

Earthquake could hit in New Madrid Seismic Zone

The last time a severe earthquake occurred in the zone was a 6.6 magnitude event in 1895. There is around a 25% to 40% chance there could be another quake any time in the next 50 years in the New Madrid Seismic Zone.

Source: Missourian Reporting, jacksongov.org

Grace Noble/Missourian