

Most respondents say they don't face housing discrimination

In a survey conducted by the Columbia Fair Housing Task Force, people were asked if they had ever faced housing discrimination.

Note: To obtain a wide range of Columbia residents, the survey was distributed at locations around the city as well as online.