

County infant mortality rates are lower than state average

According to the Missouri Public Health Information Management System, Boone County's infant mortality rate is below the state average. From 2013 to 2023, Boone County saw an average of 17.85% fewer deaths than state averages.

Rates per 1,000 live births

Rate may be unreliable due to having less than 20 events in the numerator*

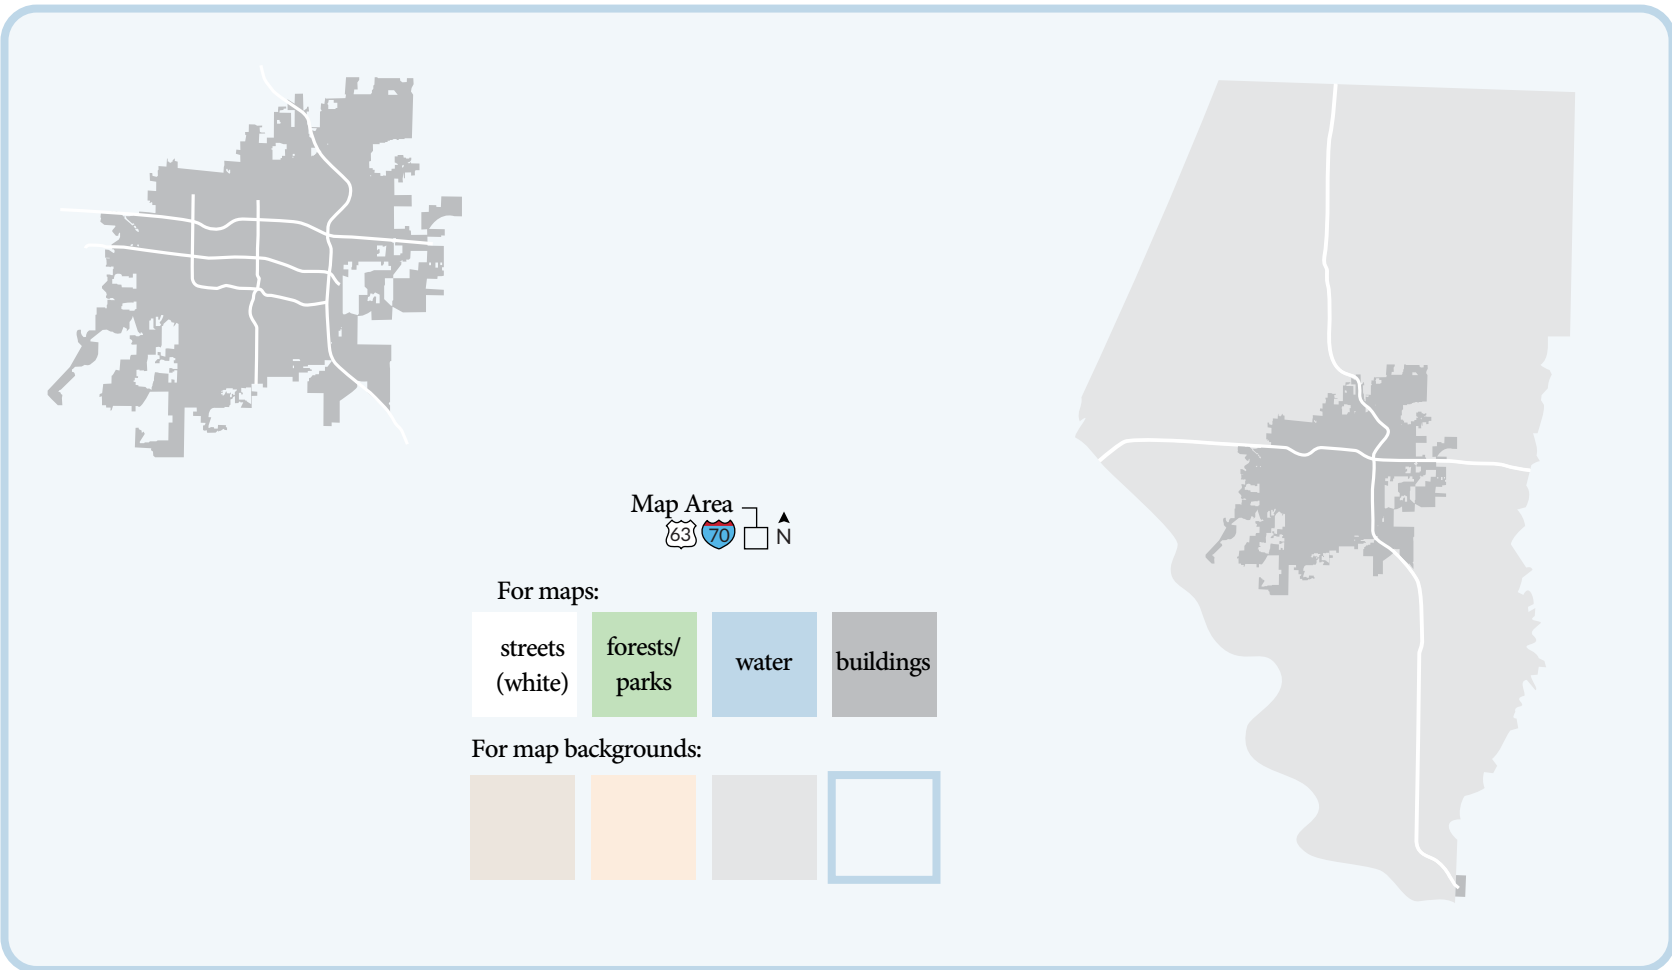

Source: MOPHIMS

Infant Profile, 2013-2023

KENNEDY VOSS/Missouri News Network

Map Materials

City of Columbia map with major roads | Boone County map with city of Columbia inlet

Missouri state map with counties (editable-->ungroup)

U.S. State map (editable --> ungroup)

