

Final harvest numbers for deer season on the climb

The total number of deer killed during the November firearm season in both Missouri and Boone County has increased over the past five years. From 2017 to 2018, the total harvest number in Boone County increased around 24%. In the same year, the total harvest number increased only about 4% in Missouri as a whole.

