

McKay's opening pushed to late fall

KNOX KERANEN

After initially planning to open this month, the McKay's Market in Brookings will probably not open until late fall — October or November.

Chief Operating Officer Kevin Murray said the delay is due to difficulties in getting construction permits approved by the county. Despite the labor shortage locally, Murray said they have already received lots of interest from prospective employees, and about 30-40 applications. He said they plan to host a job fair once they get closer to the opening date.

The delay with McKay's permit process could be due to a staffing shortage at the county building department, which is responsible for issuing building permits and reviewing construction plans.

In fact, the building department has temporarily closed down their office once a week on Fridays, specifically citing a shortage of staff.

Curry County Commissioner Chris Paasch confirmed the building department has had some recent changes in staff, and that they were short-handed "like many other places."

Once they are clear of the permit process, Murray said they will open the Brookings store as soon as possible.

"We're anxious to get there and start serving the people from the Brookings-Harbor area," he said.

Congressman Peter DeFazio talks with members of the Coast Guard while touring the Coos Bay North Jetty.

DeFazio gets close look at jetty project

By DAVID RUPKALVIS
The Pilot

Just month after he successfully got money in the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund released, Congressman Peter DeFazio toured the Coos Bay North Jetty to get a close look at what the funding will do.

DeFazio visited Coos Bay on Thursday and members of the Coos Bay Coast Guard station took DeFazio out to the jetty, which has lost more than 900 feet of rocks to erosion since it was built in 1899.

The congressman listened as local experts explained what work needed to be done to repair the jetty, which is used to keep boats coming into and out of the Port of Coos Bay safe.

Mike Dunning, who works for the Port of Coos Bay, said the $32 million repair will add between 130 and 170 feet to the jetty and will stabilize the structure so it will protect the port and boaters for decades to come.

The work will be done in two phases. Phase one will increase the length of the head of the jetty while also stabilizing it to prevent future erosion. Dunning explained as waves pound into the rocks on the jetty year after year, it slowly erodes the rocks and weakens the jetty.

"It continues to break apart," Dunning said. "They will come in and re-arm it. They'll put big rocks to re-arm it. We're losing 15 to 20 feet a year."

The second phase of the project will be on the root or the backside of the jetty, which is mostly gone due to erosion over the years. That work will protect the beaches in the area while also

Oregon taxpayers to receive $1.9 billion in kicker credit

JEREMY C. RUARK

Oregon taxpayers are in line to get a $1.9 billion kicker refund credit in the coming months.

The kicker occurs if actual state revenues exceed forecasted revenues by 2 percent or more over the two-year budget cycle. The excess, including the 2 percent trigger amount, is returned to taxpayers through a credit on their following year's tax return, according to the Oregon Revenue Department.

The following is the summary of the Oregon Revenue Forecast presented to state lawmakers today.

The economic outlook remains bright.

Strong household incomes, boosted considerably by federal aid during the pandemic, are the underlying driver. Consumers have no shortage of firepower if they want to and

Curry County reports two new COVID deaths

By DAVID RUPKALVIS
The Pilot

The ongoing COVID surge in Curry County is turning more deadly.

Last week, the county reported its 14th death after a 90-year-old woman died with COVID. On Monday, the Oregon Health Authority reported two more COVID deaths in the county.

The county's 15th COVID victim was a 68-year-old woman who tested positive August 26 and died the same day at PeaceHealth Sacred Heart Health Center in Riverbend. She had underlying health conditions.

The county's 16th death may have been the youngest COVID victim as a 34-year-old man who tested positive for COVID on August 10 died August 26 at McKenzie-Willamette Medical Center. He

Congressman surprised when SWOCC names chemistry lab after him

By DAVID RUPKALVIS
The World

After he and his staff worked hard to provide funding and assistance to get it built, Congressman Peter DeFazio visited Coos Bay to tour Umpqua Hall, the recently finished science building at Southwestern Oregon Community College.

As he walked through the three-story building, DeFazio admired the construction and especially the use of local wood on the interior.

"It's beautiful," he said.

DeFazio and his staff were able to secure $3.3 million in EDA funding to help pay for the $25 million keeping boaters safe.

"It just helps reduce some of the impact of the current and waves," Dunning said.

Dunning said with the funding freed up, the Corps of Engineers is taking bids on the work. He expects a bid to be chosen in the coming months with repairs beginning in the spring.

DeFazio has been working on getting the funding for close to 25 years. During that time, the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund was collecting money that sat unspent in the U.S. Treasury.

Last year, DeFazio received bipartisan support on a bill to release the funding, which had grown to $10 billion, in the House. The House voted unanimously to approve the bill, but the Senate, then controlled by Republicans, refused to take it up.

"Every Republican in my committee, every Republican in the House voted for it," DeFazio said. "We've been collecting the money since the Reagan era. The Corps has a backlog of projects, but they didn't have the money."

When the Senate refused to act, DeFazio looked for another way to get the funding released. After negotiating with Senate Republicans, he was able to get a bill approved in the budget cycle that allowed the $10 billion to be spent over 10 years.

One of the largest projects in year one is fixing the jetty in Coos Bay.

"We're losing a lot of the jetty every year," DeFazio said. "That entry becomes more and more dangerous. These things deteriorate at an accumulating rate. I got this one on the list with the Corps a few years ago, and they kept saying, 'I don't have the money.' Well, now they have the money."

Bottom: Congressman Peter DeFazio talks to members of the Coast Guard while visiting the Charleston station.

In addition to the repairs on the North Jetty in Coos Bay, DeFazio also got funding for a wastewater plant at the port in Brookings. The plant will enable Pacific Seafood, one of the top employers in the region, to keep its Brookings plant open.

"They'll have to close on January 1 if they don't have a plan for a wastewater plant," DeFazio said. "For that community, it's a huge deal. They'll lose their fleet and their processor if they don't get it."

DeFazio secured $3.5 million to fund the construction of the new wastewater treatment plant owned and operated by the Port of Brookings.

Getting the wastewater plant will save jobs and the fishing fleet, which supports 70 families, DaFazio said.

"Working waterfronts require infrastructure, and we thank Congressman DeFazio for his leadership in directing federal dollars to the Port for this new project. We look forward to continuing to work with him in the coming months to secure this funding and support continued economic development here in Brookings," said Tony Dal Ponte, Pacific Seafood.

A close encounter with wolves and fear

By MOLLY ABSOLON

This summer, three of us were hiking in Alaska’s western Brooks Range when we encountered a pack of eight wolves. We were far from any help when they moved toward us, paused and then disappeared behind a low ridge.

When they re-emerged seconds later, they’d lined up along the crest of the pass we were hiking toward. They looked as if they were poised to attack.

Then ... nothing happened. Once the wolves figured out what we were, they turned around and vanished. But for those few anxious moments, I tingled with adrenaline, fearing the worst even as I thought how thrilling it all was.

I knew, and I hope most people know, that wolf attacks on humans are extraordinarily rare. In fact, even minor attacks by predatory animals are rare, yet it doesn’t take much to get our imaginations to run wild with fear of fangs and blood. It’s the realization that we aren’t always at the top of the food chain — that we could end up as some other animal’s dinner.

Years ago, on a camping trip, I participated in a predator-prey game that gave me a taste of that vulnerability. I played a mouse, and everyone else in the game was out to eat me. I spent most of the time slinking between hiding places, worried that any movement might get me spotted. Ecologists call this unease the “landscape of fear,” when everything is suffused with hyper-awareness and a sense of vigilance.

But the evidence doesn’t support that kind of fear of wild animals. Yellowstone National Park has, on average, some 4 million visitors annually. According to park data, just one person is injured by a bear each year on average. Since 1892, bears have killed only 18 people in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem.

That doesn’t make the attacks that do happen any less terrifying or tragic, though. This summer, a woman in Montana was attacked and killed in her tent by a grizzly bear; in April, a grizzly killed a man near West Yellowstone, Montana; and in Alaska this June, a sleeping couple was mauled in Alaska’s Kenai National Wildlife Refuge. This is the stuff of nightmares.

During our hunter-gatherer days, wild animals truly posed a danger, and we were right to fear them. But these days, attacks by predators — gruesome and terrifying as they are — cause only a handful of deaths around the planet. Yet there are lots of other animals we should worry about, but usually don’t.

According to a 2019 report by researcher Michael Conover, 47,000 people seek medical attention each year after being attacked or bitten by wildlife, and roughly eight of them die. Most of the culprits are snakes, birds, rodents and raccoons: 27,000 rodent bites — meaning mice, rats and squirrels — versus less than one bite annually by wolves.

Elk attacks resulted in three injuries that required medical treatment, while grizzlies were responsible for 0.8. Alligator attacks were more common, with an average of 9 bites per year and one fatality. Meanwhile, some 30,000 Americans die in car crashes every year.

Still, most of us don’t think about dying when we get into the car, while a lot of us worry when we hike in grizzly country. It’s built in. And encounters with wildlife are increasing as we compete with them, in their own habitat, for limited space and food.

The recent increase in mountain lion attacks is likely due to the blurring of the urban-wildland “interface.” In Colorado, the Parks and Wildlife agency has documented 25 mountain lion attacks since 1990, with four since 2019.

But in our national parks, rangers report a different problem: Tourists get into trouble when they treat wild animals like pets. Tom Smith, biology professor at Brigham Young University, told National Geographic that most bear attacks are avoidable if people just remember that bears react instinctively.

“Bears don’t have a unique response for humans,” Smith said. “If we unwittingly trigger that bear-on-bear response, then it’s full-on, and you’d better be ready.”

I don’t ever want to be attacked by a wild animal, but I appreciate the intensity and humility I feel in their presence. It’s humbling to know that these wild, beautiful animals don’t care who we are or what we do. We have entered their turf, after all, and it’s up to us to watch our step.

Letters to the editor

Political side-step

Our Congressional Representative Peter DeFazio is a pro at the politician’s side-step. Rather than address the current fiasco at Kabul, he blames Donald Rumsfeld for moving the U.S. to Iraq after 9/11. WHAT? Rep. DeFazio also said the Kabul exodus was inevitable because Donald Trump cut a deal with the Taliban to be out of Afghanistan by May 1st. President Biden had no trouble undoing most of Trump’s accomplishments, except leaving Afghanistan, which he turned into a disaster.

It is hard to believe that Biden’s advisers gave him just one option to leave, that being the airport at Kabul. If the U.S. had not abandoned the Bagram Air Base that would have been a better alternative, and the prisoners who had been detained there would not now be armed with U.S. military weapons.

Concerned Citizens of Curry

Speaking on behalf of the Concerned Citizens of Curry, we are writing to voice our concern over losing control of our local sovereignty. You voted to give up our rights as an independent county when you turned our health over to the state and for bad reasons.

Curry County Board of Commissioners voted to disband Curry County Public Health, allowing the Oregon Health Authority to take over the duties in Curry County. This was a terrible mistake. A better decision could have been reached and we will be watching in hope that you will re-vote to reverse that decision. Meanwhile, you follow lockstep at the hip with Kate Brown’s edicts though her overreach has been disastrous for local businesses and our community.

Our children need to go to school for in person learning and they should not be commanded to wear masks. This is child abuse. Vaccination mandates such as we’re now seeing are equally abusive and a violation of civil rights. If you vote to close local businesses or make it hard for them to operate, you will deal a final death blow to our irreplaceable gem of a county and there will be little or no reason for people to want to either visit or live here.

Top-down government makes people move to Florida. Think about it and return control of Curry County back to the people. That’s the right and constitutional thing to do. We live here. Give us our county back!

What are we doing?

How can our three county commissioners fight against safety measures from the state when Curry is one of the worst hit counties in the state?

JACOBS AND JULIE JACOBS, HUSBNAD AND WIFE, AS JOINT TENANTS Recorded: 12/7/2009 as Instrument No. 20095330 of Official Records in the office of the Recorder of DEL NORTE COUNTY, California; Date of Sale: 9/15/2021 at 11:00 AM Place of Sale: At the Steps of the Southwest Entrance to the Flynn Administration Building, located at 981 H Street, Crescent City, CA 95531 Amount of unpaid balance and other charges: $327,991.20 The purported property address is: 777 JACOBS LN, CRESCENT CITY, CA 95531-5152 Assessor's Parcel No.: 105- 130-66 NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 800- 280-2832 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this internet website http://www.qualityloan.com, using the file number assigned to this foreclosure by the Trustee: CA-19- 873283-AB. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the internet website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 800-280- 2832, or visit this internet website http://www.qualityloan.com, using the file number assigned to this foreclosure by the Trustee: CA-19-873283-AB to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the property address or other common designation, if any, shown herein. If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. If the sale is set aside for any reason, including if the Trustee is unable to convey title, the Purchaser at the sale shall be entitled only to a return of the monies paid to the Trustee. This shall be the Purchaser's sole and exclusive remedy. The purchaser shall have no further recourse against the Trustor, the Trustee, the Beneficiary, the Beneficiary's Agent, or the Beneficiary's Attorney. If you have previously been discharged through bankruptcy, you may have been released of personal liability for this loan in which case this letter is intended to exercise the note holders right's against the real property only. Obituaries

Roy John Alder

Harbor, Oregon resident, Roy John Alder was a beloved partner, dad, and friend. He passed away unexpectedly on August 17, 2021 at the age of 86.

Born and raised in San Francisco, the city provided the backdrop for his enduring ability to connect with people and make life-long friends. One of his fondest memories as a child was walking across the Golden Gate Bridge on opening day May 27, 1937.

After graduating from Poly Tech High School Roy joined the U.S. Navy for two years. You know the old saying, "Join the Navy and see the world," well that statement held true for Roy. He often talked about all the places and wonderful people he met during his tour. After leaving the Navy, Roy, being an artist and wanting to perfect his skills, enrolled at Art Center College of Design in Pasadena. He returned to San Francisco two years later and worked in the financial district as a private contractor. One of Roy's best friends working on Treasure Island called and offered him a job as a private contractor for the Navy in Oxnard, California, where he worked for twenty years before retiring in 1988.

Roy decided he needed a new beginning and packed up and relocated to Minden, Nevada as a retiree, but that didn't last long. Roy soon earned his real estate license and began a new career. Because he was a believer in service to his community, he was a proud member of Sertoma and later in life the Brookings

Elks Lodge. He loved living in Minden and on Friday summer nights he would have what he called his "Gutter Parties." These were so much fun! Roy would hoist his garage door up and wait for all his neighbors to come home from work, offering them cocktails and snacks to celebrate the end of their work week.

Roy also loved just getting in his Jeep and hitting the open road in Nevada and making little stops to meet and talk with people. With his uncanny gift as an artist, he would make memorable and unique sketches on the backs of cocktail napkins which in most cases got him free drinks. Roy never knew a stranger. On one occasion he invited two pilots visiting from Hungary to stay with him while they were attending an air event at the Minden Airport.

Fortune struck once more when Roy met Jan Cessna, who was just getting ready to move from Minden to Reno for a job opportunity. This is when life changed yet again and after two years Roy decided they both needed a new adventure. This time it was searching the Great State of Oregon for a new place to live. They landed in Harbor, bought a beautiful home, and the rest they say is history. Roy's goal for his remaining years was to return to the ocean that he loved so much and with Jan at his side, his dream came true.

One of the most unique things about Roy was, as a graphic artist, he had an extraordinary sense of humor. He would often do original hand-designed cards for friends and family which always included imaginative puns. Roy was indeed noted for his witty and dry sense of humor and many of these pieces are still treasured and displayed in the homes of friends.

Roy has two daughters whom he took great pride in, Sierra and Amber. The joyful memories they made include creating the world's best ice cream sundaes, going to "beanie weenie" BBQs at the naval base with their cousins always in tow, and spending a fun-filled day at a park. Roy was also a dedicated son to his ma, Lila. They were a dynamic duo and he included her in his adventures. Memorably the two of them could frequently be found happily sharing a beer or two! He also loved every kind of critter. One of his later passions was feeding and watching the great variety of local wild birds that visited his backyard. And most important, Charlie the poodle became his constant companion and favorite napping partner.

His family history comes from Finland and he took considerable jubilation in being a Finlander. He pulled strength from his heritage and not only survived a heart attack in 2017, but came back stronger than ever walking 25 miles a week and changing to a vegetarian diet, adding years, happiness, and vitality to his life.

Roy is survived by his partner Janyce Cessna, daughter Sierra Alder, daughter and son-in-law Amber and Jarrett Virkler and granddaughter Megan. Roy liked to call himself a "Gregarious Loner." We like to call him a creative and much beloved man who will be missed beyond words. In lieu of fresh flowers please make donations to your favorite charities.

Donna Marie Henderson

Noted master bead artist, Donna Henderson, passed in Bend, Oregon. She was born in Burlingame, California June 24, 1959, lived her early years in the Bay Area, and later lives in Los Alamitos, CA. She moved to Polson, MT when her parents, James A. Shaffer, Jr. and Frances A. Shaffer relocated to Montana with the family. In Polson, Donna attended local schools. She worked on the ship, the Retta Mary, in the summers. It was there she met her husband, James Henderson.

Following the death of her mother, she moved to Flagstaff, Arizona where she attended school and worked, eventually returning to Polson for her wedding with Jim. She studied photography at Northern Arizona University, and was very connected to the arts community there and in Sedona, Arizona where she and Jim worked for many years.

The pair relocated to Brookings, Oregon where she continued her joy of arts. She also worked for Ace Hardware, managing the paint department. Donna focused on bead work, and produced phenomenal pieces influenced both by the years in the Southwest, and the beautiful Oregon Coast, which she celebrated through her works, which were featured in galleries and exhibited in museums. Donna did not limit her beading to jewelry, and worked in dimensional art, hanging pieces, and functional pieces as well. Color, pattern, and texture were all integrated.

In 2015, she was diagnosed with Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis, Lou Gehrig's Disease. She relocated to Bend, Oregon, to be close to a Center of Excellence for the treatment of ALS. There she lived with Stella and Brooks, her sister and brother-in-law. For years she worked to retain her abilities, slowing the progress of the ALS. She finally died of the respiratory complications of ALS on August 4, 2021, six years after her initial diagnosis.

Donna is missed by her family and many friends. She was preceded in death by her parents, Jim and Fran Shaffer, and her spouse James R. Henderson. She is survived by her sister Stella Larson (Brooks) of Bend, OR, Melissa Miller of Chelmsford, MA, and Lori Dapelo (Scott) of Santa Rosa, CA. She also leaves her niece and nephews, Kelly Larsen, Charles, Alex, Jason, and Inger Larson, their spouses and children.

There is much to a life of work and beauty that cannot be described in an obituary. Her acerbic wit, her devotion to her friends, and her pure true spirit travel with her. She will forever be in our hearts. Donna's family wishes to thank the ALS Association of Central Oregon, the Center Orthopedic & Neurological Care and Research of Bend, OR, Partners in Care Hospice, Bend, OR, for their support and care, and a legion of the truest friends who filled her life with love and laughter.

Charles Ellsworth Harman, M.D., J.D.2

February 21, 1931 – August 15, 2021

Charles Ellsworth Harman, age 90, passed away at home in Brookings, Oregon, surrounded by his family.

He is survived by his wife Mary Elizabeth Harman of Brookings, Oregon; children Johanna, Audrey and Pal Harman; his brother Robert Harman and sisters Muriel Brandt and half-sister Dianne Agster. His sister Arlene Malicot preceded him in death.

Charles was born in Santa Monica, California, the son of George Harman and Myrtle Morkassel. He graduated from UCLA and went to medical school at St. Louis University after which he met his wife Mary, while working as a first-year resident in psychiatry at Brooklyn State Hospital. She was a registered nurse at the same hospital. She said, "I was coming off my shift from a closed ward and he was just arriving, and he gave me the biggest, most beautiful smile." They were together ever since.

Charles was a renaissance man who worked hard to put himself through medical school. He was board-certified in psychiatry and board eligible in neurology. He was a medical researcher, violinmaker (violins, cellos & violas), had a J. D. degree, was a fisherman (commercial salmon & tuna); a boat builder (53 foot sailing fish boat), amateur string player, author (autobiography, law, psychiatry, viola making) and whistleblower He was such a fan of baseball (go Giants! Mariners!) that he regularly practiced his itches and went to the battling cages even up until his mid-70's, hitting the ball at up to 70 mph. Charles initiated preservation of Native American land in Arizona and co-founded Friends of Music with Professor Eugene Andre in Brookings, Oregon. He generously donated his instruments to students and professionals. Charles was a brilliant man who chose often to defend and support the vulnerable He was also a great husband and father. We miss you.

His immediate family will hold a private memorial at a later date.

The key to the outlook remains translating this firepower into actual consumer spending, particularly in the hard-hit service industries. Firms today are trying to staff up as quickly as possible to meet this increasing demand. The actual number of jobs created this year will be the largest on record in Oregon. The “Today’s revenue forecast is another sign that Oregon’s economy is healthy,

“And we must never lose sight of the fact that, because of historic, structural inequities, the impacts of the pandemic and the natural disasters of the past year and a half

The science labs are also brand new with state-of-the-art equipment. One professor who will benefit is Ron Metzger, who has been teaching geology for 26

“My priority will be to continue to address the challenges facing Oregon families, including the disparities resulting from systemic racism, with a particular focus on ensuring our hospitals and health care workers have the resources they need to continue to provide patients

"I don't think you'll have a problem getting students, especially if we make it free," DeFazio said. "It's in play. There will be something significant for students. If not that, maybe it will be working off the debt. We have to do something."

“The stable outlook of today’s revenue forecast is welcome news coming off a legislative session where we invested strongly in programs to help Oregonians impacted by the pandemic, wildfires, the housing crisis and other challenges. We need to maintain this momentum to build a better future for everyone.

“Today is also a reminder that our economic recovery is linked to our ability to control the virus. Our hospital systems are on the verge of collapse in this moment. With 1,000 Oregonians hospitalized due to COVID-19, there is still too much suffering across the state. We will maintain our economic recovery if we all commit to protecting each other from the Delta variant.”

Today, the Office of Economic Analysis presented the quarterly revenue forecast. It confirmed that Oregon taxpayers will receive a $1.9 billion Kicker. The corporate Kicker will send an additional $850 million to K-12 schools. The state budget will also have an ending fund balance of $699 million.

“It’s clear that Democrats raided $15 million from the Kicker for no good reason. Unprecedented deficit stimulus spending by the federal government and Oregonians stepping up to support businesses during the Governor’s shutdowns has given the state excess money.”

“The legislature now has money to invest in COVID and wildfire response and recovery and preparing for upcoming unknown expenses in the next biennium. Most importantly, our kids need to be in school full-time to get caught up after a year of learning loss. This money can help our kids recover.”

Background

The Oregon Economic Forecast provides information to planners and policy makers in state agencies and private organizations for use in their decision making processes. The Oregon Revenue Forecast opens the revenue forecasting process to public review. It is the basis for much of the budgeting in state government. The forecast reports are issued four times a year: March, June, September, and December.

Curry Health Network CEO Ginny Williams greets the 11 National Guardsmen who came to Curry County to assist during the COVID surge.

Curry Health Network welcomes National Guardsmen

Curry General Hospital in Gold Beach welcomes 11 National Guardsmen, 10 of whom will be assisting hospital and clinic staff with non-clinical job functions, and one who will oversee their deployment. Governor Kate Brown has been deploying up to 1,500 National Guard troops to help hospitals in the state deal with resources stretched thin during the COVID-19 pandemic surge.

Curry Health Network's CEO Ginny Williams greeted them at Curry General Hospital on August 27 where they received general orientation and job-specific training.

"The highest priority of these National Guardsmen will be to serve as patient sitters and entrance screeners, although they can assist with other job functions such as those in environmental services or the dietary department," she said. "Patient sitters help our staff by keeping an eye on patients that may require a little extra assistance, and entrance screeners are integral to keeping our staff, patients, and visitors safe."

Screeners serve as front-line defense to identify persons with Covid-19 symptoms or previous recent exposure and ensure that anyone entering the healthcare facilities uses hand sanitizer and is properly masked. All healthcare facilities are mandated to require masking of staff, patients and visitors.

"These gentlemen will become part of the Curry Health Network team and part of our communities. We hope the community will join us in welcoming them. We're very grateful for their help during this time," said Williams.

The National Guardsmen, all from Oregon, have been deployed to Curry Health Network and will be assigned to serve at Curry General Hospital in Gold Beach and Curry Medical Center in Brookings through September 30. The deadline could be extended to the end of the year, depending on the needs of each facility.

Creedence Clearwater Revival Tribute Band

Creedence Clearwater Revival tribute concert at Brookings

The Brookings free Summer Concerts in the Park series ends with a blast from the past with Creedence Revelation, an incredible Creedence Clearwater Revival tribute band, at 1 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 5 at Azalea Park.

Lead by seasoned guitarist and singer Randy Linder, the band has entertained audiences from California to New York with the beloved CCR hits of 1968 to 1972, along with a few of John Fogerty's solo hits. Linder's authenticity shines through with the visual resemblance, the voice, the lead guitar style and even the rocking blues harp played by John Fogerty.

Linder has been in the music business since 1968 and has attained national and international status since developing this salute to John Fogerty and CCR in 2000. Creedence Revelation's past performances include several Las Vegas engagements, shows in Guam, and a show in Mexico with an enthusiastic audience of 14,000 CCR fans.

More information about the band at <http://creedence-revelation.com>.

Please note that Oregon Gov. Kate Brown has issued a COVID-19 mandate regarding the wearing of masks in most outdoor settings. Learn more about the mandate at <https://gov-status.egov.com/or-oh-face-coverings>.

About the series

This is the seventh and final show of American Music Festival's summer concerts in the park, sponsored by Rogue Credit Union. The series is funded 100 percent by business sponsors, grants and audience donations.

The concerts usually attract 800 to 1,200 people, who bring picnic lunches, lawn chairs and blankets. The Pacific Coast Trolley will provide rides from the lower parking field on North Bank Chetco River Road to the bandshell. The pickup times are 12-1 p.m. and 3-4 p.m.

Information and videos about the featured bands can be found at the American Music Festival's Facebook page at facebook.com/AmericanMusicFestivalBrookingsOregon.
