

More people admitted for meth treatment in Missouri

The number of people who were treated for meth use has increased over the years in Columbia, St. Louis and the entire state. The jump from 2015 to 2016 was the steepest.

