A resurfacing project will begin Sunday, Oct. 3, on County Road 491 between West Ocala Street and West Grover Cleveland Boulevard.

Paving is scheduled to start Monday morning, according to a Citrus County news release. Milling operations are expected during the evening hours.

This is part of the Small County Outreach Program (SCOP) Resurfacing Project.

Authorities arrested the head of a school for a juvenile corrections center in Citrus County after allegations arose he violated a five-day-old restraining order against him.

Citrus County Sheriff's Office deputies on Tuesday, Sept. 28, booked Robert John Cummins II into the county jail under a charge of violating a stalking injunction, according to arrest and court reports obtained Thursday.

Cummins, who's listed by the Florida Department of Education (FDOE) as nile Correctional Treatment and Center in Lecanto, was jailed without bond for the first-degree misdemeanor.

Cummins II Citrus County Judge Mark Yerman issued a $500 bond to Cummins on Wednesday during the Crystal River 57-year-old's first court appearance.

Cypress Creek's manager, TrueCore Behavioral Solutions, LLC, confirmed Cummins' arrest on Thursday, adding he was placed on immediate suspension.

Yerman also ordered on Wednesday for Cummins to have no contact with the woman who had the protective injunction filed against him since Sept. 23.

Cummins is accused of breaching the injunction because he contacted the woman's employer and requested personnel records into a previous disciplinary hearing involving her.

Alcohol sales to minors result in violations

Thanks to the partnership between the nonprofit group Historic Monkey Island (HMI), Withlacoochee River Electric Cooperative (WREC) and the community, the monkeys' new home will include air conditioning and heat, a new playground to keep them entertained and in tip-top shape and barriers around the island to protect them from overzealous kayakers and boaters.

In addition, Citrus High School defensive line football coach Zeb Bishop created a GoFundMe for Hicks' family, titled "Honor Antonio's Memory."

"As many of you may know Antonio went home to be with Jesus September 28th," Bishop wrote. "He was a kid that had an infectious laugh and could light up a room with his smile.

This fund is being set up to help his family in whatever way we can. Everything will go to his mom to use in whatever way she needs.

Sponsor a child this holiday season

Citrus County Resource Center seeks dedicated helpers for annual drive

HANNAH SACHEWICZ Staff writer

The holiday season is fast approaching and it's never too early to start shopping. Once again, the Citrus County Resource Center is coordinating community sponsors to brighten up the holidays for local children in need.

Donated gifts are given to children under protection of the state for abuse or neglect, or children whose teacher or counselor sees the need in the family.

Families who struggle to keep the electric on or keep food in the house can seldom buy toys or presents. With the community's help, children can wake up tree.

Individuals who wish to sponsor a child will be given a letter describing them. The sponsor is then given the freedom to choose gifts for that child.

Some sponsors gift general items such as coloring books, trucks or clothing, which are distributed to children who come to the center's attention at the last minute, or for those who may not have received a sponsor.

In previous years, some groups have decided to sponsor children rather than exchanging

84-year-old donates blood for the 90th time

NANCY KENNEDY Staff writer

There's a simple reason Sam McMechan has donated his blood regularly for the past 60 years.

"God gave me this blood, and if somebody needs something and I have it, I've always wanted to share it," McMechan said from his Citrus Hills home.

McMechan is what's called a universal donor. His blood, type O negative, is the type that is compatible with most everyone who receives it in that it has the lowest risk of causing serious reactions for most people.

McMechan started donating blood when he was in the U.S. Army.

"I got drafted in 1961 at age 23 and then was shipped off to Germany," he said. "That's where I donated the first time. After that, whenever they had a blood draw the first sergeant would say, 'Blood draw today after lunch. I want all volunteers to follow Sam McMechan."

He continued donating when he got out of the service and even after he > Johnson-Spence said blood banks are always in need of donors, whole blood and plasma, and now more than ever.

"When COVID first happened and everything was shut down there was less demand for blood — not as many emergencies and fewer elective surgeries, so we were able to keep up with demand because the demand went way down,' she said. "But now that things are back open again, COVID cases are still high and we've seen an increase in convalescent plasma orders and we're having a really hard time keeping up with the demand.

She said less than two months ago, the request orders for convalescent plasma were about 40 per week for the three states they cover, Florida, Georgia and Alabama.

"Now we're getting 500 orders a week," she said.

She added that people like Sam McMechan are an inspiration and she hopes by him being featured in the newspaper and on the local TV station WYKE more people will be encouraged to donate.

"I'm 84 years old," Mc-Mechan said, "and one of my goals is to keep giving blood as long as I can give.'

Special to the Chronicle

Lourdes "Fifie" Charles of Citrus Hills were named the Knights of Columbus August Council 6168 Family of the Month.

"This couple has been a constant positive force in the parish and our council," Grand Knight Mike Belkin said. "They are leaders, uncompromising in their determination to glorify God and help those in need.'

Doc and Fifie manage a program for Our Lady of Grace Parish in Beverly Hills that brings and serves food twice weekly to homeless people coming to the Family Resource Center in Hernando. Both also are extraordinary ministers of the Eucharist and usually attend mass daily.

Since joining the Knights of Columbus seven years ago, Doc has advanced to the pinnacle, the fourth degree. In council 6168, he is the chancellor, the third ranking officer in the council.

Fifie was a legal translator of French and Creole for the courts in New Jersey. Doc is medical doctor who retired as a colonel after 21 years in the New Jersey Army National Guard.

Richard Rudman

Both came to the United States from Haiti, and Doc to New York in 1970. He Dr. Clarel "Doc" Charles and Marie earned his medical doctor degree at the University of Haiti in 1967, did his internship at Sydenham Hospital in Manhattan and residency at Lincoln Hospital in the Bronx.

> He then practiced internal medicine at the Essex County Hospital Center in Cedar Grove, New Jersey.

> Prompted by a friend, Pierre Gaboton, who now lives nearby, the couple moved from Parsippany, New Jersey in 2000 to their home in Citrus Hills.

Doc and Fifie said they take their inspiration for involvement and charitable work from their mothers. "Our mothers always emphasized the importance of being involved, for example, feeding the poor," they said.

About 10 years ago, the couple talked with the late Rev. Monsignor Avelino Garcia, who was then the pastor at Our Lady of Grace, about how to become involved in the church and community.

They concluded: "Yes, feeding the homeless, we can try that." They have been doing so ever since.

The Citrus Hills couple has a daughter, a soldier-son who died 24 years ago and and three grandchildren.

"We're always looking for ways to get involved in the community," said Gary Steele, WREC district manager. "We're a local company, a 'Main Street' company, and we also see this as being part of Old Florida and see a lot of value in that.

"Plus, this is a huge tourist attraction. Folks from all over know about Monkey Island and it's still here and we really need to preserve it and keep it around for the next generation," he said.

HMI board member Marie Straight said Discover Crystal River, formerly the Tourist Development Council (TDC), has also partnered with them, agreeing to match up to $75,000.

"That's after we raise and spend the money (on the restoration)," Straight said.

How did the monkeys get there in the first place?

First came the island, which was just a couple of boulders that boaters kept crashing into.

Back in the 1960s, the Floridabased Norris Cattle Company, a huge owner of area lands, was doing some work in the area.

At the time, G.A. "Furgy" Furgason, a manager with Norris and himself an influential developer in Homosassa, had a crew doing some work and asked the dragline operator on the Homosassa River to pile up some dirt around the rocks so they could be seen and hopefully would keep his boats from being wrecked.

As the story goes, the dragline operator got carried away and the little bit of dirt became a small island in the river.

Then Furgason installed a lighthouse so boaters could see the island at night, and later grass and vegetation began to grow.

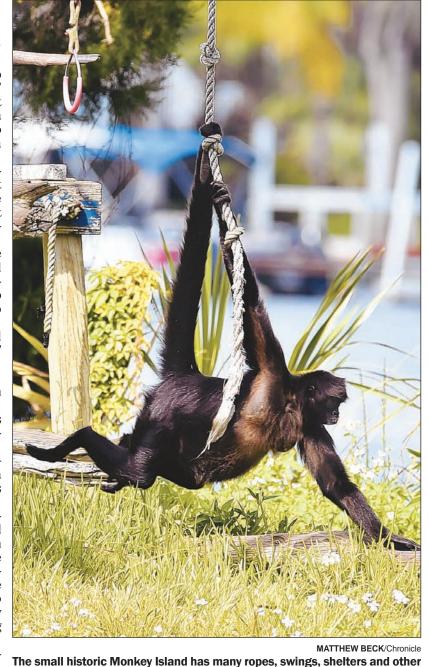

Meanwhile, Furgason got a call from what is now Ellie Schiller Homosassa Springs Wildlife State Park about five spider monkeys that were causing trouble, getting into people's cars, crashing into windows, and stealing food.

Furgason knew just what to do with those naughty monkeys.

He and some men went over to the wildlife park, rounded up the monkeys and brought them to the island.

In the beginning, there were three spider monkeys and two squirrel monkeys, Tiny and Tim.

After Tiny and Tim died of old age, they were replaced by Eve and Emily in 2006.

The small historic Monkey Island has many ropes, swings, shelters and other items the monkeys interact with. Much of the day the primates can be seen moving from one part of the island to the other utilizing their hands and tails to grasp the ropes for stability.

"When the family purchased the property, I said to everyone, 'These monkeys belong to the community,' so we created the Historic Monkey Island 501(c)(3)," Matt Lowman said, adding that adding more monkeys is a future possibility that the board will decide on.

Also, Lowman said, the monkeys will be placed at a safe facility during their home remodeling.

completed by the end of 2022, or sooner.

Another phase of the project is installing high-end cameras so people can go online and watch the monkeys from their computer or phone anywhere around the world.

"This past Saturday, I was out fishing early, and came back in around 10 a.m.," Lowman said. "I counted about 27 boats in the river, circling around Monkey Island, just to see the monkeys. Like I said, these monkeys belong to the community."

According to his courtfiled arrest report, Cummins told deputies in a Mirandized statement he wanted the information so he could file a motion to have a judge reconsider the injunction.

"The defendant stated that he knew after this injunction was filed that the victim would be trying to violate him as soon as possible," Cummins' arrest report states.

Yerman slated Cummins to be arraigned on his charge Oct. 11.

According to prior Chronicle reports, Cummins coached at Crystal River and Lecanto high schools before he became principal of the Cyprus Creek school.

PLANS

Davis' colleague on the board, Scott Carnahan, recently told the Chronicle editorial board he sees no value in these sessions because the plans are put on a shelf somewhere and never acted upon.

Davis said the board must make sure that doesn't happen this time. It's imperative, she said, that the county has a game plan for growth.

"What do we want Citrus County to look like in 50 years," Davis told the Chronicle editorial board Wednesday.

Davis said Citrus County has never had a codified visioning plan and it's time it did. Once completed, the plan has to be diligently followed, she said.

The strategic planning sessions are held to obtain input from the public regarding roads, the environment, jobs, health care, the economy and anything else it believes their elected officials need to focus on going forward.

Davis, at Wednesday's chronicleonline.com. T editorial board meeting of more of his stories, the Chronicle, said water tinyurl.com/y6kb23vv.

Cypress Creek offers schooling alongside psychiatric and substanceabuse counseling for offenders between 15 and 21 years old, who stay an average of between 18 and 36 months. There are 96 beds available at the Florida Department of Juvenile Justice facility.

Cummins was also an unsuccessful challenger to Sandy Balfour in the 2012 Republican primary for superintendent of Citrus County schools.

According to the FDOE on Thursday, Cummins was still certified in educational leadership, middle grades integrated curriculum and physical education.

quality and the lack of affordable housing must be addressed.

Another priority is the impact the Suncoast Parkway will make on this community.

Without planning, the interchanges along West Cardinal Street, State Road 44 and County Road 486 will look like Pasco County, which was a victim of "randomized development" and now is loaded with gas stations and fast food joints, she said.

The forums are scheduled to take place from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and will take place Saturday Oct. 16 and Saturday, Oct. 23. Both will have identical programs so it is only necessary to virtually attend one session, Davis said.

Eric Head, director of the Citrus County Library System, said plans are underway to set aside space at the libraries for people who don't have access to the technology and still want to participate in the strategic planning sessions. Details, he said, will be released later.

Stocks close out month with losses

Associated Press

Stocks on Wall Street fell broadly Thursday, closing out September with their worst monthly loss since the beginning of the pandemic.

The S&P 500 ended the month 4.8% lower, its first monthly drop since January and the biggest since March 2020, when the viral outbreak rattled markets as it wreaked havoc with the global economy.

After climbing steadily for much of the year, the stock market became unsettled in recent weeks with the spread of the more contagious delta variant of COVID-19, a sudden spike in long-term bond yields and word that the Federal Reserve may start to unwind its support for the economy.

The S&P 500 fell 1.2% Thursday, after selling accelerated in the final hour of trading. The benchmark index is still up 14.7% for the year.

"It's not really surprising that we're seeing a weaker September because historically its the worst month on average," said Jay Pestrichelli, CEO, of investment firm ZEGA Financial. "Unfortunately, there's not a lot of information to glean for October from it.

The S&P 500 fell 51.92 points to 4,307.54, and is now 5.1% below its alltime high set on Sept. 2. The September swoon cut into the index's gains for the third quarter, leaving it only 0.2% higher. That's its smallest quarterly gain since the pandemic first stunned the economy and financial markets.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average fell 546.80 points, or 1.6%. to 33,843.92, while the Nasdag slid 63.86 points, or 0.4%, to 14,448.58. Small company stocks also lost ground. The Russell 2000 index fell 20.94 points, or 0.9%, to 2,204.37.

Bond yields edged lower. The vield on the 10year Treasury note, a benchmark for many kinds of loans, fell to 1.50% from

More than 90% of the lier than anticipated. stocks in the index fell.

The broader market stumbled through September as investors tried to get a clearer picture of the economy's path amid inflation concerns and uncertainty about how COVID-19 will continue to impact industries and consumers. In recent weeks, economic data has revealed that the highly contagious delta variant has crimped consumer spending and the job market's recovery.

The weak signals for economic growth continued Thursday as the Labor Department reported that unemployment applications rose for the third straight week and were higher than economists anticipated. The Commerce Department upgraded its estimate of economic growth during the second quarter to 6.7%, which was slightly better than economists expected. but they expect growth to slow to 5.5% during the third quarter.

Inflation concerns that had been weighing on the market earlier in the year returned in September as a wide range of companies issued more warnings about the impact of rising prices on their finances. Sherwin-Williams and Nike are among the many companies that have warned investors about supply chain problems, higher raw material costs and labor issues.

Inflation will likely remain the key worry hanging over the markets for the rest of the year, Pestrichelli said, and it could put the Federal Reserve in the tough position of having to raise rates ear-

Investors are still trying to gauge whether those issues are temporary and part of the economic recovery or could linger longer than expected. The upcoming round of corporate earnings reports could shed light on how companies are dealing with those problems.

"The jury is still out on this and we don't really know if it's demand-driven or supply-driven inflation," Pestrichelli said. "If you end up getting lower growth and higher inflation, then you get stagflation and that's no good for the market.'

Investors have also had their eyes on Washington, where Democrats and Republicans in Congress have been wrestling over extending the nation's debt limit. On Thursday, a bill to fund the U.S. government through Dec. 3 and avoid a partial federal shutdown cleared Congress. Still, Congress' dispute over whether to raise the government's borrowing cap remains unresolved.

Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen has said that if the debt limit isn't raised by Oct. 18, the United States probably will face a financial crisis and economic recession.

Several companies made outsized gains and losses following corporate news on Thursday. Virgin Galactic's stock soared 12.1% after it was cleared to fly again following a Federal Aviation Administration inquiry. CarMax slumped 12.6% for the biggest drop in the S&P 500 after reporting disappointing fiscal second-quarter profits.

There are other requests on the list also, including continuation of Springs Initiative funding, but transportation is clearly a priority. Some of these projects have been on Citrus County's wish list for a long time. Our legislators have been very successful in securing funding for important Citrus County projects in past years. We hope they will be during the 2022 session, too.

= Hot Corner: COVID COMMENTS =

■ I'm just reading Sound Off and I find something very amusing: "Wear a hazmat suit" (Tuesday, Sept. 28, Page A9). I thought that was very amusing. I think that's funny as heck. Too bad there isn't over 50,000 other Floridians that would help to find that amusing and maybe over 600,000 Americans would've (found) that amusing. Too bad they're not here to find it amusing because of (COVID).

I'm sure the Chronicle found it amusing. That's why they printed it, because you don't always print everything people call in about. So it's very funny.

Maybe you should go on the road and take it and show how hilarious Florida is. We're just funny.

According to what I see on TV. there's been, in the last three months, millions upon to get companies to relocate Trail. Funding would be operations and high-paying through the state's SUN jobs to Citrus County. One major item on their checklists is the ability to ship products and materials to and from the location. Case in point, Citrus County needs to provide convenient access to the planned Holder industrial park. In comparison, Ocala/Marion County have actively taken advantage of proximity of I-75 to develop its commercial/industrial base.

Roads in the BOCC's legislative request include: U.S. 41 from State Road 44 to S.R. 200 in Hernando, and S.R. 200 from that U.S. 41

County should pave their streets

Is there a reason Citrus County doesn't buy the equipment and pave their own streets? Oh, silly me. ... Hopefully, someone at the Chronicle will have the courage to publish this.

Story takes me back to the old days

Your story today about the crooner (Monday, Sept. 13's front page) reminded me of back in the old days of singing Fred and dancing Leona. Those people would go to all the care centers and everything around the county and entertain folks and I think they did it for nothing. I just was reminded of them because of your story and I didn't know if anybody else would remember those two or not, but they sure meant a lot to my mom and to other people like her, I know that much. Put the > veterans first I'm concerned of why the people in this county aren't for vets they way they should be. I was at a meeting Thursday talking about the problems, the red tape that they're going through trying to build low-income housing for veterans. But you also read in the Chronicle about dog parks, about dog shelters, about Beverly Hills pools. All of those things should be on the bottom of the list. Taking care of the veterans in this county - or in the whole country — should be priority No. 1.

sion expressed sympathy but appears to take the defeatist attitude toward any corrective plan.

serious concerns regarding flooding. The county commis-

We live in a coastal area at a very low sea level. As I mentioned in a previous letter, U.S. 19 was brought up to 9 feet in the '60s. Flooding has occurred in many areas that are not in coastal low lands. After viewing the storm of the century in 1993, I am well aware that there is only so much you can do when Mother Nature turns an ugly head toward us. That being said there are ways to control local flooding. The county has an extensive mosquito ditch system managed by the Mosquito Control Board. These ditches are overgrown and many in need of cleaning. Highway drainage ditches that are not large enough or not pitched correctly can also cause issues. Developers have had a history of causing flooding when not properly managed by the county inspectors. Possible adding a drainage retention area to flood location might help. There are reasons for flooding and standing water, some out of county control but many can be addressed.

I would suggest instead of a phone number to call and complain, how about someone on the other end of the phone line taking down information. That information could be passed on to a committee made up of county engineers, highway superintendent, code enforcement, etc. The committee would be required by the commission to address every complaint and develop solutions that are within county control. Possibly a code enforcement officer/highway department staff could visit every site and provide the committee with its findings and suggested follow up where possible.

they get solved. In Florida, the county commission is where the buck stops, unless it is out of their sphere of control, then the problem needs to be moved up to whoever can address it. Flooding can be a county issue and needs to be attended to where possible.

Library system is impressive

The article on Citrus County's Library Director Eric Head was a long time coming. As a 28-year resident, coming from a much larger county in Florida, I continue to be impressed by the improvements our library system has made under the guidance of Director Head. Listening to books through the Libby app kept my husband and I sane during the early days of COVID.

Now that we can go inside our libraries, I find new and creative ideas with each visit. Mary Whitehead Crystal River

Work to keep country's values

If you are worried about the immigration issues, think about this: How many immigrants are begging to move to China? Our country is the greatest representative republic, if we can keep it. Vote. Vote your values on the local, state and national level, and hold those representatives accountable. Wear your mask, take your vaccine and help our country survive this pandemic. We love our country founded by immigrants. Our lady of liberty is a beacon to all and we must work hard to keep our values of truth, freedom and unity.

Vaccinations: What are the odds?

The most recently available count of deaths in Citrus County from COVID-19 is 695. With a county population of 150,000, your odds of being the next one to die from this virus is about 200 to 1. If those odds do not concern you, let's look at it a different way. If you are fully vaccinated and take all the suggested protections, your chances of dying from the virus is arguably much less than 200 to 1. Who makes up the difference? The unvaccinated — anti-maskers.

Still not moved? Let's look at it yet another way. If the Florida Lottery issued a game where the prize was say $100,000 and your odds of winning were 200 to 1, would you put your money down? I sure would.

So, are you feeling lucky?

Thomas Galvagni Inverness

Inverness can't handle the traffic

In reference to Inverness wanting to build: They want to build hotels and build this, but they can't handle the traffic flow they have now. Here it is, a Monday morning, I'm trying to make a left turn off South Pleasant Grove Road and there's two turn lanes. It took me three traffic lights before I was finally able to turn. So you can't handle the traffic you have CAL now, let alone you should fix the lights so the traffic could flow smoothly. But you don't do that because you don't care about the citizens of Inverness. You just care about building, building, building.

Cemetery needs to be mowed

If the Inverness mayor can't keep his nose out of Whispering Pines, he needs to walk through the cemetery and figure out why it can't get mowed. It's a disgrace.

People visiting are family members

(Re Wednesday, Sept. 15's Page A9 Sound Off, "We have too many tourists"): I got a kick out of today's paper. Somebody complained about too many people coming into Florida as visitors and it's too crowded and they ought to stay away. Evidently this person doesn't have any family, because most of the people that come here are visiting family down here. I guess she would like to have everybody's family stay home except hers and then her family could come. But most of the people that come here to visit are down here to visit their parents, their grandparents, their children, and I don't see anything wrong with that. They spend money here. People ought to just mind their own business.

A shopping day for mask wearers

I don't like shopping at grocery stores where people are not wearing masks. I wear my mask to protect myself and to protect them. I think they should come up with a plan where people that wear masks

can shop on even days and people that don't wear a mask can shop on an odd day. This way everybody on even days will have masks and everybody on odd days won't have masks and they can go ahead and get sick if they want to. I think that sounds like a pretty good plan. I think you ought to put that in your Sound Off. God is good.

Fix the filthy parking lots

You know, we spend millions of dollars to clean up King's Bay, Crystal River, Homosassa River, but we totally ignore all these giant parking lots along (U.S.) 19. If you walk through these parking lots and see the filth and the trash that is constantly on the ground and it goes right into the storm sewers, right into our waters. It's time we started ticketing the owners of these shopping centers for littering. They used to clean their parking lots. You'll notice they don't do that anymore. It's absolutely disgusting. Just look at any of the shopping centers. ... They're all filthy and all of that filth runs into the waterways. When are we going to do something about the runoff?

I don't like those bank fees

What's the story with these banks? I opened a new checking account and I used the three checks that they gave me, so I need checks because I don't have any. I went to the bank and took out some money. I told the lady I needed a money order. They wanted to charge $5 for a money order at the bank. That's absurd when the other stores charge $1.50 to $1.70.

Don't allow TikTok in the country

I'm responding to Sound Off in reference to "Malicious TikTok fad hits schools" (Tuesday, Sept. 21's front-page story). This is why our country should not allow TikTok to come into our country. Not only did they vandalize schools, they were telling kids they were fat and putting kids on diets. I know a kid who had to go to a hospital because she wasn't eating right because she paid attention to stupid TikTok. This TikTok should be outlawed in the United States of America...

Wearing a mask to set good example

I'm just reading the article, "School police chief settles into new role" (Tuesday, Sept. 21's frontpage story). You have a picture of the police chief and two of his guards with him in a school and he's fist-bumping a young student — wonderful — but not one of them is wearing a mask, setting a real good example...

Sentence too low for laser crime

I am calling about the (Page A3) article in the Sept. 21 Chronicle about the Homosassa man who was arrested for shining a laser pointer at a police helicopter, a crime that could land him in a state prison for up to five years. In a report issued this year, the FAA said that between 2010 and 2020, the U.S. had close to 60,000 incidents of lasers pointed at an aircraft. I think the sentence of five years in prison is too low. Pointing a laser at a pilot puts everybody onboard in danger. If the sentence were 20 years in prison, maybe these idiots would think twice.

New data shows military suicides were up 15% last year

WASHINGTON — The number of U.S. military suicides jumped by 15% last year, fueled by significant increases in the Army and Marine Corps that senior leaders called troubling. They urged more effort to reverse the trend.

According to data released Thursday, there were 580 suicides last year compared with 504 the prior year. Of those, the number of suicides by Army National Guard troops jumped by about 35%, from 76 in 2019 to 103 last year, and the active duty Army saw a nearly 20% rise. Marine Corps suicides went up by more than 30%, from 47 to 62; while the Marine Corps Reserves went from nine deaths to 10.

"The findings are troubling," Defense Secretary Lloyd Austin range of personal issues, includsaid. "Suicide rates among our service members and military families are still too high, and the trends are not going in the right direction.'

Suicide has long been a problem in the U.S. military. While the causes of suicide are complex and not fully understood, military leaders have previously said they believed the COVID-19 pandemic was adding stress to an already strained force. Troops last year were called to help provide testing and later vaccines while struggling with the virus themselves and among relatives and friends. They also dealt with continued war-zone deployments, national disasters and often violent civil unrest.

ing financial and marital stress.

Pentagon press secretary John Kirby acknowledged the Defense Department cannot fully explain the increases in suicides in recent years.

"One of the things that is bedeviling about suicide is that it's often very hard to connect dots in causality - what leads somebody to make that decision,' Kirby said. "It's difficult to denote specific causality with suicide on an individual basis, let alone on an institutional basis. And I think that's why it's so difficult for us to speak to it with any specificity, except to say we take this very, very seriously."

Senate approves Biden land-agency pick over GOP opposition

WASHINGTON - A bitterly divided Senate late Thursday approved President Joe Biden's choice to oversee vast governmentowned lands in the West, despite Republican complaints that she is an "eco-terrorist."

Tracy Stone-Manning, Biden's choice to lead the Interior Department's Bureau of Land Management, was approved, 50-45.

Republicans sharply criticized her nomination during an often acrimonious Senate debate, with several holding up a metal spike similar to one used in a 1989 environmental sabotage case.

Democrats defended Stone-Manning, noting she was never charged with a crime and in fact testified against two men who were convicted of spiking trees to sabotage a timber sale in Idaho's Clearwater National Forest.

WASHINGTON — Facing bipartisan criticism over its approach to immigration, the Biden administration on Thursday announced new rules that require authorities to only pursue migrants who recently crossed into the country without permission or are deemed to pose a threat to public safety.

The new guidelines replace interim rules issued in February that were initially blocked by a federal judge in August as part of a lawsuit brought by Texas and Louisiana. They break from a more aggressive approach to immigration en-who early in his presidency directed authorities to apprehend anyone who was illegally in the country.

The release comes as President Joe Biden has come under fire from allies for his reliance on a Trump-era public health authority to rapidly expel migrants encountered on the U.S.-Mexico border while also facing Republican criticism that he hasn't done enough to counter a sharp increase in migrants seeking to enter the country.

The Biden administration has expelled about 5,000 Haitians who crossed the U.S.-Mexico border at Del Rio, Texas, in recent forcement under former weeks. A federal appeals rected Thursday cleared the administration to continue expelling families under the public-health authority known as Title 42. The appeals court put on hold a lower court order barring the expulsions of families hours before the ban was to take effect.

Department of Homeland Security Secretary Alejandro Mayorkas told reporters that the new policv was based on the reality that the U.S. can't go after all people in the country without legal status and shouldn't try because many "have been contributing members of our communities for years.'

Unlike the interim rules, the criminal activity is not limited to the category known in legal terms as an aggravated felony but will depend on the "totality of the facts and circumstances," Mayorkas said. Biden OKs bill to avert gov't shutdown

KEVIN FREKING Associated Press

WASHINGTON — With only hours to spare, President Joe Biden on Thursday evening signed legislation that would avoid a partial federal shutdown and keep the government funded through Dec. 3. Congress had passed the bill earlier Thursday.

The back-to-back votes by the Senate and then the House averted one crisis, but delays on another continue as the political parties dig in on a dispute over how to raise the government's borrowing cap before the United States risks a potentially catastrophic default.

The House approved the shortterm funding measure by a 254-175 vote not long after Senate passage in a 65-35 vote. A large majority of Republicans in both chambers voted against it. The legislation was needed to keep the government running once the current budget year ended at midnight Thursday. Passage will buy lawmakers more time to craft the spending measures that Mitch McConnell of Kentucky is will fund federal agencies and the insisting they do so. programs they administer.

The work to keep the government open and running served as the backdrop during a chaotic day for Democrats as they struggled to get Biden's top domestic priorities over the finish line, including a bipartisan $1 trillion infrastructure bill at risk of stalling in the House.

"It is a glimmer of hope as we go through many, many other activities," said Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer, D-N.Y.

With their energy focused on Biden's agenda, Democrats backed down from a showdown over the debt limit in the government funding bill, deciding to uncouple the borrowing ceiling at the insistence of Republicans. If that cap is not raised by Oct. 18, the U.S. probably will face a financial crisis and economic recession, Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen said.

Republicans say Democrats have the votes to raise the debt limit on their own, and Republican leader

The short-term spending legislation will also provide about $28.6 billion in disaster relief for those recovering from Hurricane Ida and other natural disasters. Some $10 billion of that money will help farmers cover crop losses from drought, wildfires and hurricanes. An additional $6.3 billion will help support the resettlement of Afghanistan evacuees from the 20-year war between the U.S. and the Taliban.

"This is a good outcome, one I'm happy we are getting done," Schumer said. "With so many things to take care of in Washington, the last thing the American people need is for the government to grind to a halt.'

Once the government is funded, albeit temporarily, Democrats will turn their full attention to the need to raise the limit on federal borrowing, which now stands at $28.4 trillion.

The U.S. has never defaulted on its debts in the modern era and historically, both parties have voted to raise the limit.

WASHINGTON - Senators fired a barrage of criticism Thursday at a Facebook executive over the social-networking giant's handling of internal research on how its Instagram photo-sharing platform can harm teens.

The lawmakers accused Facebook of concealing the negative findings about Instagram and demanded a commitment from the company to make changes.

During testimony before a Senate Commerce subcommittee, Antigone Davis, Facebook's head of global safety, defended Instagram's efforts to protect young people using its platform. She disputed the way a recent newspaper story describes what the research shows.

"We care deeply about the safety and security of the people on our platform," Davis said. "We take the issue very seriously. ... We have put in place multiple protections to create safe and age-appropriate experiences for people between the ages of 13 and 17."

Ban on 'surprise' medical bills on track for Jan. 1 rollout

WASHINGTON - The Biden administration on Thursday put final touches on consumer protections against so-called "surprise" medical bills. The ban on charges that hit insured patients at some of life's most vulnerable moments is on track to take effect Jan. 1, officials said.

Taliban order fighters out of Afghan homes they took over KABUL, Afghanistan The Taliban on Thursday ordered their fighters to leave private homes they had taken over during last month's blitz when the group seized control of Afghanistan, an apparent effort to impose order among Taliban ranks.

Meanwhile, in the capital of Kabul, the Taliban fired shots to disperse a women's rally demanding equal rights while the regional chief for the International Federation of the Red Cross warned that Afghanistan was sliding into a deep "major humanitarian crisis" with the coming winter and severe financial shortfalls.

The order by Taliban Prime Minister Hasan Akhund followed recent public statements by Taliban officials hinting at plans to improve organization and marshal fighters. It said Taliban members belonging to the militant group's defense, interior and intelligence agencies who are living in private homes need to "report back to military bases" across the country.

Senior back with the girls after start with boys

> CHRIS BERNHARDT JR. Staff writer

Megan Allen has proved she can hold her own with the boys. Now she's enjoying finishing out the season with the girls team.

The Crystal River senior has been one of the top golfers of any gender over the past four years.

"She's solid, dependable, salt of the Earth," Crystal River girls golf coach Sandy Story said. "She's a genuinely good kid. I depend on her for anything and everything. She's been a great leader to all the other kids.'

She's also a pretty strong golfer. In three matches playing with the girls team, she's averaging 41.7 shots over nine holes. In her first three matches with the boys team, she averaged 49.7.

"I've had ups and downs," Allen said.

nothing new. She did it her entire freshman and most of her sophomore season when the Pirates did not have enough girls to field a team. For districts, regionals and states she competed as an individual in the girls tournaments.

At some points she's been the No. 1 player for the boys team, finding success even playing from the longer tees.

"It's pretty fun," Allen said. "They're a little wild but it's funny to watch them play. I get to play with good golfers and I get to see how far drives can actually go.

"... I've had to analyze holes better and see if I had to use a larger club or not. I need to make sure I know my distances."

She believes that her time spent with the boys team has improved her overall game.

"Playing with the boys got me to get a better view of being a longer hitter. It makes me work on my higher clubs," Allen said.

The reason she had to play with the boys at the start of this season was because COVID-19 issues kept the girls team off the course. There was a fear that Allen would not get the five So why was she playing with matches necessary to qualify for district play, so boys coach

Correa clutch as Houston clinches the AL West title with 3-2 victory

KRISTIE RIEKEN AP sports writer

HOUSTON — Carlos Correa hit his career-high 25th homer with a threerun shot and the Houston Astros clinched the AL West with a 3-2 win over the Tampa Bay Rays on Thursday night.

It's the fourth division title in five seasons and 10th overall for the Astros. They're in the playoffs for the fifth consecutive season, extending a franchise record.

Manager Dusty Baker's Astros will open the AL Division Series on Oct. 7 against the Chicago White Sox — home field for that best-of-five matchup is still to be determined.

Correa's huge hit in the fourth inning allowed the Astros to put a recent stretch where they dropped five of six games behind them and let the celebration begin at Minute Maid Park.

Yuli Gurriel singled to start Houston's fourth and Kyle Tucker walked. Correa followed with his towering shot that smashed off the wall in left field to put the Astros up 3-0 against Ryan Yarbrough (9-7).

The charismatic shortstop put a hand to his ear to encourage the crowd as he rounded third base on the home run trot.

Lance McCullers (13-5) didn't allow a hit until Ji-Man Choi singled to start the sixth. There were two outs in the inning when Brandon Lowe homered on a ball to right field that sailed just inside the foul pole to cut the lead to 3-2

Kendall Graveman plunked Mike Zunino to start the eighth and he was replaced by pinch-runner Kevin Kiermaier. Lowe struck out and catcher Martín Maldonado threw a dart to second base to allow Correa to tag Kiermaier as he slid into second to end the inning.

Ryan Pressly allowed a leadoff walk put runners on first and second with no in the ninth and Franco reached on an three-game series at New York on Frierror by second baseman Jose Altuve.

CHRIS BERNHARDT JR. Staff writer

Cliff Lohrey spoke about the sadness he had felt since the horrible news broke.

The Crystal River head coach did not immediately address his team's homecoming game on Friday, but rather reflected on the passing of a Citrus High player during the Hurricanes' practice on Tuesday afternoon.

"I want to offer our support to Citrus High School with what they're having to deal with, the tragedy," Lohrey said. "It's much bigger than football.

"Our No. 1 thought is to be supportive of them as a program and community and football team.'

Lecanto head coach Wyndell 'Chop" Alexander said he spoke to his Citrus counterpart and longtime friend McKinley Franklin.

"It's a very tragic situation," Alexander said. "A lot of our players played with the young man in little league. They were close to him. All of our hearts go out to him and his family. We'll keep him and his family in our prayers.'

Seven Rivers Christian head coach Monty Vann hoped his words would reach Franklin and everyone at Citrus High.

"Our staff and our kids and our program are praying for them, and the young man and his family," Vann said. "Our deepest prayers are definitely with them.'

Citrus' game at Leesburg, which would have been the District 5A-5 opener for the Hurricanes, has been postponed. No makeup date has been announced.

The Lecanto girls golf team earned another win against Citrus on Thursday. Lexis Smith led the way with a 41, followed by Maegan Pungsuwan with a 44, Angelica Smith shooting a 45 and Evelyn Larson carding a 49. The Panthers will be participating in the Buffalo Invitational on Saturday for an 18-hole match.

the coach dreading the fanfare that surrounds a homecoming game.

"There are some distractions coming with that," Lohrey said. "As a head coach, the team follows your lead. I acknowledge there are some distractions, but our student-athlete, student body and our school deserve to have homecoming. We're excited to be a part of the whole experience."

The first five games haven't been overly kind to the Pirates (1-4, 0-1 5A-5). Some of that was anticipated given the strength of their schedule. The teams they have faced so far this season are a combined 18-5. By contrast their next four opponents are 3-13, and none have more than one win.

"We'd like to be better from a record standpoint, but I'm so impressed with the way our guys continue to come to work," Lohrey said. "It's tough when you're putting in so much work and the results are not what you want.

front of us. The fact that it's home- tackling. coming adds a little more significance and that we want to start the second to stop the big screen play they want half of the season with a win adds more significance." Two of the Pirates' top playmakers were injured in last week's loss to Springstead. Running back Joel Velazquez, who has rushed for 402 yards and three touchdowns, is good to go this week, according to Lohrey. The news is not as positive for junior linebacker Dwann McCray. The team's leading tackler with 44 won't play this Friday and is week to week as he deals with a lower leg injury. The hope is he'll return sometime this season. "No doubt about it, anyone who watches us on film sees he's our defensive heartbeat," Lohrey said. "Everything is centered around him. It's a blow. Now guys have got to rally around and increase their level of play." Lake Weir (1-3, 0-1 5A-5) has been roughed up its past two games, outscored a combined 129-6 against Leesburg and Belleview. These Hurricanes have just 290 yards passing and 236 yards rushing. "They have a new coach this year. They're similar scheme-wise," Lohrey said. "Defensively we'll see 9-10 guys at the line of scrimmage. They do their best to cause a lot of disruptions. Offensively, they play multiple. They'll go four or five wide to keep you off-balance.' Regardless of the opposing team, the Pirates just feel they need to get moving in the right direction for the stretch run. "Even if we were 5-0, when you've got the midseason point that's the natural progress, it's a renewed focus, a renewed energy. Make sure you're doing the little things right," Lohrey said. "We need to stay the course, stay with the plan. We'd preach that if we were 5-0 or 0-5.'

Voit, who underwent knee surgery in March, limped back to the dugout after running to first base in a pinch-hit appearance in the seventh inning of Wednesday's 6-5 loss at Toronto. Voit broke for first on a wild strike three even though there was a runner on first and fewer than two outs.

"He woke up pretty stiff today and he's limping around pretty good," manager Aaron Boone said. "We think it's kind of a bone bruise that can be a result of the surgery. That's kind of been on and off for him."

Voit is batting .239 with 11 homers and 35 RBI in 68 games. He hit a major league-leading 22 home runs in last year's 60-game season.

NBA vaccination rate climbing, now to 95%

MIAMI — The NBA has seen a rise in vaccination rates in recent days when factoring in those players who have received at least one of the necessary shots, a person with direct knowledge of the situation said Thursday.

The leaguewide rate is now around 95% when counting those who are now at least in the vaccination process, said the person, who spoke to The Associated Press on condition of anonymity because neither the NBA nor the National Basketball Players Association released the figure publicly.

We feel we got better," Alexander said. "We had a few guys banged up. We had time to heal, so I think we'll be fresh going into Fivay.'

An impressive senior campaign for Luke Malmberg continued as he had a season-high 154 yards and two Lohrey tried to avoid the cliché of touchdowns against Belleview. He now has 441 yards and seven scores on the season.

Thanks to Malmberg, the running game has been a source of strength. However, the Panthers are 14 of 40 passing for 134 yards, throwing just one touchdown.

"We've got to be more balanced passing the ball," Alexander said. 'Everybody knows we're going to run the ball. We have to work on our timing with the quarterback and wide receivers, and do a better job pass blocking.'

The Falcons (1-4) have been shut out four times, and been outscored 168-0 in their losses. If not for a 28-0 win over Anclote in Week 2, they'd still be searching for their first points.

First she'll complete the season with the girls team, and she said returning to that group felt natural.

"It's nice to be back with them because I like the red tees more than the black tees,' Allen joked. "I do enjoy having a team. I think it makes me a better player because I'm not alone. I had the boys team, but it wasn't the same.'

The goal now is to finish her final prep season the way she did her first, by taking a trip to states.

"I want to go back so bad," Allen said. "It's going to take me to keep practicing and making sure I'm focused on what to do and play my game and play the best I can."

Lecanto at Fivay, 7:30 p.m.

Two teams that have struggled through the first half of the season have a chance to begin a turnaround. Yes, that's an eerily similar situation to Crystal River-Lake Weir, though this one is a non-district tilt.

The Panthers (1-3) are coming off a much-needed by eafter losing 34-14 to Belleview two weeks ago in their first district contest.

"It gave us an opportunity to work on fundamentals; blocking, tackling. We got a little extra conditioning in. fine."

"We've got to stop the run. We've got to run. We've got to stop their fullback. Offensively, we need to establish the run and try to find our receivers.'

This will also be homecoming for the Falcons, so the Panthers will look to play the spoilers.

"It expect it to be a dogfight," Alexander said. "They'll be fired up, ready to go, the whole school expecting them to be victorious.

'We're trying to prepare our kids. You can't take any game lightly. We need to be mentally focused and ready to go."

Seven Rivers Christian at First Academy-Leesburg, 7 p.m.

The Warriors (4-1) are rolling coming off their 49-6 win over St. Francis Catholic last week.

Nehemiah Vann has completed 52 of 96 passes (54%) for 871 yards, with 12 touchdowns against just two interceptions. Mario Aguilera (25 receptions, 384 yards, six touchdowns) and Alex Eden (14 receptions, 343 yards, four touchdowns) give him two significant weapons downfield.

Then there's the swarming defense that puts pressure on the quarterback, led by Alex Bergstrom (six sacks) and Nate Tidwell (five sacks).

"When the ball gets rolling and you get some momentum going, that makes practice fun," Coach Vann said. "The guys are having fun playing football.³

Yet that hasn't seemed to garner Seven Rivers enough respect in the Sunshine State Athletic Conference. Though FloridaHSFootball.com ranks the Warriors ninth in SSAC 11man, the pivotal conference rankings only have them 15th.

The top eight in the SSAC rankings advance to the Division I playoffs. At this point Seven Rivers would be a lower seed in the Division II bracket.

"I don't like how things are ranked," Coach Vann said. "If we take care of the wins, it should all take care of itself.'

First Academy (1-3) has lost two straight and hasn't produced a whole lot of offense. The Eagles have rushed for 436 yards and three touchdowns, but has only 153 yards passing.

"They've got a couple of kids who are decent," Coach Vann said. "They can do some things that hurt us if we don't execute the way I know we can. If we're able to do our jobs we'll be ever attended an art workshop? No time like the present to

It is not uncommon for a Citrus Watercolor Society (CWS) workshop to be sold out. And for good reason. These workshops are an opportunity to take advantage of new ideas and techniques, presented by leading watercolorists in a friendly, learning atmosphere.

No need to be afraid — everyone attending is there to learn. And look at the visiting artists who have conducted workshops in the recent past — Janett Rogers, Tom Jones, Carol Frye, Lynn Ferris, Frank Zambardi and Terry Denson.

And now, there is another opportunity to learn from a leading visiting artist. At the Oct. 8 monthly meeting, Marilyn Johansen will be on hand for a demonstration of her watercolor work.

Based in South Florida, Johansen is an imaginative award-winning artist who is driven by an incredible passion for self-expression through art, having lived in Belgium and Okinawa and places in between.

She has signature status with the Florida Watercolor Society, the Miami Watercolor Society, the Palm Beach Watercolor Society, the Gold Coast Watercolor Society, and the Pennsylvania Watercolor Society. She has served as president of the Florida Watercolor Society and the Gold Coast Watercolor Society. She conducts demonstrations in watercolor, teaches watercolor and acrylic workshops, and judges art shows. Her fine art collections are featured in numerous Florida museums. To see her artwork, go to her website at https://marilyn johansen.com/. Johansen will conduct a two-day workshop on Oct. 9 and 10 at the Whispering Pines Park Recreation building in Inverness: two days of learning to make new watercolor surfaces with gesso and matte medium. She will help you create art on the new surfaces. Composition will be stressed by taking photos with your camera or phone. Basic composition principles will be reviewed. Painting exercises to help you think in multiple dimensions. For more information see the CWS website at https:// citruswatercolorsociety.com or contact Susan Strawbridge at susand319@aol.com. Members of the Citrus Watercolor Society enjoy a "Painting of the Month" competition occurring in January, February, March, April, October and November. They have opportunities to show and sell their work, take workshops and participate in monthly sketch/paint-outs, etc. For more information about the meeting, or to become a member, call Helene Lancaster, 352-257-1261 or Darla Goldberg, 352-777-2217, or visit https://citruswatercolor society.com. Visitors are always welcome! The Citrus Watercolor Society meets at noon the second Friday of every month except July, at the Family Center of the First Christian Church of Inverness, 2018 Colonade St., Inverness.

ear Annie: About five years ago, mv nephew, who was working in a foreign country, married a local woman. They visited my nephew's father in the U.S. a few times. During one visit, I gave my nephew's wife a brooch that belonged to my grandmother to welcome her to ew's mother — my sister passed away several years ago.

I recently learned that my nephew and his wife divorced. He will be moving back permanently to the U.S. soon.

I would love to have the brooch returned. I don't think my nephew's ex-wife would really want to keep it. However, I realize that this was a gift to her, and she is not obligated to give it back.

Should I ask my nephew to bring the brooch back? Or should I let it go? I have let my nephew know that he has my full support, and I'd like that to continue. -Anxious Aunt

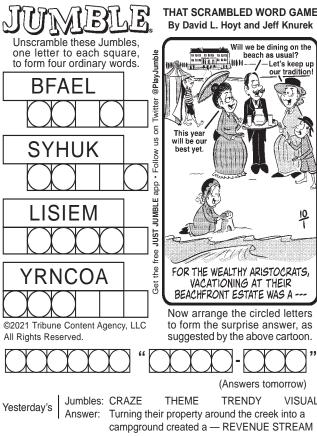

Dear Anxious: Gifting the brooch was a courteous welcoming gift — but, more importantly, it was a symbol of love and support for your nephew. In that regard, mision accomplished.

The brooch belongs to our nephew's ex-wife now. What's done is done. You can take comfort in the knowledge that your nephew won't ever have to wonder whether you have his back. And even though the brooch won't be returning to the U.S., you should celebrate the fact that your nephew will be.

Dear Annie: I live with my girlfriend (60) and love her a lot. She and I have a great relationship. We have lived together for three years and are discussing purchasing a home together. How can I learn to let her be quiet and not feel like she should be like me and talk a lot? I can be quiet at times, but I usually am when I am worried or have something I am ruminating on.

Should I learn to do my own thing to ease my worries when she is quiet? What is the best solution for us both? — Terry Dear Terry: Your girl-friend's silence is not necessarily a sign of anger, distress or disinterest, as it might be for you, but instead can be one of thinking, exhaustion or purely enjoying the moment. If her quietness is ever hard to read, ask her how she's feeling to make sure.

Instead of worrying during her bouts of silence, settle in and enjoy it with her. A couple that can sit comfortably and savor each other's presence without needing to fill the silence speaks volumes.

Charles Buxton, an 18th-century English brewer, philanthropist and member of Parliament, wrote, "Experience shows that success is due less to ability than to zeal. The winner is he who gives himself to his work, body and soul."

Obviously, that is not completely true. To be supremely successful in any field, you must have innate ability. To be capable, you can compete with zeal.

Even then, though, sometimes you have to guess well. East faced a nasty decision on this deal from a Bridge Base Online duplicate. He was defending against four spades. After winning the first trick with his club ace and dropping declarer's singleton king, what should he have led at trick two?

South's three-diamond rebid was either a game-try or natural, trying to help partner judge what to do should the opponents keep bidding. Here, North was happy to bid four spades given his wonderful diamonds and singleton club. He didn't guess that the latter was duplicated in his partner's hand.

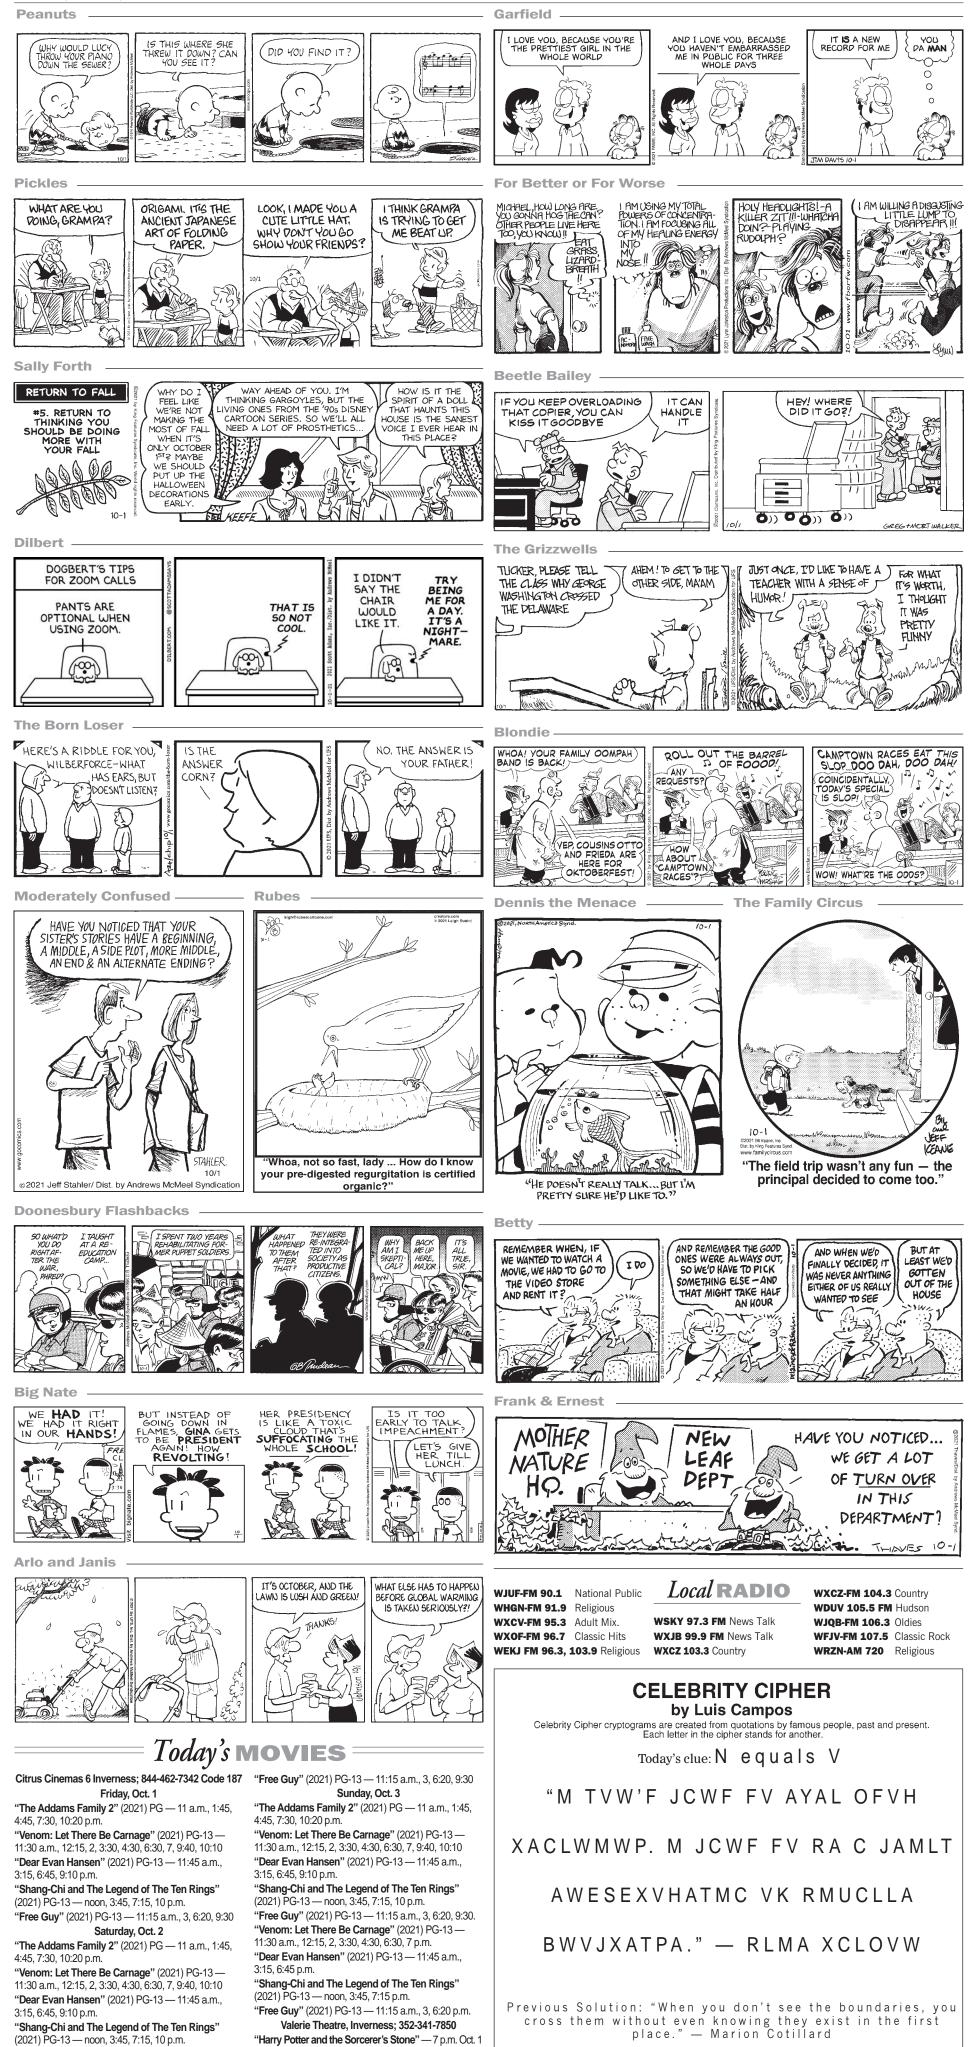

East knows that his partner has one useful card. But is it the heart ace or a high spade? If declarer's trumps are solid, the defenders must take three heart tricks now. But if South has the heart ace, East should exit with his trump and let West push a heart through the dummy. You can see which is right, and you can guess which option I chose when we scored only 3.3% on the board!

Finally, no doubt you have further noted that I also erred in the auction. I would have made five clubs if I had dropped the club king (likely) and played North for the heart queen (certain).
