

Project consultants address stream pollution

In August, the Missouri Department of Natural Resources warned the project managers for MidwayUSA's new headquarters about water pollution in a nearby stream due to the property's development. Since then, Crockett Engineering has taken steps to address the pollution.

ALEXIS ALLISON/Missourian

Sources: Boone County Assessor,
Missourian reporting