

Decreasing number of New Madrid residences with earthquake insurance

Residences of the New Madrid area with earthquake coverage have decreased between 2000 and 2022 amid growing insurance costs. In 2022, the number of insured residences dropped even further with only 10.9% of the area having coverage. The decline is amid the addition of hundreds of dollars on the cost of insurance for earthquakes.

