Life is made of many moments, and Morristown-Hamblen is ready to provide exceptional care to you and your family!

Caty Rush & Robbie Palmer

JUNE 11, 2022

Robbie and I met in April 2019 after we connected on Facebook. We hit it off pretty quickly, as it didn't take long for us to realize we shared many similar interests, including Braves baseball and cattle. We went on our first date a couple weeks later, which consisted of dinner and a hike to Buffalo Mountain. Our bond grew from there, and it didn't take long for us to realize we enjoyed spending time together and didn't want to be apart.

In May 2021, Robbie planned an evening at a Smokies baseball game for both of our families. He kept stressing that we needed to get to the game early, and I had no clue why. When we arrived, Robbie and I were "chosen" (or so I thought) to throw out the first pitch before the game. They told us they were honoring essential workers, and with me being a teacher and Robbie being a nurse, I assumed it was just meant to be.

Once on the field, Robbie insisted that I be the one to pitch the ball first. I hesitantly agreed, and when I turned around after throwing my pitch, Robbie was down on one knee. Little did I know, he had a great reason for pushing us to arrive early to the game.

We can't wait to spend the rest of our lives together, attending plenty more sporting events, serving our community, and building our own home on his family farm.

Shelby Dollar & Noah Zang

JUNE 18, 2022

Noah and I met on an online Christian dating site called Upward. On our first date we went on a hike to the Mt. Sterling Fire Tower. On our one year anniversary Noah took me back to hike to the fire tower once again. After countless stops up the mountain, as this hike is not for the faint of heart, we finally made it to the tower. Once reaching the top of the mountain, we climbed up into the fire tower and Noah proposed. I will be getting married at Meadowbrook Farms in White Pine, TN.

Amanda Guinn & Stone Isaacs

JUNE 11, 2022

We grew up on opposite sides of Morristown where I was a Hurricane, and Stone was a Trojan. Stone and I both knew of each other throughout high school due to our involvement in choir. After our first few years in college Stone and I connected at a friend's home during Easter weekend of 2018. The next day I told my family I knew I had met my husband.

Fast forward to August 2021. Stone takes me to eat dinner with his family. After dinner I am led outside where I am greeted by lights that were strung above the place where Stone first told me he loved me all the way back in 2018. Stone knew how important family was to the foundation of our relationship, so he made sure my parents and brother were present for this monumental moment.

Stone got down on one knee in front of our parents and brothers, and I could have not imagined it any other way.

Heather Crews & Chris Edmonds
JUNE 18, 2022

We have been together a little over 4 years and we met online. Last October we went to Universal Studios for our favorite event they have called Halloween Horror Nights. On our first night there I was getting ready and putting on my make up and I noticed my fiancé was acting nervous. I asked him what was wrong and when I did he pulled out the ring and asked me. I was so surprised and excited! We love each other so much and can not wait to spend the rest of our lives together.

TOGETHER, WE THRIVE

Madison Chandler & Bryce Sutton

JUNE 4, 2022

Bryce and I met under the most stressful conditions imaginable, on our pharmacy school interview day. One of us had his eyes on the prize and the other had her sights set on getting into pharmacy school. Regardless, nothing happens by chance. They say when you know you know, but they also say mom knows best. Our moms actually hit it off first by bonding over their love of kindergarten education. Flash forward to a year later without speaking to each other and we hit it off once again in Walmart of all places with... you guessed it... our moms in tow. We quickly found out we had chosen to live in the same apartment complex and started studying together. Study dates turned into real dates at Texas Roadhouse and the rest is history. It didn't take us long to figure out we wanted to spend forever together. We spent day and night talking about our futures. No matter what we talked about, our future life plans always seemed to align and include each other. Bryce bought a ring and stowed it away for the right time. On, May 30, 2021, Bryce planned the perfect proposal and walked me out to the end of the beach in Ocean Isle, North Carolina where there was a rose in the sand and a hidden photographer and I said "yes" to spending forever together! A little over one year later, we are so excited to get married at Meadowbrook Farm!

Ladie Pedigo & James L. Baker V

JUNE 14, 2022

James and I met in high school, he was in my mothers class and saw my picture on her computer and decided to find out who I was. James proposed in front of the Parthenon in Nashville, TN on a weekend trip we took last march, I was so shocked! I had no idea he was going to propose. We decided to get married on June 14th, which is a Tuesday (an odd day of the week for a wedding) because that will be the 4 year anniversary of our first date! We spend every second together and are a perfect match. He is my best friend and I could not ask for a better future husband! We are so excited to get married in just a few short weeks!
