

Two cicada broods to emerge in 2024

This summer, both broods XIII and XIX will begin their mating cycles. The broods have been feeding on tree sap in subterranean nymph forms for 17 and 13 years respectively.

