

Other minority groups see an increase in enrollment at Mizzou

Between 2013 and 2025, the enrollment of Black and African American students decreased by 35%. At the same time, within the same time frame, the number of Hispanic and Latino students grew by 78%, followed by an increase of 75% among students of two or more races and a rise of 31% among Asian students. The number of White students saw a decrease of 9% between 2023 and 2025.

Note: Other includes Native Hawaiian or other Pacific Islander, American Indian or Alaska Native and race and ethnicity unknown. Non-resident students are not included in the data.