

Regional Transmission Organizations

Recent extreme heat has put high levels of stress on Missouri's power grid. Two regional grid operators, Midcontinent Independent System Operator and Southwest Power Pool, were forced to issue emergency alerts following the added strain.

