

Furrow-irrigation reduces the cost of labor in rice cultivation

Planting rice in raised beds instead of flooded fields helps bring costs down, but it also leaves the crop vulnerable to weeds and insects.

Traditionally flooded rice

Furrow-irrigated rice

