ONLINE POLL

Thoughts?

Gov. Ron DeSantis proposed eliminating the Florida Statewide Assessment (FSA) and replacing it with the Florida Assessment of Student Thinking (FAST), a move supported by Citrus County school officials. The legislature must approve it. What are your thoughts?

A. It's about time, lawmakers should have scrapped "Common Core" years ago.
B. The current testing model is too stressful for students and teachers.
C. Each student learns differently; progress monitoring will ID areas for improvement.
D. Not so FAST! What's this new proposal going to look like?

Results will appear next Monday. Find last week's online poll results./Page A3

Inverness council eyes pay raises

FRED HIERS
Staff writer

Inverness government employees could again see an increase in their paychecks.

The city council during its regularly scheduled public meeting Tuesday will decide whether to approve raises for the bulk of the city's employees.

The city has given its employees raises annually for the past several years, but City Manager Eric Williams said it's the price Inverness has to pay to keep qualified, experienced and good employees.

Williams is proposing a 3% increase for employees with annual salaries of at least $33,351. For those earning $33,350 or less, they would receive a pay increase equivalent to $1,000.

To be eligible for the pay increases, the employee must have completed a minimum six-month tenure by Oct. 1, 2021.

Under the proposal part-time employees would get a $500 pay increase on their anniversary date.

Williams said the increases were fair, especially in this economic climate as employers complain about a shortage of workers.

In addition, he said, the percent increase is still below the average inflation rate for the past 100 years.

He is correct. The average annual inflation rate during the past 100 years is 3.22%, according to the Motley Fool, an online financial website.

Citrus 'wish list'

The Suncoast Parkway and West Cardinal Street interchange will be a busy one as it will allow travelers direct access to the southwest and central parts of Citrus County.

County's menu of needs, wants top-heavy with road projects

MICHAEL D. BATES
Staff writer

County commissioners Tuesday unveiled its 2021-22 "wish list" for state legislators and it's top-heavy with road improvement projects.

Commissioners said quality roads attract industry and manufacturing firms that offer higher-paying jobs. But without key roads to transport product, they won't come.

"We've got to get these roads done," County Commission Chairman Scott Carnahan said at Wednesday's Chronicle editorial board meeting.

Commissioners are banking on the county's legislative delegation — Rep. Ralph Massullo, R-Lecanto, and Sen. Wilton Simpson, R-Trilby — to fight for the millions in state funds to help make local road projects a reality.

Carnahan said once the Suncoast Parkway is extended to State Road 44 — and ultimately to County Road 486 and U.S. 19 — people from as far south as New Tampa will drive here. But only if there are good jobs available.

And if the roads are not equipped to handle the product, it won't happen, he said.

This legislation priority list will be sent to Massullo and Simpson. The delegation then will choose some of those projects to include in the state appropriation process.

Commissioners also developed a separate list of road priority projects they will send to the Hernando-Citrus Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO). Many of those projects mirror those on the legislative list.

■ The Suncoast Parkway must be extended from County Road 486 to Red Level north of Crystal River.

■ State Road 200 needs to be widened from U.S. 41 to the county line.

■ The long-awaited multi-use trail project from Fort Island Trail between U.S. 19 and Fort Island Gulf Beach must be placed on the Sun Trail list for funding. The state provides $25 million annually in SunTrail funding. But for the county to access that money, the project must get on the SunTrail priorities list.

■ Beverly Hills and Central Ridge park restoration ($50 million).

■ Continue Springs initiative funding ($50 million).

■ U.S. 41 improvements — widening from U.S. 44 to State Road 200.

■ County Road 491 widening for future phase from Pine Ridge to State Road 200.

■ Study the need for a scallop stamp and the setting of bag limits.

■ Seek support for the completion of the King's Bay Riverwalk project.

Citrus jobless rate drops

MICHAEL D. BATES
Staff writer

Citrus County's unemployment rate went down slightly in August to 6.3%, according to data released Friday by the Florida Department of Economic Opportunity (FDEO).

That's down from 6.5% in July and 8.0% in August 2020.

The county's labor force in August increased by 496 over the month to 49,146, according to data released Friday by the Florida Department of Economic Opportunity (FDEO).

The number of employed rose by 568 to 46,044 and the number of unemployed fell by 72 to 3,102.

Citrus had the sixth highest unemployment rate of all 67 Florida counties.

Compared to August 2020 when the unemployment rate was 8.0%, the county's labor force grew by 2,849, there were 3,439 more employed and 580 fewer unemployed.

"The good news in today's release is the long-term growth and rebounding of the labor market in our three-county area," Rusty Skinner, CEO of CareerSource Citrus Levy

Hospitals want more federal Medicaid revenues

Commissioners insist requirements must be met

FRED HIERS
Staff writer

Angry Citrus County Commissioners lost patience with the county's two local hospitals this week as they tried to convince the elected officials to approve a last-minute ordinance that would allow the health care facilities to pull in more federal money to pad their Medicaid revenues.

During the commission's regularly scheduled meeting Tuesday, the board members approved the first step of the ordinance but warned they would pull their support to finalize it Sept. 28 if Citrus Memorial Hospital and Bayfront Health Seven Rivers don't meet the county's requirements.

Their anger and threats to scrap the proposal is rooted in the two hospitals not coming to an agreement yet over the issue of indemnification; in this case holding the county harmless over a special assessment tax the two hospitals are requesting.

"I will absolutely, positively vote against this, OK, without a doubt unless our county attorney and out administrator stand up here and say they're comfortable with the indemnification," Commissioner Ron Kitchen told hospital representatives. "I don't know how much more clear I can be about that."

Motorist sideswipes patrol vehicle, gets DUI

A 49-year-old Dunnellon man who sideswiped a Citrus County Sheriff's Office patrol car involved in a wreck in the early morning hours Saturday, Sept. 18, now faces legal problems, according to a Florida Highway Patrol crash report.

Callum Mansfield was charged for DUI Property Damage and Careless Driving. He was transported to the Citrus County Detention Facility, where he provided a sample of his breath. Mansfield blew a 0.211%. The legal limit in Florida is 0.08%.

According to the report, events began at 1:50 a.m. when a Citrus County Sheriff's Office deputy, who was in emergency response to a call for service, was traveling westbound on Dunnellon Road, east of West Rainbow Street. The deputy who wasn't identified in the report due to Marsy's Law, traveled over standing water, losing control of the patrol car and striking a 2008 Ford Expedition that was disabled due to an earlier crash.

Post-impact, the report stated, the patrol car and sport utility vehicle rotated to final rest in the center of the roadway and south shoulder, respectively.

At 2:18 a.m., Mansfield was traveling in a 2018 Toyota Tundra eastbound along Dunnellon Road when he failed to observe a disabled patrol car with emergency lights activated, the FHP report stated. As a result, the left side of Mansfield's Tundra sideswiped the left side of the patrol car. Following this crash, the Tundra came to a controlled stop.

Mansfield had minor injuries, the report stated, while the deputy was not injured in the collision.

Judge cites mental health in ruling

Man sentenced to probation, suspended prison sentence for attempted murder

BUSTER THOMPSON
Staff writer

A judge found Patrick Stambaugh's treatable mental turmoil led to his isolated and life-threatening outburst against a woman who forgave him for the unexpected attack.

As punishment for Stambaugh's charge of attempted first-degree murder with a deadly weapon, Citrus County Circuit Court Judge Richard "Ric" Howard gave the Crystal River 34-year-old two choices Friday, Sept. 17, during part two of Stambaugh's sentencing hearing.

Patrick Stambaugh faced attempted murder charges.

If Stambaugh decides to serve drug-offender probation in Florida, the judge ordered, he must do seven years, and can't apply for early termination until after 48 months.

On the other hand, Howard said, if Stambaugh chooses to move back to New Jersey, where his family and support structure reside, he only has to do a year of house arrest followed by a year of drug-offender probation.

"You're going to have to make some important decisions," the judge told Stambaugh, who's been in custody without bond since his January arrest.

Howard said Stambaugh also has to ensure he stays medicated for his bipolar and schizoaffective disorders.

However, the judge noted, a 10-year prison sentence awaits Stambaugh if he violates the conditions of his probation by either drinking, abusing unprescribed drugs or breaking the law.

Howard also withheld Stambaugh's guilt, leaving his nonexistent criminal record intact.

Stambaugh left his fate up to Howard in July, when he pleaded no contest to the life-felony in exchange for possible prison term of up to 10 years from the judge.

Howard was expected to announce Stambaugh's sentence Tuesday, but, because jail staff didn't transport Stambaugh to court, the judge had to split the hearing into two days.

Citrus County Sheriff's Office deputies apprehended Stambaugh Jan. 15 after finding him outside a home off West Mayo Drive, screaming, covered in blood and brandishing a large knife.

Authorities learned Stambaugh had struck the woman multiple times in her head, fracturing her jaw. Stambaugh also admitted to putting a knife up against her throat while threatening to kill both her and himself.

Stambaugh's actions stemmed from him mixing his prescription pills with alcohol. He grew enraged at the woman after she kept him from leaving drunk with car keys, prompting him to attack.

"I was drunk and I lost control of myself. ... She did nothing," Stambaugh told Howard Friday. "I just feel horrible."

Stambaugh's attorney, Assistant Public Defender Alex Lizanich, called on a handful of Stambaugh's family members Tuesday, including the woman, who testified to Stambaugh's gentleness, calling the incident out of his character.

"Set him free, sir," the woman told Howard on Friday, adding she didn't know the extent of Stambaugh's conditions. "He's been nothing but good and kind to me."

Lizanich presented Howard with Stambaugh's mental-health and medical records — several pounds worth of printed documents.

Stambaugh's relatives, who presented Howard with over a dozen letters expressing support for him, also told the judge Stambaugh is welcome to live with them in the Garden State.

Leading up to the incident, Lizanich and witnesses said, COVID-19 caused Stambaugh to lose his computer engineering job and health insurance, which helped cover his medication costs.

Stambaugh told Howard on Friday his prescription cost him $700 a month without insurance. He said found an affordable medication plan that would decrease the price from $25 a pill down to $25 a prescription.

Lizanich argued for Howard to consider a downward departure for his client.

"This is an isolated incident for which he's shown remorse within an hour of the event," he said. "He requires specialized treatment unrelated to substance abuse…and he's emendable to treatment. ... Nobody's even heard of him being violent before this incident."

Howard obliged.

"You're a mess," the judge told Stambaugh.

■■■

Also Friday in court:

Inverness 49-year-old Allen Anthony Feliciano is expected to decide at his next court hearing how to resolve accusations he sexually abused two women between 1996 and 2000.

Howard scheduled Nov. 12 as when Feliciano will either change his not-guilty plea or set a trial.

After his April arrest in St. Augustine, Feliciano was charged with sexual battery of a child younger than 12, sexual battery of a teenager, and lewd and lascivious molestation of a child younger than 12 years old.

Allen Feliciano charged with sexual battery.

A pair of women, 28 and 29, accused Feliciano of sexually abusing them when they were younger.

Feliciano faces a mandatory prison sentence of life if convicted of sexually battering a child. His other charges carry prison terms of up to life.

Runners, walkers honor Phil Royal legacy at annual event

Today's HOROSCOPES

Birthday: Use your imagination and be open to suggestions to find new ways to solve problems. The insight you gain into what others are experiencing will help you understand how best to use your strengths.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Take a unique approach to finding love and personal happiness, and you'll alleviate stress. Distance yourself from the past.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23): Go the distance. Leave nothing to chance and control every detail to ensure you get what you want.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 22): Use your imagination, and you'll come up with a plan that encourages others to help you reach your goal.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23-Dec. 21): Think before you act. Choose a path that will help you get your way. If you try to force others to see things the way you do, you will fall short of your goal.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Take an innovative route to separate yourself from the competition. A change will enhance the way others respond to you.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 19): Pay attention to the task you are given. Getting along with others and promptly taking care of your responsibilities will be the best ways to get what you want.

Pisces (Feb. 20-March 20): Take the initiative to show how much you care. Love is in the stars, and your actions will speak louder than words.

Aries (March 21-April 19): Transparency will be vital if you want to make a change or do things differently. Once you have a plan in place and the support you need, it will be easy to reach your goal.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): Indecisiveness will be your downfall. Do your research and be prepared to take advantage of an offer.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): Think before you make a move. Refuse to let anyone bully you or push you in a direction you don't want to go.

Cancer (June 21-July 22): Think about what you want and follow through with your plans. A change you make will fetch compliments and acknowledgment for a job well done. Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): Refuse to let anything limit what you can do. Speak up, and you'll gain respect and receive the information necessary to move forward in a direction that suits your needs.

'Shang-Chi' tops box office for third straight weekend

NEW YORK — "Shang-Chi and the Legend of the Ten Rings" is the top film at the box office for the third straight weekend, but the muted reception for Clint Eastwood's "Cry Macho" suggests older moviegoers still aren't as eager to return to theaters.

Marvel's "Chang-Chi and the Legend of the Ten Rings," directed by Destin Daniel Cretton, collected an estimated $21.7 million in ticket sales over the weekend, according to studio estimates Sunday. The Walt Disney Co. release has held better in theaters than most films during the pandemic. Its 37% drop in the third weekend is the best third-week hold for any Marvel movie ever.

"Shang-Chi and the Legend of the Ten Rings," Marvel's first Asian superhero movie, has earned an estimated $320.6 million worldwide. The only trouble for "Shang-Chi" thus far is a lack of a release date in China, which hasn't cleared the film for release in the country, the world's largest but highly censored film market.

While "Shang-Chi" is playing only in theaters, Warner Bros. released "Cry Macho" simultaneously in theaters and on HBO Max — as the studio has all 2021 films. During the pandemic, younger moviegoers have been more likely to flock to theaters, and the audience for "Cry Macho" was 89% over the age of 35, Warner Bros. said. The film, which Eastwood directed and stars in as a former rodeo star hired to bring a young man home from Mexico, opened with an estimated $4.5 million.

Warner Bros. Pictures via Associated Press

Warner Bros., which has distributed 44 films with Eastwood for a total of $3.8 billion in box office, only celebrated the 91-year-old director's latest. "Clint Eastwood is a Warner Bros. institution," said Toby Emmerich, chairman of Warner Bros. Pictures Group, in a statement. To celebrate Eastwood's 50 years of directing, the studio will re-release six of his films — from "Dirty Harry" to "American Sniper" — in theaters and on HBO Max this fall.

The soft debut of "Cry Macho" allowed Disney's "Free Guy," with Ryan Reynolds, to take the No. 2 spot in its sixth week of release with $5.2 million. It has grossed $108.6 million in the U.S. and Canada, and $298 million globally.

"Copshop," an action thriller starring Gerard Butler and Frank Grillo, also struggled to make an impression. The Open Road and Briarcliff release launched with $2.3 million.

In limited release, Searchlight Pictures' "The Eyes of Tammy Faye," starring Jessica Chastain as the televangelist, debuted in 450 theaters with about $700,000 in ticket sales. It expands to more than 1,000 theaters next week.

Chris Rock says he has COVID-19, urges vaccination

NEW YORK — Chris Rock on Sunday said he has been diagnosed with COVID-19 and sent a message to anyone still on the fence: "Get vaccinated."

The 56-year-old comedian wrote on Twitter: "Hey guys I just found out I have COVID, trust me you don't want this. Get vaccinated."

Rock has previously said he was vaccinated. Appearing on "The Tonight Show" in May, he called himself "Two-shots Rock" before clarifying that he received the one-shot Johnson & Johnson vaccine.

"You know, I skipped the line. I didn't care. I used my celebrity, Jimmy," he told host Jimmy Fallon.

Today in HISTORY

Today is Sunday, Sept. 19, the 262nd day of 2021. There are 103 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight:

On Sept. 19, 1796, President George Washington's farewell address was published. In it, America's first chief executive advised, "Observe good faith and justice toward all nations. Cultivate peace and harmony with all."

On this date:

In 1957, the United States conducted its first contained underground nuclear test, code-named "Rainier," in the Nevada desert.

In 1986, federal health officials announced that the experimental drug AZT would be made available to thousands of AIDS patients.

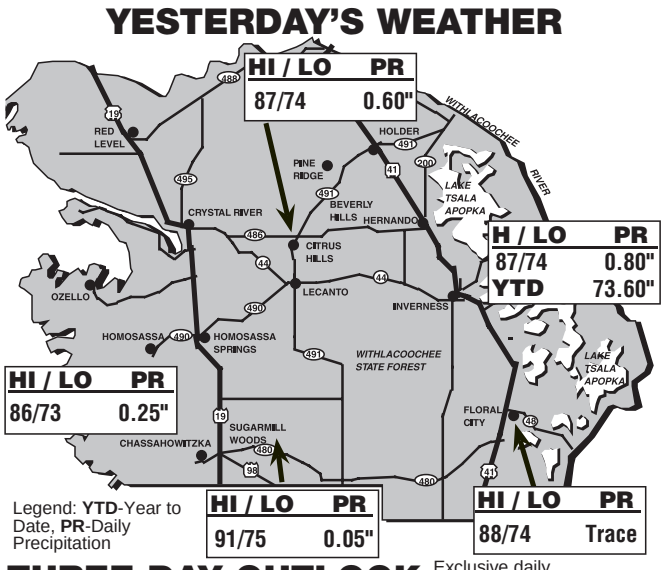

In 2008, struggling to stave off financial catastrophe, the Bush administration laid out a radical bailout plan calling for a takeover of a half-trillion dollars or more in worthless mortgages and other bad debt held by tottering institutions. Relieved investors sent stocks soaring on Wall Street and around the globe.

Ten years ago: In a White House address, a combative President Barack Obama demanded that the richest Americans pay higher taxes to help cut soaring U.S. deficits by more than $3 trillion.

One year ago: Demonstrators took the streets of London, Tel Aviv and other cities to protest coronavirus restrictions, even with infection rates rising in many places and the global death toll approaching 1 million.

Miriam Skiba, 87

LECANTO

Miriam Skiba (nee Berrios), 87, passed away September 9, 2021, at Arbor Trail Rehab And Skilled Nursing Center in Inverness, FL.

Born in Mayaguez, P.R. on March 4, 1934, she moved along with her family to the NY/NJ metropolitan area, settling in Bayonne, NJ, where she attended elementary and high school and met the love of her life, Eugene (Gene) A. Skiba. Miriam and her husband Gene resided in Jersey City, Bayonne, Spotswood, Old Bridge, Linden, NJ, where they raised their family.

Miriam Skiba

Upon her husband's retirement, they moved to Cresco, PA, in the Poconos, where her husband passed away suddenly in 1986. Upon retiring from AT&T in 1990, Miriam moved to Lecanto, FL, where she lived until her death.

Miriam was active in the Catholic Church, worked part-time for a travel agency, and caught the "travel" bug. Miriam loved to knit, garden, travel, and play cards with her friends and often reminisce about family, especially her children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, many friends, and extended family.

Preceded in death by her parents Anna (nee Garcia) and Juan Berrios, her sister Alicia, her loving husband Eugene (Gene) Skiba, her son-in-law John Jakubowski, her daughter Yolanda (nee Skiba) Jakubowski, and her son Lawrence (Larry).

Surviving family members include her son Michael and his wife Candace; son Paul and his wife Tracy; grandchildren Rachel, Michael, Dean and his wife Sondra; great-grandchildren Benjamin (Ben) and Wilson; son Eugene, Jr and his wife Tanvi, grandchildren Dhyllan and Izabelle; and Miriam's sisters Elsie, Sonia, Annie, her brother Victor and her beloved dog, Prince.

Memorial services will be held at Brown Funeral Home and Crematory, Crystal River, FL on Tuesday, 21 September 2021 commencing at 10:00 am to 11:00 am with Prayer service starting at 11:00. Miriam's final resting place will be with her husband at Laurelwood Cemetery in Stroudsburg, PA.

In lieu of flowers, please consider sending a donation in Miriam's name to:

Alzheimer's Association Home Office, 225 N. Michigan Ave., Fl. 17, Chicago, IL 60601 or your favorite charity.

John 'Jack' Boylan Jr., 82

LECANTO

John J Boylan Jr. of Lecanto, FL passed away on Wednesday Sep 15, 2021 at Citrus Memorial Hospital. He was 82.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Mary Anne (formerly Jensen),and his parents, John and Mary Boylan. He is survived by his sister, Carol Androvich, his three children and their spouses Nancy and Scott, Jeff and Kari, and Steve and Bonnie, his niece Debbie Androvich, and 7 beloved grandchildren: Brenna, Bethany, Brooke, Zoe, Cormac, Finn and Liam.

John 'Jack' Boylan Jr.

Jack, as he was known to his friends and family, was industrious from a young age, starting to work at age 10 with a lawn care business and continuing to work at various jobs including maintaining a large paper route, serving at a Tasty Freeze, pumping gas at a Gulf gas station, and gathering addresses for various catalog and coupon mailing services. He graduated from Rahway (NJ) High School in 1956 and entered into a management training program for Woolworth's 5 & 10 stores. After several months there, he decided he wanted to do more and enrolled in Seton Hall University, which he graduated from with his class in 1960.

After graduation, he took a position with the Department of Transportation in New Jersey as a Right of Way Investigator and worked his way up the ranks to become the Director of Right of Way for the state. Highlights of his career included managing the acquisition of the property for the Meadowlands Sports Complex (Giants stadium). He retired in February of 2001 and relocated to Florida with his wife Mary Anne.

He met Mary Anne in 1961 at a Catholic singles dance that he was attending with friends. He noticed a group of three ladies and told his buddies he'd "take the tall one" (she was 5'11 and Jack was 6'6) - she won his heart with her personality and baking skills and they were married in August of 1963. They had 3 children and were married for 54 years, up until Mary Anne's passing in 2017. His son Jeff has four children and Steve has 3. He adored his grandchildren and looked forward to seeing them every chance he could.

Hobbies in his younger years included building model train sets, deep-sea fishing, and beating his kids at basketball and tennis. He was also extremely handy, thanks to his dad, and could fix just about anything. In more recent years he enjoyed eating out (and ordering in), reading, sudoku and crossword puzzles, and watching Rays baseball games. He had a regular Friday night "supper club" with his sister, niece and friends, which was a weekly highlight. He was also fortunate to have several wonderful neighbors that brought him home-cooked meals and helped him out around the house.

A viewing will take place on Thursday, Sep 23, 2021 at Fero Funeral Home, 5955 N. Lecanto Highway, Beverly Hills, FL 34465 at 9:30am followed by a Mass and service at St. Scholastica Catholic Church, 4301 W Homosassa Trail, Lecanto, FL 34461 at 11am.

A short graveside service will take place following the Mass at the memorial gardens adjacent to the funeral home.

JOBLESS

Rusty Skinner CareerSource CEO.

Marion, said. "Over the past year, each county has seen significant growth in their labor force and employment, while also seeing the decline in the number of unemployed citizens.

Skinner said Citrus and Levy counties bucked the historic summer trend by showing expansions in labor force and employment coupled with a slight drop in the number of unemployed.

Hendry County, in the south-central part of Florida, had the state's highest unemployment rate in August at 7.4%. Monroe County, the southernmost county in Florida, had the lowest at 3.2%.

In the Homosassa Springs Metropolitan Statistical Area (MSA) — which includes all of Citrus County — there were 32,700 nonfarm jobs, an increase of 800 jobs over the year for an annual growth rate of 2.5%.

The state's unemployment rate in August was 5.0%, down from 5.1% a month earlier. Nationally, the rate was 5.3%, down from 5.7%.

"I think what we saw is continued job gains in the private sector, which is what we were expecting and that's what we were hoping to see," she said. "More importantly, as we saw more jobs added to payrolls ... we also see people joining the labor market."

RAISES

Williams said that when the city loses an experienced employee it costs the public to find a replacement and train them for the job, he said.

So by giving raises "you're actually, in the long run, saving money," Williams said.

Williams said that the city can't expect to keep good employees without some program in place to allow them to improve their "earning potential."

As part of the Tuesday's agenda packet, Williams reported that 38 full-time and seven part-time employees would receive pay raises. He reported that the additional annual impact on the budget would be $76,787.57.

Eric Williams Inverness city manager.

Williams said has already included the pay increases in the 2021-2022 budget.

The city council will meet 5:30 p.m. Tuesday at 212 W. Main St., Inverness.

FACTS, NOT FICTION

Make COVID vaccination decision based on facts

THE ISSUE:
New data shows effectiveness of vaccination in preventing hospitalization and death.

OUR OPINION:
Make vaccination decision based on accurate information.

The latest information from the federal Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) shows clearly that vaccination is highly effective in preventing hospitalization and death from COVID. According to the CDC, unvaccinated people were 4.5 times more likely than fully vaccinated people to get infected, over 10 more times more likely to be hospitalized and 11 times more likely to die of COVID.

While these numbers may seem like abstractions, what they translate to are overcrowded hospitals, fatigued medical staff, and unnecessary suffering and grief, much of which could be prevented by more people getting vaccinated.

But despite the facts of how well vaccination provides protection from serious illness and death, there are still many people who are not vaccinated and who do not want to get vaccinated. While some of these are not vaccinated for legitimate medical reasons, this is a relatively small percentage.

The majority of those who remain unvaccinated do so for a variety of personal, political and/or religious beliefs or some combination of the three.

Unfortunately, issues around vaccination have become highly politicized, which makes reasonable discussion of the pros and cons of vaccination difficult, and there is a considerable body of misinformation that circulates on social media.

This proliferation of misinformation about vaccines, vaccination and the scientific research community represents an example of what in monetary theory is known as "Gresham's law," which says that "bad money drives out good."

In other words, if worthless money is circulating along with good money, it drives the value of all money down, because people are uncertain of the value of any money.

When misinformation is spread on social media along with good information, it becomes difficult for an individual reader to separate the true from the false and thus to know what to believe and not to believe.

Since whether to be vaccinated is a personal decision, even though it is one with social consequences, it should be made based on factual information, not on hearsay or unsubstantiated opinions or urging from friends or this newspaper. Make the decision based on verifiable information from reliable sources.

Factual information is available from the federal CDC and from state and local health departments. If you do not trust federal or state officials, talk with someone you trust who has knowledge of the pros and cons of vaccination, someone like your family doctor or your pharmacist. While we urge you to get vaccinated, we also urge you to make the decision based on facts.

Making the tax equitable

While nobody really wants higher taxes on their properties and homes in Citrus County, it's also important that the taxation be equitable for homeowners.

Case in point is the MSBU proposal by the county commission which would add a line item for stormwater runoff management (in Sunday, Sept. 5's front-page story, "County to mull stormwater fee").

This is important and by addressing this with an MSBU, it would eliminate the double taxation that's happening with the incorporated areas of Inverness and Crystal River since they're already paying their own fees on their tax bills.

They've actually been paying this tax as well for the county, which seems like dual taxation.

So it's good to see we're trying to make this equitable. Stormwater runoff management is vitally important.

Hot Corner: STORMWATER TAX

■ (Re Friday, Sept. 10's front-page story, "County OKs controversial tax on stormwater runoff," "Crowd shows up to protest new measures"): Our ... Citrus County commissioners should be ashamed of themselves. They took it upon themselves to vote a tax hike rate increase on stormwater overflow even though everyone in the room was against this, but they took it upon themselves to impose this tax and they know better.

The fact is, they didn't look at ways that they could pay for this without raising taxes. They're already receiving increased revenue from appraised values, property tax fees and many other sources of revenue, but instead they took the easy way out and imposed the tax upon every resident in the county. This doesn't benefit anyone but a few.

■ On Thursday, at the open forum with the county commissioners on the new assessment tax — and it is a tax — we found out that Crystal River and Inverness do not have to pay this assessment. I'm wanting to know why.

■ As usual, the commissioners decided, then voted for (taking) more money from the population. We already pay property taxes for stormwater runoff, but they needed another $4 million, so they got it. What are they going to do with it? Waste it. Will the flooding stop? Will the rains quit falling? No. They don't even address the fact that they keep developing land, ruining wetlands, paving over retention areas. That's why we have more standing water, because you're killing the environment. They don't even talk about that, "No, just give us millions of dollars and we'll help." They won't help anything but their bottom line. What have they done to help the citizens since they've been in office? I'd like to see a story on that. It would be a short one.

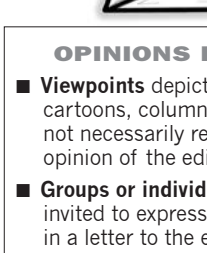

■ The new stormwater MSBU rate is a tax-grab extraordinaire. While the assessment methodology is correct, apparently the rate was determined by the paid consultant.

Commissioner Schlabach is right, as a bump of effective rate increase in one year of 309% has a historic smell to it that covers all of the county.

■ Well, apparently the Citrus County commissioners have decided to add another tax. They're calling it an assessment, but it's actually a tax and it will be with the people of Citrus County forever. They didn't listen at the meeting yesterday when people spoke against it, so now they'll have to live with their words.

LETTERS to the Editor

Reinstate political letters in Chronicle

Not long ago, the Chronicle discontinued state and national political letters on the editorial page. This was mainly due to the negative rebuttal letters. It would have made better sense just to tell those people who want to challenge to do it directly with the writer and allow opinions to stand alone. I never felt it was appropriate to get combative with other opinions with counter point letters.

There is a place for "point counter point" articles but they should be identified as such. There used to be columns just for that. In fact, I was asked to do just that for the Chronicle but, I prefer to write what I think is valid and not engage in angry rebuttals.

Now I notice some of the letters are back to that same character just more local.

I would like to see the political letters return without the rebuttal letters. Opinions are mostly just that so naturally they will rub some the wrong way. You print AP stories all the time and rather than news stories they write mostly opinion pieces.

Implement a mask mandate

To Citrus County School Board: WESH 2 News reported that "Judge rules that Florida schools can issue mask mandates while DeSantis' appeal plays out."

Judge John Cooper, on Aug. 27, decreed that Gov. DeSantis was violating the rights of schools to implement mask mandates. The governor is protesting this order. A Florida judge decided on Sept. 8 that school districts will still have control over mask orders while they await the appeal outcome.

Citrus schools average about 80 children daily being diagnosed with COVID. The school board now has legal permission from the courts to implement mask mandates to protect the children from this potentially fatal disease. If they do not implement this CDC recommended practice they will be withholding life-protecting mitigation practices from the children for no reason.

This will be the most important decision you will ever be called upon to make in your career. You were given the power by the vote to provide the best environment for our children. You are now being given permission by the state to implement a necessary mitigation technique to save our children's lives. This is are our priority, not the governor's political dreams or your political dreams. If you do not take this opportunity to protect the children, you will have failed to assume your responsibilities for the children and failed in your contract with the voters to provide the safest environment for our children.

Sept. 10, as per USA Today, most Florida counties report that COVID-19 cases are four times higher than last year, and some counties report it as much as 10 times higher.

At the same time, Gov. DeSantis had an appeals court judge reverse Judge Cooper's order to permit mask mandates in schools. This order will again prohibit mask mandates in Florida schools.

Gov. DeSantis and the court are playing politics with our children's lives. I expect our school board to rise above politics and protect our children by following the CDC recommendation of universal masks.

Where's our moral compass?

Well, we Americans have finally reached the pinnacle of continued disarray, total roadblock, and sadly it will never end. We are totally divided as a nation and it can not be reversed. Go ahead, someone prove me wrong.

Before the internet and social media platforms, there were no questions pertaining to what ingredients are in my measles, mumps, chicken pox, influenza, polio, smallpox vaccine. These illnesses were eradicated because the population wanted to avoid death and illness. Instead of the current refrain of "my body, my choice," the voices were "keep my family and friends free of death and sickness."

I get a chuckle over the recent news that people are paying up to $200 for a fake COVID ID card when they can actually get paid in some areas more than that just to get the vaccine. Why doesn't this all make sense to me?

We will also never be the benefactors of bipartisan political achievements. Regardless of the power in office, the battle will go on until the end of time which we will soon be without. We do fairly well with Americans joining forces when it comes to battling exterior foes — perhaps with the exception of Vietnam — but when it comes to bringing quality of life and interior benefits, we labor over endless arguments and opinions until politicians and government runs out of breath and folds.

The major objective for one party is to concentrate on getting the other party out of office. Don't pretend you didn't hear a former Senate majority leader voice those words.

Now there is no sense in presenting an argument for climate change. Lay back, do nothing and let the waters flow, the heat become intensive, fires burn and crops and animal life are absent. Same old refrain from non-believers, "we had hot spells and ice melting 300 years ago." And behold, that is the program which the anti-climate change believers hold dear.

With the advent of technology, we are able to view world news literally in seconds; watch mass shootings of the innocent; view insurrection as it occurs. Computer social media while it has benefits will be our "Et tu Brute" and we can never go back. Too many of our congressional representatives are intent on doing the motions that will either benefit themselves or the party, rather than doing what is right for their constituents.

Where is our compass?

Right thing done the wrong way

In answer to Mr. Kane: The correct way to evacuate Afghanistan would have been to get all of our people out first, get all of our equipment out and then tell the Afghan's goodbye. If done that way, there would not be 13 grieving families of those poor Marines/sailor.

Biden might have done the right thing, but did it the wrong way. He should not be president.

Inverness Council requests road paving help

Fred Hiers
Staff writer

Inverness plans to return to the tradition of live holiday parades this year for both Veterans Day and Christmas.

Inverness City Council members will review and decide about going forward Tuesday with two multi-million dollar grant applications to build roads and utility infrastructure in two subdivisions now crisscrossed with deteriorating dirt roads.

City Manager Eric Williams is asking for $23.4 million for one of the projects under the Florida's Community Development Block Grant- Mitigation General Infrastructure Program. That money would be for Inverness Acres, in western Inverness.

Williams is also asking for $11.6 million to build the same kind of infrastructure for Inverness Village, south of State Road 44 in Inverness.

Combined, the two subdivisions have 2,051 lots. Most have gone undeveloped. Much of the area in both subdivisions is inaccessible by garbage trucks and emergency vehicles. School buses and mail delivery vehicles do not venture inside either. Most of the lots are owned by a Miami-based developer.

The applications include letters from law enforcement, fire and ambulance rescue, waste haulers and the local post office attesting that there's too much of a risk for their vehicles to provide service.

In the applications, Williams says that neither the city nor county have the money to provide the infrastructure the subdivisions need.

"Inverness Acres was first established within the city limits over 60 years ago. The subdivision plat was accepted by the city from the county at that time with the understanding that the city would not be responsible for the subdivision's roads," Williams wrote in the application. "The county has also not assumed responsibility for the roads."

"This has led to a recent dire situation where residents are stranded and stuck in the sand; where emergency vehicles cannot access the neighborhood when responding to a crisis; and where day-to-day services and services such as mail, package deliveries, and solid waste pick up is absent from the community," he said.

"The city does not have a dedicated funding source to address this situation. We don't want to see anyone else risk the loss of life or property because they don't have access to essential services," he wrote.

He painted a similar description for Inverness Village.

"This neighborhood has several challenges, beginning with the lack of paved roads. The absence of paved roads has brought distress to this community for many years," he wrote.

"These roadways consist of sugar sand and are so derelict that residents are never sure if they are going to have access in or out of their subdivision in the event of a storm or more importantly, a hurricane" he wrote. "In storm events this subdivision experiences flooding and extreme drainage issues."

■ Also in city business.

The chamber is again asking Inverness permission to organize the annual Christmas Parade in the city.

In 2020, the chamber held a reverse parade in which the parade participants were stationary and visitors drove or walked by to view the event.

"We are pleased to work with you once again on the Chamber's Inverness Christmas Parade. This is truly a signature event for the City of Inverness and the community's families," Chamber president and CEO Josh Wooten wrote the city.

"We are excited to announce we will be returning to the tradition of the 'live parade.'" he said.

The chamber's permit request for the Dec. 11 event has the parade staging by Citrus High School and commencing along State Road 44.

Wooten told the Chronicle the parade is more than just an event, but a symbol of the community and a desire to get back to our normal lives.

"It's small town America," he said. "Everyone can get behind this and celebrate a wonderful time of year."

"Without a doubt" the community wants this, he said.

The city council will consider the request at its regularly scheduled meeting.

■ In the same holiday spirit, the organizers of the Veterans Day Parade also submitted a parade application to city officials for during Veterans Appreciation Week.

Parade organizers are requesting of the city to utilize State Road 44 for the 29th annual Veterans Day parade, Thursday, Nov. 11.

Event coordinator Chris Gergoriou said this year's theme is focused on the national guard and reserves in addition to "honoring all of our veterans."

As part of the event, there will be speakers at the Old Courthouse Heritage Museum at 11 a.m. or soon after the parade.

As part of the week, military veterans will also be guest speakers at county schools to tell students about the sacrifices people made to ensure their freedoms.

■ Also in city business, the city manager will update the council about Inverness' attempts to lease the city's train station in Liberty Park. The city has struggled to find a business for the facility.

■ Also in city business, the council will consider renewing the city's contract with Michael Kovach as its code enforcement magistrate. The contract calls for the city to pay Kovach $250 per hour to hear cases.

The council meeting begins 5:30 p.m. at city hall, 212 W. Main St., Inverness.

Bayfront Health Seven Rivers in Crystal River is one of the two local hospitals that this week sought to convince elected officials to approve a last-minute ordinance that would allow the health care facilities to pull in more federal money to pad their Medicaid revenues.

MEDICAID

County Attorney Denise Dymond Lyn did not return telephone calls for this story.

There could be a lot of money at stake here.

The two local hospitals combined in 2020 pulled in $316 million in Medicaid revenues.

This is how the tax would work and why the two hospitals are asking for it.

Currently, the hospitals say they collect only about 60% of their fees from Medicaid to pay for inpatient care.

Medicaid is a joint federal-state health insurance program that provides medical coverage to low-income people that includes pregnant women, children, sometimes seniors, and people with disabilities. Medicaid is jointly funded by states and the federal government.

To help fill some of the 40% Medicaid gap, Florida and the federal government have a plan to assess private hospitals and the state would collect the money. The federal government, for its part, would match each dollar the state collects with $1.27. The money would be used to help fill the Medicaid shortfall.

Citrus Memorial Hospital in Inverness is leased by Hospital Corporation of America, a for-profit health care company. Bayfront Health Seven Rivers in Crystal River is a private hospital. Both will establish their own rate to be taxed, County Administrator Randy Oliver told the Chronicle. The estimate is that each hospital would be in the millions of dollars.

Under the statewide plan, county governments would have to create ordinances approving the tax. The sticking point is that the county wants to be indemnified; essentially asking to be held without fault by the hospitals if a problem ever arose over the assessment methodology used to set the assessment tax.

The hospitals and the county haven't yet come to an agreement about holding the county without fault when it comes to assessments.

In order for the federal money to come down the pipeline, the state is broken into regions. In Citrus County's case that includes Marion County. Marion County commissioners approved its ordinance this week. But if Citrus County doesn't approve the measure, no additional federal help makes it to the region for a full year.

Hospital representatives Tuesday drove that home to commissioners when speaking on the issue.

Dymond Lyn said the initiative is being rushed through by the local hospitals.

"They've known the indemnification issue was going to be an issue and to come today to say if you don't do this today you're going to hurt all those other hospitals, I don't think that's very fair and I don't appreciate (that) they said it to you that way," Lyn said.

Jamie Whitney, with the Adelanto Healthcare Ventures, the consultant company representing the two hospitals, said she and the hospitals don't want communications to break down.

Whitney said that she and the hospitals were "very willing to keep the conversation going until the county is satisfied it has adequate protection to proceed."

Bayfront Health Seven Rivers CEO Linda Stockton told commission the money was needed.

"This is very important to the two hospitals in the county ... This kind of covers that gap for us," she said.

Commissioner Ruthie Schlabach asked how county residents would benefit from the commission's participation.

Commissioner Jeff Kinnard said that only the hospitals benefit.

"What this is is a scheme," Kinnard said.

He said it fattens the hospitals' "bottom line" but does not impact residents' day-to-day life.

"I absolutely abhor when attorneys get involved ... and bog things down," he said. "There's no reason this should not have been worked out long before today."

Citrus Memorial Hospital spokeswoman Katie Myers responded with this email to the newspaper.

"Citrus Memorial joins with other hospitals in the community in supporting this tax on hospitals to help cover the reimbursement gaps created by Medicaid reimbursement," she wrote. "We are committed to meeting the health care needs of our community with more than $11 million in uncompensated and charity care provided in 2020."

According to data collected by the Florida Agency for Health Care Administration, which regulates health care facilities and collects medical data from the institutions, there could be a lot of money at stake.

Bayfront Health Seven Rivers gross revenue in 2020 from Medicaid inpatient and outpatient was $88.5 million. That was up from $64.5 million in 2011. The hospital's total gross revenue for 2020 was nearly $830 million with Medicare and Medicaid making up about 65% of that.

It's uncertain how much money the hospital will want to be assessed in this newly proposed Medicaid plan.

As for Citrus Memorial Hospital, that hospital collected $227.5 million in gross revenues from Medicaid, according to AHCA. In 2011 it collected $57.1 million in Medicaid payments. The hospital's total gross revenue during 2020 was nearly $2.2 billion with Medicare and Medicaid making up about 66% of that revenue.

Jennifer Siem, spokeswoman for Bayfront Health's area hospitals, also responded by email to the Chronicle's request for how much Seven Rivers loses because of Medicaid.

She responded in part by writing, "Implementation of a Local Provider Participation Fund provides an opportunity for Citrus County to leverage available federal dollars to help close the multimillion-dollar shortfall gap. The LPPF will generate millions of dollars to support hospitals and health care systems in Citrus County, and it will positively impact the region's economy without imposing new financial obligations on the County's citizens or businesses."

Meanwhile, commissioners agreed they would approve the ordinance creating a mechanism to allow for the federal matching funds, but warned they wanted the indemnification issue solved.

"(Otherwise) I guarantee you I will be a no" (vote) when you're here gain," Kinnard said.

Tigers, Peralta slow down Rays

Offense stymied in 2-0 defeat

DICK SCANLON
Associated Press

ST. PETERSBURG — Wily Peralta gave up three hits in seven innings, and Eric Haase and Dustin Garneau homered for the Detroit Tigers in a 2-0 win over the AL East-leading Tampa Bay Rays on Sunday.

Peralta (4-3) and three relievers limited the Rays to five singles as Detroit, third in the AL Central at 72-78, won for the seventh time in 10 games.

Tampa Bay has 12 games to play, leads the AL East by 6 1/2 games and is headed to its second straight division title.

Peralta walked three and threw a season-high 100 pitches. He had been 0-2 with a 4.60 ERA in nine starts since beating Minnesota on July 18.

"Getting to 100 pitches was really key," Detroit manager A.J. Hinch said. "I joked that we were going to leave him out there until his arm falls off because we were really thin. But he kept putting up zeroes."

Kyle Funkhouser pitched the ninth for his first save since April 30, 2013, for Louisville against Western Kentucky in college.

Detroit won the season series 4-3.

"It's really mportant for us," Peralta said. "Shows we're headed in he right direction."

Shane McClanahan (9-6) gave up one run, two hits and two walks in five innings, striking out seven. He threw 64 pitches after skipping a turn due to lower back tightness.

"I felt good today, and really I've felt good all season," he said. "Obviously I didn't want to go on the IL."

Haase hit his 22nd home run in the fourth, and Garneau hit his sixth off Nick Anderson in the seventh.

Mike Zunino had three of Tampa Bay's hits and was one of only two Rays to reach third base, advancing on two wild pitches by Jason Foley in the Business as usual

Buccaneers rout Falcons 48-25

FRED GOODALL

TAMPA — It's good to be 2-0 with a franchise-best 10-game winning streak and an even more impressive run of nine straight 30-plus point performances in a victory.

The defending Super Bowl champion Tampa Bay Buccaneers insist, however, that they still haven't played anywhere near up to their potential after pulling away in the fourth quarter to rout the Atlanta Falcons 48-25 on Sunday.

"I think we've got a lot to learn from," coach Bruce Arians said. "It's always better to learn from winning. I like the way we finished the game."

Tom Brady threw for 276 yards and five touchdowns, and Mike Edwards returned two of Tampa Bay's three interceptions for TDs as the Bucs scored 30-plus points in a victory for a NFL-record ninth straight time.

The 44-year-old quarterback was also part of teams with New England that scored at least 30 in eight straight wins in 2007 and 2010.

"We were a little loose with the ball. Some penalties at different times that knocked us out of some scoring drives. Some missed throws and missed reads. I certainly wish I had made a few better throws," Brady said.

"But it's good to get the win. 2-0," the seven-time Super Bowl winner added. "There's a lot to build on."

Brady improved to 9-0 lifetime against the Falcons (0-2), who've lost seven in a row going back to last season, with three of those setbacks coming against the Bucs, who've outscored their NFC South rivals 124-62 over the past 10 quarters of those outings.

Rob Gronkowski caught a pair of TD passes for the third straight game, including the Super Bowl, as he and Brady continued to climb the career list for regular-season TDs by a passing duo with 88 — one behind Philip Rivers and Antonio Gates for second place. Peyton Manning and Marvin Harrison are first with 112.

Mike Evans also scored on receptions of 3 yards and 1 yard, the latter set up by Shaquil Barrett's third-quarter interception of Matt Ryan, who fell to 0-6 against teams led by Brady, who rallied New England from a 28-3 deficit to beat Atlanta in Super Bowl 51.

Ryan, who tossed TD passes to Calvin Ridley and Cordarrelle Patterson before running for a 2-point conversion to trim an 18-point deficit to 28-25 late in the third, threw a pair of interceptions that Edwards returned for fourth-quarter TDs that broke the game open.

"These guys kept coming back, back, back," Arthur Smith, Atlanta's first-year coach said. "It's a shame. You get in there, it's a three-point game and then it ends the way it does.

"When the score got out of hand, a lot of that was on the offense, right? You can almost put four of those touchdowns — two of them for sure, pick-6 s (on the offense)," Smith added. "Everybody feels sick when you see that box score, but there were some positives."

Since trailing the Falcons 17-0 at halftime of their Week 15 meeting in Atlanta last December, Brady has thrown for 11 touchdowns vs. one interception in guiding the Bucs to three victories in a series that's seen Tampa Bay win four of the past five meetings.

Gronkowski, who spent nine seasons with Brady in New England before coming out of retirement to rejoin his long-time teammate with the Bucs last year, scored on receptions of 20 yards and 1 yard in the first half.

Penn State jumps to 6th

RALPH D. RUSSO
AP college football writer

Clemson and Ohio State slipped to the back of the top 10 in The Associated Press college football poll on Sunday and Penn State jumped four spots to No. 6 after another weekend in which lots of ranked teams had issues.

Even No. 1 Alabama.

The defending national champion Crimson Tide remained an overwhelming No. 1 after holding on to beat Florida 31-29, Alabama's closest margin of victory during its current 17-game winning streak. The Tide received 59 of 62 first-place votes.

No. 2 Georgia, which had no problem with South Carolina, received the other three first-place votes in the AP Top 25, which is presented by Regions Bank.

No. 3 Oregon moved up a spot and No. 4 Oklahoma slipped one after a close victory over Nebraska.

Iowa was No. 5 for a second straight week and Penn State has its best ranking since the Nittany Lions were fifth on Nov. 3, 2019. Penn State beat Auburn on Saturday night to give it two victories against ranked teams, along with Wisconsin.

No. 9 Clemson and No. 10 Ohio State both won Saturday, but neither looked typically dominant. The Tigers managed only 14 points against Georgia Tech and the Buckeyes struggled defensively before pulling away late against winless Tulsa.

Clemson was last ranked this low early in 2015, when the Tigers started the season in the low teens but ended up playing for the national championship.

For Ohio State, 11th has been its lowest rankings since the 2014 season, when a Week 2 loss to Virginia Tech sent the Buckeyes tumbling as far as No. 23. They never lost again that season and won the national title.

The last time Clemson and Ohio State were both ranked below No. 8 was Nov. 2, 2014, when Ohio State was 13th and Clemson was 19th.

Bills knock out Tua, roll Dolphins

MIAMI GARDENS — Another Buffalo-Miami game, another lopsided Bills victory. And this one might wind up hurting the Dolphins more than most of the others.

Josh Allen threw two touchdown passes, Zach Moss ran for two scores and the Bills knocked out Miami quarterback Tua Tagovailoa early with a rib injury on the way to a 35-0 win.

Sutton's career day helps Broncos

JACKSONVILLE — Courtland Sutton's career day helped the Denver Broncos beat woeful Jacksonville 23-13, handing the Jaguars a 17th consecutive loss.

Sutton finished with nine catches for 159 yards, including a shoe-string grab in the third quarter that surely rates among his best plays in four seasons. In Denver's first game without Jerry Jeudy (ankle), Sutton showed he can be Teddy Bridgewater's go-to guy.

Herta cruises past father with Laguna Seca victory

MONTEREY, Calif. — The new faces of IndyCar dominated at Laguna Seca, where Colton Herta won the race, Alex Palou moved an easy Sunday drive away from the championship and Romain Grosjean was treated like a rock star.

Herta routed the field — and ran over "either a squirrel or bunny" while doing so — as he won from the pole Sunday, same as he did in 2019 when IndyCar last raced the sprawling permanent road course. He later congratulated the dead animal embedded under his car for its first career IndyCar victory.

"He's done a lot more than a lot of IndyCar drivers," Herta joked.

But for the actual driver it was his second win of the season and Herta tied his father, Bryan, with a pair of wins at Laguna Seca.

IndyCar to open 17-race slate in Feb. next season

MONTEREY, Calif. — IndyCar's extended partnership with NBC Sports yielded an additional bonus for next year's schedule, which was already earmarked to air a record number of races on network broadcast.

The three-year extension announced with the network in July touted a record 13 races on main NBC. That number was actually expanded to 14 races on the 17-race schedule released Sunday by IndyCar ahead of its race at Laguna Seca.

The permanent road course hosts next year's finale on Sept. 11, a full two weeks earlier than this season ends. IndyCar concludes its season next Sunday in Long Beach.

But Long Beach will return to its traditional date in April next season, which will start in February for the first time since 2004. The Feb. 27 opener on the downtown streets of St. Petersburg, Florida, is a week after NASCAR's season-opening Daytona 500 and the earliest start for the IndyCar Series since 2003.

"Our terrific partnership with NBC has led to a fantastic opportunity to place an unparalleled 14 events on broadcast television," said Mark Miles, President and CEO of Penske Entertainment Corp.

Wisconsin RB Roberts enters transfer portal

MADISON, Wis. — Wisconsin running back Antwan Roberts has entered the transfer portal less than three weeks after getting suspended from the team.

Roberts, a freshman, hadn't played in either of the 18th-ranked Badgers' first two games. Wisconsin coach Paul Chryst suspended Roberts and dismissed fellow freshman running back Loyal Crawford from the team on Aug. 31, shortly before the start of the season.

The punishments came after a fight in a dorm last month resulted in a citation for Crawford.

University of Wisconsin police spokesman Marc Lovicott said the 18-year-old Crawford was cited on misdemeanor charges of criminal disorderly conduct and disorderly conduct while armed.

Lovicott said police learned Aug. 22 about a fight between two people in a residence hall that had taken place the previous night. No one was stabbed or cut with the knife, he said. Crawford was the only person named in the police department's release.

BUCS

a 12-yarder to Chris Godwin with just over nine minutes remaining, put the Bucs over 30 points for a ninth straight game. Edwards scored on interception returns of 31 yards and 15 yards to finish the rout.

Brady completed 24 of 38 passes without an interception. He was sacked three times, losing a fumble on one of them.

Ryan finished 35 of 46 for 300 yards, two touchdowns and three interceptions.

"Got it to a three-point game, and we had some momentum, really did. Credit to them, they changed the tide," Ryan said. "They did a good job in the fourth quarter putting us away. I think there's things we can improve, there's a lot of things we can correct."

RING OF HONOR

Former Bucs defensive coordinator Monte Kiffin was inducted into the team's Ring of Honor during a halftime ceremony.

Kiffin, credited with being the architect of the Tampa-2 scheme, led the Tampa Bay defense for 13 seasons from 1996 to 2008. He joins four defensive stars from the 2002 Bucs, who won the Super Bowl — Derrick Brooks, Warren Sapp, John Lynch and Ronde Barber — as members of the Ring of Honor at Raymond James Stadium.

INJURIES

Buccaneers: CB Carlton Davis III played after being listed as questionable with a sore hamstring. ... WR/KR Jaydon Mickens left with a hip injury in the second half.

UP NEXT

Buccaneers: Travel to the West Coast to face the Los Angeles Rams on Sunday in the first of two straight road games. Brady returns to New England to face the Patriots for the first time the following week.

eighth. Garneau threw out two of three Tampa Bay runners trying to steal, and Detroit turned two double plays.

Miguel Cabrera's single in the sixth was the 2,979th hit of his career. He is six shy of Sam Rice for 33rd.

TRAINER'S ROOM

Rays: OF Kevin Kiermaier was reinstated after spending one day on the COVID-19 related injured list. ... DH Nelson Cruz was 0 for 2 with a walk in his first game since he was hit by a pitch on his right forearm Thursday. ... 1B Ji-Man Choi was 0 for 2 with two walks after injuring his left wrist in a collision Saturday.

UP NEXT

Rays: RHP Shane Baz, 3-0 with a 1.76 ERA in 10 starts at Triple-A and a pitcher for the U.S. at the Olympics, is to make his major league debut Monday night against Toronto. "The Olympics was definitely nerve-racking, even moreso that there were no fans there, so you didn't really have the buzz of the crowd to keep you into it," Baz said. "It was really strange but I think it helped me a lot. I think I was more nervous for that than I am now."

AP POLL

Saturday, though none in the top 10, raising to 19 the total number of ranked teams to lose through the first three weeks of the season.

That's the most through three weeks of a season in the history of the poll, according to ESPN's stats and info.

The number is padded by 10 ranked teams losing to ranked teams. Also, only one top-10 team has lost to an unranked team: North Carolina was preseason No. 10 when it opened with a loss to Virginia Tech.

It's been a volatile first few weeks of the 2021 season, though not quite as crazy and unpredictable as it might look at first glance.

A total of 35 teams have been ranked through three regular-season polls.

IN

— No. 20 Michigan State is off to an impressive start in Year 2 under coach Mel Tucker, 3-0 by an average margin of 23 points. The Spartans won 38-17 at Miami on Saturday and are ranked for the first time since Oct. 5, 2019.

— No. 22 Fresno State won maybe the weekend's most thrilling game, upsetting UCLA with two late scoring drives led by quarterback Jake Haener. The Bulldogs are ranked for the first time since the final AP Top 25 of 2018.

— No. 24 UCLA dropped 11 spots after its first loss of the season.

— No. 25 Kansas State is off to a 3-0 start after beating Nevada 38-17. The Wildcats were ranked briefly in 2020 and then stumbled to a 4-5 finish.

OUT

— Virginia Tech slipped out after losing at West Virginia.

— Arizona State is out for the first time this season after losing to BYU. The Cougars moved up eight spots to No. 15 after a second straight victory against a ranked Pac-12 team.

— Miami is out for the first time this season after falling to 1-2.

CONFERENCE CALL

SEC — 7 (Nos. 1, 2, 7, 11, 13, 16, 23).
Big Ten — 6 (Nos. 5, 6, 10, 18, 19, 20).
Big 12 — 3 (Nos. 4, 14, 25).
ACC — 2 (Nos. 9, 21).
Pac-12 — 2 (Nos. 3, 24).
American — 1 (No. 8).
Mountain West — 1 (No. 22).
Sun Belt — 1 (No. 17).
Independents — 2 (Nos. 12, 15).

RANKED vs. RANKED

No. 12 Notre Dame vs. No. 18 Wisconsin at Soldier Field in Chicago. Toughest test yet for an Irish team that is unbeaten but far from perfect.

No. 7 Texas A&M vs. No. 16 Arkansas at AT&T Stadium in Arlington, Texas. Last time this was a ranked matchup was 2016.

ROUNDUP/MATCHUPS

Indians 11, Yankees 1: Gerrit Cole stumbled when the New York Yankees needed an ace-like outing, allowing seven runs over 5 2/3 innings.

Cardinals 8, Padres 7: San Diego center fielder Fernando Tatis Jr. dropped Nolan Arenado's bases-loaded popup and heaved the ball home, leading to a five-run first inning.

Blue Jays 5, Twins 3: José Berríos allowed three runs and four hits in 6 2/3 innings.

Red Sox 8, Orioles 6: Kiké Hernández's game-tying RBI single caromed off the second-base bag and into shallow center field.

Athletics 3, Angels 2: Shohei Ohtani struck out 10.

Mariners 7, Royals 1: Rookie Jarred Kelenic homered and doubled twice.

White Sox 7, Rangers 2: José Abreu capped a five-run fourth inning with a two-run single.

Dodgers 8, Reds 5: Clayton Kershaw allowed one run and three hits over five sharp innings.

Marlins 6, Pirates 5: Lewin Díaz led off the bottom of the 10th with a two-run homer off Chad Kuhl.

Cubs 6, Brewers 4: Patrick Wisdom set a Cubs rookie record with his 27th homer, hitting a three-run drive.

Astros 7, Diamondbacks 6: Jose Siri and Chas McCormick hit back-to-back home runs in the eighth.

Nationals 3, Rockies 0: Juan Soto homered to back Paolo Espino, who allowed three hits in 5 2/3 innings.

Braves 3, Giants 0: Eddie Rosario became the second Atlanta player in a month to hit for the cycle.

Haener lifts Fresno State to upset of No. 13 UCLA

Associated Press

PASADENA, Calif. — Fresno State's Jake Haener was able to overcome a crushing hit to his right hip to lead the Bulldogs to an upset victory over No. 13 UCLA.

Haener threw for 455 yards, including the go-ahead touchdown pass to Jalen Cropper with 14 seconds remaining, as the Bulldogs beat the Bruins 40-37 Saturday night at the Rose Bowl.

"We know he's tough, right. We've seen that over the course of last year and this year. He's tough," Fresno State coach Kalen DeBoer said. "When the pressure was great, he was at his best and that's what's awesome."

Haener had to be at his best in a game that saw four lead changes over the final 7:27 after the Bulldogs had a 23-10 lead at halftime.

Fresno State finished the job against a Pac-12 program after leading then-No. 11 Oregon in the fourth quarter two weeks ago before losing.

"I mean, we just made one more play, right? We made one more play," DeBoer said. "Fifty-four seconds that I just think about what our guys are capable of doing, it didn't feel like it was too big of a feat at all."

Haener's 19-yard strike to Erik Brooks put Fresno State back in front 33-30 with 2:55 remaining, but he was wincing in pain on the ground after taking numerous hits throughout the night.

After UCLA regained the lead with 54 seconds left on Dorian Thompson-Robinson's 15-yard pass to Kyle Phillips, a limping Haener directed a six-play, 75-yard drive that gave the Bulldogs (3-1) their fourth straight win over the Bruins.

"He was a pretty mobile quarterback. We struggled to keep him in the pocket," UCLA cornerback Qwuantrezz Knight said.

Cropper had three receptions for 50 yards on the drive, including the TD. Josh Kelly also had a 26-yard catch that put the ball at the UCLA 12 with 23 seconds remaining.

"Yeah, I'm not gonna lie, I was a little tired," Cropper said. "But that last play, I saw the corner drop. And just knowing how Jake trusts me throwing that back shoulder into the corner of the end zone, the feeling's so surreal. I can't really describe it in words."

Haener completed 38 of 53 passes and tossed two touchdowns. Cropper had 14 receptions for 141 yards and Kelly added eight catches for 120 yards. Ronnie Rivers rushed for 136 yards and two touchdowns.

"I think the quarterback is a special player," UCLA coach Chip Kelly said. "We threw everything at him. We blitzed him, played cover zero, rushed three and dropped everyone else back into coverage. I think we threw the entire kitchen sink at him and he handled everything."

UCLA was able to rally back due to a pair of Bulldogs turnovers. Fresno State led 26-17, had the ball at the UCLA 9 and were looking to put the game away with 9:23 remaining when Carl Jones stripped Haener of the ball. After it rolled 34 yards and a mad scramble ensued, Myles Jackson recovered it at the UCLA 43.

Three plays later, Thompson-Robinson delivered a perfect pass to Phillips, who eluded Bralyn Lux's coverage, for a 38-yard score to bring UCLA within 26-23.

The Bulldogs wouldn't have it long on the ensuing possession when Kelly fumbled after a 13-yard completion. UCLA's Jordan Genmark Heath recovered and returned it 20 yards to the Bulldogs 18.

UCLA took its first lead since the first quarter when Zach Charbonnet capped off a three-play drive with a 3-yard TD up the middle to put the Bruins up 30-26.

Thompson-Robinson passed for 278 yards and three touchdowns while Phillips had seven receptions for 113 yards and two TDs. Charbonnet ran for two touchdowns for the Bruins (2-1), who were ranked for the first time in four years.

Thompson-Robinson passed for 278 yards and three touchdowns while Phillips had seven receptions for 113 yards and two TDs. Charbonnet ran for two touchdowns for the Bruins (2-1), who were ranked for the first time in four years.

"We definitely made it tough on ourselves. We made mistakes and bit ourselves in the foot too many times," Thompson-Robinson said.

Rivers scored both of his touchdowns in the first half. He opened the scoring with a 1-yard run up the middle with 5:54 remaining in the first quarter to give the Bulldogs a 6-0 lead. The 2-point conversion was no good after holder Carson King's pass was incomplete.

Rivers then broke a pair of tackles en route to a 36-yard score up the right sideline midway through the second quarter to extend Fresno State's lead to 20-10.

No. 2 Georgia 40, South Carolina 13

ATHENS, Ga. — JT Daniels returned to the lineup with three touchdown passes, Georgia's fearsome defense nearly made it three straight games without allowing a TD and the Bulldogs romped past South Carolina.

Daniels completed 23 of 31 for 303 yards, including scoring throws of 43 yards to Jermaine Burton, 38 yards to freshman Adonai Mitchell and 4 yards to James Cook.

Georgia (3-0, 1-0 Southeastern Conference) finally gave up a touchdown while on defense when Luke Doty, getting the ball on the Bulldogs' side of the field after a fumble, connected with Josh Vann on a 36-yard touchdown pass with 10:55 remaining.

With Doty playing for the first time this season, South Carolina (2-1, 0-1) gave up three sacks and a safety, along with two turnovers that led to Georgia touchdowns.

No. 4 Oregon 48, Stony Brook 7

EUGENE, Ore. — Freshman Ty Thompson threw two second-half touchdown passes and No. 4 Oregon overcame a sluggish start to beat Stony Brook in a game delayed because of lightning.

Ducks starter Anthony Brown threw for a touchdown and ran for another but left the game at halftime after he was sacked twice to close out the second quarter. It was unclear if he was injured.

The Ducks, coming off their big win last weekend at Ohio State, improved to 3-0 as they head into Pac-12 play next weekend. It was Oregon's 14th straight win at Autzen, as well as its 28th nonconference victory at home.

Stony Brook, which plays in the lower-tier Colonial Athletic Association, fell to 1-2. The game against the Ducks was Stony Brook's first against a Pac-12 opponent. Oregon was also the highest-ranked team the Seawolves had ever faced.

No. 10 Penn State 28, Auburn 20

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. — Jaquan Brisker broke up a desperation pass toward the end zone by Auburn's Bo Nix as time expired and Penn State held on to beat Auburn.

Sean Clifford completed 28 of 32 passes for 280 yards and two touchdowns as Penn State (3-0) welcomed back its white out crowd to Beaver Stadium for a rare visit from a Southeastern Conference team.

Jahan Dotson added 10 catches for 78 yards and a touchdown, tight end Brenton Strange caught a touchdown and tight end Tyler Warren and Noah Cain ran for scores to help the Nittany Lions beat an SEC opponent for the first time since.

Penn State had to make two late defensive stand to make the lead hold. First, it kept Auburn (2-1) out of the end zone after a first-and-goal at the 10. An incomplete fade from the 2 on fourth down with 3:08 left gave Penn State the ball back, but the Nittany Lions could not run out the whole clock. Auburn managed to get to the Penn State 23 with 3 seconds left. Nix fired deep down the middle but Brisker cut in front of Demetris Robertson a few steps in front of the goal line and knocked it down.

No. 14 Iowa State 48, UNLV 3

LAS VEGAS — Brock Purdy completed 21 of 24 pass attempts for 288 yards and three touchdowns to lead Iowa State to a rout of UNLV.

Purdy, who also rushed for 33 yards, finished with a 229.6 quarterback rating, the third-highest of his career.

Iowa State (2-1) finished with 486 yards of offense and 7.59 yards per play, scoring on eight of its 11 possessions, including six touchdowns.

Breece Hall rushed for 70 of his 101 yards in the first quarter to lead the Cyclones' rushing attack. Hall scored two touchdowns. Wide receiver Xavier Hutchinson had 10 receptions for 133 yards and two touchdowns.

UNLV (0-3) was held to 23 yards on 18 plays in the first half and finished with 130 yards for the game.

UNLV freshman Cameron Friel and junior Tate Martell split time at quarterback. Friel was 7 for 12 for 55 yards with one interception, while Martell finished 2 of 6 for 27 yards.

Running back Charles Williams had 46 yards rushing on 19 attempts.

No. 17 Mississippi 61, Tulane 21

OXFORD, Miss. — Matt Corral passed for 335 yards and three touchdowns, ran for four scores, and Mississippi scored all of its points in the first three quarters in a win over Tulane.

The Rebels are off to a 3-0 start for the first time since 2015, and after an open date next week, visit Alabama on Oct. 2.

Michael Pratt threw two touchdown passes for Tulane (1-2), but the Green Wave —- wearing helmets honoring the schools time in the SEC in the first half of the 1900s — never really had a chance.

Corral ran for two touchdowns in the first quarter as Ole Miss built a 19-7 lead. He then tossed two TD pass in the second quarter and the Rebels led 40-21 at the half.

No. 23 BYU 27, No. 19 Arizona St. 17

PROVO, Utah — Jaren Hall threw for 214 yards and two touchdowns and added 38 yards on seven carries, leading BYU to its third straight win over a Pac-12 team.

Tyler Allgeier added 69 yards and a touchdown on the ground for the Cougars (3-0), who forced four turnovers and posted its third straight victory over Arizona State.

Jaylen Daniels threw for 265 yards to lead the Sun Devils (2-1), but also tossed a pair of interceptions. Danyiel Ngata ran for 82 yards and a touchdown to lead Arizona State's ground attack.

The Cougars sealed the win after backup quarterback Baylor Romney tossed a 3-yard touchdown pass to Isaac Rex with 1:19 left. Romney came into the game after Hall was injured at the end of a QB run with 2:22 remaining.

No. 21 North Carolina 59, Virginia 39

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. — Sam Howell threw five touchdown passes and ran for a career-best 112 yards as North Carolina took over after halftime to beat Virginia.

The Tar Heels (2-1, 1-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) scored touchdowns on all five of their second-half drives, which helped turn a 28-24 halftime deficit into a 52-31 lead on Howell's short TD throw to Kamari Morales with 12:13 left. And after a first-half shootout with Brennan Armstrong and the Cavaliers (2-1, 0-1), UNC gave up only a field goal in the third quarter while also coming up with Ja'Qurious Conley's interception.

Tennessee graduate transfer Ty Chandler ran for a career-high 198 yards with two touchdowns, the last coming from 7 yards out with 2:57 left to seal it. And Josh Downs had eight catches for 203 yards and a pair of TDs.

USF 38, Florida A&M 17

TAMPA — Jaren Mangham scored three times, twice in the first half, and Timmy McClain threw for a first-half touchdown as South Florida rolled past Florida A&M, 38-17, in a non-conference game..

The Bulls held Florida A&M to a 49-yard Jose Romo-Martinez field goal in the first half, taking a 24-3 lead into intermission.

McCain completed 12 of 23 passes for 163 yards. Brian Battie carried 10 times for 110 yards and Mangham carried seven times fore 27 yards.

South Florida earned its first win after dropping games to North Carolina State and Florida to start the season.

Rasean McKay was 25 of 49 passing for 248 yards to lead Florida A&M (1-2).

Florida Atlantic 45, Fordham 14

BOCA RATON — N'Kosi Perry threw for 278 yards and Florida Atlantic added 248 yards on the ground in a 45-14 victory over FCS-member Fordham.

Texas Tech 54, FIU 21

LUBBOCK, Texas — Texas Tech quarterback Tyler Shough threw for 399 yards and four touchdown passes to spark a 54-21 victory against Florida International at Jones AT&T Stadium.

Max Homa rallies to win Fortinet Championship

Associated Press

Associated Press

Max Homa poses with his trophy on the 18th green of the Silverado Resort North Course after winning the Fortinet Championship PGA golf tournament Sunday, in Napa, Calif.

NAPA, Calif. — Max Homa's decision to give up his poplar and often comical golf podcast to concentrate on his game is already paying off.

Homa holed out from the rough from 95 yards for eagle on the par-4 12th to start a back-nine comeback and added three birdies for a 7-under 65 and a one-stroke victory Sunday in the season-opening Fortinet Championship.

"I had full control today," said Homa, who saved par out of the sand three times. "I had a really good warm-up, hit my wedges really well. The only bogey I made was going kind of right at it so just felt like I had good control. It just feels really nice."

Three strokes behind Maverick McNealy with seven holes left, Homa followed the eagle with a birdie on the par-4 13th. The 30-year-old former University of California player tapped in for another birdie on the par-5 16th and ran in an 18-footer on the par-4 17th. He parred the par-5 18th to finish at 19-under 269.

Homa won for the second time this year and the third time on the PGA Tour. He won at Riviera in Los Angeles in February.

His latest victory came a week after Homa ended the "Get A Grip" podcast he co-hosted for nearly two years.

"I love doing it … but at some point it was not doing me any favors having to regurgitate all the bad things that happened. It wasn't healthy for me," Homa said. "My game's getting to the point where it could be really good."

McNealy shot a 68 to finish second. He birdied the 16th, then made a double bogey on 17 and an eagle on 18. The son of billionaire and former Sun Microsystems CEO Scott McNealy, the 25-year-old player grew up in Palo Alto and starred at Stanford.

"I was pretty good in the morning, but had a few short game mishaps late in the day," McNealy said. "If I hit that fairway on 17, I'm putting for birdie, it's a different story."

Mito Pereira (68) was third at 16 under. Marc Leishman (65) and Talor Gooch (68) followed at 15 under. Masters champion Hideki Matsuyama (66) tied for sixth at 13 under. PGA Championship winner Phil Mickelson (75) was 7 under.

Jim Knous (74) began the day tied for the lead with McNealy, but could never find his rhythm and finished at 12 under. Knous, who has one more start on a medical exemption, landed his opening tee shot into a spectator's chair and had a triple bogey on No. 14.

Playing in the twosome just in front of McNealy, Homa birdied three of the last four holes on the front nine, then dropped a stroke on No. 10.

He got back on track and turned his round around two holes later when his approach on 12 landed on the front of the green and rolled into the cup as Homa raised his finger in the air.

"You want to have a Tiger (Woods) moment," Homa said. "He's made it from everywhere to win. Sometimes when you put yourself in that state of mind, great things happen."

Darren Clarke takes PGA Tour Champions playoff in Sioux Falls.

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. — Darren Clarke won the Stanford International for his third PGA Tour Champions victory of the season, beating K.J. Choi with a birdie on the second hole of a playoff.

Clarke, the 53-year-old major champion from Northern Ireland, closed with a 5-under 65 at Minnehaha Country Club, birdieing the par-4 18th to match Choi and Steve Flesch at 12-under 198.

"It's nice to get back in the winner's circle again," Clarke said. "In the playoff you never know what's going to happen, anybody can make birdie and luckily it was my day today."

Clarke won the TimberTech Championship in November for his first senior title and took the Mitsubishi Electric Championship in January on his next tour start.

"I've really enjoyed my time here in Sioux Falls," Clarke said. "The fans have been brilliant. I've had maybe a little beverage with one or two of them in the past, so it's been nice to have that atmosphere and that support. It's always wonderful."

Choi, the second-round leader, finished with a 69. He had only one birdie, on the par-4 13th.

"Playoff, in the second hole, hit the tree at the left," Choi said. "Is disappointing, but good finish. ... Everything is very great this week."

Flesch, eliminated with a bogey on the first extra trip down 18, also bogeyed the hole in regulation for a 66.

"I played well, I've been playing well," Flesch said. "I just wish I could have played that 72nd hole over. I picked an aggressive line and made kind of a tentative swing with the 3-wood and it got me. You know, that 18th hole, it's playing tough. Straight downwind, it's hard to get the ball on the right level."

Miguel Angel Jimenez, the 2020 winner, was two strokes back along with Rod Pampling (69). U.S. Ryder Cup captain Steve Stricker (67) was 9 under. Stricker will lead the United States against Europe next week at Whistling Straits in Wisconsin.

Retief Goosen (69) was 8 under with Alex Cejka (71), John Senden (65) and Steven Alker (67).

Jin Young Ko captures rain-shortened Cambia Portland Classic

WEST LINN, Ore. — Jin Young Ko won the rain-shortened Cambia Portland Classic for her second victory in her last three LPGA Tour starts.

Making her first start since the Tokyo Olympics, the second-round South Korean player closed with a bogey-free 3-under 69 at Oregon Golf Club for a four-stroke victory over Jeongeun Lee and Su Oh. Ko finished at 11-under 205.

Play was washed out Saturday because of rain and the event was cut from 72 to 54 holes. Ko took the lead Friday with a 67.

"I really wanted to play yesterday, but we couldn't play," Ko said. "I tried to make a no bogey-free round today, but I made it. I had a lot of missed shots and I had a lot of missed chipping or something, so I had to make great par saves, but I made it.

She took a break after the Olympics, skipping the major Women's British Open.

"I spent a great time in Korea after the Olympics, maybe over six or seven weeks," Ko said. "I had a lot of practice with my same coach and I had a lot of workouts, three times or four times each week."

Ko also won the Volunteers of America Classic in Texas in early July. The two-time major champion has nine LPGA Tour victories.

Lee and Oh each shot 69. Perrine Delacour was fourth at 5 under after a 69. Patty Tavatanakit (69) was 4 under with Esther Henseleit (70) and Carlota Ciganda (73).

Gemma Dryburgh, a stroke behind Ko entering the round, had a 76 to drop into a tie for eighth at 3 under.

The tournament was shifted from Edgewater Country Club to Oregon Golf Club in June because of safety concerns about a homeless encampment bordering Edgewater.

"This course was really amazing — fairways and greens are really perfect," Ko said.

Swede Broberg shoots nervy final-round 72 for Dutch Open victory

CROMVOIRT, Netherlands — Kristoffer Broberg of Sweden shot a tense level-par 72 to finish at 23 under and win the Dutch Open for his second European Tour victory and first since beating Patrick Reed in a playoff to clinch the 2015 BMW Masters.

The 35-year-old set course records at the Bernardus club in Cromvoirt in the second and third rounds, shooting a 64 on Friday and an 11-under 61 on Saturday.

But the 772nd-ranked Swede struggled Sunday, despite starting the day with an eight-shot lead, as Alejandro Canizares and Marcus Schmid both piled on the pressure with 5-under 31s on the front nine.

"The game wasn't there today. I was struggling all day," he said.

Schmid reduced the lead to just two shots on the par-5 12th, but it could have been worse for Broberg — he chipped in for a bogey while Schmid left an eagle putt just short of the cup.

Schmid then made a double-bogey five on the 13th to take the pressure off Broberg in a roller-coaster back nine for the leader. The German finished second on 20-under, two shots ahead of Canizares, who shot a double-bogey seven on the 18th.

Broberg rolled in a birdie putt on the 17th to give himself a three-shot cushion going to the 18th and held his nerve for a regulation par five on the final hole to close out his second European Tour victory and the first by a Swede at the Dutch Open since Peter Hanson in 2012.

It was a return to form for a player whose playing schedule has been restricted in recent years by hip and knee injuries.

"Six years of hell," he said before choking up with emotion after his victory.

Broberg recently visited an optician in Sweden who gave him a contact lens for his right eye.

"Now I can see the lines," he said this week.

Larson wins playoff race at Bristol

Harvick and Elliott feud

Associated Press

BRISTOL, Tenn. — Kyle Larson won at Bristol Motor Speedway — not really a big surprise or even the most interesting part of NASCAR's first playoff elimination race.

The post-race feud between reigning Cup Series champion Chase Elliott and Kevin Harvick stole the show Saturday night, especially when Harvick angrily told the energized crowd: "I'm ready to freakin' rip somebody's head off."

Harvick took the lead from Elliott with 33 laps remaining but the hard racing caused contact that cut one of Elliott's tires. After a quick tire change, Elliott exacted his revenge by deliberately slowing in front of Harvick to give Hendrick Motorsports teammate Kyle Larson a chance to catch Harvick.

Larson made the race-winning pass with four laps to go to earn his sixth win of the year. Then Harvick and Elliott parked alongside each other on pit road, bounded out their windows, and immediately began jawing at each other.

"Obviously, Harvick and Chase got together. Chase was upset. Kind of held him up," Larson said. "It got Harvick having to move around and use his tires up off the bottom. I started to get some dive-ins working off of (turn) two, got a big run, decided to pull the trigger, slide him, squeeze him a little bit, then he had me jacked up down the frontstretch. It was wild."

Then came the pit-road confrontation.

Harvick had his helmet on at first and Elliott wagged his finger in Harvick's face. There was brief shoving, Harvick slammed his helmet in anger, and both drivers blamed the other even after the verbal sparring moved inside Elliott's hauler for a private conversation.

"We were racing for the frickin' win at Bristol, we're three-wide in the middle, and he throws a temper tantrum like I was just trying to get the lead and race him hard," Harvick fumed. "Then he pulled up in front of me and just sits there until I lose the whole lead."

The crowd at that moment was very decidedly on Elliott's side.

"They can boo all they want, I don't care," Harvick said.

Elliott, meanwhile, indicated Harvick pushes people around on the track and the pattern must stop.

"It's something he does all the time. He runs into your left side constantly at other tracks and sometimes it does cut down your left side and other times it doesn't," Elliott said. "He did it to me in Darlington a few weeks ago because he was tired of racing with me and whether he did it on purpose it doesn't matter.

"I don't care who he is or how long he's been doing it. I am going to stand up for myself and my team and go on down the road."

With that, the Bristol faithful was firmly Team Elliott.

But the fans loved Larson, as well, and he was showered with adoration as he moved a step closer to his first NASCAR championship. Larson is the top seed and the favorite to win the Cup.

"I love this place. This is by far my favorite track. This is why," Larson told the crowd. "You guys are amazing, loud. We feel the energy while we're out there racing. Thanks, everyone, for spending your hard-earned money to come watch us putting on a show."

Elliott had led a race-high 175 laps but finished 25th. Harvick, winless after last year's series-leading victories, was looking to snap a 36-race winless streak on the anniversary of his final win in 2020. He instead finished second.

Larson's Cup-high sixth win of the season was a banner night for Hendrick Motorsports. All four of its drivers advanced in the playoffs after Alex Bowman and William Byron were both in danger of elimination at Bristol, the third and final race of the first round when NASCAR cuts the field from 16 to 12.

Instead, Tyler Reddick, Aric Almirola, Kurt Busch and Michael McDowell were eliminated.

Bowman finished third to save his playoffs, while Bowman was fifth and Chevrolet had three cars in the top-five. Three more spots went to Ford with Harvick, then Team Penske teammates Ryan Blaney fourth and Brad Keselowski sixth.

Martin Truex Jr. in seventh was the highest finishing Toyota driver.

UP NEXT

The second round of the playoffs open Sunday at Las Vegas Motor Speedway, where Larson won his first race of the year. Kurt Busch is the defending race winner. Las Vegas is the first of three races in the round in which the field is cut from 12 to eight.

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

PHILLIP ALDER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It is well known that you need about 26 points for game in a major and 29 points for game in a minor. But do not forget to include short-suit points for singletons and voids when you have a fit. (Or, better yet, use the Losing Trick Count!)

In "Moonraker," James Bond made seven clubs redoubled with 8 high-card points in his hand and a Yarborough in the dummy. Today's deal is also unusual. The North-South hands contain no voids, only one singleton and just 19 combined points, but the declarer brought home his five-diamond contract.

Cover the East-West cards. West took two top spades and shifted to a heart. Declarer drew trumps in three rounds, West having a singleton. How should South have continued?

Three diamonds was a brave bid, but the secondary club support strengthened the hand. Five spades doubled costs 500 if North gets a heart ruff.

To make his contract, declarer had to play the club suit for no losers. There were two chances: West had a singleton king or East a singleton jack. In the former case, South needed to cash dummy's club ace, then finesse East out of his jack. In the latter, declarer had to lead the queen from hand, pinning East's jack and finessing West out of his king.

Which was more likely? Given that West had a singleton diamond, it was unlikely he had a singleton club as well. Therefore, South played for East to hold the singleton club jack. After drawing trumps, he led the club queen from his hand. When the jack appeared from East, South claimed his contract.

Annie offers advice

Dear Annie: My daughter is a 57-year-old divorced mom of four. All of her children live with her except for one, who is a college student. She has been divorced for 10 years. Her husband was having an affair and denied it, but my daughter has proof he did have an affair.

DEAR ANNIE

Since her divorce, and even prior to the divorce, I have helped her financially. I am a widow. Now it seems that she is having very little to do with me. She calls occasionally, but I have only seen her for about an hour in 2020 and so far this year. I am deeply hurt. I recently had major surgery, and she did not come for my surgery. She was moving the day of my surgery.

She called and sent a gift, but that's it. Do I have the right to be hurt? She lives two hours away.

I do not think I have offended her in any way.

I should add that she does have a new boyfriend who she sees on weekends. — Hurt Grandmother

Dear Grandmother: Of course you have a right to be hurt. Feelings are never wrong so long as you acknowledge them and move forward. Perhaps your hunch that she is spending time with a new boyfriend might be a contributing factor to her distance. She is managing four children and a new relationship, so for the time being, try to cut her some slack.

Visit her more often, if you can make the trip. Once she sees that you are making an effort, she will be more willing to make an effort to see you. But by all means, tell her this. Don't start from a place of guilting her, but rather from a place of love. Tell her that you genuinely miss her company.

Dear Annie: I got back with my ex after two years of separation. We have a beautiful baby girl together, and I really love this lady. When I suggested marriage, she was happy and looking forward to it; however, out of the blue, she changed her mind and even asked for space. She told me that I should start calling her before I go to visit her and our girl.

This really confused me, and I even started suspecting she was seeing someone else. This has really affected me greatly, and I don't know if I should even go ahead with the marriage anymore.

Kindly advise; am I being unrealistic and selfish? — Confused

Dear Confused: No, I don't think you are being unrealistic or selfish at all. I think you are confused and hurt. And for good reason. A complete change in attitude in any relationship is a red flag that something is not right. The best way to figure out what is going on is to tell her how you feel and ask her why her behavior toward you has shifted so dramatically.

SCAM ALERT******

How to Avoid a Fake Check Scam

- INSIST ON CASH
- Don't accept a check for more than the selling price. You can bet it's a scam.
- Inform the Buyer that you'll wait two weeks before sending any merchandise.
- Never use money from a check to send gift cards, money orders, or wire money to strangers or someone you just met. Many scammers demand that you send money through money transfer services like Western Union or MoneyGram, or buy gift cards and send them the PIN numbers. Once you wire money, or give someone the gift card PINs, it is like giving someone cash. It's almost impossible to get it back.
- Toss offers that ask you to pay for a prize. If it's free, you shouldn't have to pay to get it.
