

Plane crashes in Boone County

A plane diverted its route to Columbia Regional Airport, lost altitude and dropped off radar over Hartsburg. Around the same time, a plane crash was reported to local authorities in Hartsburg. The FAA confirmed that the crashed plane was a Piper PA-46, the same model as the flight reported on flightradar24.com.

