Florida's Best Community

TALLAHASSEE Florida will open eligibility requirements to anyone 18 and older on April 5, Gov. Ron DeSantis announced Thursday.

Starting March 29, the eligibility requirement for getting the vaccine will drop from 50 to 40, the governor said in a news release. The age requirement dropped from 60 to 50 on Monday.

"We have now vaccinated over 70% of the roughly 4.4 million seniors living in the state. We have also made great progress on those age 60 to 64 and those age 50 and older," DeSantis said in announcing the next steps.

The governor urged people interested in getting the vaccine to pre-register at www.myvaccine.fl.gov. They will then be notified when the vaccine is available in their area. There is also vaccine pre-registration phone number in each county for anyone who does not have online access.

The vaccines are also available at 150 CVS locations, 125 Wal-Mart and Sam's Club locations, more than 70 Winn Dixie locations, and every single one of the 730 Publix pharmacies across Florida. Soon, the vaccine will also be available at more than 600 Walgreens pharmacies statewide.

Manatee Festival this weekend

34th annual event will offer food, fun, music and shopping in Crystal River

HANNAH SACHEWICZ Staff writer

This year, Crystal River will be throwing the manatees' going away party at the 34th annual Florida Manatee Festival as the sea cows pack their bags and prepare to head back up north.

The festival will take place from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, March 27, and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, March 28, in downtown Crystal River at the intersection of U.S. 19 and Citrus Avenue. As usual, the event is organized by the Citrus County Chamber of Commerce.

'We're so excited to see this beloved yearly return festival downtown," said Leslie Bollin, Crystal River spokeswoman. "We are lucky to have beautiful outdoor locations to safely hold events.

Admission for adults is $5 and free for kids 12 and younger. Attendees can stroll through the shops and restaurants of Heritage Village and down to waterside along King's Bay while exploring nearly 300 fine art, retail, food, nonprofit and craft vendors.

For the adults, there will be "two beer and wine gardens with the addition of hard seltzers this year," said Jade White, chamber spokeswoman. "We also have, as usual, two food courts loaded with a variety of delectable options."

For the children, there will be a Kid's Zone, equipped with free face painting, bounce houses and games located next to the bandshell in Kings Bay Park. On Saturday, Todd Bogue will make an appearance for his magical comedy show.

Behind the numbers of new impact fees

MICHAEL D. BATES Staff writer

The population of Citrus County is expected to increase by 1,200 residents a year until 2040, putting a strain on schools, roads and other facilities. School officials need to accumulate money to pay for major planned improvements, including a $13 million school expansion in 10 years and another $53 million in 20

To help pay for that growth, county commissioners Tuesday voted 4-1 to raise impact fees for a single-family home from the current $4,809 to $6,017.

Transportation (roads) and schools traditionally command higher impact fees and this time is no exception.

"We need to have the road capacity and we've got to look ahead on that, we really do — same thing with schools," Commissioner Holly Davis said.

The fee for a singlefamily home is going up $1,208 and, with a 30year mortgage, "that is just nothing for somebody who is not in the low-income bracket,' Davis said.

Commission Chairman Scott Carnahan voted against higher impact fees, saying he wanted to keep Citrus competitive with surrounding counties and foresees an unstable economy ahead.

Judge postpones hearing to overturn conviction

Jeffry Roy

Dickerson

BUSTER THOMPSON Staff writer

Jeffry Roy Dickerson's legal fight continues to overturn his conviction of holding his ex-wife hostage at gunpoint inside her own home almost six years ago.

However, the Inverness 66-yearold will have to wait another month before a ruling is decided. Dickerson was scheduled to argue his motion for post-conviction relief the afternoon of Wednesday, March 24, but his law-yer, James "Rick" Dozier, asked Citrus County Circuit Judge Richard "Ric" Howard to postpone the hearing to give him more time to speak with his client.

According to his motion from August, Dickerson claims his prior attorney, Victoria Hatfield, was ineffective counsel when he decided to take a plea offer for prison to close his felony case.

Dozier was appointed to represent Dickerson and his self-filed motion for Howard to vacate Dickerson's conviction and punishment for charges of armed burglary, armed aggravated assault, armed aggravated and false imprisonment.

On Wednesday, Dozier told Howard he found out a week ago Dickerson had arrived at the county jail from state prison, but was unable to meet with him until Tuesday.

Dozier asked the judge for a few weeks to go over Dickerson's motion with

"There's a lot of things I need to do," he said. 'There's no way I can be effective for him today.'

Assistant State Attorney Blake Shore told the judge he was expecting Wednesday's hearing to be continued, hence why he had Hatfield appear via a live video feed from her Tampa law firm.

'I'll leave it to the court's discretion," the prosecutor said.

Howard granted Dozier's request, and rescheduled Dickerson's motion hearing for April 22. "You're pledged to me now," the judge said. Dozier told Howard he expects his arguments to last no more than an hour-and-a-half.

Dickerson has been incarcerated since his arrest in early May 2015, when he broke into his exwife's local home during the night, armed with a loaded .45-caliber handgun. He then chased the woman outside and put the gun to her head before taking her back inside the home.

had an active restraining against Dickerson, who claims he was allowed to enter the house and recover the firearm while his ex-wife was away.

Dickerson's ex-wife was able to get him to surrender his firearm. Dickerson argues he gave her the gun quickly. Citrus County Sheriff's Office deputies apprehended Dickerson, who served as a deputy under Sheriff Charlie Dean before retiring, the next day during a stop on Dickerson's rented vehicle.

Authorities found a ledger Dickerson was using to document his ex-wife's movements. Prosecutors alleged Dickerson was stalking her because he believed she was having an affair.

After Dickerson's July 2016 trial, in which Dickerson represented himself, a jury found him guilty on the aforementioned

Dickerson's conviction on appeal

At the time, the woman in October 2017, ruling Howard did not properly conduct a hearing prior to Dickerson's trial, and ordered a new trial.

However, Dickerson decided to resolve his case by pleading no contest to his charges in exchange for a 10-year prison sentence, offered by Shore at the time.

Dickerson later filed a motion for post-conviction relief in August 2020, arguing his counsel, Hatfield, was ineffective in representing his best interests because she pressured him to take Shore's

"Hatfield appeared to be siding and/or cooperating with...Shore,' he wrote in his motion.

Hatfield could not be reached Thursday for comment.

Dickerson contends in his motion Hatfield failed her legal duties in 10 different instances.

After reviewing the motion and trial evidence, Howard ordered for four of Dickerson's contentions to be heard in court.

Dickerson also claims in his motion it was Hatfield who advised him to file such a document in court.

"In other words," he wrote, "she stated...'you can do it on me, Appellate judges reversed assuming ineffectiveness of

Fruitful partnership

Pregnancy and Family Life Center opens site in Beverly Hills

About two years ago, Stephanie Bell, the executive director of The Pregnancy and Family Life Center (PFLC), started thinking about Beverly Hills.

She knew there were a lot of women and families who could benefit from the center's services, but because transportation is often difficult, many were missing out on the free services they offer at their Inverness location.

"Then in October, Nicole (Carley), program director at The Path, came and saw me and asked how can we partner with them to get the women the services they need," Bell said at the March 17 grand opening and dedication of PFLC's second location, in Beverly Hills.

In December, Carley and The Path's executive director, DuWayne Sipper, met with Bell again.

"This is a perfect place for this and a perfect partnership," Sipper said.

Birthday — Make adjustments to the way you work or how you earn your living. Being efficient will buy you time to work on projects that excite you. Put together a schedule focused on health, fitness and personal growth.

Aries (March 21-April 19) — Finish what you start before moving on to something more enjoyable. Choose your words wisely when dealing with a friend or relative.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) — Make a change because you want to, not because you are emotional or angry. Look for a way to make your home more comfortable

Gemini (May 21-June 20) — Tempers will flare if you spend too much time with someone who is critical or if you focus on what's not working instead of on what you can accomplish.

Cancer (June 21-July 22) — Take note of what others are doing, and consider what you can do to improve your life. A chance to do things differently will help you stand out.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22) — Pay more attention to your actions and how you present yourself, and less to what others are doing. Look for opportunities.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — Let your feelings dictate your decisions. If you follow your heart, you will discover the best way to use your skills to reach your objective.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) — Look for safe ways to get out and enjoy the fresh air. Spending time in nature will encourage you to live a healthy lifestyle.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — You'll get a chance to change your environment, but don't go overboard financially. Aim to lower your stress levels.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) - Monitor what others do or say. Someone will misinterpret what you say if you aren't articulate. Leave nothing to chance.

Amanda Gorman talks with Oprah

LOS ANGELES — Amanda Gorman revisits her inauguration day poetry reading that wowed observers, among them Oprah Winfrey, in the Apple TV+ series "The Oprah Conversation."

The 23-year-old Gorman "stepped into a moment in history with enormous grace and dignity," Winfrey said in a statement.

"I was enthralled by her youthful spirit from the first moment we met, and very much looked forward to hearing her unpack all that has happened to her the past few months."

The interview will be out Friday on the streaming service.

The first National Youth Poet Laureate and the youngest inaugural poet in U.S. history, Gorman recited "The Hill We Climb" for the Jan. 20 swearing-in ceremony for President Joe Biden and Vice President Kamala Harris.

Others who have been interviewed for "The Oprah Conversation" include former President Barack Obama, Matthew Mc-Conaughey, Stevie Wonder and author Ibram X. Kendi.

New 'Lord of the Rings' to include Tolkien artwork

NEW YORK — An upcoming edition of J.R.R. Tolkien's "The Lord of the Rings" trilogy will include paintings, drawings and other illustrations by the British author for the first time since it was published in the mid-1950s.

Houghton Mifflin Harcourt Books & Media announced Thursday that the new version will come out Oct. 19.

In this combination photo, Oprah Winfrey, left, attends the premiere of "The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks" on April 18, 2017, in New York and Amanda Gorman attends Porter's third annual Incredible Women Gala on Oct. 9, 2018, in Los Angeles. Gorman revisits her inaugural poem in the Apple TV+ series "The Oprah Conversation." The interview will be released Friday, March 26, 2021, on the streaming service.

Deb Brody, Houghton Mifflin Harcourt's vice president and publisher, noted that Tolkien was already

J.R.R. known for his

illustrations which appeared in "The Hobbit" and that his artwork for "The Lord of the Rings" had been exhibited in 2018 in New York, Paris and in Oxford, England.

"Yet the author himself was characteristically modest, dismissive of the obvious and rare artistic talent he possessed despite having had no formal training," Brody said in a statement.

"This modesty meant that relatively little else of his artwork was known of or seen during his lifetime, and generally only in scholarly books afterwards."

Crystal River Fire Department firefighter Terry Cates communicates with another firefighter Thursday afternoon, March 25, in the Pine Ridge community where a brush fire quickly burns through the underbrush.

Brush fire scorches 20 acres

Residents, homes OK

Theressa West's 16-yearold daughter called her on FaceTime while she was eating in Crystal River to say a brush fire was Pine Ridge.

West, along with several other homeowners from the Beverly Hills community, rushed over the afternoon of Thursday, March 25, to her homestead along North Sacramento Avenue and West Corral Place to find flames within the surrounding woods.

"Our seclusion is gone, but our house is OK," West told the Chronicle after making sure her teenage daughter and family dogs inside her home were safe. "Thank God, praise God!"

units made up of the Flor- no reports of injuries or ida Forestry Service, Citrus County Fire Rescue, Citrus County Sheriff's Office and Crystal River Fire Department also responded to the blaze, which was at least 20 acres in size, according to forestry spokeswoman Tear said the fire was 50%contained by 5 p.m., and 75% contained by 8 p.m.

Judith Tear.

"They're still out there 25 yards away from their working it ... we're staying family swimming pool in out there," she said about forestry crews monitoring the area for any reignitions, "and when it gets to be this dry, they're cautious ... and it is windy."

Tear said forestry is investigating the fire's cause. Citrus County Fire Rescue spokeswoman Cortney Marsh said county firefighters reported the fire under control by 3:25 p.m.

Marsh said it originated from the 6500 block of West Cavalry Lane before spreading northward, following the wind direction and strengthening with each gust.

Meanwhile, the Biden administration an-damages to buildings.

"They made a really great stop," Marsh said of the firefighters.

To help stop the spread of burning lands, numerous forestry tractors plowed in fire-break lines while a forestry plane circled overhead to update firefighters on the ground.

Local fire engines and brush trucks also patrolled Sacramento Avenue and North Valley Terrace to hose down smoldering wood lines next to roadways, making sure the fire didn't jump across the streets.

Residents, some covering their faces with shirts as they hurried through smoke plumes, moved their vehicles and evacuated their horses. Others also turned on their yard sprinkler systems to keep flames from encroaching.

Marsh said evacuations weren't issued for the neighborhood.

'Some people left on their own," she said, "but Marsh said there were they weren't told to.'

Disaster relief training April 10

NANCY KENNEDY Staff writer

Whether it's the aftermath of a hurricane in the Panhandle or a storm that uproots trees that fall on houses in Citrus County, there's a team of people ready and willing to help — and they're looking for more people to join them.

First Baptist Church in Inverness is hosting an all-day disaster relief training from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Saturday, April 10, at the church at 550 Pleasant Grove Road, Inverness.

Members of the Florida Baptist Disaster Relief Ministry will train in the areas of mass feeding, cleanup and recovery, administration, temporary child care services, on-site management, logistics, spirtechnology — it's not just chainsaws and trash dumpsters.

"During a disaster, they come in with semi-trucks with tents and set up for major events, like Yvonne Shepard at 352-697-2535.

showers and cooking equipment each truck can feed 25,000 people," said Yvonne Shepard, who started the disaster relief team at FBC Inverness. "At our church, we have a itual care and communication and fantastic feeding team, so if we're ever called out (to a disaster), we can go for a whole week and cook."

Shepard added that, while they're hurricanes, they're also prepared for smaller, local events that are no less disasters for the people who are impacted, such as a storm knocking a tree down on someone's house or a flood causing damage.

"We want to get out into the community more," she said.

The April 10 training is open to anyone who is interested, first-time volunteers or returning volunteers. Registration starts at 8:30 a.m. The $10 registration fee covers training materials and lunch.

First-time volunteers will participate in a new volunteer class that's 'designed to prepare volunteers to be able to respond effectively" with the Florida Baptist Relief Ministry, according to the Florida Baptist website (flbaptist.org).

Also, first-time volunteers will be able to choose ministry area classes for specialized training.

Heritage Museum to display climate exhibit

Special to the Chronicle

The Old Courthouse Heritage Museum is displaying the "Our Changing Climate and Sea Level Rise" exhibit from the University of Florida's Museum of Natural History. It is currently on display from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday at the museum, 1 Courthouse Square in Inverness.

This exhibit explores the history of Earth's climate from the days of the dinosaurs, when Florida was still sunk below the sea, to the present. It also looks at present day concerns and cutting-edge science surrounding sea level rise and our state.

Museum staff have appreciated.

Fixing the

Fish Oil Flop

Famous doctor's breakthrough unlocks the hidden brain-boosting power of Omega-3, by sourcing it from the most unlikely place on earth

Harvard University found that Americans may be severely deficient

According to a major nationwide report, the reason is simple. 85% of Americans don't eat enough seafood. "It doesn't matter that supplementing you're with fish oil, either," says Dr. Sears. "You'll still fall

According to several reports published in JNS and Nature, nearly 60% of fish oils don't contain the amounts of DHA as listed on the label. In fact, in some countries a startling 69% contain less than two-thirds.

But while most would blame shoddy supplement practices, Dr. Sears has a different theory. "If you look at the FAO, you'll learn that more than 80% of store-bought fish oils come from fish farms. And I'll tell vou why that's a problem."

A study from Stirling University found that, in just the last 9-years, DHA levels in farmed fish have been slashed in half.

According to Dr. Sears, fish farmers are to blame.

FARMED FISH FAIL TO BOOST MEMORY

"Most fish are carnivores," explains Dr. Sears. "And carnivore fish, like cod and salmon, can't produce their own DHA. They have to get it from a natural diet,

Dr. Sears uncovered that sometime in the 1990s, fish farmers stopped giving these animals a diet rich in DHA and began feeding them a diet that was 70% vegetarian.

"It was a quick way for farmers to cut costs,' explains Dr. Sears. "This is why the country is experiencing a memory crisis."

In order to produce DHA, fish need a natural, marine diet.

French researchers found that by giving fish the right diet, resembling what they'd eat in the wild, you could boost DHA levels by 20-fold.

This further proves Dr. Sears' theory. "If you want to improve your memory and brainpower, you have to ensure your DHA comes from the

Over the last 24-months, Dr. Sears and his team have been developing a unique brain-boosting formula called Omega Rejuvenol. It's made from the most powerful, natural source of DHA in the ocean, squid and krill two species that cannot

According to Dr. Sears, these are the purest and most potent sources of DHA in the world, because they haven't been tampered with. "Omega Reiuvenol is sourced from the most sustainable fishery in Antarctica. You won't find this oil in any stores."

MORE IMPRESSIVE RESULTS

Already, the formula has sold more than 27,000 bottles. And for a good reason, too. Satisfied customers can't stop raving about the memory-boosting benefits of quality-sourced DHA oil.

"I see a noticeable increase in my brain function. I'm experiencing a noticeable increase in my concentration level and productivity throughout the day," says satisfied customer, Timothy B.

"It's great to remember everyone who played in the '75 World Series. My memory has never been sharper," says Mike T.

"After the first time I took it, I experienced mental clarity and focus. I noticed my mental function improve and I could concentrate better and be more productive throughout the raves John F.

And 70-year-old Mark K. says, "My focus and memory are back to age-30 levels."

These are just a handful of the thousands of reviews Dr. Sears receives on a regular basis thanks his breakthrough memory formula, Omega

Stocks pull mostly higher, shaking off early wobbles

Stocks regained their footing after an early slide and closed broadly higher Thursday, led by gains in financial and industrial companies.

The S&P 500 rose 0.5% after having been down 0.9% in the early going. The gain is the benchmark index's first in three days after a recent stretch of back-and-forth trading the last few weeks. Even so, the S&P 500 was still on track for a small weekly loss.

The S&P 500 rose 20.38 points to 3,909.52. The Dow Jones Industrial Average gained 199.42 points, or 0.6%, to 32,619.48. The index had been down more than 348 points. The tech-heavy Nasdaq composite had been down 1.4% before clawing back 15.79 points, or 0.1%, to 12,977.68. The Russell 2000 index of smaller stocks outdid the rest of the market, climbing 48.86 points to 2,183.12.

■ HB 1709, which tackles statewide flooding and sea level rise resilience, would require the Department of Environmental Protection to complete the development of a comprehensive flood vulnerability and sea level rise data set. By July 1, 2023, the bill requires DEP to use the data set to complete a comprehensive statewide flood vulnerability and sea level rise assessment that identifies inland and coastal infrastructure. geographic areas and communities that are vulnerable to flooding and sea level rise and the associated

"This is going to involve scientific studies on sea level rise," Massullo told told the legislative delegation from the Citrus County Chamber of Commerce. "What DEP will be tasked for is to be able to go investigate with scientific studies and come up with variables and put it into formulas.

Projects, though, to combat sea level rise will vary in each community, Massullo said. Crystal River will be different than Boca Raton, because their needs are different."

You shouldn't shift the problem over to someone who can't handle it," Massullo said. "When you go along our canals and see homes built in the 1960s and '70s; if we had a 4-foot tide or anything else, those homes will underwater."

Resiliency, such as septic to sewer, is a big priority for the state. Massullo said.

'Putting everyone on sewer is expensive ... we want people to have some skin in the game," he said, noting the cost to homeowners seem high. "We have the Pace loan program where you can roll money you spend on retrofitting house for energy or sewer conversion into property tax. We think this is a good thing."

Springs money will be used toward the septic-tosewer programs and while it would be a "great goal," Massullo said, "if we could have it throughout the county" he realizes that might be unattainable for

"But around any waters," he added, "it's essential."

■ HB 15, which focuses on sales and use tax. requires marketplace providand out-of-state ers retailers with no physical presence in Florida to collect Florida's sales tax on sales of taxable items delivered to purchasers in Florida if the marketplace provider or out-of-state retailer makes a substantial number of sales into Florida. A substantial number of remote sales means conducting 200 or more taxable retail sales during the previous calendar year.

The bill also requires marketplace providers to collect and remit three fees related to the sales tax (the new tire fee, lead-acid battery fee, and E911 prepaid wireless fee), beginning April 1, 2022, and provides a safe harbor for businesses who failed to collect the tax prior to July 1, 2021, as long as they register with the Department of Revenue prior to Oct. 1, 2021.

"The Wayfair tax started coming around," Massullo said. "The Senate has been in favor for a while; the House not so much. It's looked upon as a tax increase. How do we offset it? First, though, we lowered commercial rent tax. But people aren't going to see that ... an individual will vote against the bill, and others will say you voted for a tax increase."

In a tight race during an election year, Massullo said, the perception could hinder the incumbent's re-election bid.

'That sound bite will hurt someone's chances for re-election," he explained.

■ HB 1601, regarding farming operations. The Florida Right to Farm Act, enacted in 1979, protects farm operations from nuisance lawsuits if the operations comply with generally accepted agricultural and management practices. However, the Act specifies several unsanitary conditions that constitute evidence of a nuisance in such lawsuit.

HB 1601 amends the Florida Right to Farm Act to:

- ■ Expand the definition of "farm operation" to include agritourism activity and particle emissions.
- Specify that, for an agritourism activity, the "established date of operation" means the date the specific agritourism activity commenced.
- Require a plaintiff to prove by clear and convincing evidence that his or her claim arises from conduct that did not comply with state and federal environmental laws, regulations, or best management practices in a civil actions against a farm involving any of the following claims: Public or private nuisance; negligence; trespass; personal injury; strict liability; or any other tort based on a farm operation alleged to cause harm outside of the

"We have to free up farmers so they don't have many issues," Massullo said. "We need to encourage agricultural business.'

About those impact fees

(Re the Tuesday, March 2, Page A8 editorial, "Modest increase in impact fees makes sense"): Well, I see the Chronicle's consistent with their years of higher taxes and larger government. Never seen them be against a fee or a tax or a charge on the public.

Yeah, raise the impact fees. Government needed more money. We might need to send another quarter of a million dollars out of the county to pay some consultants.

> Oh, and I love their take on how people get along about the proposed boat ramp at the Mullet Hole, which is in a state park. A rough, terrible little two-lane road leads to that area. It certainly can't handle trucks and boat traffic. A lot of people drive from 50 to 60 miles just so they can sit there peacefully and fish from the bank. But, no, our government wants to take that away a beautiful, passive park. Let's pave it over

And you know what the next step is? Let's charge people to use it. It's already there; they're not furnishing anything. And a beautiful gem gets destroyed for what? So they can run their sidewalk across a boat ramp. Totally absurd to even consider destroying wetlands and state park land to replace a city boat ramp.

The Heritage Council and the Floral City Garden Club have jointly purchased, painted and constructed potted metal floral sculptures. These sculptures, also, have been placed in the Town Center to reflect the town's name and add year-round colorful art to this linear park.

Another project that the Heritage Council sponsored is the replacement of the standard, county street signs with antique-style street signs. These will be placed at the 10 intersecting streets in the National Register Historic District along Orange Avenue and two directional signs will be added at the Town Center. The council is most grateful to Duke Energy and two anonymous donors who have funded this significant project.

To fund the seating, water fountain and information sign, additional donations are welcomed, may provide tax deductions and can be sent to the Floral City Heritage Council, P.O. Box 328, Floral City, FL 34436. For more information, email the-fchc@ hotmail.com or leave a message at 352-419-4257.

Wage hike a complex issue

I'd like to thank Mr. Rose for responding to my letter of March 3. A healthy debate is good and allows for additional detail, which couldn't be added to my first letter due to space limitations.

Mr. Rose, the $15 wage may raise 900,000 Americans out of poverty, but that is of little solace to the 1.4 million who may lose their jobs. It's a complex issue, where small businesses with razor-thin profit margins would need to raise prices and cut employees. And it would affect people in unexpected ways. For instance, the Heritage Foundation study found, as reported by CNBC, that child care costs in Florida would increase $3,300/year for a family with an infant and a 4-year-old.

How about returning to the Trump approach, which in the three years prior to COVID caused overall unemployment to drop to the lowest level since World War II. Initiated the lowest-ever African American, Latino and female unemployment levels. Also raised American families' income by $6,000/year, more than under any previous Presidents combined (Bloomberg News.Com).

As for the Border Wall and D.C. fencing comparison, Mr. Rose, you were correct when you said, "The fence at the Capitol is a deterrent" and so is a completed and strong border wall. A deterrent to cartel drug and human traffickers and potential terrorists. This week, we saw the effects of an incomplete wall when a human trafficker slammed his SUV into a gravel truck killing 13 of his passengers.

As for proof of aid to illegals for example:

- 1. Maryland grants stimulus aid to undocumented immigrants — Washington Post.
- 2. Pelosi's new coronavirus relief bill allows illegals to receive billions of dollars in past, present and future payments — Politifact.com.
- 3. Courts have ruled states must educate children of illegals. Here in Florida, we spend an average $9,436/ pupil. Some states spend more, some less per the U.S Census Bureau.

Concerning coal-fired power plants, Trump wasn't just for them alone. He wanted all forms of energy, coal, gas, nuclear, hydro, solar and wind. As we saw in Texas a few weeks ago, solar and wind still have serious limitations that need to be addressed.

So, I hope, Mr. Rose that this letter fills in some of the details I couldn't fit into my previous letter.

Separation of church and state

I would like to address Helen Koczur's letter of March 6, which quotes Rep. Jerry Nadler (D-NY) as saying, "God's will is no concern of this Congress." Once again, this is not an exact quote but one that has surfaced on social media. What Rep. Nadler actually said was "Mr. Steube, what any religious tradition describes as God's will is no concern of this Congress.'

I think this same idea was in the minds of our Founding Fathers when they wrote the first line of the first paragraph in the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution better known as the Bill of Rights.

For hundreds of years, people have used the religious edict of "God's will" to justify burning witches at the stake, torturing Jews and Muslims during the Spanish Inquisition, and Henry the VIII employed it to execute Catholics who refused to convert to the Church of England when he split with Rome over his right to a divorce. This same justification resulted in the suffering and death of thousands of people under the belief that the blessed few could know what was in the mind of God. What mortal can ever know what is in the mind of God?

The first Amendment of the Constitution states in part, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof. ..." This has come to be known as the separation of church and state. Our Founding Fathers probably addressed this issue in the first sentence because they saw what happened to England 200 years earlier when Henry VIII established the Church of England and forced everyone to believe what he declared to be the true faith. Time after time political leaders and despots have used this same argument to advance their particular goals.

Religious values and beliefs and sins differ over time and sects. Catholics were once forbidden to eat meat on Fridays and some Episcopal churches are more liberal than others. Jews and Muslims do not believe in Jesus. and there is a whole plethora of Asian beliefs which are completely different from Christians. Our First Amendment guarantees them the free exercise of their religion.

It is one thing to trust in God, but it is something else entirely to make laws based on the values and beliefs espoused by a single group.

A day full of good news

(Re the Wednesday, March 17, 2021, front-page story, "Kids get a taste of the trades," "Handyman offers classes to introduce youth to world of vocational skills"): I just wanted to say today's paper has some of the best news I've seen in a long time. I think this Josh

Hicks with the skills-training, skills-building class is one of the best ideas I've seen in a long time. I think it's super. Our kids need to learn the basics and doing things like that. I really think we should put him on the front page. Everybody should help him out any way they can. That's a great idea and I love to see that. Thank you.

I'd like the addresses

Information in the Chronicle titled "For the Record" and "Burglaries" shows the date and time of each offense, but not the address. This information could be about a burglary in my neighborhood, which I would like to know about, to be on the lookout. Otherwise, why put it in the paper to just take up space?

Use stimulus money for animals

Regarding the stimulus money, the $33 million for the county: I'm sure that part of it — at least half a million or maybe a million — could be used for a new animal shelter. Did you think of that?

Welcome back, Julianne

I just want to say how very nice it is to have Julianne Munn back in your paper. I've missed her and she's back today with her Flair for Food and I'm just happy to have her there (Page A10, Thursday, March 18, 2021). Welcome back, Julianne.

Mask wearing at basketball games wear a mask at a middle school basketball game?

When you go to a restaurant anywhere in Citrus County, nobody has to wear a mask. Shouldn't have to wear a mask at the game. It's stupid. Referees don't have masks. Players don't have masks. What's the point? Because we're sheep?

Column is of little interest to me

I'm a subscriber of your local paper and it's a very good paper. I enjoy it, except for one column that you have that some Amish woman in Illinois writes ("The Amish Cook." by Gloria Yoder). I read it sometimes, but I just marvel at why you would have that column in a Florida paper and why it would be of interest to Floridians who, most of them, are not born in Florida. I was born in North Carolina, but people are born all different places. It's the most boring column I've ever read and it's of little interest to me and I wonder why you have such a prominent space given to that column. I wasn't aware we had that many Amish people in Florida. Why don't you have a column about something that would suit Floridians or Northerners that come to Florida or something?

Editor's note: The Amish Cook is one of the most requested columns in the Chronicle.

Keep track of what's in wallet

This is a call that I really hope that you do print. On March 14, I was at the BP gas station on (U.S.) 19 and when I left, I left my wallet on top of the back of my truck. So this is something that everybody should read and do: When you get home or when it's convenient, sit down at the kitchen table and take every single thing you have in your wallet or purse, spread it out and either take pictures of or write down everything that's in your wallet and make sure you copy the numbers so you can look at them later. Then if something like this were to happen to you, you'd know exactly what was in it and it would be much easier to retrieve what is necessary and stop payment on what is necessary. I did not do that and it is a nightmare. I really hope that you print this and everybody does it.

Torch relay kicks off 121-day journey

Tokyo Olympics opening ceremony to be held July 23

STEPHEN WADE Associated Press

TOKYO — The torch relay for the postponed Tokyo Olympics began its 121-day journey across Japan on Thursday and is headed toward the opening ceremony in Tokyo on July 23.

The relay began in northeastern Fukushima prefecture, the area that was devastated by the 2011 earthquake, tsunami and the meltdown of three nuclear reactors. About 18,000 died in the tragedy

The first runner with the torch was Azusa Iwashimizu, a key player in the Japan team that won the Women's World Cup in 2011.

Wearing a white track suit, she carried the torch out of the J-Village indoor soccer training center and was surrounded by 14 other members of that 2011 World Cup squad and coach Norio Sasaki at the rear. They were also decked out in white track suits.

Japanese actress Satomi Ishihara, second from right, and Paralympian Aki Taguchi light the celebration cauldron on the first day of the Tokyo 2020 Olympic torch relay in Naraha, Fukushima prefecture, Japan, Thursday.

The ceremony was closed to the public because of the fear of spreading COVID-19 but was streamed live.

"The torch of Tokyo 2020 will become a bright light for hope for Japanese citizens and citizens in the world and a light at the end of the tunnel," said Seiko Hashimoto, the president of the local organizing committee and a former Olympian.

Homare Sawa, the biggest star on the 2011 team, missed the ceremony. She is being treated for a condition affecting her inner ear and had to withdraw from the event.

Fans were told to socialdistance along the roadside as the torch passes, and they were to refrain from loud cheering.

Organizers have said they will stop or reroute the relay if crowding becomes a problem during the

Results confirm political deadlock after Israeli vote

JERUSALEM — Final election results show Israel in political deadlock once again, with Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu and his opponents falling short of a governing majority.

Israel's election commission says that with 100% of votes counted, Netanyahu's right-wing Likud party and his natural allies have won 52 seats in the 120-seat Knesset, Israel's parliament. An ideologically diverse array of parties committed to ousting him won 57 seats.

A right-wing party won seven seats and an Arab Islamist party won four.

Both are uncommitted, but given the many rivalries in parliament, it is not clear whether either one of them could deliver a required majority.

If no one is able to assemble a majority of at least 61 seats, then Israel will go to elections for an unprecedented fifth time in a little over two years.

UK extends emergency powers

LONDON — British lawmakers agreed Thursday to prolong coronavirus emergency measures for six months, allowing the Conservative government to keep its unprecedented powers to restrict U.K. citizens' everyday lives.

The House of Commons voted to extend the powers until September, and approved the government's road map for gradually easing Britain's strict coronavirus lockdown over the next three months.

Prime Minister Boris Johnson's large Conservative majority in Parliament guaranteed the measures passed by a decisive 484-76 margin. But Johnson faced rebellion from some of his own party's lawmakers, who argued that the economic, democratic and human costs of the restrictions outweigh the benefits. - From wire reports

Panel: Consider air cooling tech as climate back-up

SETH BORENSTEIN Associated Press

The U.S. must seriously consider the idea of tinkering with the atmosphere to cool a warming Earth and accelerate research into how and whether humanity should hack the planet, the National Academy of Sciences said Thursday.

The report by the academy, set up by Abraham Lincoln to provide the government with expert advice, doesn't recommend carrying out solar geoengineering to bounce heat back to space. At least not yet.

But an emergency plan needs to be explored, the report says, because climate change-driven extreme weather has worsened since the last time the academy looked at the highly charged issue in 2015. That requires coordinated research into whether air-tinkering technology would work, its potentially dangerous side effects, its ethics and the potential for political fallout.

The report looks at three possible ways to cool the air: Putting heat-reflecting particles in the stratosphere, changing the brightness of ocean clouds and thinning high clouds.

"Climate engineering is a really dumb idea, but it might not be as dumb as doing nothing at this point or continuing to do what we've been doing," Scripps Institution of Oceanography atmospheric chemist Lynn Russell, a report co-author, told The Associated Press.

The panel recommended ramping up research spending by several fold to $40 million a year, along with "exit ramps" to end study if an unacceptable risk is found.

Critics, such as Oxford University's Raymond Pierrehumbert, worry that there's a "moral hazard" providing a tempting option to use questionable technology instead of the necessary cutting back on carbon pollution. He said the term geoengineering wrongly makes it sound like humans have control over heat like a thermostat.

Texas A&M University's Andrew Dessler sees geoengineering as a safety feature for the planet, like car airbags you hope to never need.

White Sox star Jiménez to miss most of season

Wacha solid in fourth spring start for Rays

Associated Press

A week before opening day, the Chicago White Sox found out slugger Eloy Jiménez will be closed down for most of the season.

Jiménez is expected to be sidelined for five to six months after rupturing his left pectoral tendon trying to make a play in the outfield during an exhibition game.

The 24-year-old Jiménez needs surgery to repair the injury, putting his season in jeopardy. General manager Rick Hahn said the team will know more when he begins the rehab process.

"Obviously a difficult loss for us, important part of our offense, and one that is a bit of a shock to the system," Hahn said Thursday on a video conference call, a day after Jiménez was hurt.

Chicago, coming a playoff appearance and list, had been 0 for 8 this spring until homering.

Drew Smyly had his best outing in his third start for Atlanta, throwing five shutout innings. The left-hander, who began the day with an 11.25 ERA in his first spring with the Braves, allowed one hit and one walk, striking out six.

Michael Wacha made his fourth start for Tampa Bay, pitching five innings and allowing one run on four hits and a walk. It was the first run allowed by Wacha in 12 innings in his first spring with the Rays. Chaz Roe replaced Wacha after Ozzie Albies' hit to lead off the sixth, surrendering Ozuna's homer. Austin Meadows drove in a run with a pop-fly double that Braves center fielder Cristian Pache lost in the sun. Greg Jones, one of five shortstops on the Rays' top 10 prospect

Florida guards Locke, Glover transferring

GAINESVILLE — Florida guards Noah Locke and Ques Glover entered the transfer portal Thursday, one a surprise and the other expected. Losing them creates an even bigger backcourt hole for coach Mike White.

Locke started 51 of the team's last 52 games. He averaged 10.6 points and shot 40% from 3-point range this season. He's looking for a more prominent role after finishing as the team's fifth-leading scorer behind point guard Tre Mann, Keyontae Johnson, Colin Castleton and Tyree Appleby.

"I would like to thank my teammates, coaches, staff and Gator Nation for 3 years full of obstacles and experiences that have made me a better basketball player and man," Locke posted on his Twitter page.

With Mann leaving school early for the NBA and Johnson's future uncertain following his unexplained collapse in early December, Locke likely would have been a key returner for coach Mike White. Instead, he will transfer — there should be no shortage of suitors for a 3-point specialist and team leader and White might have a more significant rebuilding project on his hands than anticipated.

A three-year starter, Locke was at his best as a sophomore. He shot 48% from 3-point range in Southeastern Conference play, which was tied for the highest in league play since Vanderbilt's John Jenkins in 1996 (minimum 50 attempts).

Glover, meanwhile, didn't play in the SEC or NCAA tournaments. He scored 49 points in 20 games this season after finishing with 136 points in 31 games as a freshman in 2019-20.

White also lost his top assistant Thursday when Jordan Mincy took the head coaching job at nearby Jacksonville University.

Nature Coast Challenge set for April 24

The 10th annual Nature Coast Challenge, a kayak catch-photo-release fishing tournament in Yankeetown, hosted by the Inglis-Yankeetown Lions Club, has been scheduled for Saturday, April 24. The Captain's Meeting will be held at the club on Friday evening, April 23.

The club is monitoring COVID-related restrictions, and will implement any adjustments that may be necessary to protect the health and safety of participants and club members. It has further agreed to refund the registration fee (minus the cost of the tournament shirt which will be shipped to him or her) in the event a COVID-related medical emergency results in the participant needing to self-quarantine or serve as a primary caregiver.

Online registration, tournament rules and other information can be found on the Nature Coast Challenge website (www.naturecoast challenge.com).

It wasn't too long before the gobblers started sounding off their morning greetings.

'Sounds like a good one," I whispered.

"What's that?" one would whisper back.

"There's a gobbler over in that small cypress head talking," I explained.

Rick Burns FISHING REPORT

On the fresh pond side: Speck are cooperating one day, off the next. The females caught are full of roe, meaning any day they'll drop. A good friend of mine caught a nice mess out of Lake Hernando, working the pads. We've been catching mostly smaller ones out of the Floral City pool.

But the biggest ones, when they cooperate, have been coming out of Lake Panasoffkee, 16 and 17 inches and up to 2 pounds! Best bet when they're on, with these and the rest has been the ole reliable jig tipped with a minnow.

A fellow I ran into at the docks caught a nice 5-pound bass, fishing for specks this way. Kinda like his buddy Rich said, puts the ole big bait, big fish theory to lay. Hey, catching a 5- or 6-pound bass on a 7 1/2-foot Baitcaster flipping stick with shiners is a good deal. But catching the same on 4 1/2-5 foot light to ultra-light rods and reels is a better deal.

That's what's fun about casting and fishing with those ultra-lights for specks. big bass and chain pickerel, and love minnows as well, and what a way to test your skills on the line, drag and rod.

A good number of schooling bass have been reported caught in the area chain of lakes too. Look for this bass action to continue till the heat settles in. When it does start to stay warm, watch for the shellcrackers and bluegills to start turning on.

On the salty pond side:

You don't even have to look at a calendar and can tell when March 1 was here. TTT! (Trout tugging time).

A good snowbird buddy caught 11 nice trout to 21 inches on his secret Yozuri plug. They kept and brought seven home for the grease. Fishing the tidal creeks near the mouth.

Citrus County resident Carrie Lawson with a very nice 22 1/2-inch pompano she caught out of the Crystal River. Recipe was as follows: 1/8-ounce jig head with live shrimp slowly bounced along bottom, 20-pound braided line with 36 inch fluorocarbon leader. In the rock piles 12-15 feet deep.

Gold-n-Glow. We were fishing the Chass. River, and it turned out to be one of those northeast pants leg flapping (windy) days, so we came in and downsized, having fun pulling in a number of mangrove snappers up river.

Another fellow at the fish cleaning table said last week he caught nine nice, active trout and brought home five fishing the south side of the Crystal River mouth, free-lining shrimp.

A good number of just under slot reds are meandering around in the backcountry. The water is still clear and shallow, making them skittish and

If you're going to throw something at 'em, it better be light and you best be quiet. They'll spook if a fly lands wrong. Hope for a little ripple, and keep the sun at your back. Best bet now if you're trying with the long rod with fly's are streamers in chartreuse and white, black and green, brown and gold, and yellow and gold. And jerk baits in white, silver mullet and gold-n-glow, and the new Thunder-Spin for conventional, are doing the best for us. A few slots, but most are small reds we call rat reds or puppy drums right now.

LAKE ROUSSEAU — Bill Burgess of Lake Rousseau RV and Fishing said crappie are a little shallower, up around the weed beds. Try minnows and jigs. Catch large bass with wild shiners, either trolling or with a bobber underneath the thick weed beds. Get 3-4 pound bass with large, Texas-rigged worms, Devil's Horses or poppers. Bluegill should start spawning soon.

HOMOSASSA RIVER — Bill Korade of Blue Water Bait and Tackle said there are good redfish and snook by the St. Martins Keys and the mouth of Mason Creek. They're biting on live shrimp, some cut mullet or plastics in dark colors such as watermelon red or root beer. Also try gold spoon. Trout are around Marker 14, hitting on shrimp under an equalizer, or glow and light-colored jigs. There are a lot of Spanish mackerel north of Marker 4. Mangrove snapper are offshore in 35 feet of water, hitting on Spanish sardines or cut squid.

Captain William Toney (352grove islands has been the best 422-4141) said, "Being a full-time way to get the best bite. When guide and on the water most of my life has helped me become a very good caster. Knowing how to cast is just as important as strike, and once you get the bite finding fish and helping anglers be sure to fire out another bait learn to cast better is a big part of my job. In my line of work nothing else satisfies me better than helping someone new to the sport learn how to cast and catch their first fish on board my

"The dynamics for a good cast is opening the bail (thin wire that wraps line around the spool), bring the rod over your shoulder and release the line from the tip of your finger around the 10 o'clock position (head and shoulder being 12 o'clock) all in one smooth motion. It takes some practice but the reward is more fish on your line. I could break all this down in 50 ways to Sunday but this I hope will get you going in the right direction.

"On the incoming tide look for good trout fishing on the rocky shorelines and points. Redfish will be mixed in with them especially if there are jumping mullet. Snook will be around points or bends on the outside keys with good water flow. If you decide to night fish for them green dock lights and white overhead dock lights are good spots. AP source: Rays' Anderson sidelined

ST. PETERSBURG — Tampa Bay Rays reliever Nick Anderson has a partially torn ligament in his pitching elbow and likely will be sidelined beyond the All-Star break, a person familiar with the right-hander's injury told the Associated Press.

The person spoke on the condition of anonymity Thursday because the American League champions had not announced they will begin the season without Anderson on April 1.

The injury was first reported by The Tampa Bay Times.

Anderson, who is not expected to need surgery, has been a key component of Tampa Bay's bullpen since being acquired from the Miami Marlins in July 2019. He went 2-1 with a 0.55 ERA and six saves in 19 outings during the pandemic-shortened 2020 season before appearing in 10 of the team's 20 postseason games.

Anderson, 30, allowed hits to four of six batters he faced during a spring training outing in Port Charlotte, Florida, on Wednesday. He said afterward that he initially felt some tightness in his elbow during an appearance the previous week against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Rays don't have a designated closer, however Anderson has been the team's top performer in high-leverage situations. He was 1-2 with a 5.52 ERA and one save during the postseason, when he allowed nine runs and 16 hits in 14 2/3 innings.

OU coach Kruger retires after 35-year career

OKLAHOMA CITY — Oklahoma coach Lon Kruger announced his retirement on Thursday, culminating a 35-year career that included taking five different schools to the NCAA Tournament — with two of them reaching the Final Four and more than 650 career wins.

Kruger, 68, led Florida to the national semifinals in 1994 and Oklahoma to the same spot in 2016. He is the only coach to lead five different programs to NCAA Tournament wins — Oklahoma, Kansas State, Florida, Illinois and UNLV.

His 674-432 career record ranks 10th among active coaches in wins and 27th all time.

He led the Sooners to a 195-128 record in 10 years and reached seven of the past eight NCAA tournaments. In his final season at Oklahoma, the Sooners went 16-11 and ended with a loss to topseeded Gonzaga in the second round on Monday.

Bobby Brown, ex-Yankee, former AL president, dies

Bobby Brown, an infielder who played on five World Series champions with the New York Yankees and later became a cardiologist and president of the American League, has died. He was 96.

He died Thursday in Fort Worth, Texas, the Yankees said.

Brown played with the Yankees from 1947-54, with Yogi Berra his roommate. He spent eight seasons in the majors. Overall, he batted .279 with 22 home runs and 237 RBIs.

He was president of the American League from 1984-94.

Miami guard Chris Lykes decides to turn pro

MIAMI — Dynamic 5-foot-7 Miami Hurricanes guard Chris Lykes has decided to turn pro after a senior season limited to two games because of an ankle injury.

Lykes led Miami in scoring as a sophomore and junior.

Senior forward Elijah Olaniyi also will not return. He hopes to turn pro but will also enter the transfer portal.

Stewart leads Mississippi State over Richmond

DENTON, Texas — D.J. Stewart Jr. made a 3-pointer with two seconds remaining to lead Mississippi State to a 68-67 win over short-handed Richmond in the NIT quarterfinals on Thursday

Stevens leads Colorado State past NC State

FRISCO, Texas — Isaiah Stevens scored 18 points and David Roddy had 16 points and 11 rebounds as Colorado State narrowly beat North Carolina State 65-61 in the NIT quarterfinals on Thursday night.

McCollum, Blazers hold off short-handed Heat

MIAMI — Damian Lillard made three free throws with one second remaining for the final margin, and the Portland Trail Blazers survived a wild finish to beat the short-handed Miami Heat 125-122 on Thursday night.

Bam Adebayo and Tyler Herro each had 29 points for Miami, which dropped its fifth straight and fell to 22-23.

Knicks rally, complete sweep of Wizards

NEW YORK — Alec Burks scored 15 of his 27 points in the fourth quarter and the New York Knicks beat the Washington Wizards 106-102 on Thursday night to sweep the two-game set.

Bradley Beal had 26 points and nine assists for the Wizards.

Jackson, George lead Clippers past Spurs, 98-85

SAN ANTONIO — Reggie Jackson scored 28 points, Paul George had 24 points and 13 rebounds and the shorthanded Los Angeles Clippers rallied in the second half to beat the San Antonio Spurs 98-85 on Thursday night for their fourth straight victory.

free-agent-to-be and considered perhaps the biggest prize on this year's trade market — did not get traded, the Raptors apparently unable to find enough assets to their liking.

Miami was a major pursuer for Lowry, and now simply may try to add him again as a free agent later this year. But the reigning Eastern Conference champions pivoted in time to add Oladipo — a two-time All-Star, a 21-point-per-game scorer this season and someone only three years removed from All-NBA status — from Houston, in exchange for Kelly Olynyk, Avery Bradley and a pick swap in 2022.

"The actual day, there's usually a lot more hype and then a lot less action than what is speculated," Heat coach Erik Spoelstra said. "That was probably true this year as well.'

Questions swirled around Lowry all the way to the 3 p.m. EST deadline, and there were signs that the Raptors were positioning themselves to make the move. Toronto traded Matt Thomas to Utah and Terence Davis to Sacramento for future draft picks, not long before the deadline to open up roster spots — necessary because anyone who obtained Lowry would have had to send multiple players to Toronto in order to make the salary ramifications work.

In the end, though, the Raptors couldn't be swayed to part with Lowry. So, on his 35th birthday, Lowry woke up as a Raptor — and remained one. He'll be a free agent when the season ends, and there's no guarantee he The Clippers — who sought point

Redick satisfies Dallas' want for more shooting and provides a veteran voice to help younger players just as JJ Barea did for Dallas in past

The Heat made another deal prior to the Oladipo one being struck, landing Nemanja Bjelica from Sacramento for little-used forwards Maurice Harkless and Chris Silva.

The deadline passed without moves getting made for San Antonio's La-Marcus Aldridge and Cleveland's Andre Drummond, a pair of veteran post players who have not been on the court for their current — and soon to be former — clubs in several weeks, after decisions were made in both cases for the sides to move on amicably. Aldridge's buyout was finalized Thursday afternoon and the Cavaliers were working toward one with Drummond; those moves will make them free to sign with the club of their choosing.

Other trades Thursday included: ■ Philadelphia acquired George Hill and Ignas Brazdeikis in a threeteam deal that Oklahoma City get Tony Bradley, Austin Rivers and a pair of future second-round picks increasing their haul to 34 draft picks in the next seven years. New York got Terrance Ferguson, Vincent Poirier and a second-round pick. ■ Washington acquired center Daniel Gafford and wing Chandler Hutchison in another three-team deal that sent Daniel Theis, Javonte Green and Troy Brown Jr. to Chicago and centers Luke Kornet and Moe Wagner to Boston.

■ Sacramento got Delon Wright gave up Lou Williams in that deal from Detroit for Cory Joseph and a with Atlanta, sending him back to his pair of future second-round picks.

MacIntyre battles No. 1 Johnson to a draw

Doug Ferguson AP golf writer

AUSTIN, Texas — Bob Mac-Intyre grew up playing the rough-and-tumble Scottish sport of shinty, and he had more than enough fight to give Dustin Johnson all he could handle Thursday in the Dell Technologies Match Play.

Johnson had to rally late with an eagle and a clutch birdie to send the match to the final hole, where both players missed birdie chances and settled for a

Neither the world's No. 1 player nor the 24-year-old from the tiny town of Oban were sure what to make of it.

"It was a tough match," Johnson said. "Ended up making a really good halve, and definitely pleased with it."

MacIntyre, who trailed for most of the front nine at Austin Country Club and led for most of the back nine, walked away with a mixture of satisfaction and disappointment.

Ultimately, both remained in position to advance out of their group to the weekend knockout

"Obviously, I was dying to win that match," MacIntyre said. "I was in such a great position to do it. But he threw everything at me, and I can be proud of finishing there all square. Inside I'm a little disappointed not to win. But once we walk away from here and drive back to the house, it's going to be, 'You know what? I can compete with these best guys on the planet.'

Some of the best in the planet were eliminated on the second day of round-robin group play.

Justin Thomas, the No. 2 seed, fell behind big on the front nine for the second straight day and couldn't catch up. Thomas made a strong rally against defending champion Kevin Kisner before losing on the 17th hole.

Tyrrell Hatton delivered more highlights — not so much with a shot, but the artful tossing of a club and the sarcastic clapping of his hands — in losing to Sergio Garcia. The Spaniard, whose American home is in Austin, won his second match and thus eliminated Hatton, the No. 8

Everyone enjoys having some fun and that's just what is happening on Saturday, April 10, for the inaugural "Kings Bay Heron Hop" where one decorates their land Yacht for the golf cart poker run that benefits Friends of Citrus and the Nature Coast.

According to Barry Greenberg, publicist for the organization that helps people with their grieving process after losing someone dear in their life, this fun event is for a worthy cause.

All vehicles in the poker run including golf carts, bicycles, cars and even motorcycles, must be decorated like one's "land yacht," said Greenberg, "with a and if a guest is riding with the driver and wants to participate in the poker run, cost for them is $10, although the guests do not have to participate in the run with the driver," he added.

embers of the Photography Club of Citrus Hills, took their first field trip of 2021 in March. The destination for this event was the Avian Reconditioning

Center in Apopka. Despite the early morning start, and cool, windy conditions, all were excited and anxious to begin photographing the birds. Bob Feldberg one of our committee members was on hand to help with sound advice on settings and best angles with which to photograph. Bob had already prepared an information and guide sheet for each attendee. These were sent out ahead of time so we were well versed in bird photography and wildlife etiquette, camera settings for various lighting conditions, and tips for post processing images.

Guests were treated to both seeing and learning more about the raptor residents at the center, as well as the habits of the birds in the wild. It was fun to see the interaction with their handlers, on glove, or on the various perches that had been set up.

he Citrus Watercolor Soci- member and 2018 President of ety (CWS) continues an active program of popular virtual workshops in place of planned monthly meetings canceled due to the COVIC-19 pandemic. CWS Program Chairperson, Susan Strawbridge, has enlisted Sarasota watercolorist Jerome Chesley to conduct a one-day virtual workshop live via Zoom on Saturday, April 10. Chesley spends his winter in Sarasota and summer in residence in Mayville, N.Y., and is an instructor at the renowned Chautauqua Institution summer program. He is a signature the Florida Watercolor Society (FWS). He is Master Signature Member and past president of the Florida Suncoast

Watercolor Society

Jerome has a degree in art from SUNY College at Buffalo, studied at the University of Art in Siena, Italy, the Scottsdale Art School, and with distinguished teachers throughout the U.S. His background in education at both public school and college levels allows him to incorporate the elements of art including, form, pattern and color in his work. He teaches painting throughout Florida. Jerome worked in the

Gloria Plevin gallery and was later the Assistant Director of the Art gallery in the Chautauqua Institute. He was on the VACI Advisory Board and continues to volunteer in many capacities. In addition, he has created multiple art projects benefitting community organizations. He has won numerous awards for his paintings, many of which are in are in private collections throughout the US,

Canada and Europe. Jerome Chesley's collection of paintings, showcase a variety of subject matter including still-life, floral, architectural and land and seascapes. The watercolor paintings, giclée's and mixed media set the stage for surrounding oneself in a rich indulgence with a range of subtle to bold color. His style allows the white of the paper to sparkle throughout his work. Much of his subject matter is based on a collection of familiar objects or places he has visited, those which have a special meaning or significance. You can view some of Jerome's work at the following website: tinyurl. com/3vtdusvr.

Virtual workshops are conducted on Zoom and fill up fast. Class size is limited to facilitate individual attention from the instructor. With Zoom you are in the front row! For workshop cost and more information contact Susan Strawbridge at 352-212-4378 or by email at susand319@aol.com.

Members of the Citrus Watercolor Society enjoy a "Painting of the Month" competition starting in October and November, January, February, March, April.

We listened and learned a great deal about the various birds in the raptor family. such as kites, hawks, eagles, etc. The knowledge and love of the birds being handled was very obvious to us all. Because of the blustery weather we were unable to have demonstrations of birds in flight. The Red Shouldered Hawk did put on a little performance; however she didn't fly very far.

Since many of the birds at the center have been injured or so conditioned to humans, they would be unable to survive if returned their natural habitat. The center relies on visitors, sponsors, donations, and monies from special events to fund the everyday workings. Food also has to be purchased for the birds. To feed just one baby owlet costs $12 per day, the center's coordinator explained.

Club members were delighted with their experience there, and all expressed an interest in a return visit in the future.

When it was time to leave, several of our members went on to the Lake Apopka Wildlife Drive. It was a good opportunity to put some of the photographic skills we had learned earlier, into practice. Now we were taking images of birds in their natural habitat.

The Photography Club of Citrus Hills welcomes photographers of all levels. Although during the pandemic we are not having our monthly meetings, we still offer field trips throughout the year. Some are to local areas of interest, and we also travel to more distant sites.

Once meetings resume, we will invite guest photographers to presentations and we will also offer workshops in various photography genres such as macro, wildlife, landscape, and portrait. We have several very experienced photographers in our group, all of whom are willing to share their knowledge and expertise to help improve and hone members' photographic skills.

For more information and to be put on our mailing list, please contact Ann Brixey at ambrixey44@gmail.com, or call 352 860 2763.

Susan B. Quenelle is the Grief Services Manager for Friends of Citrus and the Nature Coast, which provides" help, hope and healing to people in grief."

This organizations offers numerous programs for those in various stages of the grieving process.

"At this inaugural Kings Bay Heron Hop, we will also have decorated memorial rocks for a $5 donation that people can write the name of a person who has passed on the rock to take home or place along the poker run route," said Quenelle.

Some people have also placed these memorial rocks at their loved one's favorite place, while others placed them in a favorite state of their loved one where others picked them up and eventually moved the rocks around the country. It's a nice way to remember someone and keep their memory

Quenelle also writes occasional articles on grief for the Chronicle.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Following the bidding convention senryus comes this logical follow-up from Charlie Smyth of Urbana, Illinois: Hours spent playing bridge / Learning all the conventions / But I'm still lousy.

Gnash! But keep applying yourself with a likable partner with whom you can have success.

Some conventions are easy at the start, but as you unpeel the layers, they get more complicated. Roman

Key Card Blackwood is one example. Most players can handle 14-30-20-21. Five clubs shows one or four key cards (counting the four aces and the trump king as key). Five diamonds indicates zero or three keys; five hearts promises two keys but no trump queen; five spades announces two keys and the trumps queen. However, when a minor is agreed, especially clubs, you should instead use 30-14-20-21.

In today's auction, five hearts told North to pass with zero key cards, or to treat the bid as the trump-queen ask with three keys. North's five no-trump denied the key queen.

Against six hearts, West led the club queen. How did South play?

After winning with the club ace, declarer planned to ruff his diamond losers in the dummy and concede only one trump trick. But he had to be careful. After cashing the diamond ace-king, declarer ruffed the next diamond with the heart ace. If he had ruffed low, East would have overruffed and returned a trump, with fatal consequences. Here, caution was duly rewarded.

Annıe offers advice ear Annie: When I was in my early 50s, I became very ill and eventually found out I had severe rheumatoid arthritis. During that time I was in and out of hospitals. The last time I was hospitalized, my husband was too busy to come visit me. On arriving home, I discovered he had changed the locks and moved his girlfriend in. Need-say, this was quite a shock. His defense was that he was still young a n d wanted to have fun n d didn't want to around a sick person. So after 20 years of marriage, we divorced.

That was 10 years ago. I'm now 64. I've been able to manage the symptoms of my illness much better. I fish, ride bikes with my granddaughter and volunteer at my church. I'm very content. My problem now is that a good friend keeps trying to convince me to let her set me up with men.

I have no interest in dating. I finally told her I think men are untrustworthy and to please just let it go. How do I convince her to let it lay? Her husband passed away last August from Lewy body dementia, and she started pestering me about dating after that. Why is she like a dog with a bone about my dating life (or lack thereof) all of a sudden? — Let Me Be Single

Dear LMBS: For what it's worth, your ex sounds like a once-in-a-generation scumbag. I can understand why that experience would lead a person to swear off dating for life, but not all men are untrustworthy. There are some faithful fish out in the sea. That being said, it's perfectly fine to swim solo.

Your friend's fixation on setting you up isn't about you. It's probably not a coincidence that she started up with the matchmaking mania after her husband died. Perhaps she's using it as a distraction from her grief. Maybe she's lonely herself and desires companionship but is not ready to face the prospect of dating, so she's projecting it onto you. I suggest gently asking her why she keeps bringing up the subject and lovingly asking her to please drop it.

Dear Annie: I'm a cashier, and every day I see people who are gambling addicts. I would never approach strangers and lecture them, nor even bring up the subject to them. But perhaps if they can see some signs, they may be able to see themselves and recognize that they may need professional help. One of the first signs may be when, instead of just buying an occasional ticket as they did previously, they start doing so out of boredom rather than fun, and trying to "make up" for what they already spent. Others are further along the path, and instead of taking their tickets home, they will stay for half an hour or more scratching in the store, until they run out of money. Among the worst are those who don't actually play at all, but simply scratch the barcode at the bottom and scan it immediately expecting to get the top prize. It would be great if you could publish some resources for people who are addicted to gambling. — Concerned Citizen

Dear Concerned: I appreciate your raising this important subject. By some estimates, there are roughly 10 million Americans who struggle with this. I encourage anyone who finds themselves gambling more often than they'd like to — or anyone concerned about another person's gambling to reach out to the National Council on Problem Gambling at 1-800-522-4700. (You can call or text that number.)

Another resource is SMART Recovery (https://www.smart recovery.org), which offers support in recovery from many forms of addiction, including gambling.

How to Avoid a Fake Check Scam

- INSIST ON CASH
- Don't accept a check for more than the selling price. You can bet it's a scam.
- Inform the Buyer that you'll wait two weeks before sending any merchandise.
- Never use money from a check to send gift cards, money orders, or wire money to strangers or someone you just met. Many scammers demand that you send money through money transfer services like Western Union or MoneyGram, or buy gift cards and send them the PIN numbers. Once you wire money, or give someone the gift card PINs, it is like giving someone cash. It's almost impossible to get it back.
- Toss offers that ask you to pay for a prize. If it's free, you shouldn't have to pay to get it.
