

Percent risk of death by COVID-19 shows an increase with age, preexisting conditions

A report by the World Health Organization-China Joint Mission on COVID-19 took cases between Feb. 16 and 24 and identified people's percent risk based on many factors. It divided the number of deaths by the number of cases to assess probability of death by age and then probability of death based on preexisting conditions.

Percent risk by age

Percent risk by preexisting conditions

