Crystal River hosting charrette

The public is invited to participate in the city of Crystal River's week-long planning charrette June 21-25, where the city and its consultant will host a series of meetings and workshops to develop a civic master plan. This highly illustrative document will address development opportunities, preservation concerns, and environmental needs within the community.

There are several ways to participate, starting with the kickoff and hands-on design session at 6 p.m. Monday, June 21 at Crystal River High School.

For more information, go to www.crystalrivercivicmasterplan.com.

Food giveaway continues at fairgrounds

Beginning at 9 a.m. Wednesday, June 16, 23 and 30, the public can receive food at the Citrus County fairgrounds at 3600 S Florida Ave., Inverness, FL 34450 — drive-thru only.

Monetary donations are needed to continue feeding Citrus County residents. Please consider donating through the New Church Without Walls (www.newchurchwithoutwalls.com), Citrus United Way (www.citrusunitedway.org), Community Food Bank of Citrus County (www.communityfoodbankofcitruscounty.org) or We Care (www.wecarefoodpantry.org).

Homosassa celebrates with golf cart parade

Historic Homosassa is putting on a golf cart procession to celebrate what its locals love about it.

Staging for the Olde Homosassa Life Golf Cart Parade starts at 11 a.m. Saturday, June 19, near its sponsors, the Old Mill Tavern and the Museum Café, at 10465/10466 W. Yulee Drive, Homosassa.

Participants are encouraged to decorate their carts with their favorite things about Homosassa. Music and food will also be available.

Planning organization to meet

The Hernando/Citrus Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO) will have a public meeting at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, June 17, at the Lecanto Government Building, 3600 W. Sovereign Path, room 166.

Social distancing is required and face coverings are suggested.

Approximately one week prior to the meeting the meeting agenda may be viewed online at hernandocounty.us or hernandocitrusmpo.com.

The public is encouraged to attend. For information, contact Steve Diez, MPO executive director, at 352-754-4082 ext. 28013 or mpo@hernandocounty.us.

No more masks in schools

School board votes to drop requirement for face covering for students, staff

HANNAH SACHEWICZ
Staff writer

The mask repeal was the main buzz of the Citrus County School Board meeting on Monday, June 14. Although listed last on their public hearing agenda, District 1 School Board member, Thomas Kennedy, made a special request for the board to address the long-awaited topic first.

The district implemented the use of face coverings on July 22, 2020, in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. On Monday, members voted unanimously to repeal the face covering policy.

Students, employees, visitors, vendors or other persons will no longer be required to wear a face covering while at or inside a school building, school district building, school bus or other vehicle owned, leased or operated by the School Board.

"This will be effective immediately upon us voting," Kennedy said to the audience. "We could not have repealed this any sooner."

School board members approved the implementation of EDPlan, an internet-based case management system. EDPlan is a platform where threat assessment teams can document and monitor student threats to harm themselves or others.

EDPlan will align with current use of the Comprehensive School Threat Assessment Guidelines (CSTAG) and the Columbia Suicide Severity Rating Scale (CSSR). The main difference is the change from a paper-based system to a digital platform.

The new system will also ensure follow-up interventions with at-risk students and monitor their safety plans.

"It's not just checking the boxes," District 3

School Board member Douglas Dodd said, adding the most important thing is to get the necessary resources to students.

In the first year, EDPlan will cost the district $29,505, which includes configuration, professional development and the annual subscription. After the first year, the annual subscription cost is $18,255.

City gives ultimatum to owners of plaza

Crystal River tells owners of Crystal Square to address problems or expect a lawsuit

BUSTER THOMPSON
Staff writer

Crystal River's leaders gave the owners of a blighted shopping plaza within the city a major deadline to fix their property, doubling down on pursuing a lawsuit if demolition isn't done.

By City Council's meeting on Aug. 9, city attorney Robert Batsel Jr. will either have a redevelopment agreement or a legal complaint for the governing body to vote on.

If Crystal Square ownership, which shares the same name as its lot's 579 SE U.S. 19 address, doesn't agree by then to demolish its 8-acre plaza, the city will be poised to take it to court.

Council came to the consensus at its regular meeting the evening of Monday, June 14, after telling the owner's lawyer its patience over the plaza's unsightliness has worn thin for years.

"We're not a heavy-handed government; we strive everyday to work with businesses and folks," Mayor Joe Meek told Crystal Square attorney Melissa Chlusk. "We want to work with you but give us something here. ... We're out of time."

Chlusk tried to assure council members her New York-based clients aren't "faceless, nameless and just don't care," adding, "they always thought they were in compliance" but were led astray by poor management.

"We understand you're fed up, upset, and you have our attention," she said. "Your concerns have been heard and we're trying to work on them."

Besides the threat of legal action, another incentive for plaza owners to demolish — under a pending redevelopment agreement — is the city's waiver of its $333,350 in unpaid fees.

Batsel said the city would also be willing to release Crystal Square from its daily penalty of $250, which began to accrue after a magistrate found on Tuesday the plaza failed to remedy all of its 11 city code violations since a May 13 order was given to do so.

New teaching rules shouldn't have local impact
Officials: Local instruction already follows standards

BUSTER THOMPSON
Staff writer

A controversial amendment people say will either clarify or curtail the state's teaching guidelines won't alter what the Citrus County School District already expects of its educators.

"This isn't going to change anything we don't already do," the district's chief academic officer, Dr. Scott Hebert, said on the new rules the Florida Department of Education board approved Thursday, June 10. "We in Citrus have always followed the standards for required instruction."

Backed by Gov. Ron DeSantis and Education

Commissioner Richard Corcoran, the additions to Florida's law on public schooling emphasize how a teacher shouldn't be subjective, opinionated or persuasive when instructing students, especially in U.S. social studies.

"Instruction on the required topics must be factual and objective, and may not suppress or distort significant historical events, such as the Holocaust," the rule states, "and may not define American history as something other than the creation of a new nation based largely on universal principles stated in the Declaration of Independence."

Suncoast Parkway update at MPO meeting

MICHAEL D. BATES
Staff writer

In four months, the first leg of the Suncoast Parkway extension from U.S. 98 to West Cardinal Street will open to motorists.

Two months after that, the full length of the toll road to State Road 44 will open — just in time for Christmas.

A Florida Turnpike Enterprise (FTE) representative Thursday will update the public about these imminent events during the Hernando/Citrus Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO) meeting.

It's at 1:30 p.m. at the Lecanto Government Center, 3600 W. Sovereign Path, room 166.

Work on the $135 million project began in February 2018. Funding is entirely based on FTE's toll and concessions revenue.

Also on the agenda for

Thursday's MPO meeting:

■ The MPO's consulting firm, Kimley Horn and Associates, will discuss the Congestion Management Plan, designed to improve area transportation corridors and reduce bottlenecks.

■ The board will appoint someone to the Citrus County Transportation Disadvantaged Local Coordinating Board.

■ The MPO board will discuss the Fiscal Year 2020-2026 Transportation Improvement Program.

To view the entire agenda, visit <https://bit.ly/3gzKEzz>

Around the COUNTY

Veterans appreciation committee to meet today

The Veterans Appreciation Week Ad Hoc Coordinating Committee will conduct their monthly meeting for Citrus County's 29th annual Veterans Appreciation Week at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 16, in the conference room of the Citrus County Chronicle building, 1624 N. Meadowcrest Blvd. in Crystal River.

All veteran service organizations and civic groups are encouraged to send representatives to participate in the planning process.

Interested individuals are also welcome to attend. Attendees are asked to wear a face mask and practice social distancing.

For information, call Chris Gregoriou at 352-302-9777.

Attend a crime prevention presentation

A speaker from the Statewide Crime Prevention Task Force will present "Identity Theft & Crime Prevention," from 10 to 11:30 a.m.

June 18 at the Friends of Citrus and the Nature Coast Wings Grief Center, 8471 W. Periwinkle Lane in Homosassa.

Additional topics will include home burglary, travel safety, purse snatching and more.

The presentation is free and open to the public and will observe CDC guidelines.

Space may be limited. To register in advance, call 352-249-1470.

Democratic Executive Committee to meet today

The Citrus County Democratic Executive Committee (DEC) announced that Gerry Mulligan, publisher of the Citrus County Chronicle, will be the guest speaker at their meeting at 7 p.m. today, Wednesday, June 16, via Zoom.

Registration is open to all registered democrats. To register, visit tinyurl.com/myxp8264.

Abuse shelter seeks donations

The Citrus County Abuse Shelter Association (CASA) is in need of hair brushes, blow dryers, sippy cups and disinfectant spray.

The next time you're out shopping, pick up some extra supplies and drop them off at the CASA Outreach office between 9:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, at 1100 E. Turner Camp Road, Inverness.

Shelter needs can also be dropped off at their alternative drop off location, Carol's Interiors and Floors, 6410 S. Suncoast Blvd. in Homosassa.

For information, email Kimberly Martini at kimberly@casafi.org.

If interested in volunteering, call 352-344-8111 or download the Volunteer Application at casafi.org.

FFRA members practice for upcoming Mind & Body Challenge

NANCY KENNEDY
Staff writer

On Saturday, Mary Ellen Schabrich carefully aimed and then tossed her horseshoe.

Although she missed, she came close, which, as the saying goes, counts in horseshoes (and hand grenades).

"It's fun," she told a Chronicle reporter. "I did this a long time ago."

Schabrich was one of several dozen adults with developmental disabilities who were practicing for the upcoming Friends and Families Reaching for Abilities (FFRA) Mind & Body Challenge on Saturday, June 26, at St. John Paul II Catholic School in Lecanto.

Teams of six will compete in six various intellectual and physical events including: geography, math with money, spelling, disc golf, horseshoes and fill the bucket.

"My team is the 'Wild Ones.' I think we're going to win — I hope so," Schabrich said.

Bob Wilkinson, also on the Wild Ones, said horseshoes is his "strong event."

FFRA started about 22 years ago as a small group of families for support, camaraderie and a social outlet for their adult children.

"In the past four or five years it's boomed," said FFRA president Mary Ellen Richmond. "More and more people are getting involved."

Mary Ellen Schabrich practices her horseshoes technique as Martin Faulmino, from the Knights of Columbus Council 15154, coaches during a practice for the upcoming Friends and Families Reaching for Abilities (FFRA) Mind & Body Challenge on Saturday, June 26, at St. John Paul II Catholic School in Lecanto.

One group that has jumped all in is the Knights of Columbus.

A number of them from around the county volunteered as coaches for the upcoming challenge event.

"The reason the Knights want to get involved is because that's what we do," said Martin Faulmino from the Knights of Columbus Council 15154. "It was actually the Knights that initiated this (event) ... like a mini Olympics and maybe a barbecue, and then FFRA made it much better."

"But we're here because we're all about charitable activities in the community," Faulmino said. "It's what we're here for, and we truly love it."

Robert DeSimone, FFRA board member and chairman of the Mind & Body Challenge, said every activity and event FFRA plans is to provide opportunities for its people to participate in things that are both challenging and fun, to reach for untapped abilities.

"We do this for them, and also to raise awareness about people with developmental disabilities and the challenges they face, and their willingness to participate," DeSimone said.

In the past few years, FFRA has put on an Abilities Art Gala that showcased their members' artwork and a "Top Hat" Big Band concert and dance, which drew a packed house.

DeSimone added that another aspect of their events is to give their people an opportunity to mix with people in the community and vice versa.

"It's about forming relationships," he said, "and that's what is important."

Tickets to the FFRA Mind & Body Challenge Saturday, June 26, at St. John Paul II Catholic School in Lecanto are $10, which includes a hot dog lunch with chips and a beverage. Events begin at 10 a.m.

For information about tickets or about FFRA, call Robert DeSimone at 352-628-5606.

Ron Phillips helps one of the teams practicing for the team spelling event for the upcoming Friends and Families Reaching for Abilities (FFRA) Mind & Body Challenge June 26, at St. John Paul II Catholic School in Lecanto. Every activity and event FFRA plans is to provide opportunities for its people to participate in things that are both challenging and fun, to reach for untapped abilities.

FHP looking for witnesses of deadly hit-and-run

Dunnellon area the focus

THOMPSON
Staff writer

State authorities continue their search for witnesses of a deadly hit-and-run crash from almost two months ago outside of Dunnellon.

Florida Highway Patrol is also asking for help from a tow truck driver who likely saw the 9:20 p.m. collision from April 25 near West Dunnellon Road's intersection with North Springvale Terrace.

Witnesses can call FHP at 813-558-1800. Tipsters can also remain anonymous and be eligible for a reward by contacting Citrus County Crime Stoppers at 888-269-8477.

According to FHP, which didn't release the identities of those involved, a 29-year-old Crystal River man was lying perpendicular on West Dunnellon Road (County Road 488), when a 35-year-old Morriston man driving an east-bound pickup truck struck him.

A second vehicle, a sedan, driving behind the truck also struck the man, but didn't stop afterward. Emergency responders pronounced the pedestrian dead at the crash scene.

Neither the truck's driver or his three Morriston passengers, including 4- and 6-year-old children, were injured, according to FHP.

Florida Highway Patrol

Florida Highway Patrol is asking for the driver of this tow truck, seen with headlights on left in a blur of motion at night, to contact the agency because they likely witnessed a fatal hit-and-run crash from April 25, 2021, outside of Dunnellon that killed a 29-year-old Crystal River man. View the image in color with this story online at www.chronicleonline.com. Witnesses can call FHP at 813-558-1800. Tipsters can also remain anonymous and be eligible for a reward by contacting Citrus County Crime Stoppers at 888-269-8477.

Veronika ‘Verna’ Kopka, 97

BEVERLY HILLS

Veronika “Verna” Drapko Kopka, 97, passed away peacefully in the company of her children on June 13, 2021.

Since 1984 she resided in Beverly Hills, FL, where she had moved from New Castle, PA, with her adoring husband, Edmund “Eddie” Kopka. He died in 1995 at the age of 71.

She was born on October 18, 1923, in Pittsburgh, PA. She grew up in New Castle with her younger sister, three older half brothers and loving parents, who had immigrated from Poland. Their family life was centered on the church and their ethnic culture, which were both greatly influenced by American democracy.

She excelled in school and in a secretarial and bookkeeping career, but her passion was to share her bilingual talent through performing arts. Her singing particularly had blossomed in the church, school and community. Her rich voice attained an operatic style and she learned to play the piano, then the organ. She was an organist and choir leader in parishes throughout her life.

She transitioned from a solo talent to an indomitable duet when she married in 1949. “Verna and Eddie” did everything together. Even when one was called to carry out an individual role, the other was always there in full support. Their motto was, “Leave everything better than you found it.” Throughout their marriage they were gregarious and worked tirelessly in numerous capacities on local, regional and national levels of the Polish National Catholic Church and its fraternal/financial organization, the Polish National Union of America.

In both of those realms she was called upon to lead countless projects, groups, committees and conventions or was sent across states to give speeches. From the 50s to the 90s she proved to be what we now know is a 21st century woman. She also served as president for women’s organizations in Western PA and nationally for the PNC Church.

Her greatest love and abilities shined as a daughter, mother and grandmother, especially as a selfless caregiver to loved ones who were gravely ill. It was tragic how dementia robbed her of so much the last 10 years. However, her life example will always remain to inspire her surviving family.

They are her son, Anthony D. Kopka of Beverly Hills, FL, retiring Executive Director of Daystar Life Center; daughter and her full-time caregiver the past three years, Wanda A. Copple, retired teacher of 40 years, mostly in Citrus County middle and elementary schools, and her husband, Donald, of Citrus Springs, FL; grandchildren Kristen (Kopka) and her husband Sean Owens of Orange, CT; Stephanie (Copple) and her husband Steve Cox of Orlando, FL; Lauren (Kopka) and her husband Jason Nado of Westport, CT; and Michelle Copple of Orlando, FL; great grandchildren Conner and Cooper Owens, Brielle Cox and Jaxon Nado.

A memorial service and burial will be held privately at the Fero Funeral Home and Memorial Gardens Cemetery in Beverly Hills, FL. All expressions of sympathy have been greatly appreciated by the family. In memory of their mom and “Babci” and their love for her, they only ask that members of other families hold one another close with the same love.

Tara Mulligan, 58

CRYSTAL RIVER

Tara Elizabeth Mulligan, 58

Tara was born on September 26, 1962 in Rockaway, NY to Eleanor and Gerald Mulligan. She attended Brooklyn college of nursing where she became a Registered Nurse. In 1982, Tara was married to Andrew Mulligan and together they raised two daughters and two sons. Tara spent her adult life in Crystal River, FL working as a compassionate warrior in the healthcare field. Tara touched many lives with her ability to put others first.

Tara was a loving wife, a fiercely devoted mother, and a spectacular grandmother to her 8 grandchildren. In addition to her family, she was often surrounded by a plethora of children who look up to her as a bonus mother. She was always there for her family and children of choice, be it with a sandwich, a ride, or time in a safe space.

Tara loved to swim, to cook, and to work on art projects with her grandchildren. She had no fear, and was quick to remind those around her that “soap is your friend”.

Tara passed away peacefully on June 10, 2021 at Seven Rivers Hospital with her husband and children present.

No memorial service is planned; please make donations in Tara’s name to Humane Society of Citrus County.

James ‘Jimmy’ Scenna, 47

With a heavy heart, we regret to inform you that on Friday, June 11, 2021, James “Jimmy” Edward Scenna, passed away at the age of 47.

Jimmy was born on 14 January 1974 to James and Linda Scenna in Milford, CT.

The early years were spent with Missy, Tommy, and the cousins, riding bikes all over Milford, going to Sloppy Joes game center, and playing down at the beach playground sliding down the sea wall, this is where Jimmy caught a sand shark. When not at the water or all over town, Jimmy built makeshift floats to go through the swamp areas collecting bottles to cash in for penny candy and colas. Jimmy also helped father dig a cellar amongst other projects and was teammates with his sister Melissa helping lead the Rochester little league baseball team to winning 2 championships.

Jimmy moved to Florida a week before his 10th birthday, a major change of scenery. He acclimated well picking up where he left off in CT, exploring the town and finding all the best fishing spots in the neighborhood and always making sure that Ed’s Tackle Shop and Costa’s deli were a must first stop. Growing up in an aeronautical neighborhood, Jimmy and his siblings were able to get close-up to the planes and even sit in one or two at times. After the first year in Florida, Jimmy started spending a good part of his time over the summers assisting his father on different jobsites including Homosassa Elementary, The Marine Science Station, and Badcock’s in Inverness to name a few.

When not on jobsites Jimmy helped father in his paper business making pads and other stationary products. Moreover, Jimmy assisted in running papers at night and shortly after he had his license, he used dad’s Nissan to run the Tampa Tribune. One night running papers, he lost the rear end of the Nissan and managed to get it fixed before father got back into town (....we told him about it later). Then Jimmy landed a job at The Boat House, then went to work at Crackers on and off for several years where he would take breaks to work other gigs, once at Proline boats for a handful of years before moving to Clearwater to run cable. After running cable, Jimmy went to manage Scooters then work at Colony Stone while also running papers for the Chronicle.

Jimmy decided he wanted to become an electrician and went on to work for Gaudette Electric. After 4 years at Gaudette, Jimmy realized he was close to the cut off age to enlist and decided it was time to serve. Joining the Navy as a helicopter mechanic, he would go on to do two overseas deployments where he helped aid the humanitarian efforts in Haiti after the 2010 earthquake and then in the capturing of Somali Pirates and holding them on-board his ship. After the Navy, Jimmy came back to Florida where he was a Partner in Hobbs End thrift store.

After losing his father, Jimmy took some to himself, reflected and pondered his next adventure. This led to SMG where he earned his Class A CDL license and was hired on with SMG. After running for SMG and loving it, the open road kept calling him, to the point he had to answer. He finished his time at SMG and signed on with Swift. While working at Swift, he purchased his truck and become an Owner Operator.

In Jimmy’s short 47 years, he lived a full life, from as a child building snow forts, underground forts, tree forts, and forts in swamps, (some of these forts were almost as nice as a house) to traveling the United States and throughout Europe. You might knock Jimmy down, but you were not knocking Jimmy out, (just ask the guy at Frogs).

There was practically nothing he could not do, Jimmy could rebuild your engine, change out your electric service, build you a house from the ground up, or manage a kitchen. He stepped foot in all 48 continental states and spent time in Europe. Jimmy was big on family and friends impacting many lives but would not hesitate to call it like it was if you were in the wrong. There was not a thing he would not do and if he had the means to help, he would help as long as you did it his way, regardless the cost to himself. He lived how he was raised, with respect, integrity, and compassion.

Jimmy was preceded in death by his father James. He is survived by his daughter Chapin, his mother Linda, his brothers Thomas, Daniel, Michael, Robert and Sisters Melissa, Kellie, and Vanessa and a long list of loving aunts, uncles, cousins, nephews, and nieces. Throughout all of Jimmy’s accomplishments in life, his biggest was the love he shared with his family and friends. Jimmy was a son, a father, a brother, and a friend to many, who was loved dearly and who will be sorely missed.

Visitation will be from 5 PM to 7 PM at Strickland Funeral Home in Crystal River, FL. Funeral services will be at 10 AM Friday June 18th at the Funeral Home. Burial with full military honors will follow at Crystal River Memorial Park Cemetery.

Company Spotlight Vaccine team

Shares in Ocugen jumped after the drugmaker named a manufacturer for the COVID-19 vaccine it is co-developing with India's Bharat Biotech. Pennsylvania-based Ocugen chose Jubilant HollisterStier of Spokane, Washington as its manufacturing partner for Covaxin as it works toward "potential commercial manufacturing" for U.S. and Canadian markets. Ocugen said securing a U.S. manufacturer was critical as it prepares submissions to U.S. and Canadian regulators.

"Based on Bharat Biotech's strong track record of developing and commercializing vaccines globally and Jubilant's proven track record in manufacturing, we are well prepared to transition U.S. manufacturing of Covaxin to our new partner," said Senior Vice President J.P. Gabriel. Ocugen climbed 2.1% to close at $6.26 on Tuesday, making up some of the ground it lost after announcing last week that it would no longer pursue an emergency use authorization for Covaxin.

Stocks drop ahead of key Fed decision

Associated Press

NEW YORK — U.S. stocks slipped from their record heights Tuesday as investors wait to hear whether the Federal Reserve will give any clue about when it may let up on its massive support for markets. The S&P 500 dipped 8.56, or 0.2%, to 4,246.59, as the Federal Reserve began a two-day meeting on interest-rate policy. A day earlier, the index returned to an all-time high amid optimism that ultralow interest rates pegged by the Fed, COVID-19 vaccinations and financial support from the government are revving up the economy. The Dow Jones Industrial Average lost 94.42 points, or 0.3%, to 34,299.33. The Nasdaq composite fell 101.29, or 0.7%, to 14,072.86 from its own record. The S&P 500 was down as much as 0.4% earlier in the day, after a report showed inflation on the wholesale level leaped last month by even more than economists expected. Prices for producers were 6.6% higher in May than a year earlier, the highest figure on record going back to 2010 and the latest evidence that inflation is bursting higher across the economy. The fear is that if higher inflation gets entrenched, it could force the Fed to pull back on the $120 billion in monthly purchases of bonds it's pledged to keep mortgages cheap and longer-term interest rates low, as well as raise short-term interest rates off their record low. The Fed has so far said that it sees higher inflation as being only temporary, and it will announce its latest decision on rate policy Wednesday afternoon. "From a prices standpoint, we're seeing inflationary pressure, and we believe the jury is still out on the timing and extent of when we see a leveling or whether this new normal of higher prices is cemented," said Greg Bassuk, founder and CEO of AXS Investments. Most economists expect the Fed to say again on Wednesday that it sees higher inflation being only temporary, which would allow it to hold steady on its support for markets. But they also say Wednesday afternoon could offer the first sign that the Fed is mulling when to start slowing its purchases of bonds. Many investors agree with the Fed's view that higher inflation won't last very long, and that it's the expected result of an economy escaping out of pandemic lockdowns. A survey of fund managers said that 72% say inflation is only "transitory," according to BofA Global Research. That has the majority saying that any upcoming drop in stock prices would likely be less than 10%.

Record rise in US wholesale prices over the past year

WASHINGTON — Wholesale prices, driven by rising food costs, increased 0.8% in May and by a unprecedented amount over the past year as the U.S. economy emerges from pandemic lockdowns and pushes inflation higher. The monthly gain in the producer price index, which measures inflation pressure before it reaches consumers, followed a 0.6

SHAPING THE FUTURE

Crystal River seeks input on the future of the town

The city of Crystal River is about to go through the process of creating a civic master plan that will direct growth in the community for the next 40 years.

Here is the good news: The city wants your input before the important decisions are made.

The concept behind a civic master plan is that it takes the opinions of the people who live in the community and mixes it up with good planning practices to create a document that can assist as a guidebook for community growth.

Many good things have been happening in Crystal River over the past decade. The purchase of Three Sisters Springs and creation of a world-class National Wildlife Refuge put the city on the cover of National Geographic magazine. That started a surge of ecotourism that has not relented. The Hunter Springs Park redevelopment has created a waterfront oasis in the middle of town. The Kings Bay Park kayak center has focused waterfront activity at that facility.

The building of a town center and the planning and construction of the Riverwalk created momentum for city improvements. A Main Street organization of volunteers now has its feet under it and the Citrus Avenue business district is booming.

But how do you tie everything together and deal with the underlying issues? Issues such as historic preservation, parking, mobility and economic development need to be planned out.

Waterfront and downtown development are big questions. In addition, how do we protect the environment while all this activity is happening?

THE ISSUE:

A civic master plan for the city of Crystal River.

OUR OPINION:

Get involved.

The city has employed one of the state's top planning consultants to help organize a weeklong community charrette to gather opinions and feedback on what the city should look like going forward.

The work begins Monday, June 21, at 6 p.m. with a community meeting at Crystal River High School. The invitation goes out to residents, business owners and anyone who considers themselves a stakeholder in the city's future.

From Tuesday through Thursday, informal input will be solicited via an open studio that will be set up at the Crystal River Woman's Club on Citrus Avenue. The open studio will run from 10 a.m. until 7 p.m. on those three days and all stakeholders are invited to stop by and offer their opinions.

On Friday evening, June 25, a 6 p.m., a gathering will be held at the Train Depot on Crystal Street for a progress presentation on what the city of the future will look like.

This is an important community endeavor offered by the city to make sure everyone has some input on what Crystal River will look like. We urge all stakeholders to attend at least one of the events during the week to offer input. For more details, you can visit the official website at www.crystalrivercivicmasterplan.com.

Experience at Jenkins Kia positive

Well, I had heard that the trade-in value of used cars was up as a result of inflation and a shortage of new cars, so I went to Jenkins Kia of Crystal River (formerly Citrus Kia) to trade in my 2020 Kia Sportage — which I wasn't planning on doing otherwise.

At the showroom there was a beautiful Neptune dark blue 2021 Kia Seltos that I fell in love with and let the helpful salesman Aaron know about.

Not long afterward, he had someone drive it toward the door so I could take a test drive.

I was a little hesitant because of expense, but the manager explained that since my old car was unusually valued more — that it did not have “negative equity” in other words the value was equivalent to what my old loan was. It was also explained that the new car had better gas mileage — good in this day and age and more safety protections, such as warnings for passing cars, lane assistance and collision avoidance braking. It was explained with great concern for my safety that I should have all of the features that my older car did not have.

So Aaron and I took a test drive, and what a difference it was compared to my old car. To save gas, the motor actually stopped automatically when I made a stop. I noticed on the dash it read 37 miles per gallon when driving in traffic!

To open and lock the car, I just pressed a button on the handle. To start the engine, just pressed another button. The car would not lock with the keys inside — that will avoid embarrassment and locksmith charges!

So I bought the car with nothing out of pocket.

It's true I have found the perfect car, my appreciation goes out to everyone at Jenkins Crystal River Kia for all of the help! I and am really happy. We don't realize how much time is spent in a car, but I guarantee, I will enjoy every minute in this one.

Words on race spark sorrow

This letter is in response to the recent letter on Critical Race Theory (CRT).

Oh my, where do I start? CRT originated in the mid-'70s in the writing of American legal civil rights scholars looking at where law and race intersect. It became a movement in the 1980's because legal activists wanted to know why civil rights era victories had been stalled and were being eroded. A recent example of this are the voter suppression laws recently passed in Florida and Texas.

Basically, there two themes that they base CRT on: Societal racism exists and maintains power through law. They believe that through CRT transforming the relationship between law and racial power and achieving racial emancipation and anti-subordination are possible.

My question to the letter writer is what is he afraid of? Loss of power and domination? Yes, I agree lets have an honest and open discussion; not the untruths and blatant bigotry I glean from the letter. Nowhere in writing does anyone who espouses CRT call for the dismantling of America.

“The destruction of American Culture?” Do you really think that the basis of American ideals is to subjugate non-white people? Because that is what you are intimidating. I don't believe that the media is hostile at all, but to the contrary, sir, I find your words very hostile. I feel not contempt, but sorrow for you that you are so wrapped up in fear of a non-white race having the freedom that a citizen no matter what race, color, sexual identity etc., deserves.

Smile, care and love one another

I enjoyed the calm, the serenity, and friends being real. We all were young, energetic vibrant and on even keel.

There was no hierarchy, no status seekers nor efforts to eliminate some one out of any caste. The truth is we were companions, comrades without caring for someone's past.

A mom and dad were common to see; they didn't exit, they didn't flee. Staying outside, even after dark, playing silly games called kicking the can. Actually talking and laughing face-to-face until Mom called and we all ran. We friends studied together with the absence of phones. We actually wrote notes and letters and by the lake threw stones. My combination Black and Native American grade school teacher gave me swimming lessons. I had no evasion with any creed or color during my sessions. I miss my college friend Hannington Odiombo from Kenya of late. He had such enormous love in his heart and knew not of the word hate.

While our political structure seems crumbling away, there really may not be another day. Sir David Attenborough forecasts it well: our planet without change is doomed to hell. My vague memory of learning U.S. constitutional law and government structure always made sense. My observation of our current system shows some suitors of law quite dense. I remember how respectful we all were of Ali and his charm. He really wanted to win and excel without permanent harm. Sinatra, Williams, Aretha, Sammy, Elvis, Dean performed in decent attire. Many of our current “stars” might look to retire. Yes, I'm old and time marches on. And each generation has a pro and con. There is, however, one thread that should always be woven within us called CARE. Young, old, Black, white, woman, man, a chosen God or not, is a community we share. So why all this rambling and scattered thought? I guess it reminds me of all I was taught.

Over the years I've found it so much easier to smile than frown. Keep those laugh lines up rather than down. America is still a great place to live. We all just need to learn how to give. So all you old timers: kick that can, spin that bottle, olly olly oxen free!

Fire, forestry workers keep us safe

My husband and I live in Chassahowitzka, very close to the recent fire. We witnessed the Citrus County Fire Rescue (CCFR) and the Forestry division work tirelessly for over eight hours to protect our home and those near us from damage or destruction.

Most people realize that with every wind shift, even a few degrees, the firefighters were dealing with an ever-changing environment, thus having to re-evaluate and adjust their plan accordingly. We are very grateful to all who contributed to our safety and protection.

Bonus checks come from federal level

Gov. Ron DeSantis recently announced $1,000 pandemic bonus checks for first-responders, teachers and principals. These are well-deserved bonuses and are only possible because of the $10.2 billion Florida received from President Joe Biden's American Rescue Plan. I wish this is something our Governor would clarify, so we may all appreciate the benefit that Federal Aid can bring to all states in times of unprecedented crisis like the COVID-19 pandemic.

Furthermore, it's important to remember that not one Republican voted for the American Rescue Plan, a life- and economy-saving bill. Senator Rubio voted no, Senator Scott voted no, Rep. Webster voted no. On March 8, Gov. DeSantis decried the bill, saying, “I think it's designed basically to bail out the poorly governed states.”

I look forward to a fast recovery for our economy and the improvement of the welfare of our Florida community. My sincere hope is that we can do so in a spirit of cooperation and truth.

Alcohol, speeding a big problem

I'm responding to Sound Off about the article, “Watch for manatees in water” (on Friday, May 28, Page A3). Really? You think that's going to work because you put an article in the newspaper? You allow these idiots to drink alcohol while they're driving boats and some of them are speeding and they just don't care. The manatees are very slow-moving animals who have no way to get out of the way, but these people just don't care. As long as they can drink and drive their boats as fast as they can, that's all they care about. But do we do anything about it? No, we allow them to have alcohol on their boats while they're driving their boats. Pathetic.

Hopefully it all works out

(Re the Thursday, May 27, front-page story, “Chronicle sold to Paxton Media Group”): I'm sorry to hear that the Chronicle has been sold. I hope it still remains with the integrity that, Mr. Mulligan, you always provided every day, every weekend. I hope you stay with the paper because I look forward to reading it every day, especially your commentaries every Sunday. Please stay safe and stay with the paper.

Inverness already has full parking

I'm responding to Sound Off to your (Saturday, May 29, Page A8 editorial), “Beach would draw people to Inverness parks.” Really? Inverness can't even handle the traffic they've got. There is no parking in downtown Inverness for people to park. So what are you going to do about the parking? Take care of the traffic first before you try to do anything. Now you're trying to be like Crystal River. Unbelievable. Take care of your problems first before you try to add more problems on top of the problems you already have. You have a big traffic problem in Inverness and you don't take care of it, just like the parking.

Prepared for Putin

U.S. President Joe Biden sits in a limousine as he arrives in Geneva, Switzerland, Tuesday, June 15, one day before the US-Russia summit. The meeting between US President Joe Biden and Russian President Vladimir Putin is scheduled in Geneva for Wednesday, June 16.

President Biden set to meet Russian counterpart today

ELLEN KNICKMEYER

GENEVA — Fresh from supportive summits with allies, Joe Biden declared himself ready Tuesday to take on Russia's Vladimir Putin in far more confrontational talks — a climactic finish to the most important week of meetings in his young presidency.

Biden meets for his first talks as president with the Russian leader on Wednesday, in what's expected to be roughly a half-day of discussions between the two leaders and aides behind closed doors. That's after spending much of a weeklong European trip — the foreign policy highlight of his presidency so far — working to strengthen ties with like-minded partner nations in order to better deal with rivals Russia and China.

A reporter soon after Biden's arrival in Geneva on Tuesday shouted out a question on whether he was ready for Wednesday's talks. "I am always ready," Biden answered.

The American leader reached Geneva following rounds of cordial elbow bumping, grinning photo sessions and close consultations with global leaders at the Group of Seven, NATO and U.S.-European Union summits. He secured a series of joint communiqués expressing concern over Russia and China, and was at the EU on Tuesday to preside over the announcement of a breakthrough easing a long-running U.S. aircraft trade dispute with that bloc.

As for Russia, the U.S. and the EU declared they "stand united in our principled approach" to the longtime rival, "ready to respond decisively to its repeating pattern of negative behavior and harmful activities."

Biden's European tour has aimed to restore U.S. partnerships that were damaged under former President Donald Trump, who openly invited what American intelligence services said was Russian interference in U.S. political campaigns, and who sought out Putin and other autocrats he saw as strong.

In line with the chilly-so-far Biden-Putin relationship — Putin's government responded with indignation earlier this year after Biden said he considered the Russian a "killer" — the two men plan neither lunch nor dinner together, and no joint press conference after, in what's expected to be their four to five hours together.

Cosmetics study raises alarms

Claim: Over half of products in US contain toxic chemicals

MATTHEW DALY
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — More than half the cosmetics sold in the United States and Canada likely contain high levels of a toxic industrial compound linked to serious health conditions, including cancer and reduced birth weight, according to a new study.

Researchers at the University of Notre Dame tested more than 230 commonly used cosmetics and found that 56% of foundations and eye products, 48% of lip products and 47% of mascaras contained high levels of fluorine — an indicator of PFAS, so-called "forever chemicals" that are used in nonstick frying pans, rugs and countless other consumer products.

Some of the highest PFAS levels were found in waterproof mascara (82%) and long-lasting lipstick (62%), according to the study published Tuesday in the journal Environmental Science & Technology Letters. Twenty-nine products with high fluorine concentrations were tested further and found to contain between four and 13 specific PFAS chemicals, the study found. Only one item listed PFAS as an ingredient on the label.

The study results were announced as a bipartisan group of senators introduced a bill to ban the use of PFAS, or perfluoroalkyl and polyfluoroalkyl substances, in cosmetics and other beauty products. The move to ban PFAS comes as Congress considers wide-ranging legislation to set a national drinking water standard for certain PFAS chemicals and clean up contaminated sites across the country, including military bases where high rates of PFAS have been discovered.

The Environmental Protection Agency also is moving to collect industry data on PFAS chemical uses and health risks as it considers regulations to reduce potential risks caused by the chemicals.

"There is nothing safe and nothing good about PFAS," said Sen.

Richard Blumenthal, D-Conn., who introduced the cosmetics bill with Sen. Susan Collins, R-Maine. "These chemicals are a menace hidden in plain sight that people literally display on their faces every day."

Rep. Debbie Dingell, D-Mich., who has sponsored several PFAS-related bills in the House, said she has looked for PFAS in her own makeup and lipstick, but could not see if they were present because the products were not properly labeled.

"How do I know it doesn't have PFAS?" she asked at a news conference Tuesday, referring to the eye makeup, foundation and lipstick she was wearing. "People are being poisoned every day."

Graham Peaslee, a physics professor at Notre Dame and the principal investigator of the study, called the results shocking. Not only do the cosmetics pose an immediate risk to users, but they also create a long-term risk, he said. "PFAS is a persistent chemical. When it gets into the bloodstream, it stays there and accumulates," Peaslee said.

Dems may go it alone on infrastructure

LISA MASCARO
AND KEVIN
FREKING
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Patience running thin, Democratic leaders are laying the groundwork for a go-it-alone approach on President Joe Biden's big jobs and families infrastructure plans even as the White House continues negotiating with Republicans on a much more scaled-back $1 trillion proposal.

A top White House adviser assured House Democrats during a closed-door session Tuesday that there would be a fresh assessment by next week on where talks stand with the Republicans. But Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer announced he is moving ahead, huddling privately Wednesday with the Senate Budget Committee to prepare for July votes on a majority-rules approach as wary Democrats prepare to lift Biden's $1.7 billion American Jobs Plan and $1.8 billion American Families Plan to passage.

Schumer and House Speaker Nancy Pelosi are trying to calm worries from anxious rank-and-file Democrats that Biden is leaving too much on the table in talks with Republicans. Restless lawmakers want assurances that if they concede to a scaled-back bill with Republicans, it won't be the last word and the president's push for investments in climate change strategies, child care centers and other Democratic priorities will proceed — with or without GOP votes.

"We'll see where we're going to go after a week or 10 days (of) more dialogue and negotiation," White House counselor Steve Ricchetti said Tuesday, according to a partial transcript of the private caucus meeting obtained by The Associated Press.

The updated timeline comes as Biden's top legislative priority is teetering in Congress while he is overseas. The president and the Democratic leaders of the House and Senate have been engaged in a two-track strategy — reaching for a bipartisan deal with Republicans but also setting the stage for a potential majority-rules strategy in case talks fail.

Over the past week, a bipartisan group of 10 senators has narrowed in on a nearly $1 trillion deal of mainly road, highway and other traditional infrastructure projects, but without the family-related investments in child care centers and other facilities that Ricchetti insisted Tuesday remains a top priority for the administration. Republicans reject those investments as costly and unnecessary.

Nation/World BRIEFS

Israel

Israeli police officers detain a Palestinian man during clashes that erupted ahead of a planned march by Jewish ultranationalists through east Jerusalem, outside Jerusalem's Old City, Tuesday, June 15.

Israelis march in east Jerusalem in test for new government

JERUSALEM — Hundreds of Israeli ultranationalists, some chanting "Death to Arabs," paraded Tuesday in east Jerusalem in a show of force that threatened to spark renewed violence just weeks after a war with Hamas militants in the Gaza Strip. Palestinians in Gaza responded by launching incendiary balloons that caused at least 10 fires in southern Israel.

Early Wednesday, Israeli aircraft carried out a series of airstrikes at militant sites in Gaza, the first such raids since a shaky cease-fire ended the war last month. There were no immediate reports of casualties in the airstrikes.

The march posed a test for Israel's fragile new government as well as the tenuous truce that ended last month's 11-day war between Israel and Hamas.

Palestinians consider the march, meant to celebrate Israel's capture of east Jerusalem in 1967, to be a provocation. Hamas called on Palestinians to "resist" the parade, a version of which helped ignite last month's 11-day Gaza war.

AP says it will no longer name suspects in minor crimes

NEW YORK — The Associated Press said Tuesday it will no longer run the names of people charged with minor crimes, out of concern that such stories can have a long, damaging afterlife on the internet that can make it hard for individuals to move on with their lives.

In so doing, one of the world's biggest newsgathering organizations has waded into a debate over an issue that wasn't of much concern before the rise of search engines, when finding information on people often required going through yellowed newspaper clippings.

Often, the AP will publish a minor story — say, about a person arrested for stripping naked and dancing drunkenly atop a bar — that will hold some brief interest regionally or even nationally and be forgotten the next day.

But the name of the person arrested will live on forever online, even if the charges are dropped or the person is acquitted, said John Daniszewski, AP's vice president for standards. And that can hurt someone's ability to get a job, join a club or run for office years later.

The AP, in a directive sent out to its journalists across the country, said it will no longer name suspects or transmit photographs of them in brief stories about minor crimes when there is little chance the organization will cover the case beyond the initial arrest.

The policy will not apply to serious crimes, such as those involving violence or abuse of the public trust, or cases of a fugitive on the run.

Georgia lawmakers begin hearings to redraw districts

ATLANTA — Georgia lawmakers are kicking off the process to redraw congressional, legislative and other electoral districts, setting up a showdown between Republicans seeking to retain power and Democrats reaching toward a majority.

The joint House and Senate redistricting committees met Tuesday for an online hearing to collect testimony about what citizens want to see in new district lines. Nine more hearings will be held in person around the state between June 28 and July 29, with a second online hearing set for July 30.

Biden elevates energetic critic of Big Tech as top regulator

WASHINGTON — President Joe Biden on Tuesday installed an energetic critic of Big Tech as a top federal regulator at a time when the industry is under intense pressure from Congress, regulators and state attorneys general.

The selection of legal scholar Lina Khan to head the Federal Trade Commission is seen as signaling a tough stance toward tech giants Facebook, Google, Amazon and Apple. Khan was sworn in as FTC chair just hours after the Senate confirmed her as one of five members of the commission on a 69-28 vote.

Khan, 32, has been a professor at Columbia University Law School and burst onto the antitrust scene with her massive scholarly work in 2017 as a Yale law student, "Amazon's Antitrust Paradox." She helped lay the foundation for a new way of looking at antitrust law beyond the impact of big-company market dominance on consumer prices. As counsel to a House Judiciary antitrust panel in 2019 and 2020, she played a key role in a sweeping bipartisan investigation of the market power of the tech giants.

Police: Gunman dead after killing 2 at fire hydrant factory

ALBERTVILLE, Ala. — A worker wielding a handgun fatally shot two people and wounded two others at an Alabama fire hydrant factory early Tuesday before killing himself near a cemetery where his mother is buried, police said.

A manhunt ended when the shooter's body was found inside a Jeep in Guntersville, about 15 miles away from the factory, shortly after daybreak. Multiple weapons were found inside the vehicle, Albertville Police Chief Jamie Smith said at a news conference.

Smith said the suspect appeared to have died from a self-inflicted gunshot wound. What prompted him to kill and maim his coworkers wasn't immediately clear, the chief said. He called the shooting "completely unprovoked."

■ School board members also approved the repurchase of i-Ready for the 2021-22 school year. i-Ready is a learning and assessment program which allows educators and parents to monitor student progress.

The repurchase of i-Ready will continue the site licenses, support, teacher toolboxes and student books for 11 elementary schools. The purchase will cost the district $413,938.49 in federal funds, which breaks down to $61.46 per child.

“I have never heard a negative comment on i-Ready,” District 4 School Board member Sandy Counts said.

■ By June 30, the district must spend the remaining $936,925.14 from the phase one Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief (ESSER) fund. The funds remain from the $5,920,521.90 originally distributed to the district in May of 2020.

The district is tasked with spending the phase one ESSER funds before they can touch the $15,193,568 phase two ESSER funds. Phase two must be spent by Sept. 1.

Board officials noted the importance of allocating these funds.

“When it’s gone, it’s gone,” Mike Mullen, assistant superintendent, said.

■ Darrick Buettner, coordinator of special academic programs for Citrus Schools, presented to the board. He noted the total enrollment for the five programs for the 2021-22 school year is as follows:

Academy of Computer Science (ACS): 74.

Academy of Environmental Science (AES): 66.

Academy of Health and Careers (AHC): 81.

International Baccalaureate (IB) program: 90.

Lecanto School of Art (LSA): 50.

■ The board approved the updated job description for the district network security specialist, which had not been updated since March 10, 1998. One of the major marks of the job is cybersecurity.

“This is a new world,” Kennedy said. District 5 member, Linda Powers, noted that this job description should be revisited every few years as technology changes.

The board also approved the updated job description for the district’s web-based information specialist, which hadn’t been updated since June 12, 2001.

Most notably, district media must comply with the American Disabilities Act (ADA). For example, closed captions are now required in all district videos.

“Now everything’s changed — we have to change with it,” Powers said.

RULES

When serving as facilitators of student discussions, according to the rule, teachers “do not share their personal views or attempt to indoctrinate or persuade students to a particular point of view” inconsistent to state education standards.

Advocates argue the rule targets critical race theory — the belief racism is ingrained within U.S. society and institutions — and keeps people from instilling a sense of division in youth.

“We need to be educating people,” DeSantis said in a video to education board members before they voted Thursday, “not trying to indoctrinate them with ideology.”

Rule critics, according to the News Service of Florida, told the education board it will restrict teachers from delving into the troubling yet necessary chapters of U.S. history to study.

Claiming the rule serves less of an education purpose, the Florida Education Association submitted proposed edits to remove its “politically charged language,” like “indoctrinate.”

Efforts to stop the suppression or distortion of significant events in U.S. history, the teachers’ union added, should also be expanded to cover the historical subjects of slavery and segregation.

“Students deserve the best education we can provide, and that means giving them a true picture of their world and our shared history as Americans,” association president Andrew Spar said in a statement. “Hiding facts doesn’t change them. Give kids the whole truth and equip them to make up their own minds and think for themselves.”

Hebert said district teachers have been following the code of ethics set forth in the Principles of Professional Conduct for the Education Profession in Florida, and don’t lecture outside of state-standard textbooks.

“It’s very clear what a teacher can and can’t do in a classroom,” he said. “If something were to happen, the administration at the school would get involved and go through whatever steps are necessary to rectify that situation.”

District officials noted the rule doesn’t apply to what teachers can say or do off campus, but local educators should know their limits.

“You’re representing the ... district, and that’s the expectation of the superintendent, but we can’t infiltrate on a teacher’s First Amendment rights,” district spokeswoman Lindsay Blair said, “you can’t encroach on that.”

“But if they’re using their position as a teacher or a school district employee, then it becomes a concern,” Hebert added, “Whether they’re inside or outside of school. ... they have to be very careful and thoughtful in what they’re doing and how they’re conducting themselves.”

Chluski asked council to give the owners up to 180 days to try and repair the plaza’s issues — from leaking roofs and crumbling facades, to an inoperable fire-suppression system and exposed wirings.

However, if the cost of repairs exceed 50% of Crystal Square’s market value, the site would have to be raised and redeveloped in line with heightened flood-building codes under the National Flood Insurance Program.

Chluski said a newly hired architect is working to determine if repairs can be done to solve the code violations without triggering the flood-proofing requirement.

“They’re working on many different angles,” she said.

City Manager Ken Frink said the Citrus County Property Appraiser estimated Crystal Square’s value at around $500,000. According to the property appraiser, 579 SE U.S. 19 LLC bought the plaza in October 2013 for $1.5 million.

Frink and Batsel, echoed by council, said disputing appraisals could be a costly and tedious process for the city.

In speaking with Chluski, Batsel said owners are planning to either demolish and make way for a mixed-use development or transform it into a boat dealership with minimal teardown.

Councilman Ken Brown told Chluski her clients shouldn’t be considering anything but demolition, adding “the future’s not real bright” for strip malls.

“That building is not rehabilitatable. ... It has been a disgrace, it’s an eyesore,” he said. “I believe that center ... has cost the city from folks who wanted to invest in the city.”

“A property is in their right to do what they want, within limits,” Chluski replied.

Vice Mayor Pat Fitzpatrick said seeing Chluski was “a sign of faith” steps are being taken, but still expressed distrust in her clients.

“I’d love to be proved wrong, but I don’t think I will be,” he said. “I think we need to move forward on the path we’ve got until something really happens.”

Also on city council’s agenda from Monday:

■ In a first of two public hearings, council voted 5-0 to pass an ordinance giving the city manager and code enforcement board authority to reduce or release city liens of up to $50,000 and $100,000, respectively.

A final public hearing was scheduled for council’s next meeting July 12.

Frink and Batsel said the ordinance would create a timely system to rid a property of its liens when code compliance and other conditions are met, if, for instance, they were holding up a sale.

Reductions of liens greater than $100,000 would still need council’s approval.

Batsel said these “breaks” wouldn’t be afforded to property owners who weren’t proactive in resolving their code infractions.

■ Frink told council members Crystal River has collected close to $100,000 from 15,300 commercial paddlecraft launches at Kings Bay Park since the city began charging Feb. 1.

City staff is also planning to host a public meeting to help design a master plan for the park, which will be renovated and maintained with the income from its launch fees, Frink said.

Frink said resolutions are also being prepared for council to vote on July 12 to start charging for noncommercial paddlecraft launches and to change city parking fees.

■ Council voted unanimously to allocate $20,000 toward the city building at Jim LeGrone Memorial Park to either make general repairs or to replace its 15-year-old air conditioning.

As part of a five-year, no-cost lease with the YMCA of the Suncoast, the city agreed to replace the air-conditioning units once they failed.

LHS honors Students of the Year

Awards two students $1K scholarships

MACKENZI GREY
Special to the Chronicle

Lecanto High School (LHS) has recognized two very impressive students as the Students of the Year. Ana Gallardo-Alvarez and Agustin Begin will each receive a $1,000 scholarship and their names on the Student of the Year Plaque, both of which are sponsored by the Central Citrus Rotary Club.

Alvarez found her drive from thinking about what is best for her future-self, which helped her excel in academics.

“Throughout high school, I was mostly motivated by the fact that I knew it would all be worth it in the end when I was able to go to a good university and major in an area I actually enjoyed. Even when it got hard, I understood what my end goal was in the larger scale of life, and knew that I would have to get there no matter how hard it seemed in the moment,” said senior Alvarez.

Begin enjoyed, not just the factual information he learned from his education, but also how school helped prepare him for life.

“I think education is important because it shows dedication to something that will benefit you in your future, but also because it teaches you life lessons along the way,” said senior Begin.

Alvarez views her education as a way to help others by learning about a variety of subjects.

“Education ensures that you are broadening your horizons and that you learn more about everything going on around you in order to prepare you for the future.

“Receiving an education allows you to not only help yourself but also your community,” said senior Alvarez.

When Begin found out the exciting news, he felt honored that what

Ana Gallardo-Alvarez

Agustin Begin

he accomplished in high school was noticed.

“I was really surprised when I received this award, but I was also really happy to see how I got recognized for all of the hard work I’ve put into these last four years,” said Begin.

Alvarez would like to thank her IB teachers at LHS for constant support and her mom for pushing her to be the best version of herself.

Begin would like to thank Mr. Worsham and Coach Grimes, his avid coordinators, for guiding him and making him the man he is today.

Ronaldo scores 2, Portugal beats Hungary

France edges Germany 1-0 on own goal

Associated Press

BUDAPEST, Hungary — Cristiano Ronaldo's record-setting day came in front of the first packed crowd of this year's European Championship.

The Portugal great set the record for most career goals at the tournament in the 87th minute from the penalty spot and then added another in injury time to give the defending champions a 3-0 victory over Hungary on Tuesday.

Ronaldo's goals, however, weren't the only interesting part of the game. On the fifth day of the Euro 2020 tournament, this was the first match played in a full stadium.

The 67,215-capacity Puskas Arena was packed with mostly Hungarian fans, and they made their presence known throughout the match. Hungary is the only one of the 10 countries hosting matches at the tournament to allow full crowds.

That gave Ronaldo plenty of witnesses to history.

"The important thing was to win," Ronaldo said. "It was a difficult game, against an opponent who defended very well, but we scored three goals, and I am very grateful to the team for helping me to score two goals."

The Juventus forward was playing in his fifth European Championship, dating back to Euro 2004. He entered this year's edition even with Michel Platini at nine goals, but that only lasted 87 minutes.

The 36-year-old Ronaldo also became the only player to score at five consecutive European Championships.

Ronaldo scored his first goal after Rafa Silva was fouled by Willi Orban in the area and the referee whistled for a penalty. Ronaldo, who had missed an easy chance near the end of the first half, shot to the right of goal and got his record.

The second came when he combined with Silva in front of goal and then skipped around Hungary keeper Peter

MLB threatens pitchers with 10-game bans for altering balls

RONALD BLUM
AP baseball writer

NEW YORK — Pitchers will be ejected and suspended for 10 games for using illegal foreign substances to doctor baseballs in a crackdown by Major League Baseball that will start Monday.

The commissioner's office, responding to record strikeouts and a league batting average at a more than half-century low, said Tuesday that major and minor league umpires will start regular checks of all pitchers, even if opposing managers don't request inspections.

While suspensions would be with pay, repeat offenders would receive progressive discipline, and teams and club employees would be subject to discipline for failure to comply.

"After an extensive process of repeated warnings without effect, gathering information from current and former players and others across the sport, two months of comprehensive data collection, listening to our fans and thoughtful deliberation, I have determined that new enforcement of foreign substances is needed to level the playing field," baseball Commissioner Rob Manfred said in a statement.

"I understand there's a history of foreign substances being used on the ball, but what we are seeing today is objectively far different, with much tackier substances being used more frequently than ever before. It has become clear that the use of foreign substance has generally morphed from trying to get a better grip on the ball into something else — an unfair

Durant leads Nets by Bucks

BRIAN MAHONEY
AP basketball writer

NEW YORK — Kevin Durant had 49 points, 17 rebounds and 10 assists in one of the most spectacular performances in postseason history, sending the Brooklyn Nets back into the lead in the Eastern Conference semifinals with a 114-108 victory over the Milwaukee Bucks in Game 5 on Tuesday night.

With James Harden returning but delivering little offense and Kyrie Irving out, Durant played all 48 minutes and shot 16 for 23 from the field. He scored 20 points in the fourth quarter, perhaps the biggest shot a 3-pointer with 50 seconds left and the Nets protecting a one-point lead.

The two-time NBA Finals MVP became the first player in NBA history to have at least 45 points, 15 rebounds and 10 assists in a playoff game.

Harden played for the first time since leaving 43 seconds into the series opener with right hamstring tightness. He shot just 1 for 10 and missed all eight 3-pointers, but had eight assists and six rebounds while playing 46 minutes.

Game 6 is Thursday in Milwaukee, where the Bucks are 4-0 against the Nets this season.

Brooklyn forward Kevin Durant (7) shoots as Milwaukee guard Pat Connaughton defends during the fourth quarter of Game 5 of a second-round NBA playoff series Tuesday in New York.

Football youth camp later this month

The Coach Chop Alexander Youth Football Camp will be held June 28-30, running from 9 a.m. to noon each day. The camp is open to boys and girl age 7-13 and the cost is $75 per camper. At the camp, run by Lecanto head football coach Wyndell "Chop" Alexander, campers will learn the basic football skills and fundamentals of the game. Register online at onelecanto.com.

Pirate football team hosts golf tourney

The Crystal River High School football team is hosting a fundraiser golf tournament on Saturday, July 17 at Plantation on Crystal River. Check-in begins at 8 a.m., with the first tee-off times set for 9 a.m. Cost is $60 per player, or $240 per team. Registration is due by June 30 and there is a 32-team limit, so sign up quick. For more information and registration forms, contact head coach Cliff Lohrey at lohreyc@citrussschools.org or CRHS Football Booster president Carla Stalcup at 352-212-8946 or shadowstalcup@gmail.com.

DeChambeau and Koepka keep distance at US Open

SAN DIEGO — Anyone clamoring for Bryson DeChambeau and Brooks Koepka to play in the same group to start the U.S. Open will have to wait for another tournament. DeChambeau, the defending U.S. Open champion, will play the opening two rounds at Torrey Pines with Masters champion Hideki Matsuyama and U.S. Amateur champion Tyler Strafaci. That's keeping with USGA tradition of putting the defending champion with the current U.S. Amateur champion and a reigning major champion. The U.S. Amateur champion previously had to remain amateur to be exempt to the U.S. Open. Koepka is playing with fellow former PGA champions Collin Morikawa and Justin Thomas. DeChambeau and Koepka have been engaged in a social media spat that began nearly two years ago and picked up steam with a leaked Golf Channel clip that was never aired. Koepka stops his interview at the PGA Championship and rolls his eyes when he sees DeChambeau walking behind him and then uses salty language to express his feelings. More exchanges and posts followed in recent weeks. PGA champion Phil Mickelson, playing in his hometown in the only major he has never won, will be playing with fellow San Diego native Xander Schauffele and Max Homa. The USGA put together former winners of the Farmers Insurance Open played at Torrey Pines in January — Patrick Reed, Marc Leishman and Jon Rahm. There's also an all-Dallas group of former U.S. Open champion Jordan Spieth, Scottie Scheffler and Will Zalatoris. Dustin Johnson, the No. 1 player in the world, is playing with Rory McIlroy and Justin Rose. All three are former U.S. Open champions. And in a nod to the British Open, former champions Henrik Stenson, Francesco Molinari and Shane Lowry are in the same group.

Kucherov had his fourth game with three or more points this postseason, assisting on goals by Point, Palat and Victor Hedman. The defending champions improved to 12-0 in games following a playoff loss since the start of last year's title run. Point scored a goal for the fifth straight game, hiking his league-leading playoff total to 10. Palat put Tampa Bay ahead for good with a second-period goal that replays showed was scored with the Lightning having too many men on the ice. Andrei Vasilevskiy, meanwhile, stopped 24 of 26 shots for the Lightning, who entered Tuesday night facing a series deficit for the first time since dropping Game 1 of last year's Stanley Cup final against the Dallas Stars. Hedman and Jan Rutta scored in the third period against Islanders goalie Semyon Varlamov, who missed a portion of the opening period after a collision with Point a little over 13 minutes into the game. Brock Nelson and Mathew Barzal scored unassisted goals for New York, which — despite the loss — will return home feeling good about itself

Gulacsi before rolling the ball into an empty net with his left foot. He is also now only three behind former Iran striker Ali Daei's men's record of 109 international goals. Portugal defender Raphael Guerreiro scored the opening goal three minutes before Ronaldo's first with a shot that deflected off a defender and wrong-footed Gulacsi. France 1, Germany 0 MUNICH — Mats Hummels' return to the national team went better for France than it did for Germany. The experienced defender was recalled by Germany coach Joachim Löw for the European Championship for his leadership qualities, but he ended up scoring an own-goal to give France a 1-0 victory at the European Championship. Hummels was attempting to stop Lucas Hernández's cross from reaching France forward Kylian Mbappé when he diverted the ball into his own net with his shin in the 20th minute. Both teams had chances to score. İlkay Gündoğan wasted Germany's best opportunity of the first half when he couldn't direct his shot on target. France twice put the ball in the net in the second half but both were called back for offside. Mbappé sent a curling shot inside the far post midway through the half and then set up Karim Benzema for another late in the match. Benzema was playing in his first competitive game for France since a World Cup quarterfinal loss to Germany in 2014. Mbappé also had a penalty appeal waved off in between the offside goals — Hummels had timed his tackle perfectly when the 22-year-old Frenchman would have been through on goal. Germany had never previously lost an opening game in the group stage at the European Championship.

competitive advantage that is creating a lack of action and an uneven playing field.” The last pitchers suspended for using foreign substances were Baltimore's Brian Matusz and Milwaukee's Will Smith for eight games each in May 2015. Both appealed, and Smith's penalty was cut to six games while Matusz's ban was upheld. The perception of an increased use of foreign substances, tied to a drop in offense, is viewed as the largest instance of widespread cheating in baseball since the rise of steroids, which ended in the adoption of random drug-testing with penalties ahead of the 2004 season. Yankees ace Gerrit Cole, singled out by Minnesota Josh Donaldson for a drop in spin rate in a June 3 start, dodged a question last week about whether he had ever used a Spider Tack, a sticky substance designed for use by Strongman competitors. “I don't quite know how to answer that, to be honest,” Cole said. “There are customs and practices that have been passed down from older players to younger players, from the last generation of players to this generation of players, and I think there are some things that are certainly out of bounds in that regard.” MLB told teams on March 23 it would increase monitoring and initiated steps that included collecting balls taken out of play from every team and analyzing Statcast spin-rate data. “Based on the information collected over the first two months of the season — including numerous complaints from position players, pitchers, umpires, coaches and executives

— there is a prevalence of foreign substance use by pitchers in Major League Baseball and throughout the minor leagues,” MLB said. “Many baseballs collected have had dark, amber-colored markings that are sticky to the touch. MLB recently completed extensive testing, including testing by third-party researchers, to determine whether the use of foreign substances has a material impact on performance. That research concluded that foreign substances significantly increase the spin rate and movement of the baseball, providing pitchers who use these substances with an unfair competitive advantage over hitters and pitchers who do not use foreign substances, and results in less action on the field. “In addition, the foreign substance use appears to contribute to a style of pitching in which pitchers sacrifice location in favor of spin and velocity, particularly with respect to elevated fastballs. The evidence does not suggest a correlation between improved hitter safety and the use of foreign substances.” The anticipated clampdown already appears to have had an impact. Following an owners' meeting on June 3 when talk of a crack-down emerged, the average declined to 2,282 during the week of June 6 and dropped to 2,226 on Sunday. The major league batting average was .232 through April, down from .252 two years ago and under the record low of .237 set in 1968, and it was .236 through May, its lowest since 1968. The average rose to .247 in the week of June 6, lifting the season average to .238. The strikeout percentage since June 3 is 23.4%, down from 24.2% until then, and the walk percentage is 8.4%, down from 8.9%. “This is not about any individual player or club, or placing blame,” Manfred said. “It is about a collective shift that has changed the game and needs to be addressed. We have a responsibility to our fans and the generational talent competing on the field to eliminate these substances and improve the game.” As part of the initiative, umpires will check all starters multiple times and all relievers either at the end of his first inning or when removed, whichever occurs first. Caps, gloves and fingertips will be checked. Umps also may check when they notice sticky balls or when perceiving a pitcher going to his glove, cap, belt, uniform or body in a manner that may be to retrieve or apply a substance. Catchers will be subject to routine inspections and position players may be searched.

The Bad Golfers Association continues to give back to the community

Special to the Chronicle

The Bad Golfers Association (BGA) of Citrus Hills has always been a very generous group of golfers. Limited to 50 active players, the members have donated to many charities in the Citrus County area.

In its 24 years of existence since founder and former Commissioner Jim Remler started the BGA of Citrus Hills, its members have donated over $85,000 to local charities. They started donating 11 years ago. Last year, Remler passed the torch to its second Commissioner, W.A. Pace, who has continued the generous donations from BGA members.

Over the years, more than 16 organizations have received donations from the BGA. Last year, the BGA donated over $13,000 to five charities. Current donations are presented to Citrus County Blessings, Cystic Fibrosis, Community Food Bank, Daystar and CASA. The BGA has a goal of reaching $100,000 for charities by the end of 2022. In addition to these charities, the BGA also sponsors donations to many veteran golf tournaments in our area.

They also honor our military and first responders the last Friday of every month by wearing red shirts and saying the Pledge of Allegiance, plus singing a patriotic song prior to starting their games, as shown in the group photo above right.

For more information about the BGA, go to www.bgacitrushills.com.

CITRUS HILLS

On Wednesday, June 9, 2021, the Citrus Hills Men's Golf Association played its weekly game on the Oaks course. Ten teams played this week's game of "Baker's Dozen." Scoring is done by taking the net scores on each hole for all four players on the team compared to par. Adding the 4 scores gives the total for that hole. After play, the total game score is computed by taking the 12 best scores plus the score on the No. 1 handicap hole = 13 scores = baker's dozen. Game results gave the following places:

First	-19
Peter Bockiaro, Jim Hagen,
David Flo, Joe Cachia

SUGARMILL WOODS

On Thursday, June 10, 2021, Sugarmill

U.S. OPEN

Site: San Diego.
Course: Torrey Pines GC (South). Yardage: 7,652. Par: 71.
Prize money: $12.5 million. Winner's share: $2.25 million.

Television: Thursday, 12:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. (Golf Channel), 7-10 p.m. (NBC); Friday, 12:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. (Golf Channel), 6-9 p.m. (NBC), 9-10 p.m. (Golf Channel); Saturday, 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. (NBC); Sunday, 10 a.m. to noon (Golf Channel), noon-8 p.m. (NBC).

Defending champion: Bryson DeChambeau.

Last year: DeChambeau won his first major with a six-shot victory at Winged Foot. He finished at 274, the lowest score ever at Winged Foot.

Last time at Torrey Pines: Tiger Woods won in a 19-hole playoff over Rocco Mediate.

Notes: This is the third time in seven years the U.S. Open has been held at an affordable public golf course. ... Bryson DeChambeau will try to join Brooks Koepka (2017-18) and Curtis Strange (1988-89) as the only back-to-back U.S. Open champions in the last 50 years. ... Americans have won the U.S. Open the last six times. ... Phil Mickelson, coming off his PGA Championship victory at age 50, will try to complete the career Grand Slam with a victory. He holds the U.S. Open record with six runner-up finishes. ... This is the final event before the world ranking determines the 60-player field for the Olympics. ... Patrick Reed won at Torrey Pines in the Farmers Insurance Open in January. Tiger Woods (twice), Jack Nicklaus and Ben Hogan are the only players to win a U.S. Open and a PGA Tour event at the same course in the same year. ... Only 14 players in the field competed at the U.S. Open in 2008 at Torrey Pines.

Next year: The Country Club in Brookline, Massachusetts.

Sharing the peace

Well, hello again. I've been meditating and thinking a lot about peace these days, so it will be our positive word this week.

Ralph Waldo Emerson, one of my favorite scribes, aptly wrote of peace: "Nothing can bring you peace but yourself."

At each convening of our GFWC Florida Woman's Club conventions, we join hands and sing, "Let there be peace on Earth, and let it begin with me."

Every time we sing it together, my heart skips a beat and I feel at peace, recognizing the quest ahead as I journey back to my beloved Crystal River and begin to fulfill the pledge I made in 1962 when I became a part of the Woman's Club as a Junior Woman's Club member.

Through the years, our journey has taken us along a winding volunteer path of service to those in need of scholarships, tender-loving kindness in care centers, Band-Aids applied to blistered marching band students' feet that we chaperoned, or offered a listening ear and a calming reassurance that everything's "gonna" be OK to those whose troubles have overwhelmed them, and so many other peace-making ways.

We learned from Mother Theresa all about the oneness we embraced when she wrote: "I am one. I am only one. I cannot do everything. But I can do something." And we did. And we will continue to do so.

With the power of love within us, we can make a difference in our community and beyond through peaceful, intentional acts of loving kindness, in service to mankind.

Volunteers

■ The Veterans Administration is looking for volunteers to drive veterans to their appointments at the Gainesville Veterans Administration Medical Center and The Villages Out-Patient Clinic. Call 352-746-8005.

■ The Key Training Center has begun Open Volunteer Days the second Wednesday monthly. They are opening up one of their thrift stores to walk-in volunteers where they can volunteer for a few hours to see if they would like to become a volunteer. Some of the projects needing help at the stores are sorting and placing items on the shelves and testing electronics. There are many other volunteer opportunities available at the Key. Please call Ben K., coordinator, at 352-795-5541, ext. 238.

Little League gets donation

Special to the Chronicle

Dunnellon Community Thrift Shop recently presented a $1,000 check to the Dunnellon Little League (DLL) to help defray cost of repairs to the lights on six of their fields.

More than 175 local children between the ages of 4 and 15 participated on the teams this year, learning important citizenship skills such as teamwork, discipline and responsibility, all while having the fun of playing competitive baseball.

Financial help is needed as the light repairs are expected to exceed $14,000. The lights are essential to the January through May baseball season and are in use at least four times per week.

Two other donations were presented in May. VOCAL was given $200 to aid in trapping, neutering and re-homing Dunnellon's feral cat population. The thrift shop also made their annual donation to the Sheriff's Youth Ranch in the amount of $1,000.

For information about DLL, or to help, email dunnellonlittleleague1@gmail.com.

Locals hopeful to keep pool open

Host fundraiser, T-shirt sponsorship

CLAIRE PHILLIPS LAXTON
For the Chronicle

A "Patriotic Picnic" fundraiser was held on Saturday, May 29, in an effort to help raise funds to "Keep the Beverly Hills Pool Open." Plus, there is a T-shirt sponsorship ongoing until Wednesday, June 30.

Harvey Gerber chaired this fundraising event and has been the chair of the Keep the Pool Open Committee for the past three years. The Patriotic Picnic had a slow turnout, as other events were slated for the same date.

"Roger Carlson, former president of the Central Citrus Rotary Club, is handling the funds raised for the pool effort and has worked with me for the past three years to keep the pool open, but we also need help from the County Commissioners to get this off the ground," Gerber said.

Carlson is the two-time past president of Central Citrus Rotary and when the T-shirt sponsorship ends on June 30, the money will be transferred to Central Citrus Rotary which has already received $525 from the recent Patriotic Picnic fundraiser.

Roger Carlson has about $13,000 in the Rotary bank account from previous fundraisers.

D.J. Diorio hosted the entertainment and accepted a $200 fee instead of his usual $500 fee to perform for this worthy fundraiser.

The event was at the Beverly Hills Lions Club which charged them a small amount, not their usual fee to use the building for this ongoing cause.

"They, (The Lions Club) were a big part of this fundraiser," said Gerber. "The Lions Club under the leadership of Tom Mize, has also been one of the biggest supporters of the Central Ridge Boys & Girls Club."

Mike Belkin, president of the Beverly Hills Civic Club and a delegation of others that he will choose, including Harvey Gerber, Civic Club Board member and a big promoter of the Central Ridge Boys & Girls Club, senior 20-year veteran statesman John Quintas from the Civic Association and Roger Carlson of the Central Citrus Rotary Club will be speaking with commissioners on this issue.

The pool is very important to both young and old as seniors as well as kids from the Boys & Girls Club mutually shared the pool over the years and it worked amiably sharing the pool.

Sixty T-shirts with sponsor names are available for business sponsors in four different categories to be worn and advertised by construction workers showing each businesses names as the workers become "walking billboards."

■ $1,000: Diamond sponsor
■ $500: Gold sponsor
■ $250: Silver sponsor
■ $100: Bronze sponsor

The sponsor donations are tax deductible in addition to helping a very worthwhile cause," said Gerber.

For questions, call Harvey Gerber at 352-422-2798.

Checks are mailed to Nature Coast Affordable Housing

Corp., which is an all volunteer 501(c)(3) organizations formed in 2003.

Make checks out to: Nature Coast Affordable, 5362 W. Yearling Drive, Beverly Hills, FL 34465.

Shortly after June 30, funds will be transferred to the Central Citrus Rotary for the pool effort.

"Our kids at the Central Ridge Club have only swam two days a month last summer and before at Bicentennial Pool. We had them swimming three days a week when the Beverly Hills Pool was open from 2011 to 2018," Gerber said.

"Now with the two new commissioners we are hopeful funds will be provided to build a pool for the thousands of people living in Beverly Hills," he added.

"Let's get back to the good old days!"

Century plant blooms at Lecanto couple's home

Special to the Chronicle

Imre "Jim" Kantor and his wife Ella, 20-year county residents, recently had their agave cactus (century plant) bloom at their Crystal Oaks home. Though called a century plant, the plant usually grows 10 to 30 years and blooms once. The Kantors have had the plant for about 15 years.

The event was sponsored by the Crystal Automotive Group, Citrus Sports and Apparel, The Chronicle, Fox 96.7, Citrus 95.3 and Black Diamond.

Rescue ADOPTABLES

George is an adorable Cocker Spaniel Terrier mix. He is 15 weeks old and is very active. He is neither tiny nor too large. Him and his brother Max are both looking for their new homes. They would both do best with a fenced-in yard, as they love to run and play. Meet them at Pet Supermarket from 10 a.m. to noon on Saturday, June 19.

Cindy is a pretty 1- to 2-year-old with a unique black and white patterned coat. Very friendly and playful. She's not much of a lap cat, but she follows you around closely trying to stay near! Cindy might be best as an only cat; she gets along with some but not all, and she's a real sweetheart. Several Hardin Haven cats are sometimes in residence at Petsense in Beverly Hills, and also at Pet Supermarket in Inverness from 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sundays.

Chester is a pure black sweetheart about 4 months old. He is playful, social and gets along with other cats. You can meet Chester and a few of his playmates at the Precious Paws Rescue Adoption Center. Come on out and you may find that special kitty to move into your heart and home.

Have you ever seen a planting of hundreds of tulips? These colorful, graceful flowers are a symbol of the Netherlands, also known as Holland, a country in northern Europe. (Netherlands means “lower country.”)

For hundreds of years, more tulips have been raised there than in any other place on Earth. But there’s more to the Netherlands than tulips.

A small country

The Netherlands is on the North Sea. It is bordered by Germany and Belgium. It’s about the size of Massachusetts. With 17.5 million people, it is one of the Earth’s most crowded countries. We call the people from there and the language they speak Dutch.

map by TUES

The Netherlands is a flat and low country. Much land is below sea level. The Dutch have created almost two-fifths of their land by draining water from it. The drained lands are called polders. Polders are protected from the sea by dikes, either dirt mounds or cement barriers.

Cities

The biggest cities are Amsterdam, Rotterdam and The Hague. Amsterdam’s center has many canals with old homes built along them. The homes are built on long poles, or piles, because the soil is very loose.

Many tourists visit there to see the canals, the art museums, the home of Anne Frank, the zoo and many other sites.

Rotterdam is the largest seaport in Europe. The Maas River flows through it and connects the city to the rest of Europe. Ships from around the world dock there to load and unload their cargo.

Government and business

The Netherlands is a parliamentary democracy. Dutch people choose who represents them in government, including ministers and a prime minister.

The Dutch prime minister, Mark Rutte, right.

It is also a constitutional monarchy. This means the Netherlands has a king or queen, but the country’s constitution limits their powers and lays out their responsibilities.

The country has many successful businesses, including those in the chemical and electronics industries. The nation’s natural resources include natural gas and salt.

Dutch cheeses such as Gouda and Edam are sold all around the world. Many people work in the service industries.

Life in Holland

While many Dutch do have cars, most travel by bikes. Experts say that there is at least one bike for every person. Cycling cuts down on traffic, and it saves money because gas is very expensive. It is good for the environment and is also good exercise.

The Dutch enjoy sandwiches for breakfast and also for lunch. Dinner often includes potatoes, pea soup and kale with sausage. The Dutch also enjoy peanut butter, chocolate and licorice.

French fries are popular with the Dutch, too. They put mayonnaise on them instead of ketchup.

Dutch kids enjoy ice skating, swimming, listening to music, soccer, basketball, computer games and Dutch movies and TV.

Windmills

The Netherlands is a windy country. The Dutch have been building windmills for hundreds of years. At one time there were about 9,000 in the country. Today there are only about 1,000 left.

The earliest windmills were used to grind grain. They were later used to furnish the power to make paper, chalk or paint.

Cook’s Corner

Stamppot Boerenkool (Kale)

You’ll need:

- 3 pounds white potatoes, peeled and cut into four quarters
- 2 to 3 pounds curly kale, stalks removed and leaves chopped very fine

- 1 pound smoked sausage
- milk
- 4 tablespoons butter
- salt and pepper to taste

The name of this Dutch recipe is pronounced STAHM-pot BOOR-n-COAL.

What to do:

1. Place potatoes in a large pot. Cover with water and sprinkle with salt.
2. Put kale over potatoes, and then sausage on top. Cover and simmer on low for 30 minutes.
3. Remove sausage and drain off any excess water.
4. Mash potatoes and kale together with a masher or a fork.
5. Add enough milk to make a smooth mixture. Then add butter and sausage.
6. Add salt and pepper to taste. Serves 8.

* You'll need an adult's help with this recipe.

1. Machine with sails or vanes at the top of a tower (8-letter noun)

2. Curd of milk pressed for food (6-letter noun)

3. Cup-shaped flowers growing from bulbs (6-letter noun)

4. Food made from ground cacao beans (9-letter noun)

1. Brenda saw a _____ with turning arms on the hillside.
2. Mark made a grilled _____ sandwich with tomatoes.
3. Señora Diaz cut six _____ from her garden for a vase.
4. Julie ate a piece of _____ after her dinner.

Eco Note

The scattering of plastic pollution in the world’s waterways and atmosphere is now resulting in the “plastification” of the planet, with the debris “spiraling around the globe” in the wind. A new study says that smaller microplastics can remain in the atmosphere for nearly a week, which is long enough for them to be carried across an ocean or a continent. The biggest sources are roadways, where the tires of large trucks and other vehicles degrade into tiny bits and are picked up by the wind.

SCAM ALERTHow to Avoid a Fake Check Scam• INSIST ON CASH

• Don't accept a check for more than the selling price. You can bet it's a scam.

• Inform the Buyer that you'll wait two weeks before sending any merchandise.

• Never use money from a check to send gift cards, money orders, or wire money to strangers or someone you just met. Many scammers demand that you send money through money transfer services like Western Union or MoneyGram, or buy gift cards and send them the PIN numbers. Once you wire money, or give someone the gift card PINs, it is like giving someone cash. It's almost impossible to get it back.

• Toss offers that ask you to pay for a prize. If it's free, you shouldn't have to pay to get it.
