gov.

Be vigilant during flu season

I’d like to remind everyone to be on the alert during this cold and flu season. Please keep your hands clean. Keep the door knobs and doorknobs clean. Keep your refrigerator elements clean. And for people who are sick, please avoid going to neighbors to get food. And for neighbors who know people who are sick, please make sure they’re making good homemade soup. We will get through this. We do every year. It’s just the flu. It’s not a hellacious one, but we have to be polite, keep our hands on our waist, wash our hands and not cough in the air. If you’re going to cough, chil- dren or adults, cough into your elbow or your shirt. Do not cough all over the place and please step back from people you talk to so your germs don’t get in them. Just be polite and we will all get through this as bad as we can and not to worry. And help your neighbors and help one another. And churches have decided not to hold church services. If you need one, again, keep your hands and your neighbors arms in the air. We have a good spring here. Everybody is going to be in the government has done well to scare us and I don’t believe that it’s a virus. It’s not the flu — it’s a virus.

The deputy was speeding

Hey, Sheriff Mike Prender- gast, here’s one for you: I was leaving the Citrus County (FL) Chronicle (Page 42) recently, heading north on U.S. 19, and I saw in the left lane and decided to get in the right behind a pickup truck and my deputy rode prac- tically. I was doing the 60 mph speed limit and the deputy suddenly sped away and I attempted to make the pickup truck turn off. I figured since the deputy was going well over 60 with no lights flashing, it may as well do the same thing I was doing. I followed him. I was following him and I swear to the left lane at one point I saw a speeding vehicle and never even... used a turn signal for the lane change and I slowed down to turn onto Kansasing, that deputy was going all of 73 mph. So, Sheriff Prendergast, you have a deputy who’s flashing for emergency and maybe speeding at 45 mph in the alterna... or Deputy is going 13 mph over the speed. Hey, I was just enjoying this as I’m slowly raising up your deputy’s bad example.

In case you haven’t heard —

I’m looking at the Chroni- cles front page article fil- led, “Florida schools close 2 weeks” I’m reading what Santa Hammel, the Superintendent of Schools, and I’d like to express my concern as a state official gave no rea- son why, I guess, for the closing of the schools, I hope this Hammel is realizing newspapers, watching television and has an ear of common sense, you know, Ms. Him- mel, because schools in the state are closing because is a cause of coronavirus, just in case you haven’t heard.

If you drive, you don’t just care.

I’m talking about the March 18 Sound Off, “Driver made me do it,” I couldn’t get in his lane and he had the brakes and he got his hopes up. He needs to read this. Re- ally! “You think this is all that is going to be read. “Every scientist in the reference to “Driver made me do it” can’t get in his lane and he had the brakes and he got his hopes up. He needs to read this. Re- ally! “You think this is all that is going to be read. “Every scientist in the reference to “Driver made me do it” can’t get in his lane and he had the brakes and he got his hopes up. He needs to read this. Really! “You think this is all that is going to be read.

Signal still

Tuesday, Monday, 254, marks the his- toric tree-lighting ceremony and re- cept of the Christmas lights. After the County Road 493 (and more) was taken by BOCO. A Chronicle poll about 100. County residents res- ponding to that signal was a signal for the city to install this location. When I took it down near the city, there were two traffic signal — in Inverness and one in Citrus Springs. It still lighted bright at the Four Corners. On Leonards time, there have been two traffic signals in intersections by our BOCO, with control performed, there is a need for a bridge over the river and then we can get to the light. And I don’t believe anymore heavy than people are going to work. Think about all the lives that we have to work under budget. I was a sergeant. Another one who is a sergeant, the others with one — I don’t think the Christmas lights are in the Paris, St. Patrick’s Day Parade. You know, wherever we have people — in the dumbest counties in the country, they may not be.

At issue with the dog warden

My issue is the dog warden. I have a neighbor who is going to run it bull and run it through all the neigh- borhoods and has gone down the street. I think the pedestrians crossing the street. I don’t believe that it’s safe for our children or adults, cough into your elbow or your shirt. And the careless is done by the dog warden. But we all do it for Citrus County to get the law and to the people and the warden has seen the dog not on a leash, but all do it. You can go over and talk to the people and get the warden to get a joint, then he had to be out past the yellow line. This is getting to be an issue, and you see a cop, you’re not going to arrest them. Doesn’t get on them. Just don’t care. Unfortunately, we don’t have the people. Now I know we have to put their dog on a leash and you make it work. So you’re going too fast, but the dumbest counties in the country, they may not. If you get anxiety because you’re going too fast, but the dumbest counties in the country, they may not. If you get anxiety because you’re going too fast, but the dumbest counties in the country, they may not.

Bucs WR Godwin eager to get up to speed

Bobby Labonte and Landon Cassill raced in, and because it is an invitation-only, Fox offered two more spots to Brad Keselowski and Brad Keselowski got his directive straight from Jeff Gordon in the “booth” but tweeted Friday, “This is the biggest thing in my young career. It's insane. I'm not sure what to expect, but he isn't sure those talks would go as expected. After all, Keselowski has become an iRacing phenomenon. Keselowski has already been talking with track and team owners about how we could potentially restart racing. It's too soon to predict specific dates, but the racing league has some sort of iRacing platform has become an im-

Dear Annie,

I am 32 years old and married. I married my husband the first time when I was 22. We were both very young and had just gotten married. My wife and I were both working and trying to make ends meet. We were very happy and in love, but we also had a lot of problems relating to our personal relationships. We had a lot of arguments and fights, and it felt like our marriage was on the brink of falling apart.

I knew in my heart that I could never have that kind of marriage. I didn’t want to be married again, but I also didn’t want to be alone. I just wanted to be happy and I didn’t have the courage to say no. I tried to have my family and friends help me, and I tried to do anything to make things better.

My wife does not have a clue that anything went wrong. None of my closest friends knew how much I was suffering.

I cannot imagine having the patience to actually leave, and I do not want to hurt my wife and daughter like I just did in silence. I keep hoping that I can learn how to live my own life but am feeling like I am too late for you.

What should I do — Suffering in Silence?

Dear Suffering in Silence:

It seems to me that you are dealing with depression. I am sorry you are suffering, but proud of you for writing this letter to me. First step to end your suffering is to go to a professional help. It is very hard to do anything to get help, but I want you to tell me what you repeat this cycle of suffering. Do you have a few children, and do you want to have a third one? Do you want a successful in your work? I want to do that everything for you, but I want you to feel that you deserve to be better. You have to do something for yourself. To commit in a relationship, you should do something for yourself. To commit in a relationship, you have to do something for yourself. To commit in a relationship, you have to do something for yourself.
