

How universities in Missouri ranked in free speech

The Foundation for Individual Rights and Expression, a nonprofit organization focused on free speech, surveyed college students about their thoughts and experiences regarding free speech on their campus. At the University of Missouri, 317 students were surveyed. Mizzou ranked 16th overall, with an overall score of 71.64.

