NEWS BRIEFS

First Baptist of Crystal River cancels Thanksgiving dinner

The First Baptist Church of Crystal River has cancelled their community-wide Thanksgiving dinner event due to continued health considerations.

The church hopes to resume the tradition in 2022.

Christmas parade application deadlines approaching

The Christmas parades are fast approaching. Is your organization signed up? Registration for the Crystal River parade closes Nov. 28 and Inverness closes Dec. 5. This year, explore all the childhood wonders of the holiday with the theme, "Christmas in Toyland!"

The parades are about celebrating the reason for the season and providing some much-needed holiday cheer to the community. Entry costs are as follows:

- School band, free
- 2021 Floral City Strawberry Festival pageant winner, free
- Police, sheriff, fire, government units and military, free
- School affiliated band, drill team or marching unit, free
- Non-commercial float or entry (includes trailer), $25
- Religious entry, $25
- Commercial units (includes trailer), $50

Note that additional units may result in a small additional fee. For more information or to register, visit CitrusCountyChamber.com/Christmas-Parades.

County seeks applications for Beverly Hills Advisory Council

The Citrus County Board of County Commissioners (BOCC) is seeking applications for the Beverly Hills Advisory Council. They are seeking two qualified regular members to fill the two-year terms that will expire Jan. 31, 2024.

Eligible applicants must reside full time and own property within the boundaries of the Beverly Hills Municipal Service Benefit Unit as approved by the BOCC.

The Beverly Hills Advisory Council meets at 10 a.m. the second Monday of every month at the Beverly Hills Civic Center, 1 Civic Circle. The purpose of this board is to provide street lighting and landscaping services for the Beverly Hills area.

Applications are due by Dec. 9 and can be accessed at citrusbocc.com/boardapplication. Completed applications should be sent to Citrus County Administration, 3600 W. Sovereign Path, Suite 267, Lecanto, FL 34461.

Date set in rescue case

Schweickert charged with animal abuse

Dunnellon 57-year-old, faces four felony counts of aggravated animal cruelty along with 23 misdemeanor counts of animal cruelty.

Robert Schweickert Jr.

Citrus County Circuit Court Judge Richard "Ric" Howard on Thursday, Nov. 18, scheduled another court date of Jan. 13 to go over the status of Out of the Box Animal Rescue owner Robert Schweickert Jr.'s animal-abuse charges, according to court records.

Schweickert, a Schweickert was released from custody in early February after he posted bail on a $10,000 bond.

Howard revoked Schweickert's bond in August, prompting his re-arrest in court, after finding he had violated the conditions of his pretrial release by possessing animals.

Schweickert appeared to his Thursday court hearing via a live video feed from the Citrus County jail, court records show.

Meanwhile, Animal Services Director Colleen Yarbrough this week clarified via email the fate of some of the remaining rescued animals.

Thirteen of the dogs were transferred to partner agencies; two dogs and a pig are up for adoption; three dogs were medically euthanized due to untreatable health conditions; one hen was medically euthanized; four other dogs were euthanized after incidents of unprovoked aggression that caused significant injury to people and occurred on-site at the shelter; and 15 dogs were euthanized for behavior.

"Our assessments on the remaining pets in our care are not finalized," said Yarbrough, adding that "we are determining the pathway for each pet individually."

Once the assessments are finalized, "we will seek adoption and/or rescue placement for those who do not have histories or show behaviors that indicate there is a propensity of causing harm to people or pets in the community."

As of Thursday, two of the dogs are ready for adoption by the general public, she said.

Yarbrough urged any group interested in becoming a rescue partner to contact her and start the necessary paperwork.

The Citrus County Animal Services is at 4030 S. Airport Road in Inverness. For more information, call 352-746-8400.

Learn to 'Be a Rockstar'

Students get hands-on with environment

HANNAH SACHEWICZ
Staff writer

Hundreds of excited students patiently waited their turn to plant their very own Rock Star eelgrass in classroom tanks this past Wednesday, and there's no better way to learn than getting your hands dirty.

Crystal River Primary School (CRPS) students became environmental stewards as they planted the native grass, an initiative of Save Crystal River and Duke Energy.

For years, Save Crystal River has been cleaning decades of accumulated Lyngbya (an invasive blue-green algae) and organic waste from local waterways. The organization also plants and maintains eelgrass, which improves water quality and provides food and shelter for local wildlife.

Since 2017, a grant from the Duke Energy Foundation has funded an educational program at CRPS, allowing each youngster to "Be a Rockstar! Grow Eelgrass!"

Duke Energy funds one tank of Rock Star eelgrass per classroom, cultivated by their mariculture center. Each tank contains local water and sand to house their eelgrass farm.

"Every single student gets to plant," third-grade CRPS teacher Christina Cates said.

Around the COUNTY

‘Christmas Angels’ needed

The past two years have been difficult on everyone, including businesses, schools and families.

Families have been hit especially hard with domestic violence calls increasing approximately 7.4% since lockdown began in 2020. Therefore, it’s important to provide a happy and joyous Christmas for CASA participants and their children.

In the past, the community has been generous with contributions and CASA needs your help again.

There are still a number of families in the shelter who need to be adopted this year by “Christmas Angels.” Contact Carol Brown at carolb@casaff.org or 352-344-8111.

Rotary Club calendars return

The Rotary Club of Central Citrus County is one of six in the county. They have announced the continuation of their annual calendar program.

As a thank you gift for a $35 donation to the Rotary Club of Central Citrus Foundation, donors will receive a 2022 calendar with 365 daily prizes throughout the year. One-thousand calendars are individually numbered and the calendar matching the daily midday Florida Cash 3 Lotto number receives the daily prize. Prizes vary from $35 to $500.

This year’s artwork is by local photographer Sharon Collins and showcases Citrus County’s natural beauty.

To make a donation and receive a calendar, contact John Clardy, Rotary Club of Central Citrus County president, at clardy@tampabay.rr.com or visit citrusrotary.com.

Conservative club to meet

The North Suncoast Conservative Club invites all persons concerned with the future of the republic to their next meeting at 11 a.m. Nov. 20 at the Marguerita Grill, 10200 W. Halls River Road in Homosassa.

The guest speaker will be John McGee, Vietnam combat veteran, who rose from the ranks of enlisted man to officer. McGee is also a successful campaign strategist.

WTC to have open house

Withlacoochee Technical College (WTC) will have an open house at 12:30 p.m. Dec. 2, 1201 W. Main St. in Inverness. They will also have an information session at 6 p.m. Dec. 7.

Information sessions permit students to spend concentrated time with the instructor in the shop or classroom to learn detailed information about a specific program. This is a “pick one and visit” scenario.

COVID continues local decline

FRED HIERS
Staff writer

Citrus County’s coronavirus cases continued to fall sharply during November while deaths due to the pandemic only inched up.

Citrus County saw 50 new cases during the seven days between Nov. 11 and Nov. 17, according to the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

That case number was a 31% drop from the seven previous days, according to the CDC. The total number of known cases for the county was 20,613.

There were two deaths in connection with the virus during that November week. That brought the total to 822 for Citrus County. The two deaths represented a decline of 60% from the previous week, according to the CDC.

Hospital admissions were also down.

During Nov. 10-16, there were six hospital admissions because of COVID-19. Those patients represented only 2% of the county’s occupied hospital beds. It was also a 45% drop in admissions from the week before due to the virus.

COVID-19 ICU patients accounted for only 5% of occupied ICU beds, according to the CDC.

None of the COVID-19 patients during the week ending Nov. 16 were utilizing ventilators.

The Florida Department of Health’s website did not have updated vaccination data Friday.

During the week ending Nov. 11, the county’s vaccination rate was 57% for adults and five-year-old children and older, according to the FDOH website. The Florida average is 67%.

Florida’s COVID-19 cases rose to 3,676,634 as of Nov. 18. Florida has had 60,846 deaths due to the virus, according to the New York Times, which tracks and compares COVID-19 cases.

The daily average of new cases in Florida on Nov. 18 was 1,747. That was a 13% increase over the 14-day average, according to the New York Times.

The daily average for Florida hospitalizations due to the virus on Nov. 18 was 1,389. That was 27% below the 14-day average.

Nationwide, there have been 47.5 million cases and 767,000 deaths.

Rush hour crash

One of two vehicles sits along County Road 491 Friday morning, Nov. 19, following a crash between the two. The crash snarled traffic at the busy intersection of West Sovereign Path and County Road 491 during the morning rush. According to a spokeswoman with Citrus County Fire Rescue, one patient was airlifted to an area hospital as a trauma alert and a second person was transported to an area hospital via ground transport. No further information was available.

Homosassa man accused in child molestation case

Special to the Chronicle

A 67-year-old Homosassa man entered the bedroom of a sleeping girl and touched her inappropriately, according to a Citrus County Sheriff’s Office arrest affidavit.

Kevin Curry was arrested for lewd/lascivious molestation over 18 on person under 12. No bond was set.

Deputies began investigating a sex offense in Homosassa on Nov. 3. According to the report, the girl disclosed to her mother that on Oct. 24, Curry entered her bedroom and touched her inappropriately while she was asleep.

Special victims unit detective were assigned to the case and on Nov. 10, a forensic interview was conducted at the Citrus County Children’s Advocacy Center. According to the report, the girl said she was asleep next to her sister when Curry entered the bedroom at approximately 3 a.m.

The girl alleged Curry began to touch her over her clothes on her genital area, which awoke her. She said no additional sexual acts had occurred that day. She also alleged Curry slept in the bed with her afterward.

On Nov. 12, a forensic interview was conducted with the girl’s sister, who alleged she saw Curry sleeping in bed next to her. The girl’s cousin also observed Curry enter the bedroom.

It was discovered during an alleged telephone conversation with Curry, he admitted to entering the bedroom and touching the girl inappropriately. However, he denied touching her sister.

During a post Miranda interview with Curry, he reportedly admitted again to touching the girl and sleeping in her bed, but again denied touching her sister or cousin. According to the report, he told deputies he was “sorry” for what he had done.

Curry was arrested and transported to the Citrus County Detention Facility for booking and processing.

Deputies seize fentanyl during wellbeing check

BUSTER THOMPSON
Staff writer

A wellbeing check into a Hernando couple found passed out in a running car led Citrus County Sheriff’s Office deputies to seizing half an ounce of fentanyl before jailing the motorists.

Authorities took Michael James Massey, 32, and 35-year-old Destiny Nichole Beasley, into custody the night of Wednesday, Nov. 17.

According to arrest reports, obtained Friday, Deputy Troy Taylor responded at around 9:24 p.m. to the intersection of South Crystal Glen Drive and State Road 44 in Lecanto, to check on someone slumped over the steering wheel of a blue Volvo C70.

Taylor arrived to find the vehicle stopped at Crystal Glen Drive with its engine running and still shifted in drive. Taylor also spotted the driver, Massey, flopped forward with his foot pressed against the brake pedal, and the front passenger, Beasley, lying against and lightly snoring,” the deputy wrote in the arrest reports.

Taylor knocked on the car door, but got no reaction from either Massey or Beasley. Instead, Taylor reached into the vehicle, put it in park, turned off its ignition and shook its occupants awake.

When Taylor identified himself to the disoriented couple, Massey tried to start the car before he got out. Massey stumbled as he exited the vehicle, and Taylor also noticed Massey had slowed speech and small pupils.

Massey told the deputy he wasn’t drinking alcohol, according to his arrest report, and said he didn’t use any prescribed or illegal drugs since the day before. Taylor observed old and recent needle marks on Massey’s right arm.

When Taylor went to get Beasley’s identification from her, he spotted a plastic baggie on the driver’s seat containing what was later found to be 14.45 grams of fentanyl, prompting Taylor to call for more deputies to respond.

Deputies later found $1,152 in Beasley’s possession, according to her arrest report.

Beasley was arrested on a charge of trafficking in more than four grams of fentanyl. Her bond was set at $25,000.

Massey refused to do Taylor’s field sobriety tasks, according to his arrest report, and also didn’t want to give a urine sample because it would show he used drugs in the past.

Deputies arrested Massey for DUI, driving with a suspended license for failing to pay child support and refusing to submit to urine test with a history of prior refusal. His bond was set at $8,000.

Rare first printing of US Constitution sells for record $43M

NEW YORK — A rare first printing of the U.S. Constitution sold at Sotheby's in New York for $43.2 million, a record price for a document or book sold at auction.

The anonymous winning bidder at Thursday night's sale outbid a group of 17,000 cryptocurrency enthusiasts from around the world who crowdfunded to buy it over the last week.

The document offered for sale was one of 13 known copies of the first printing of the Constitution and one of only two in private hands.

This printing of the Constitution was last sold in 1988, when real estate developer and collector S. Howard Goldman bought it at auction for $165,000.

Proceeds from Thursday's sale will benefit a foundation established by Goldman's widow, Dorothy Tapper Goldman, to further the understanding of constitutional principles.

"Tonight's sale of this exceptionally rare and important printing of the Constitution was a monumental and historic occasion," Selby Kiffer, Sotheby's senior international specialist for books and manuscripts, said in a statement.

Kiffer said the auction result reflects how relevant the Constitution remains, "not only in America but for global democracy."

The underbidder was ConstitutionDAO, which announced its plan to raise millions of dollars to buy the Constitution on Twitter on Nov. 12. DAO stands for decentralized autonomous organization, a type of community-run business that operates on the blockchain.

Dave Grohl attends the American Museum of Natural History's annual Museum Gala on Thursday, Nov. 18, in New York.

ConstitutionDAO tweeted Thursday night, "We showed the world what crypto and web3, onboarding thousands of people in the process, including museum curators and art directors who are now excited to keep learning."

The group added, "We were the first DAO Sothebys has ever worked with, but we're sure we won't be the last one."

The previous auction record for a book or manuscript was set in 1994 when Bill Gates purchased the Codex Leicester by Leonardo da Vinci at Christie's for $30.8 million.

12 to stand trial for Kardashian West jewel heist in Paris

PARIS — Twelve people will stand trial in Paris over a $10 million jewelry heist targeting Kim Kardashian West in 2016, authorities said Friday.

The reality TV star said she was tied up at gunpoint and locked in a bathroom after armed robbers forced their way into her rented Paris apartment during fashion week.

After five years of investigation, investigating judges have ordered the case sent to trial, a judicial official said Friday. The 12 suspects face a range of charges related to the theft. No trial date has been set, and the official would not provide further details.

Kardashian West's French lawyer did not immediately comment.

Several suspects have been released from jail pending trial for health reasons, including 68-year-old Yunice Abbas, one of the five men accused of carrying out the heist itself, who published a book about it last year.

The alleged mastermind, Aomar Ait Khedache, wrote Kardashian West an apology letter from his prison cell, saying he regrets his actions and realizes the psychological damage he caused.

At the time, a spokeswoman for Kardashian West said she was badly shaken but physically unharmed.

Today is Saturday, Nov. 20, the 324th day of 2021. There are 41 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight: On Nov. 20, 1945, 22 former Nazi officials went on trial before an international war crimes tribunal in Nuremberg, Germany. (Almost a year later, the International Military Tribunal sentenced 12 of the defendants to death; seven received prison sentences ranging from 10 years to life; three were acquitted.)

On this date: In 1967, the U.S. Census Bureau's Population Clock at the Commerce Department ticked past 200 million.

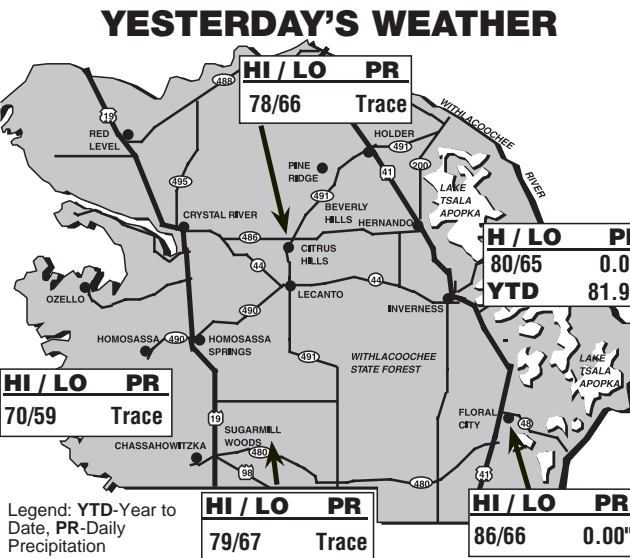

In 1976, the boxing drama "Rocky," starring Sylvester Stallone, premiered in New York.

Ten years ago: Spain's opposition conservatives were swept into power as voters dumped the Socialists — the third time in as many weeks Europe's debt crisis had claimed a government.

Five years ago: At the American Music Awards in Los Angeles, Ariana Grande was named artist of the year; Zayn was named new artist of the year.

One year ago: Georgia's Republican governor and its top elections official certified results showing Democrat Joe Biden won the state's presidential vote over President Donald Trump; the margin was less than 0.5%, allowing the Trump campaign to ask for a recount.

Today's Birthdays: Actor Estelle Parsons is 94. Comedian Dick Smothers is 83. President Joe Biden is 79. Singer Joe Walsh is 74. Actor Richard Masur is 73. Actor Bo Derek is 65. Rapper Sen Dog (Cypress Hill) is 56. Country singer Dierks Bentley is 46. Actor Nadine Velazquez is 43. Actor Jacob Pitts is 42. Actor Andrea Riseborough is 40. Actor Jeremy Jordan is 37. Actor Dan Byrd is 36. Actor Ashley Fink is 35. Rock musician Jared Followill (Kings of Leon) is 35. Actor Cody Linley is 32.

Pet Angel Drive to assist orphaned animals in Citrus

Special to the Chronicle

Orphaned pets in the Citrus County community need your help during the 12th annual Pet Angels Drive.

Due to continued restrictions associated with COVID-19, Precious Paws Rescue will once again hold an abbreviated Pet Angel Drive. From Nov. 29 to Dec. 24, the Goin' Postal Sugarmill Shop, 7789 S. Suncoast Blvd. in Homosassa, will be collecting donations.

Items to help with pet care include canned and dry pet food (especially for kittens), cat treats, disinfectant cleaners, paper towels, donations and gift cards.

Donations may also be mailed

Precious Paws Rescue is in need of donations for their annual Pet Angel Drive, which will help with pet care at the Inverness adoption center.

Special to the Chronicle

to Precious Paws Rescue P.O. Box 1014, Floral City, FL 34436. For more information or to have your donation picked up, call 352-726-4700.

Precious Paws Rescue, Inc. is a volunteer charity organization based in Citrus County dedicated to helping reduce pet overpopulation through rescuing, fostering and adoption. Volunteers at the adoption center are also needed.

To view pets for adoption, visit adoptapet.com/preciouspawsflorida. Animals are cared for at the Precious Paws Rescue Adoption Center, 5164 S. Florida Ave. in Inverness and in the homes of volunteers.

All pets receive the recommended/necessary veterinary care, are spayed or neutered, dogs are tested for heartworm disease and cats for feline leukemia/AIDS. All receive the appropriate vaccinations based on their age and are microchipped.

BOOSTER

coronavirus cases rise even before millions of Americans travel for the holidays.

Until now, Americans faced a confusing list of who was eligible for a booster that varied by age, their health and which kind of vaccine they got first. The Food and Drug Administration authorized changes to Pfizer and Moderna boosters to make it easier.

Under the new rules, anyone 18 or older can choose either a Pfizer or Moderna booster six months after their last dose. For anyone who got the single-dose Johnson & Johnson vaccine, the wait already was just two months. And people can mix-and-match boosters from any company.

"We heard loud and clear that people needed something simpler — and this, I think, is simple,"

FDA vaccine chief Dr. Peter Marks told The Associated Press.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention had to agree before the new policy became official late Friday. CDC Director Dr. Rochelle Walensky endorsed a recommendation from her agency's scientific advisers that — in addition to offering all adults a booster — had stressed that people 50 and older should be urged to get one.

"It's a stronger recommendation," said CDC adviser Dr. Matthew Daley of Kaiser Permanente Colorado. "I want to make sure we provide as much protection as we can."

The CDC also put out a plea for those who had previously qualified but hadn't yet signed up for a booster to quit putting it off — saying older Americans and people with risks such as obesity, diabetes or other health problems should try to get one before the holidays.

The expansion makes tens of millions more

Americans eligible for an extra dose of protection.

The No. 1 priority for the U.S., and the world, still is to get more unvaccinated people their first doses. All three COVID-19 vaccines used in the U.S. continue to offer strong protection against severe illness, including hospitalization and death, without a booster.

But protection against infection can wane with time, and the U.S. and many countries in Europe also are grappling with how widely to recommend boosters as they fight a winter wave of new cases. In the U.S., COVID-19 diagnoses have climbed steadily over the last three weeks, especially in states where colder weather already has driven people indoors.

And about a dozen states didn't wait for federal officials to act before opening boosters to all adults.

"The direction is not a good one. People are going inside more and, 'oops,' next week happens to be the largest travel week of the year, so it probably makes sense to do whatever we can here to try to turn the tide," Marks told the AP.

Vaccinations began in the U.S. last December, about a year after the coronavirus first emerged. More than 195 million Americans are now fully vaccinated, defined as having received two doses of the Pfizer or Moderna vaccines or the single-dose J&J. More than 32 million already have received a booster, a large proportion — 17 million — people 65 or older. Experts say that's reassuring as seniors are at particularly high risk from COVID-19 and were among the first in line for initial vaccinations.

Teen boosters aren't yet under discussion, and kid-sized doses of Pfizer's vaccine are just now rolling out to children ages 5 to 11.

The Biden administration had originally planned on boosters for all adults but until now, U.S. health authorities — backed by their scientific advisers — had questioned the need for such a widespread campaign. Instead, they first endorsed Pfizer or Moderna boosters only for vulnerable groups such as older Americans or those at high risk of COVID-19 because of health problems, their jobs or their living conditions.

This time around, the experts agreed the overall benefits of added protection from a third dose for any adult — six months after their last shot — outweighed risks of rare side effects from Moderna's or Pfizer's vaccine, such as a type of heart inflammation seen mostly in young men.

Several other countries have discouraged use of the Moderna vaccine in young people because of that concern, citing data suggesting the rare side effect may occur slightly more with that vaccine than its competitor.

Pfizer told CDC's advisers that in a booster study of 10,000 people as young as 16, there were no more serious side effects from a third vaccine dose than earlier ones. That study found a booster restored protection against symptomatic infections to about 95% even while the extra-contagious delta variant was surging.

Britain recently released real-world data showing the same jump in protection once it began offering boosters to middle-aged and older adults, and Israel has credited widespread boosters for helping to beat back another wave of the virus.

While the vaccines spur immune memory that protects against severe disease, protection against infection depends on levels of virus-fighting antibodies that wane with time. No one yet knows how long antibody levels will stay high after a booster.

But even a temporary boost in protection against infection may help over the winter and holidays, said CDC's Dr. Sara Oliver.

ATTACK

Lashleys are related.

According to arrest reports, obtained Friday, deputies responded to an aggravated battery reported outside the Family Dollar at North Citrus Springs Boulevard and North Deltona Boulevard.

A 24-year-old Black man lying in the median of Deltona Boulevard told deputies he was walking away from the store when he heard a man yelling racial slurs at him from the parking lot.

According to arrest reports, the man said Robert Lashley afterward ran across Deltona Boulevard over to him and began striking his face. Robert Lashley then brought the man to the ground, stood over him and continued to strike him in his face.

Roy Lashley later ran over with an axe handle, which he used to strike the downed man multiple times.

Deputies spoke to two witnesses, who said Robert Lashley yelled racial slurs at the man before he ran across the street to attack him. Witnesses also said Roy Lashley grabbed the axe handle from the back of his pickup truck to then strike the man with.

One witness, according to arrest reports, said he heard Roy Lashley tell Robert Lashley they had to leave "before the cops get here."

While a deputy was detaining the Lashleys, Roy Lashley kicked the deputy in his legs to try and throw him off balance. Roy Lashley also refused to get into a patrol car, forcing a deputy to push him inside, according to arrest reports.

Neither of the Lashleys wanted to give a statement to deputies when they were arrested, according to arrest reports.

Roy Lashley faces charges of aggravated battery with a deadly weapon, battery of a law enforcement officer, resisting law enforcement with violence, and resisting law enforcement without violence.

He was jailed under a $21,000 bond, which a judge left unchanged during Roy Lashley's first court appearance on Thursday, according to court records. Dec. 13 was scheduled as Roy Lashley's arraignment.

Robert Lashley faces a misdemeanor charge of battery. He was jailed with a $1,000 bond, which a judge lowered to $500 during Robert Lashley's first court appearance on Thursday.

Dec. 10 was slated as Robert Lashley's arraignment.

the classroom.

For example, older students may test the water quality of their tank over time. With the help of their eelgrass, the water quality should improve, showing them first-hand the difference the plant makes.

In the spring, CRPS fifth-graders are invited to Hunter Springs Park to harvest and plant their eelgrass, along with supplemental plants from Duke Energy's mariculture center.

"Hands-on science is an outstanding opportunity," CRPS principal Janet Tuggle said.

According to Dorothy Pernu, government and community relations manager at Duke Energy, the student initiative has produced approximately 5,000 plants to date. Along with the supplemental plants, this number has reached upwards of 10,000.

Once CRPS students planted their eelgrass on Wednesday, they ventured into the media center to watch an informational video to learn the importance of eelgrass to the local ecosystem, why Lynghya needs to be removed and how this is accomplished.

CRPS students were even featured in the video. "You are the students that are helping the river and all of Florida," Save Crystal River educational coordinator Marie Binkowski told students.

Then, students put on their lab coats and became scientists for the next 30 minutes at three hands-on learning stations. Save Crystal River administrator Tracy Schonrock said the coats serve as a "thinking cap."

The young forensic scientists investigated the skeleton of a baby manatee, which died from a propeller strike. Schonrock said the station is meant to emphasize how manatee mortality research can lead to the passing of new laws.

Using virtual reality headsets, students got to "swim" in Crystal River's springs and get up close and personal with manatees, eelgrass and other marine life.

In addition, students were encouraged to take a closer look at Rock Star eelgrass using magnifying glasses and microscopes, in the hopes of catching a glimpse of a microorganism.

Tuggle said the annual program has become an integral part of CRPS culture, connecting students to their own community. With this and other initiatives of Save Crystal River, the goal is to make a substantial and continuing change to Kings Bay and Crystal River by July 2023.

PROJECT GOING FORWARD

County moving toward environmental restoration

The Citrus Board of County Commission — commonly known as the BOCC — has dotted the i’s and crossed the t’s by holding two public hearings to discuss a septic tank phase-out in Old Homosassa Springs. Following the hearings, the county commission was unanimous in its approval to submit the plan to the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP). The county was smart to pluck the Old Homosassa Springs area first from the five planned areas for septic-to-sewer remediation. Homeowners there know there is a problem with the flow from their septic tanks into the ground, eventually leaching into the river. Other areas are more resistant to change or don’t acknowledge there is an environmental problem. So we indeed applaud the county for moving forward with this decade-old issue of septic systems gurgling nutrients like phosphates and nitrates into the Homosassa River.

We have written about this issue numerous times in the past. The county’s septic-to-sewer phase for Old Homosassa Springs was originally 10 separate geographic sections in the Homosassa River area. The first phase, Garcia Point, is almost complete but the pandemic brought the rest of the projects to a screeching halt. Now, however, things are in motion and the problem is that the septic-to-sewer boulder has begun moving downhill gathering speed to the tune of three phases in some form of development. And that, of course, is good for the environment — but there is a hitch. Money.

This forward movement is a challenge due to the need for funding to pay for the local assessment portion of the project costs. Those are costs that the county has historically addressed with utility reserves. But with other county projects ongoing in addition to the Old Homosassa sewer project, the drain on the county funds would be critical. A workaround has been identified in the form of a loan request from the State Revenue Fund (SRF). This request only covers the Old Homosassa septic-to-sewer venture. But it’s a good solution to a serious, even critical, environmental issue that needs a resolution to occur rapidly — or as rapidly as government allows.

We congratulate the county, including the water resources department, for discovering this solution. The SRF requests are addressed in cycles. Several of them are looked at in one cycle for funding loans, other applications are reviewed downstream. The head of the water resource department, Ken Cheek, feels the SRF will finance the project with a loan, though there is a haze on the exact timeframe. We also are keeping our fingers crossed for some found funding from the new national infrastructure bill pushed through Congress by the Biden administration. That would be if not a godsend, a governmental delight.

Since homeowners are on board for transition to a sewer system let’s hope that our local and state government — all the regional and state boards, departments, and the state legislature, hop aboard this long-needed freight train to promote a positive environmental need in the form of septic-to-sewer conversion in the Old Homosassa Springs area.

THE ISSUE:

Citrus County septic phase-out.

OUR OPINION:

Sewer conversion can’t come fast enough.

LETTERS to the Editor

Complete parkway to Red Level

Well, the news stories regarding the completion of the Suncoast Parkway 2 that were published three times in the Chronicle during the past nine months were a fictional report by the DOT. On two occasions the news report said that the section from U.S. 98 to Cardinal Lane would be open for traffic this past October and the total project would be completed to State Road 44 in early 2022.

At this time there are no lane markings on the section south of Cardinal Lane, meaning that the roadway is not ready for traffic. The question therefore is, “When will the roadway actually be completed?” Can the Chronicle please update us regarding this project?

This also brings up questions regarding another road project.

It has been reported that a study is being performed regarding widening and using Turkey Oak as a bypass for S.R. 44. Of course that is a total waste of tax dollars. As anyone can see, work has been recently accomplished adding sidewalks on Turkey Oak. If Turkey Oak is widened, there’s another waste of tax dollars.

The appropriate solution is to complete the extension of the Suncoast Parkway to Red Level as originally designed back in 1995. Then there would be no concern at all regarding increased traffic through Crystal River. This task, it would be completed in about the same time frame as it would take the county to design and build a S.R. 44 bypass. The county doesn’t have the funds to do this anyway.

The Suncoast Parkway will be a major evacuation route from the counties to the south in the event of a major storm threat such as a hurricane coming through the Tampa Bay region. That would be the only time that a significant amount of traffic will enter Citrus County via the parkway.

in early 2022, ahead of the original completion date of summer 2022.

Turnpike extension kick-off meeting

The Florida Turnpike Extension Project No. 14480 is in the planning stages. This is not to be confused with the Suncoast Parkway. There are four possible routes under consideration. The first two options are of no concern, as I believe they have been or will be ruled out due to environmental impacts. Option three and four would bring it through our community between Hampshire Boulevard and West Citrus Springs Boulevard.

The Florida Department of Transportation has a website where you can enter your address and it will show the position of your property on a map together with the projected paths. That website is https://etdmpub.fl.a-etat.org/est/#. On the left side of the page is a box. You can enter the project number 14480. After that, also on the left side of the screen click on “view on map.” At the top of the map there will be a box “find address or place.”

Enter your address. You may need to zoom out or in a few times to get better detail.

If you are interested in participation in the initial kickoff meeting, it is being held Dec. 7 at 5:30 p.m. at the College of Central Florida, Citrus Campus, 3800 S. Lecanto Highway, Lecanto. 2021 Halloween Haunted Maze thanks

After skipping last year due to the COVID-19 virus problem, our 21st annual “Nightmare on Pine Bluff Street” haunted Halloween maze and graveyard was enjoyed by many people this year during the two nights it was open, Saturday, Oct. 23, and Halloween, Oct. 31.

We wish to thank the different businesses and papers that promoted our Halloween event and thank the following individuals for helping and being “scare-actors” who made this a successful event for “The Nightmare on Pine Bluff Street”: Dawn Peters; Deniese, Brian and Lincoln Claypool; Donna Bidlack and Eric Swart. With their help, it was a scary and fun haunted maze and graveyard walk-through, scaring young and old alike. To keep it interesting this year, the walk was changed around some with changes in the tunnel sections. The additions were sponsored by Porter’s Locksmithing.

This free Halloween event was enjoyed by all, and donations to the Citrus United (food) Basket were accepted. John and Dusty want to thank everyone who put cash donations into the jar, totaling $546, and several pounds of food items were also donated. A big thank you to all those who came and enjoyed themselves, and the “scare-actors” who enjoyed scaring them. We look forward to seeing you again. Mark your calendars and save the dates for next year: Saturday, Oct. 29, and Monday, Oct. 31.

Hot Corner: PIRATES COVE

■ I’m responding to Sound Off (about Tuesday, Nov. 17’s front-page story), “Pirate’s Cove bid rejected”: Yes, thank you, but Kinnard did not listen to the residents. We don’t want it. We don’t want to waste $700,000. We don’t need to build a park. Put that $700,000 towards fixing our roadways. That’s where it’s needed most. If you want to buy the property, Kinnard, buy it with your own money and build your own private park. The community — the people of Citrus County — do not want it. Do you not listen?

■ This is about the Pirates Cove property that Commissioner Kinnard wants to purchase. It appears to me that — and we drove out there and took a look at it when we happened to be in the neighborhood — it’s very wet and bedraggled and basically, it’s going to be underwater a lot and it’s basically, therefore, worthless and the owner should simply donate it or abandon it and the county should not spend money on buying it and maintaining it in the future. That money is much better spent on truly great needs of the community.

■ I am reading in today’s Chronicle on Wednesday that they went ahead and rejected the Pirates Cove bid. It wasn’t enough money; they wanted more. They want about $700,000. So I think the way to do this is, Kinnard, you go ahead and you give $100,000, then find six more people with $100,000 and then you’ve got it, because I think the animal shelter is worth 10 times more than what Pirates Cove is. Have a great day.

■ With sea levels rising, as predicted by the experts, why would the county even consider — with good money management — to try and buy low-lying land out on the water? The Pirates Cove thing should be rejected altogether.

Biden undergoes colonoscopy, Harris briefly in power

BETHESDA, Md. — President Joe Biden briefly transferred power to Vice President Kamala Harris on Friday while he underwent a routine colonoscopy, setting up a history-making moment as Harris became the first woman to hold that authority during the short time she stepped in as acting president.

Biden transferred power to Harris, the first woman, first Black person and first person of South Asian descent to be vice president, for one hour and 25 minutes while he was under anesthesia at Walter Reed National Military Medical Center. Biden, the oldest person to serve as president, turns 79 on Saturday. Press secretary Jen Psaki said he resumed his duties after speaking with Harris and White House chief of staff Ron Klain at approximately 11:35 a.m.

Interest in Biden's health has been high ever since he declared his candidacy for the White House in 2019 and remains intense as speculation about a 2024 reelection bid swirls. The visit to the medical center in the Washington suburbs was for his first routine physical exam as president — and his first since December 2019.

As Biden left the medical center in the afternoon, he said he was feeling "Great!"

Disease control chief: "All of Germany is one big outbreak"

BERLIN — Germany has entered a "nationwide state of emergency" because of surging coronavirus infections, the head of the country's disease control agency said Friday.

Lothar Wieler, the head of the Robert Koch Institute, said regular medical care cannot be guaranteed anymore in some parts of the country because hospitals and intensive care wards are overstretched.

The German air force confirmed a report by daily Bild that it was preparing to help transfer patients to clinics with free beds.

"All of Germany is one big outbreak," Wieler told reporters in Berlin. "This is a nationwide state of emergency. We need to pull the emergency brake."

He called for urgent additional measures to tackle the rise in COVID-19 cases, which topped 50,000 for the third day running. The Robert Koch Institute also reported 201 further deaths, taking the toll to 98,739 since the start of the outbreak.

Neighboring Austria, which has also been hit by a surge in new cases, announced it would extend a nationwide lockdown to vaccinated people from Monday, and introduce compulsory vaccinations from February.

Rittenhouse not guilty

Acquitted of all charges in Kenosha shootings

MICHAEL TARM, SCOTT BAUER AND AMY FORLITI
Associated Press

KENOSHA, Wis. — Kyle Rittenhouse was acquitted of all charges Friday after pleading self-defense in the deadly Kenosha shootings that became a flashpoint in the debate over guns, vigilantism and racial injustice in the U.S.

Rittenhouse, 18, began to choke up, fell forward toward the defense table and then hugged one of his attorneys as he heard a court clerk recite "not guilty" five times. His mother, seated nearby on a courtroom bench, gasped in delight, cried and hugged others around her.

A sheriff's deputy immediately whisked him out a back door.

"He wants to get on with his life," defense attorney Mark Richards said. "He has a huge sense of relief for what the jury did to him today. He wishes none of this ever happened. But as he said when he testified, he did not start this."

He said Rittenhouse, who wants to be a nurse, is in counseling for post traumatic stress disorder and will probably move away because "it's too dangerous" for him to continue to live in the area.

Rittenhouse was charged with homicide, attempted homicide and reckless endangering for killing two men and wounding a third with an AR-style semi-automatic rifle in the summer of 2020 during a tumultuous night of protests over the shooting of a Black man, Jacob Blake, by a white Kenosha police officer.

Rittenhouse, a former police youth cadet, said he went to Kenosha to protect property from rioters. He is white, as were those he shot.

The anonymous jury, whose racial makeup was not disclosed by the court but appeared to be overwhelmingly white, deliberated for close to 3 1/2 days.

Rittenhouse could have gotten life in prison if found guilty on the most serious charge, first-degree intentional homicide, or what some other states call first-degree murder. Two other charges each carried over 60 years behind bars.

Associated Press

Kenosha County District Attorney Michael Graveley said his office respects the jury's decision, and he asked the public to "accept the verdicts peacefully and not resort to violence."

Democratic Gov. Tony Evers, who announced last week that 500 National Guard members stood ready in case of trouble after the verdict, likewise pleaded for calm.

As he dismissed the jurors who sat in judgment in the politically combustible case, Circuit Judge Bruce Schroeder assured them the court would take "every measure" to keep them safe.

The shootings exposed a deep divide in the U.S., with some Americans condemning Rittenhouse as a vigilante, while others on the right hailed him as a hero who exercised his Second Amendment gun rights and tried to put a stop to lawlessness. The reaction to the verdict reflected the same divide.

Wisconsin Lt. Gov. Mandela Barnes, who is Black and a Democratic candidate for U.S. Senate, denounced the outcome. He, like many civil rights activists, saw a racial double standard at work in the case.

"Over the last few weeks, many dreaded the outcome we just witnessed," Barnes said. "The presumption of innocence until proven guilty is what we should expect from our judicial system, but that standard is not always applied equally. We have seen so many black and brown youth killed, only to be put on trial posthumously, while the innocence of Kyle Rittenhouse was virtually demanded by the judge."

Political figures on the right, meanwhile, welcomed the verdict and condemned the case brought against Rittenhouse.

"All of us who knew what actually happened in Kenosha last year assumed this would be the verdict," tweeted Republican former Wisconsin Gov. Scott Walker.

"Thankfully, the jury thought the same."

Rittenhouse was 17 when he went to Kenosha from his home in nearby Antioch, Illinois, after businesses were ransacked and burned in the nights that followed Blake's shooting. Rittenhouse carried a weapon authorities said was illegally purchased for the underage young man, joining other armed civilians on the streets.

Bystander and drone video captured most of the frenzied chain of events that followed: Rittenhouse killed Joseph Rosenbaum, 36, then shot to death protester Anthony Huber, 26, and wounded demonstrator Gaige Grosskreutz, now 28.

At trial, prosecutors portrayed Rittenhouse as a "wannabe soldier" who had gone looking for trouble that night and was responsible for creating a dangerous situation in the first place by pointing his rifle at demonstrators.

But Rittenhouse testified: "I didn't do anything wrong. I defended myself."

House OKs $2T social, climate bill

Measure moves to Senate
ALAN FRAM
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — A fractious U.S. House handed President Joe Biden a marquee victory Friday by approving a roughly $2 trillion social and environment bill, as Democrats cast aside disputes that for months had stalled the measure and hampered efforts to sell their priorities to voters.

Lawmakers approved the legislation 220-213 as every Democrat but one backed it, overcoming unanimous Republican opposition. The measure now heads to the Senate, where changes are certain and disputes between cost-conscious Democratic moderates and progressives who seek bold policy changes will flare anew.

For the moment, Democrats were happy to shake off a dispiriting period of off-year election setbacks, tumbling Biden poll numbers and public disgruntlement over inflation, stalled supply chains and the pandemic. All that and the party's nasty internal bickering have left voters with little idea of how the legislation might help them, polls have shown.

"Above all, it puts us on the path to help our economy back better than before by rebuilding the backbone of America:

working people and the middle class," Biden said in a statement.

He told reporters at the White House he expected the legislation to "take awhile" to move through the Senate but declared, "I will sign it. Period."

The legislation, among the most expensive in years, is remarkable for its reach. It rewrites tax, health care, environment, education, housing and other policies, shoring up low- and middle-income families, helping the elderly and combating climate change.

Most of it would be paid for with tax boosts on the country's highest earners, biggest corporations and companies doing business abroad. That includes new surtaxes on people earning over $10 million annually and a corporate minimum tax.

Because of its size, scope and symbol of what Democrats stand for, each party thinks the package will help in next year's midterm elections, when Republicans have a solid chance at capturing House and Senate control.

"Hey, hey, goodbye," GOP lawmakers sang, taunting Democrats during the vote. Republicans call the measure a waste of money that will worsen budget deficits, overhear an inflation-battered economy and show voters that Democrats can't resist ever-larger government.

Democrats see the 2,100-page legislation as overdue and long-lasting help for a vast swath of the nation.

The bill "will be the pillar of health and financial security in America," said House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, D-Calif. "If you are a parent, a senior, a child, a worker, if you are an American, this bill is for you."

"Build Back Better," chanted Democrats, embracing and jumping with glee at the front of the chamber as the roll call wound down. That's the name Biden has given the bill — a companion piece to his other domestic priority, the bipartisan $1 trillion package of broadband, road and other infrastructure projects he signed into law this week.

Always thankful

Editor's note: This is the 23rd year of Nancy Kennedy's annual Thanksgiving psalm. Even in 2021, she is still thankful.

Dear God, the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth: Last year I began my Thanksgiving psalm to you by saying, "How can one give thanks for a year dominated by disease, death and destruction, panic and chaos and hatred?"

"It feels like the gates of hell opened up and dumped its evil on our lives."

This year there's been more of the same, times 12 or 112!

And yet, there's still much to be thankful for.

I still have a job where I can do what I love. I still have a comfortable home, a cozy bed, kids who are doing well, a husband I love and who still loves me.

I still have a church that puts the gospel above politics and petty factions, where Jesus reigns, where there's goodwill and laughter, where sinners are welcomed and grace abounds.

Thank you, Lord, that you still the hearts and minds of those who come to you with their fears of the future and regrets of the past.

You are still the God of creation. You are still in control, even if everything appears otherwise.

Thank you, Lord, for being a shelter in times of trouble, and these are, indeed, troubling times.

Thank you, Lord, for your words of comfort: "You still the noise of the seas...the noise of the waves and the tumult of the peoples" (Psalm 65:7), and "The Lord your God in your midst, the Mighty One, will save; he will rejoice over you with gladness; he will quiet you with his love and rejoice over you with his singing" (Zephaniah 3:17).

You still my soul when I'm overwhelmed with restless thoughts.

Thank you for your joy that is my strength, for your promises that are true, your mercies that never fail and are new every morning and your love that will not ever let go.

Thank you that no matter what the news headlines are or what people on Facebook are fighting about, I can "let not (my) heart be troubled" (John 14:1).

My memory is like a sieve, but I still remember your word that I've hidden in my heart.

When the world around me shakes and crumbles, I'm thankful for your always comforting Holy Spirit who whispers to my heart, "Be still and know that I am God" (Psalm 46:10), and my heart quiets within me.

Lord, thank you, too, for the little things that make life sweet: ultra-fine-point black ink pens and grilled grouper sandwiches, for warm, fuzzy blankets and comfy Vionic sneakers.

Thank you for the silly looking birds that wander through our yard looking for snacks in the wet grass after it rains.

Thank you for rain and for violins and oboes and air fryers.

Thank you, Lord, for hope, for its light that shines in this dark world and points to the brightness of eternity.

Thank you for your peace that passes all human understanding.

I've often said, which you have taught me, that if I have peace, your peace, I can endure anything. That's what we all want anyway, isn't it, Lord? Peace with you and peace with each other?

Lord, this has been another terrible and difficult year for us all. So much strife, so much distrust and hatred and loss.

We are so very broken, and yet, you restore broken things, taking the shattered pieces of our lives and the messes we have made and using them for your greater purposes.

Thank you, Lord, that you are making all things new.

Thank you that, even in 2021, with so much sorrow and turmoil, you have been faithful, and you have been good.

You always have been and always will be, and I am still, and hopefully always, thankful.

Nancy Kennedy
GRACE NOTES

Thankful for the basic necessities of life

I started to write about our problems with septic tanks this month, and my wife mentioned thankfulness for Thanksgiving — and I thought I'm thankful because I didn't want to write about a stinky subject anyway!

The Bible says if you have food in your stomach and clothing, let us be content. It doesn't even say anything about shelter! Yikes. So let me start here. I know in my twenties I ate some bad meals. Looking back, it was more out of ignorance than poverty.

I think I could have eaten much better if I knew what I know now about nutrition. I found out the hard way it was very hard to work on 4 hours of sleep with a chocolate Twinkie and a soda for breakfast. Even in those years by dumb luck I discovered thrift stores and found most of my clothing for really cheap prices. Once in a while for Christmas or a birthday, someone would give me clothing brand-new. I still remember the smell because it was so rare for me. I am very thankful these two things are not much of a worry today.

DuWayne Sipper

From time to time we see people who have had to stay in tents or sheds and not by their choice. I know some people really love to go camping, but think of all of the things you have or you can get easily when camping by pulling out your credit card. It is common to see them with bug bites all over their bodies and it will make you shudder to imagine, "What kind of bugs did the biting?"

I too probably take it for granted I can go over to the sink and get running water that is clean anytime I want. I can go to the bathroom and not be concerned about sanitary conditions or if it will cause someone harm because it is out in the open.

I can go to a bed at night which is very safe and with a press of the button control the temperature in my home. I am very thankful as I go over this inventory.

Most of all, I have family, friends, workmates and a church who often love me. This too I must admit can be overlooked or taken for granted until something happens or you need one of them and then I can really say, "it is good to be loved." Thank you most to my Lord Jesus, I'm so thankful you love me.

Knights name Family of the Month

Tom and Joyce Michaels honored

Special to the Chronicle

Tom and Joyce Michaels of Brentwood are the Knights of Columbus Council 6168 October Family of the Month.

"This quietly committed couple are models of what keeps community organizations like the Knights of Columbus alive," Grand Knight Mike Belkin said. "It's all about reliability and willingness to serve, and they are exemplary."

Joyce is a caller at Knights of Columbus bingo and Tom is a bingo floor worker.

At Our Lady of Grace Church in Beverly Hills, both are extraordinary ministers of the Eucharist. Joyce also is an altar server and Tom worked in the religious articles store.

As a member of the parish Community of Catholic Women, Joyce earlier co-chaired the organization's annual "Tricky Tray" auction. Tom helps the parish charismatic community feed area homeless people on a regular basis at the Family Resource Center in Hernando.

Special to the Chronicle

Tom and Joyce Michaels are the October Family of the Month for the Knights of Columbus Council 6168.

The Michaelses came to Citrus County from Ohio in 2006, where Tom worked first in public accounting and then for 25 years at Forest City Enterprises LP in Cleveland as vice president for taxes. A Knight since 2012, Tom is a CPA and 1968 graduate of Kent State University. Joyce was a crafter and had her own ceramics studio. She later worked 15 years as a site supervisor for Cuyahoga Community College.

In retirement, she continues to paint watercolors and then prints note cards and calendars. The proceeds from her enterprise go as charity to nonprofit organizations.

The couple met on a blind date on a snowy evening in February 1967 in Cleveland and celebrated their 52nd wedding anniversary last spring.

The Michaelses have three grown children and now at home enjoy the company of a new puppy, Cappy.

Morikawa, McIlroy supply late drama in Dubai

Gooch leads by one in PGA Tour event

Associated Press

DUBAI, United Arab Emirates — Collin Morikawa got a big stroke of fortune at the DP World Tour Championship.

Rory McIlroy felt he got no luck at all.

The drama in the second round of the European Tour's season-ending event was reserved for the final hour at Jumeirah Golf Estates on Friday — and the tournament's two headline players were at the center of it.

Morikawa, looking to become the first American to win the Race to Dubai title, pushed his tee shot at the par-3 17th hole and shouted, "Get in the bunker." The ball, instead, bounced on a downslope in the rough and headed toward water, only for it to hit a hazard post and stay dry.

An up-and-down for par followed by a final-hole birdie saw the British Open champion shoot a second straight 4-under 68, leaving him three shots off the lead and in a strong position to finish the season as European No. 1.

"Those are the kind of breaks you need heading into the weekend," Morikawa said.

McIlroy, the first-round leader after an opening 65, reached the 18th tee with a one-stroke advantage despite hitting only five of 13 fairways to that point. He drove left into a bunker and his third shot kicked left short of the green and dribbled into the water.

A double-bogey 7 completed a round of 70 which saw him fall out of the lead, held jointly by Shane Lowry (65), John Catlin (65) and Sam Horsfield (66) on 10 under par.

"That part of the fairway where the ball was, was just sort of thatchy and came up spinny into the wind," McIlroy said.

"I hit a good golf shot and felt like I didn't deserve to be in the water."

McIlroy will play with Morikawa in the third round as he goes in search of back-to-back wins following victory at the CJ Cup on the U.S. PGA Tour last month.

Morikawa doesn't need a win to have a successful week in Dubai. He came into the tournament ranked No. 1 in the Race to Dubai standings, narrowly ahead of compatriot Billy Horschel, who is only even par after rounds of 74 and 70.

Horschel needs to win or hope Morikawa finishes well down the 52-man field to jump into first place. Neither of those scenarios

CRYSTAL RIVER — With several new faces on both teams, it was hard knowing what to expect when the Crystal River and Citrus girls basketball teams got together Friday night.

In an entertaining county battle between 0-1 teams, the new-look Pirates topped a much-improved Hurricanes squad, 66-49.

"We're a young, inexperienced team. We don't have a JV. We only have nine girls on the team. We're going to get better every week," first-year Citrus head coach Rich Archambault said.

Crystal River, which is replacing all five starters from last year's Class 4A elite eight team, jumped out to an 18-9 first-quarter lead thanks to 12 points from IG Edwards and six from Jaylin DeV Vaughn — the only two returnees who saw varsity action last season.

Edwards finished the first half with 17 points and DeV Vaughn added 14, as the Pirates took a commanding 37-17 lead into the break.

"I thought my starters played exceptionally well. They built a huge lead," Crystal River head coach Charles Bryant said.

He said Edwards and DeV Vaughn have stepped into their leadership roles well on a very inexperienced team.

"It's night and day from last year to this year. They are in practice every day, motivating the other kids constantly. Talking to them on the bench. It's like having an extra coach on the bench," he said. "It's good to see how much they've stepped up, not just on

Where is Peng Shuai?
And why isn't the IOC speaking out?

PAUL NEWBERRY
AP sports columnist

Where is Peng Shuai?

It's a question that must be asked — loudly, for everyone to hear — by the International Olympic Committee as it prepares to hold the Winter Games less than three months from now in Beijing.

Peng is, after all, one of its own, a three-time Olympian and tennis trailblazer who suddenly disappeared into the morass of what passes for justice in China after accusing a former top government official of sexually assaulting her.

China has insisted that it doesn't know what all the fuss is about, with a Foreign Ministry spokesperson saying Friday that the matter was "not a diplomatic question and I'm not aware of the situation."

An email released in Peng's name by state media — which sounded more like something a hostage might say under extreme duress — backed off her initial allegation that an ex-vice premier and leading member of the ruling Communist Party had forced her to have sex despite repeated refusals.

The IOC seems content to go along with this ridiculous, clumsy ruse, not wanting to do anything to rock the billion-dollar party it will be staging in and around Beijing starting Feb. 4. The event already figures to be a thoroughly joyless affair because of strict COVID-19 protocols (understandable) and China's desire to clamp down on any signs of dissent (reprehensible).

The IOC hinted that it's working behind the scenes to determine Peng's whereabouts, but forgive us for being a bit skeptical that the organization will even slightly buck the Chinese on any issue that might affect its bottom line.

"Experience shows that quiet diplomacy offers the best opportunity to find a solution for questions of such nature," the IOC said in a statement. "This explains why the IOC will not comment any further at this stage."

Harden rallies Nets to 115-113 win over Magic

Tatum, Celtics beat Lakers in James' return

Associated Press

NEW YORK — James Harden had 36 points, 10 rebounds and eight assists, and the Brooklyn Nets overcame a 19-point deficit and the absence of Kevin Durant to beat the Orlando Magic 115-113 on Friday night.

Durant did not play due to a right shoulder sprain.

Harden was 19 for 20 from the free throw line. Patty Mills added 22 points and LaMarcus Aldridge had 11 of his 15 in the fourth quarter.

Jalen Suggs scored 21, while Franz Wagner and Chuma Okeke each had 17 for the Magic.

The Nets trailed by 19 points in the second quarter, but ended the half on a 10-0 run. Harden scored the final five points from the free throw line as Brooklyn reduced its halftime deficit to 62-53.

Brooklyn continued to cut into the lead and Mills' back-to-back 3-pointers gave the Nets a 73-70 lead with 7:15 to go in the third quarter. It was their first lead since the opening bucket of the game.

Orlando trailed 90-83 heading into the final quarter, but scored the first six points and tied the game at 92 on Okeke's 3-pointer.

Neither team led by more than three until Harden's two free throws with nine seconds remaining gave Brooklyn a 114-100 lead. After Suggs hit a layup, Harden went back to the line and made one throw along with his only miss of the game.

Cole Anthony, who finished with 16 points, was fouled with 3 seconds left. After making the first, he missed the second intentionally. However, his attempt did not hit the rim and the Nets were given possession and ran out the clock.

James Johnson finished with 17 points and 10 rebounds for the Nets.

Celtics 130, Lakers 108

BOSTON — Jayson Tatum scored 37 points and the Boston

Celtics beat Los Angeles 130-108 in LeBron James' return to the Lakers' lineup.

Marcus Smart had 22 points and Dennis Schroder 21 for Boston (8-8), which climbed back to .500. Tatum had 11 rebounds and Al Horford added 18 points.

Anthony Davis led Los Angeles with 31 points and James finished with 23 in 32 minutes. They each had six rebounds and two assists.

James had missed eight games with an abdominal strain, and the Lakers went 3-5 while he was sidelined. They've lost their last four road games.

The teams who have accounted for nearly half of the NBA's championships with 17 apiece renewed their rivalry in front of a raucous TD Garden crowd that made it seem like a playoff atmosphere from the opening tip.

Warriors 105, Pistons 102

DETROIT — Jordan Poole stepped up in Stephen Curry's absence to score 22 of his season-high 32 points in the first half, Andrew Wiggins finished with 27 and the Golden State Warriors beat the Detroit Pistons 105-102.

Golden State started the fourth quarter with a 16-point lead and held on to win after Detroit's Jerami Grant and Frank Jackson missed 3-pointers in the closing seconds.

The NBA-leading Warriors sat out Curry with a bruised hip, a night after the two-time MVP and the league's leading scorer had 20 of his 40 points in a fourth-quarter comeback victory at Cleveland.

Detroit's Cade Cunningham, the No. 1 overall pick, had 19 points, six rebounds and six assists. Jackson scored a season-high 27 points, Grant had 19 and Hamidou Diallo added 10.

Hornets 121, Pacers 118

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — LaMelo Ball had a season-high 32 points along with 11 rebounds and eight assists and the Charlotte Hornets held off the Indiana Pacers 121-118 for their fifth straight victory.

Gordon Hayward added 25 points, and Kelly Oubre Jr. had 16 to finish off a 4-0 homestand that included wins over Golden State and Washington.

Jeremy Lamb had 23 points for Indiana, and Malcolm Brogdon added 16 points. The Pacers lost all three of their games on a trip to fall to 2-9 overall.

Pelicans 94, Clippers, 81

NEW ORLEANS — Jonas Valanciunas had 26 points and 13 rebounds and the New Orleans Pelicans overcame a 20-point first-half deficit to beat the Los Angeles Clippers 94-81.

After challenging the Pelicans to "grow up" after they'd blown double-digit leads at Washington and Miami earlier this week, Josh Hart had 19 points, 10 rebounds and two steals. Brandon Ingram had 17 points and 12 rebounds, and Kira Lewis Jr. added 16 points to help New Orleans win for just the third time in 17 games this season.

Los Angeles star Paul George scored 19 points but missed five of six shots in the fourth quarter as the Pelicans pulled away. Nicolas Batum scored 12 points for the Clippers, who've lost three of four.

Bucks 96, Thunder 89

MILWAUKEE — Giannis Antetokounmpo had 21 points, 19 rebounds and seven assists and the Milwaukee Bucks withstood Oklahoma City's comeback attempt and to beat the Thunder 96-89.

Gilgeous-Alexander led Oklahoma City with 17 points. Josh Giddey and Mike Muscala had 14 points each. Luguentz Dort and Ty Jerome added 10 apiece.

No. 21 Auburn rallies to beat USF 58-52

Associated Press

TAMPA — K.D. Johnson scored 15 points, Zep Jasper added 13 and No. 21 Auburn rallied to beat South Florida 58-52 on Friday night.

Jabari Smith hit a 3-pointer 10 minutes into the second half during a 15-0 stretch that gave Auburn (3-0) its first lead at 42-40. It was the third made 3-pointer by Auburn in 21 tries to that point.

Jaylin Williams and Devan Cambridge had consecutive slams to start the run with USF leading 40-31. Johnson had two layups, including one after a nifty steal, that helped the Tigers go up 46-40.

Caleb Murphy scored 19 points and Javon Greene added 12 for South Florida (2-2), which was coming off a 56-54 comeback win over North Carolina A&T on Monday.

No. 7 Duke 88, Lafayette 55

DURHAM, N.C. — Wendell Moore Jr. scored 23 points and No. 7 Duke used a few smooth stretches in the second half to pull away for an 88-55 victory over Lafayette.

No. 11 Memphis 74, Western Kentucky 62

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Jalen Duren had 22 points, 19 rebounds and five blocks as Memphis beat Western Kentucky 74-62 in a sloppy game.

Deandre Williams added 13 points and Early Timberlake finished with 10 for the Tigers (4-0).

Camron Justice led the Hilltoppers (1-3) with 18 points

No. 13 Kentucky 77, Ohio 59

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Keion Brooks scored 22 points to lead No. 13 Kentucky to a 77-59 win over Ohio.

Freshman guard TyTy Washington followed Brooks with a career-high 20 points and 11 rebounds.

No. 14 Alabama 86, Oakland 59

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. — Jaden Shackelford scored 20 points as No. 14 Alabama beat Oakland 86-59, giving the Crimson Tide its first 4-0 start since the 2017-18 season.

No. 20 Maryland 69, Hofstra 67

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Eric Ayala made big plays at both ends of the court to help Maryland avoid another surprising loss.

Ayala's driving layup tied the game with 23.3 seconds left, then he blocked a shot moments later. Ian Martinez was fouled as he went for the loose ball, and his two free throws with 4.2 seconds to play gave the 20th-ranked Terrapins a 69-67 victory over Hofstra.

No. 22 St. Bonaventure 68, Clemson 65

CHARLESTON, S.C. — Kyle Lofton and Jaren Holmes combined for 32 points in the second half and No. 22 St. Bonaventure rallied from a 16-point deficit to beat Clemson 68-65 in the semifinals of the Charleston Classic.

Lofton finished with 22 points and Holmes 19.

South Florida guard Javon Greene (1) and Auburn guard Devan Cambridge (35) battle for a loose ball Friday during the first half in Tampa.

Gators coach Mullen on hot seat

Florida plays at Missouri today

DAVE SKRETTA
AP sports writer

Dan Mullen first came to the Southeastern Conference as the offensive coordinator for Urban Meyer at Florida in 2005, and every day of every year since that point Mullen has felt as if he was coaching for his job.

Might be more true than ever this week.

Now the Gators' head coach, Mullen is coming off a shootout win over lower-level Samford last weekend that reinforced many of the perceived shortcomings of a program that has been to three straight New Year's Six bowl games: shaky recruiting that has led to a drop in talent, and shakier coaching that led to missed tackles and unforced errors.

That's why some believe Mullen's job is on the line Saturday against Missouri and next week against Florida State.

"You're under a certain pressure to perform," acknowledged Mullen, who took Mississippi State to eight bowl games in nine years before returning to Gainesville. "To me, this week's no different than last week or the week before or five years before or 10 years before. I think you're always that way. You're always expected to perform in this league."

The Gators (5-5, 2-5 SEC) have struggled so often this season that Mullen already has fired defensive coordinator Todd Grantham and run-game coordinator John Hevesy. But that didn't help against Samford, which built a 14-point lead at one point and piled up 530 yards in the 70-52 shootout loss.

It took a virtuoso performance from Emory Jones to save the

Associated Press
Florida head coach Dan Mullen watches from the sideline Nov. 6 during the first half against South Carolina in Columbia, S.C.

Gators and, just maybe, Mullen's job. Jones threw for 464 yards and six touchdowns while running for 86 yards and another score, breaking Tim Tebow's school-record for total offense.

"We were down 42-28 but it just showed, like I said, it showed how much we care about each other," Jones said. "All the things we've been through this season and it showed that we all care about each other. That we still have fight. We'll go to war with each other every time. That's what we did and that's what it showed."

The Tigers (5-5, 2-4) have had plenty of problems of their own. Like the Gators, their defense has been so bad that coach Eli Drinkwitz has already fired line coach Jethro Franklin, and their offense has been inconsistent all season.

Now they're in the same position as the Gators in needing one more win to reach bowl eligibility.

"We've just got to make sure that we're focused on the things that are important," Drinkwitz said this week. "You got the rest of your life to get on TikTok and get on dating apps and all that other stuff. You've got 10 days to play two SEC football games are going to determine the kind of season we have."

SUBTLE IMPROVEMENT

While the Tigers still ranked second-to-last in the Football Bowl Subdivision against the run, they've actually played better of late, holding South Carolina to 57 yards rushing last weekend. But they'll be tested by the Gators, who average more than 227 yards per game on the ground to rank in the top 10 nationally.

"This defensive scheme has always been a scheme that compliments everyone if you just work within it," Tigers defensive coordinator Steve Wilks said, "and you can see that across the board. Guys are performing and playing better."

SPEAKING OF THE GROUND

Florida coughed up 321 yards rushing to LSU and 284 to South Carolina in its last two SEC games. That bodes well for Missouri running back Tyler Badie, who has gone over 200 yards rushing in a game four times this season.

TURNOVER TROUBLES

The Gators have thrown 15 interceptions and lost three fumbles this season, and the 18 total turnovers puts them 104th in the nation. Missouri quarterbacks haven't been a whole lot better with 10 interceptions this season.

FOND FAREWELLS

It will be Senior Day for the Tigers, including those who returned for an extra year of eligibility because of the pandemic; the Tigers head to Arkansas next week. It also will be the final SEC game for many Gators, who play the Seminoles next week.

"I didn't really realize it was my last SEC game. That's crazy," Florida defensive end Zach Carter said, "but I'm taking it all in and making the most of these moments. I won't forget them."

SERIES HISTORY

Not only have the teams split the 10 previous meetings, nobody has won more than two straight in the series. That could be a good omen for the Tigers, who lost 23-6 in Columbia two years ago and 41-17 last season in Gainesville.

Jurkovec's return has BC rolling

FSU coming off emotional win

JIMMY GOLEN
AP sports writer

BOSTON — There's no excuse anymore for being surprised by Boston College quarterback Phil Jurkovec.

The Notre Dame transfer made a last-minute return from a wrist injury to help the Eagles beat Virginia Tech on Nov. 5. Then, with a full week of practice to get ready for Georgia Tech, he accounted for five touchdowns and led BC to a second straight win.

As they head into Saturday's game against Florida State, the Eagles (6-4, 2-4 Atlantic Coast Conference) are riding a two-game winning streak and they are 4-0 this season with Jurkovec at quarterback.

"We have a big challenge," Seminoles coach Mike Norvell. "You turn on film, and you know that is there."

With off an emotional comeback victory over rival Miami, Florida State (4-6, 3-4), kept itself alive for a bowl berth. But the Seminoles will have to beat BC and then Florida to finish the season.

"They understand what's ahead," Norvell said. "You win a rivalry game, and that's big. But to be able to take the step afterwards is something that's critical for us. We know the opportunity that's in front of us, we need to go seize that."

After four straight losses, Jurkovec appeared to turn things around for the Eagles with a 17-3 victory over the Hokies, when he played for the first time since he was injured in Week 2 with what the team called a potential season-ending injury.

Against the Yellow Jackets last week, he ran for three touchdowns and threw for three more.

"We're excited about Phil," BC coach Jeff Hefley said. "He's not just a big guy who can throw. He can run. He makes defenses think. You've got to stop him from running, and then he can throw the ball 55 yards down the field, so it opens stuff up."

Here are some other things to look for in Saturday's game:

EMOTIONAL WIN

Florida State opened the season with four straight losses before recovering to win three in a row. Then came two more losses before the Seminoles rallied from an eight-point deficit in the final five minutes to beat Miami 31-28 last week.

It was their first victory over a rival — Miami, Florida or Clemson — since a 2017 win over the Gators.

"They won a big game against Miami, a big rivalry, they had lost two in a row. You respect that they came back," Hefley said. "I'm sure they're feeling really good right now. They should be."

Associated Press
Boston College quarterback Phil Jurkovec drops back to hand off during the first half Nov. 13 against Georgia Tech in Atlanta.

RED ZONE

Florida State has converted 25 consecutive trips to the Red Zone — the longest active streak in the ACC and the third-longest in the nation. The Seminoles rank first in the conference and 18th nationally, scoring on 25 of 35 trips inside the 20.

"You want to get points. You want to be efficient. When you do have to kick, you want to finish the job," Norvell said. "It's understanding that it's a huge swing of the game to settle for 3 when you're in position to score a touchdown."

RUNNING GAME

Seminoles back Jordan Travis has 16 career touchdowns, including two at BC late in the Seminoles' 2019 win — just one part of an FSU ground game that has been its strength.

Jashaun Corbin has 815 rushing yards and is seventh in the nation with a 6.57 yards per carry average. He has had four 100-yard games, though he has not had one against a Power 5 team since a loss to Louisville on Sept. 25.

TURNOVERS

The Seminoles have recorded at least one interception in six straight games, their longest streak since 2014. Their season total of 16 takeaways ranks second in the ACC and their 10 interceptions is more than they had in all nine games in 2020.

HONORS

Jurkovec was named the ACC quarterback of the week for the second time in the 41-30 victory over Georgia Tech that made the Eagles bowl-eligible.

Jurkovec averaged 23.9 yards per completion against Georgia Tech. That was the fourth-best number for an ACC quarterback since 1996.

Interim coach vs embattled coach when VT visits Miami

TIM REYNOLDS
AP sports writer

MIAMI GARDENS — Somebody is going to earn bowl eligibility. Somebody is going to fall deeper into misery.

With an interim coach on one side and an embattled coach on the other, Virginia Tech visits Miami on Saturday in a matchup of teams that expected more this season. They have identical records; 5-5 overall, 3-3 in the Atlantic Coast Conference, not remotely close to the aspirational level for either program.

J.C. Price, who played for Virginia Tech and was an All-American there in 1995 — when the Hokies went 0-2, then beat Miami to start a run toward a 10-2 finish — will serve as interim coach after Justin Fuente was told he wouldn't be back in 2022 and subsequently decided to not finish 2021.

Price was Virginia Tech's co-defensive line coach and defensive recruiting coordinator. He's married to a former Virginia Tech women's basketball standout and member of the school's sports Hall of Fame, the former Jenny Root.

"We think he's the right man for that position," athletic director Whit Babcock said. "This is his school."

Price still faces an uncertain future. So does Miami coach Manny Diaz, after one of the people who hired him, Blake James, was fired as athletic director Monday. Diaz is 19-15 in his three seasons and the volume of calls for his ouster keeps rising, especially after last week's last-second loss at rival Florida State.

The last six games, all of them ACC contests, have been like none other in Miami history: all decided by four points or less, and all with the Hurricanes allowing at least 30 points. The Hurricanes are 3-3 in those games, with a combined score of 200-200.

Diaz said he's feeling pressure, but no more than usual.

"I'm almost done with six years at the University of Miami and I've never felt going into a game that it wasn't a game that we didn't have to win," said Diaz, whose first three years were as defensive coordinator. "What's required to go win a football game is what's required. And that's it. When you sign up and you wear The U, that's what's required."

RAMBO CLOSES IN

Hurricanes WR Charleston Rambo has 954 receiving yards this season, putting the Oklahoma transfer on the brink of the fifth 1,000-yard season in Miami history. He's also within 208 of matching Allen Hurns' school record of 1,162 in 2013. Rambo also has 64 catches so far this year, eight shy of the school mark of 72 set by Leonard Hankerson in 2010.

SCORING FIRST

Virginia Tech is 5-2 this season when scoring first, 0-3 when the opponent does. Miami is 4-0 this season and 13-2 under Diaz when scoring first, but 1-5 when the opponent scores first this season and 6-13 in Diaz's three seasons.

CLOSE RIVALRY

Miami leads the all-time series 23-15, but the last 21 meetings have been about as close as close gets. The Hurricanes are 11-10 since the start of the 2000 season against Virginia Tech. Combined score of those 21 games: Virginia Tech 526, Miami 522.

in an opponent's seat. Visualize that player's hand and ask yourself what you would do. If you would make one play, but this player does something else, perhaps you have pictured his hand incorrectly.

On the deal in the diagram, West was Picabo Petersen, who did not need to peekaboo, her bridge game being almost as beautiful as she. Her fiancé, Biggles Blinkerton, sat East. The auction was exciting. Biggles opted to bid his five-card major immediately, North cue-bid two hearts to show a good hand with spade support, and Picabo loved to double her opponents.

Picabo led the club king and shifted to the heart four, East winning with the ace. Thinking his partner had led her singleton at trick one, Biggles returned the club four, hoping for a diamond ruff in return. However, declarer ruffed, drew trumps and claimed 10 tricks.

"Oh, Biggles!" wailed Picabo. "How can I have the singleton club king and king-third of hearts? With that, I would have bid two hearts immediately or supported hearts over three clubs, not bid three diamonds. My heart switch must be a singleton. Just return the heart 10 at trick three, and we collect an 800-point penalty.

"But next time," she continued, "I will lead my singleton. Then you can't go wrong."

Annie offers advice

Dear Annie: I need help. I've let my niece move in with me, my husband and my 17-year-old daughter after her husband committed suicide.

You see, she and her husband had issues for the last two years. They were both on drugs. I felt sorry for her after he passed. She has a sister and a 16-year-old son. Her son lives with his best friend and his family. My niece signed over custody to his mom, so she doesn't have many responsibilities.

It's been almost three months since she moved in. She doesn't work. I pay for everything for her. She doesn't do anything. I cook, clean and do her laundry. She will go out with her friends and come back, but I know they've been partying. I don't know what to do. It's causing problems between me and my husband.

I can't afford to take care of her. I don't know how to tell her she has to find a place to go. I feel like a bad aunt, but she doesn't want to help herself or anything. What should I do? — Agonizing Aunt

Dear Agonizing: First off, please know you are absolutely not a "bad aunt." You opened your heart and your home to your niece after this unthinkable tragedy in her life and have shown her such compassion and understanding.

As supportive as you sound and want to be for her, you cannot enable her to continue the behavior you've described. Though still grieving the loss of her husband, no doubt, your niece must start putting her life back in order for herself and for the benefit of her son.

Let her know that to continue staying in your home, she must contribute like any other adult would — that means cleaning dishes, pitching in around the house, finding a job, paying rent and more. She also cannot under any circumstances use drugs under your roof nor should she outside the home if she wants to continue staying with you.

Suggest that she speak with a therapist or grief counselor to work through the trauma of her late husband's death and seek help to heal from her years of substance use.

Dear Annie: I appreciate your advice to "Fed Up" who was fed up with her mother-in-law's relationship with her husband's ex-wife. Your advice was almost dead-on.

My parents have been divorced for almost 30 years, but my paternal grandmother is still friends with my mother. My father recently asked me to tell my mother that it is no longer appropriate for her to maintain a relationship with his mother. I was very hurt.

My paternal grandmother was my rock during my parents' divorce. She was the only one who had the balanced grace to do what was right for me, the kid in the middle of their mess. Even at the age of 38, hearing my dad ask me to destroy the last sense of family cohesion triggered deep-seated trauma for me.

You are right. The relationship between mother-in-law and her grandchildren's mother shouldn't concern her, but further, the relationship probably holds down some sense of balance and family cohesion for her stepchildren.

— Traumatized, Too

Dear Traumatized: Thank you for your letter and for sharing your perspective. I hope it serves to change how others may view this sort of relationship dynamic following a divorce. Ring or no ring, there are some bonds that never break.

WORDY GURDY®

BY TRICKY RICKY KANE

Every answer is a rhyming pair of words (like FAT CAT and DOUBLE TROUBLE), and they will fit in the letter squares. The number after the definition tells you how many syllables in each word.
