

Size of proposed mid-Missouri wind farm will blow you away

The local wind farm would be one of the largest farms in Missouri, with a project area comprising 30,000 acres. E.ON, the company that plans to develop the wind farm, said in February that it had already secured contracts with the owners of property spanning 2,500 acres.

