

National student sadness/hopelessness by sex

Over the last decade, reports of high school girls experiencing mental health concerns has increased from four out of 10 to six out of 10. Reports of high school boys experiencing mental health concerns have increased from two out of 10 to three out of 10.

