

'Caution - Rough Roads Ahead'

ODOT states in new report

Country Media, Inc.

Oregon's highway system is facing ongoing challenges as the condition of many roads continues to decline, according to the Oregon Department of Transportation's 2024 Pavement Condition Report.

The report highlights that while 87% of Oregon's 18,000 lane miles of pavement are still in fair or better condition, the quality of roads is slipping, with the percentage of "good" pavement reaching its lowest point since 2001.

The report points to a significant decline in the number of roads classified as in "good" condition. Over the past decade, the amount of pavement rated as good has decreased, and without

Curry County Declares Emergency Declaration, Has Financial Adjustments and Public Land Concerns

By LINDA LEE
Curry Coastal Pilot

Curry County officials have declared a local emergency following a recent severe storm that caused significant damage to infrastructure and private property, particularly in the central and northern regions.

The declaration coincided with two separate Curry County Board of Commissioners meetings, one in Gold Beach and another in Port Orford, where officials addressed a range of issues, from financial adjustments and aquatic safety to public land management and inter-governmental collaboration.

The county's emergency declaration followed a severe rain event that resulted in flooding at Lobster Creek, road closures on Flores Creek Road and Sixes River Road due to plugged culverts and widespread material damage.

County officials reported "substantial damage" and warned of potential further complications from anticipated wind events. Emergency Manager Jeff Hughes has assessed the areas impacted. A press release was issued to guide residents on documenting and reporting damage. The storm also caused power outages and losses to crops and equipment.

In other news, the commissioners approved several key items, including amendments to the agenda; the consent agenda with adjustments to interim finance authority; an ordinance to increase the transient lodging tax rate; amendments to ambulance service area franchise terms and fire protection district annexations.

They also authorized a contract for the "Love Your Fourth" fireworks display, approved the sale of K9 patrol vehicles to the Brookings Police Department and approved support letters for the Cape Blanco Heritage Society and the Port of Brookings Harbor. Additionally, they approved a contract extension with Curry Public Transit District.

The commissioners then addressed financial adjustments, due to the finance director's absence, and added a discussion item on Senator Merkley's Smith River National Recreation Area expansion.

Public comments focused on proposed logging activities on federal lands with residents expressing concerns about environmental impacts and legal implications.

Several residents advocated for Senator Merkley's Smith River legislation and the Southwestern Oregon Watershed and Salmon Protection Act.

Director of Operations Ashley More clarified her role, emphasizing she is not a commissioner, and thanked Port Orford for their engagement. Kim Foster raised concerns about federal grant funding for wildfire prevention.

Commissioner Trost discussed the Smith River expansion and adequate maintenance, many roads in fair condition are at risk of deteriorating into poor condition within the next few years. ODOT’s goal is to preserve the condition of Oregon’s highways through regular maintenance. “As roads age, maintenance needs become more complex and costly,” ODOT states in a release. “Timely maintenance, such as resurfacing and crack sealing, are the most effective way to prevent roads from further deterioration and to extend their service life.”

BACKGROUND

Pavements are load-carrying structures that degrade over time due to the cumulative effects of traffic, weather, and material aging. To keep them properly maintained and out of poor condition, they must be resurfaced or rehabilitated at periodic intervals. Typical ranges of service life are 10 to 30 years for asphalt-surfaced pavements and 40 to 60 years for concrete pavements. When pavements are resurfaced at or before the end of their service life, degradation is typically confined to the surfacing only and the pavement’s foundation and base layers remain protected. However, if resurfacing is delayed for too long, the pavement structure and underlying base materials can become excessively damaged and complete replacement (e.g. reconstruction) becomes necessary and can cost six to ten times higher, or even more. Timely maintenance and preservation are by far the most efficient way to preserve our investment. In the past 20 years, ODOT has managed to maintain a paving cycle of about 25 years. However, this is set to dramatically increase to a 500-year cycle by 2030. This will limit the ability to repair and preserve many roads, particularly non-interstate routes, which will see fewer repairs moving forward. Over the last 20+ years, Pavement funding has been relatively flat at around $100 million per year, with supplemental funds adding another $20 to $40 million per year., according to the ODOT report’s executive summary. “With this investment, ODOT accomplished an average paving cycle of 25 years with pavement conditions holding steady, although we still weren’t able to get to the worst roads or the most expensive projects,” ODOT officials state in the executive summary. Pavement funding was significantly reduced in the 21-24 STIP cycle and going forward, approved pavement funding levels for the 27-30 STIP have been reduced even more and are only $33 million per year. “Even before considering inflationary effects, this funding level is about one-third of where it has historically been and translates to roughly one paving project per year. With funding through 2030, the equivalent paving cycle time is 160 years and after 2030 it is on a 500 year cycle, which is unsustainable,” the executive summary states. “ODOT’s structural revenue issue is forcing the agency to dramatically pull back on our pavement maintenance and preservation efforts,” ODOT Delivery and Operations Administrator Amy Ramsdale said. “Without additional revenue or revenue reform, the quality of Oregon’s highways will significantly decline in just a few years.” OTHER KEY FINDINGS • The number of roads in poor condition has been increasing, with more expected to deteriorate in the coming years. • Asphalt roads typically last between 10 and 30 years, while concrete roads last 40 to 60 years, depending on weather and maintenance. • After 2027, non-interstate routes will receive little to no paving, affecting overall road quality. The ODOT report emphasizes the importance of proactive maintenance to slow the deterioration of the state’s roads and prevent more costly repairs down the road. While ODOT officials said the agency has managed to meet key performance goals for pavement condition in the past, the growing backlog of maintenance needs and the increasing age of the state’s roads present significant challenges in maintaining these standards in the future. The outlook for state highway pavement is “caution - rough roads ahead,” the executive summary states. “Without a change of course, there will be rapid declines in pavement condition, resulting in diminished safety and higher vehicle repair costs for Oregonians traveling on rutted and potholed roads. Also, Oregonians will pay more to repair failing pavement than it would have cost to preserve and maintain them in a state of good repair.” For more detailed information, visit the 2024 Pavement Condition Report on ODOT’s website.

to bring our vision to life; where clean water, abundant salmon runs, sustainable working lands, and prospering rural communities define Oregon’s southern coast. We are grateful for our many partners: land owners, foundation funders, regional conservation organizations, and individual donors. This support over the last 25 years has seen us through many achievements, including: • the land trust was originally founded on March 17, 2000 by Jerry Becker and a group of like-minded dedicated citizens, • we made our first land purchase, the 163 acre Keystone Preserve in 2004,

- our first conservation easement protecting 160 acres at Camp Myrtlewood in 2014,
 - becoming an accredited land trust in 2019,
 - today stewarding 997 acres of land with 12 properties throughout the Southern Oregon Coast.
- In an effort to embark on new and innovative projects to protect and conserve our natural resources and the health of our wild rivers, our current portfolio of projects continues to push into new endeavors and challenging conservation objectives. These include:
- WRLT’s first agricultural easement preserving a 775 acre family ranch,
 - an EPA-funded brownfields cleanup of an abandoned mill site and restoration of Bagley Creek to bring salmon back to this tributary of the Elk River, • preserving and restoring coastal prairie habitat which supports regionally endemic rare plants at the Nesika Preserve, in partnership with the US Fish & Wildlife Service and The Understory Initiative. We couldn’t do this work without the help of our generous supporters. We intend to have a series of celebration events over the summer to give supporters the opportunity to tour project sites around our service area. Stay tuned for event details. In recognition of our 25th Anniversary, we caught up with a longtime friend of the Wild Rivers Land Trust.

Signal Buttes easement filing with Peg Reagan, Mark Furler, and WRLT staff Ann Schmierer and Max Beeken

John Jones’ unwavering appreciation for the natural environment led to the creation of our first conservation easement at Camp Myrtlewood near Myrtle Point, Oregon. Jones said he resonates with a quote from the Swedish activist Greta Thunberg, “Hope doesn’t come from words. Hope only comes from actions. Once we start to act, hope is everywhere.”

Jones said he was having feelings of despair witnessing wildlife disappear from the land, when he was visited by the very animal he had been mourning – a pileated woodpecker. “We can explain such things away. We can say, ‘That’s just a coincidence.’ But, I think, when we see those kinds of things in our lives, it gives us hope,” Jones said. “When we have that hope, that gratitude, it gives us the courage to act.” Jones’ willingness to put his passion into action moved many projects forward throughout his many years with the land trust. His leadership influenced important decisions made by the Wild Rivers Land Trust board of directors, and he and his wife Margaret continue to support the land trust as monthly sustaining donors.

tower fee adjustments for Coos Forest Protective Association (CFPA). He also emphasized the need for greater resource collaboration among local governments, particularly in light of financial challenges faced by municipalities. Port Orford’s Mayor, Ann Vileisis, discussed her city’s financial challenges and the need for intergovernmental cooperation. The board agreed to form a natural resource advisory committee to improve communication with state and federal agencies. Looking ahead, the commissioners concluded both meetings by emphasizing their commitment to addressing the immediate needs of storm-affected residents, managing county finances responsibly, and fostering greater collaboration among local governments. The commissioners also pledged to continue engaging with the public on important issues, such as land management and resource sharing.

The Curry Campus, located just two miles north of Brookings, features modern labs and technology-rich classrooms, fostering a collaborative and supportive learning environment. Upcoming Monarch Butterfly Program at Curry Campus SWOCC’s Curry Campus, in partnership with the Friends of Curry Campus, will host a free program, “Monarch Butterflies in Our Backyard,” on Thursday, April 10th from 1 to 2 p.m. in the Community Room. Dennis Triglia, a passionate monarch butterfly advocate, will discuss the importance of protecting and increasing the monarch population in Curry County. He will share insights on creating habitats, collecting data for research and advocating for the reduction of insecticides and herbicides.

Triglia, who witnessed the drastic decline of monarch butterflies over the past forty years, will also cover the monarch life cycle, their role as pollinators, current conservation issues, and how to rear them in captivity. He will display posters, preserved specimens, rearing cages and information on nectar plants and milkweed, the monarch’s only host plant. The program will also highlight the efforts of the Brookings Oregon Monarch Advocates (BOMA) and their work towards establishing Brookings as a Monarch City. Monarch City USA, a nonprofit organization, encourages cities to plant milkweed and nectar plants to support the monarch butterfly population. SWOCC continues to lead and inspire lifelong learning across the south Oregon coast. Interested students can pre-register for spring term orientation by calling 541-888-1593. Descends into Chaos Amid Resignation, Financial Disputes and Harassment Allegations

A recent meeting of the Harbor Rural Fire Protection District Board of Directors erupted into a tumultuous session, marked by the discussion of the resignation of Interim Chief Lancaster, heated financial discussions and serious allegations of harassment.

The meeting's first action item, the acceptance of Interim Chief Lancaster's resignation, immediately sparked controversy.

While a motion to approve the resignation was made and seconded, board members expressed concerns about an ongoing investigation related to the former chief. One board member argued that the resignation should not be accepted until the investigation was concluded, leading to a stalemate.

"We do not currently accept it because there's still an active investigation from our executive meeting that we never got to finish up on," stated Director-at-Large Chris O'Connor, highlighting the unresolved nature of the situation.

The board then grappled with how to proceed, with suggestions ranging from seeking guidance from the city council to moving into an executive session. The discussion revealed deep divisions among board members, with disagreements over procedural matters and the handling of the resignation.

Adding to the tension, a formal statement from former firefighter, George Thompson, was read into the record. Thompson alleged that he was forced to resign by Acting Chief James Marcum, claiming he was given an ultimatum: resign or face continued write-ups until he was forced out. Thompson also accused Marcum of betraying his trust and called for a leadership that "builds people up, not one that pushes them out."

Financial matters further complicated the meeting. Board members raised concerns about the district's finances, with one member requesting bank statements for the past six months to investigate payroll discrepancies and discretionary fund usage.

The discussion revealed a lack of transparency and access to financial records, leading to frustration among some board members.

"I've just been stonewalled and I've had it," said Vice Chair Kari Schultz. "I'm done because I have asked nicely and I have requested different things and I've been told different things each time and some things have been accurate and some things have not."

The board also addressed the need to update authorized users and signers for the district's bank and Local Government Investment Pools (LGIP) accounts, aiming to streamline financial processes and ensure accountability. After much discussion, the board voted to include all current board members as authorized users on both accounts.

Adding to the already tense meeting, Firefighter Marie Johnston made several allegations during the public comment period. Johnston requested investigations into multiple incidents, including allegations of physical harassment involving an unwanted kiss from Interim Chief Lancaster and claims of financial misconduct.

Johnston also alleged that one of the fire engines was in worse condition than previously reported, creating a safety hazard. Johnston also claimed that a board member had been rude and dismissive.

"I, firefighter Johnston, request an investigation in regards of physical harassment with an unwanted kiss from intern Chief Landcaster during a station shift the week of January 13, 2025," Johnston stated.

The chaotic meeting underscored the deep-seated issues facing the Harbor Rural Fire Protection District, including leadership disputes, financial concerns and serious allegations of misconduct. The board now faces the challenge of addressing these issues and restoring trust within the department and the community.

The meeting concluded ed with reports from the Harbor Rural Fire Association highlighting ongoing recruitment efforts and training initiatives.

TENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are

999 Public Notices

risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property.
You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER:
The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postpone-ments be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (855) 313-3319 or visit this Internet website www. clearreconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 130696-CA.
Information about postpone-ments that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: Effective January 1, 2021, you may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code.
If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed

999 Public Notices

at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (855) 313-3319, or visit this internet website www.clearreconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 130696-CA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee.
Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale.
If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. FOR SALES

A.P.N.: 115-280-015-000 and 115-280-015-001 The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address or other common designation, if any, shown above. If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee, and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. The requirements of California Civil Code Section 2923.5(b)/2923.55(c) were fulfilled when the Notice of Default was recorded. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 800-758-8052 or visit this internet website www.ndscorp.com/sales, using the file number assigned to this case 24-30816-BA-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the internet website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT*: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are a "representative of all eligible tenant buyers" you may be able to purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 888-264-4010, or visit this internet website www.ndscorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 24-308 16-BA-CA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as a "representative of all eligible tenant buyers" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. *Pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code, the potential rights described herein shall apply only to public auctions taking place on or after January 1, 2021, through December 31, 2025, unless later extended. Public Notices

Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may visit the Internet Website address www.Xome.com or call Trustee Corps at (949) 252.8300 for information regarding the Trustee's Sale for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case, CA07001610-22-2. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. Lensespace Notice to Tenant NOTICE TO TENANT FOR FORECLOSURES AFTER JANUARY 1, 2021 You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 800-758-8052, or visit this internet website www.Xome.com, using the file number assigned to this case CA07001610-22-2 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. Curry Public Library

Seeks Patrons and Volunteers for Homebound Delivery Service, Offers an Abundance of April Programming

Photos/images courtesy of Curry Public Library Kids' Area: There's a lot going on in the kids' area at the Curry Public Library.

PRESS RELEASE

This spring, Curry Public Library is launching a homebound library delivery service and is seeking volunteers and participants from the community.

Funded by a grant from the Oregon Community Foundation, the new service seeks to increase access to library materials for library district residents who are unable to physically visit the library.

The library is currently seeking community members who are unable to visit the library for reasons such as health, mobility, age, visual impairment, permanent or physical disability, or other barriers to participate in the service.

Participants can request specific books or materials for delivery or have a library staff member select materials for them based on their preferences. Materials will be delivered to their home every two weeks.

The library is also seeking volunteer drivers to assist in the delivery and return of library materials. Volunteers will need to have a vehicle and be able to pass a background check and will be matched with one or more homebound patrons. Volunteers can expect to spend two to six hours a month volunteering, depending on their preference.

Interested in participating or volunteering? Contact Karim at 541-247-7246 or karim@cplib.net, or request a patron or volunteer application at the library's front desk.
