

Mizzou's history in the NCAA men's basketball tournament

In 2026, Mizzou men's basketball is making its 31st NCAA Tournament appearance, continuing a history that spans more than 80 years. While the Tigers have reached the Elite Eight multiple times, they are still searching for their first Final Four. As a No. 10 seed, Mizzou faces Miami on Friday, looking to make a deeper March run.

Numbers in parentheses are seedings for that year.
