

New study predicts less income for medical marijuana bill

In their study, Missouri's Medical Marijuana Market, MU economics professors Joseph Haslag, Dean Crader and William Balossi found the estimates made by New Approach Missouri — the organization that sponsored Missouri's legislation allowing the use of medical marijuana — far exceed three-year projections for revenue.

Projected revenue (in millions of dollars) by 2022

Sources: MISSOURI DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND SENIOR SERVICES, NEW APPROACH

SAM BALMER/Missourian