

Democratic delegates are not determined solely by primary results

The Missouri Democratic Party will bring 78 delegates to the Democratic National Convention in July. Of those 78, 10 are unpledged, meaning they are not bound by the results of the preference primary. Of the 68 pledged delegates, 10 will be party leaders and elected officials (PLEOs), 15 will be at-large delegates and 44 will be congressional delegates.

