

What we can learn from fish snouts

LINDA PINKHAM
The Pilot

Each evening one of about 15 volunteers from Curry Anadromous Fishermen (CAF) makes the rounds to collect hatchery salmon snouts from three locations on the Rogue River Estuary. What on earth do they want fish snouts for, you might ask?

The snouts are placed in collection bins by fishermen, who are then entered into a drawing for fishing gear. Bins are located at fish cleaning stations at the Port of Gold Beach, Jot's Resort and Lex's Landing. Once collected, they are saved for ODFW fish biologists to examine. The group started collecting snouts on October 1 and will continue through November.

They are collecting the snouts because CAF and Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife (ODFW) want to learn about the survival rate of the hatchery fish because they operate the Indian Creek Hatchery (ICH) under the supervision of Oregon ODFW's Lower Rogue salmon and trout enhancement program (STEP).

"We remove a small wire tag from the snout that has data scribed on the tag," said STEP biologist John Weber. "The data tells us what state, hatchery, and release group. Once we have that data we can go to a database and learn a lot about the status of the fish when they were young and in the hatchery being reared." Indian Creek Hatchery tags about 33% of the Chinook salmon released.

"The effort has been going great," Weber said. "We have had more participation than what I expected for a first year project." As of Oct. 21, 97 snouts have been turned in resulting in 63 tags total with 40 coming from Indian Creek Hatchery Chinook (ICH). In addition, there are 34 non-coded wire tag (CWT) fish, which are presumed to be mostly Indian Creek fish as well. So ICH has 63.5 percent of the CWT fish and presumed 70 percent to 80 percent of the hatchery fish caught in the Rogue Estuary thus far.

Reopening schools

Local COVID-19 cases affect decisions as Brookings and Gold Beach districts delay on-campus classes

THE PILOT

David Marshall, Superintendent of Brookings-Harbor School District, announced on Friday afternoon, Oct. 16 that the recent spike in cases in Curry County will delay holding in-person classes for grades 4 to 12.

The weekly report from Oregon Health Authority and Oregon Department of Education (ODE) that was released on Oct. 12 confirmed Curry County experienced a spike in cases that pushed the county significantly over the 30 cases per 100,000 people metric.

"Under the ODE rules that permit us to have in-person classes for our kindergarten through third-grade students, we are permitted to continue in-person classes as long as the outbreak or spike is not connected to the school," Marshall said.

The increases in local cases are attributed to an isolated outbreak in an elder care facility and not indicative of expanded community spread, and no current active cases have been traced to the schools, according to Curry County Public Health.

"We will continue to keep in contact with Curry County Public Health to ensure that we are aware and can take action should the information change," he said.

"Unfortunately, the new cases do impact our county-wide metrics that determine the district's ability to start regular in-person classes under the hybrid model for grades 4 to 12."

County and state virus metrics must meet the target numbers for three weeks in a row in order for regular in-person instruction to begin in grades 4-12.

The BHSD Board of Directors will discuss potential timelines and options for returning to in-person instruction allowable under state guidelines at its upcoming meeting at 5:30 p.m.

Fish

Some tags early in the project revealed a few fish from the Klamath River and from random hatcheries in the northwest.

"We would expect to see fish in the Rogue estuary fishery in the summer and early fall from other basins as these fish enter the bays to feed," Weber explained about the fish from Klamath River and other hatcheries. "We historically have a small number of Chinook that spawn in the Rogue from other basins, with the majority of them being from the Klamath River. It is very rare to have a fish return to Indian Creek from outside basins."

Weber was encouraged with the results. "We are headed in the right direction to determine survival in the future," he said. "We have observed a significant number of jacks (2-year-old males) in the catch; this indicates that last year's release had some survival. With a good jack return we can make the assumption that we may have a decent 3-year-old return next year."

ODFW would like to see volunteers continue to head up the effort to continue monitoring the hatchery fish on the Rogue. In addition to the snouts, ODFW also collects data from hatchery fish they catch when seining, collecting broodstock, and spawning fish surveys.

"We collect this data whenever we get our hands on hatchery fish while sampling," he said. "Also, when the fish return to the hatcheries we take snouts, as well. This project is particularly important as there are a good number of Indian Creek fish caught in the estuary fishery and we don't get them for data collection. Collecting these Rogue estuary-caught hatchery fish is really important to gauge the success of the volunteer Indian Creek Hatchery program.

"I would just like to thank the anglers for their efforts to cut snouts and get them into the buckets at the different stations. With the drought conditions lasting into December over the past few years, Curry Anadromous

Fishermen need data to show the success of their program. "When we have reviewed punchcard data over the past few years, we have seen that hatchery fish are being caught, but we have had little data to show that they are Indian Creek fish. This year it looks like the majority are in fact from Indian Creek."

Curry County School District 1

In Gold Beach Superintendent Tim Wilson announced on Oct. 20, "The State COVID-19 metrics have been released and, as predicted, do not allow the opening of both schools to on-campus learning at this time. However, if the reports on Oct. 27, Nov. 3 and Nov. 10 show allowable data, then the District would have the potential to open up in the hybrid model the week of Nov. 16."

The CCSD1 Board was scheduled at its next meeting on Oct. 21 to discuss these options as it relates to the Operational Blueprint and acknowledgement by the Curry County Public Health Department for the opening of who and when in the hybrid model.

"With that said, the District is pleased to announce that Riley Creek will begin bringing in K-2 students starting next Monday, Oct. 26," Wilson said.

Under the rules of CDL (Comprehensive Distance Learning), cohorts or groups of up to 10 students can come to school for two hours a day. Students will attend their synchronous online lessons in the morning and then come on campus from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Transportation will be provided for those who request it. Based on the size of the grade level, students will be on campus once or twice a week. Parents are asked to not contact the school, and wait for the school to call and provide all the information needed.

If all goes as planned, then Riley Creek will add the grade 3-5 students starting on Monday, Nov. 2, under the same rules of cohorts/groups of 10 in afternoon sessions. The grades 3-5 addition will be confirmed next Tuesday, Oct. 27.

GB council reviews fair board plan

LINDA PINKHAM
The Pilot

Curry County Fair Board member Robert Chibante presented the final version of the Event Center on the Beach’s 2020 Redevelopment Plan at the Gold Beach City Council’s regular meeting on Oct. 12.

The plan encompasses a complete overhaul of the Fairgrounds’ nearly 14-acre property. Chibante detailed some of the strategies to convert the property into a modern event center that can accommodate large events that will boost tourism in the county. The idea is to promote work and travel vacations where organizations and companies in the Northwest and West could bring their employees together for a meeting and a vacation without having to travel by air.

“Back when I was with the Chamber, we always spoke about trying to get people to stay ‘one more day,’” Chibante said. “If we have a center that is current, modernized with having the rooms to get things done and infrastructure for them, it’s not going to be one day anymore; it might be three days, four days, five days. It will benefit the entire county.”

An RV park that starts with tent camping for bicyclists is one of the ideas that sticks out.

“Back in the days when Travel Oregon was involved, in 2014 statewide it (bicycle tourism) was over $400 million,” he said. On the coast it was $4 to $5 million at the time. There’s no real place where they can have a secure place where they can pull over the bike and have a tent without being on the side of the road. When looking at the RV camping, the tent camping would be the first way to get a foot in the door.” The camping and RV park would allow them to generate income for the Event Center.

The horse arena would also add additional stables and barn area so they can camp there and have a place for their horses to where they can ride on the beach the next day.

“The biggest change of all would be the new convention center,” Chibante said. The convention center would attach to Docia Sweet Hall and stretch over to encompass the Showcase building. “The end goal is to develop a closed campus. With a closed campus, we can have a concert or a car show or road show.” The closed campus would allow the Event Center to hold gated ticketed events.

The plan is meant to serve as a “blueprint” for the process with the priority goal of redevelopment and rehabilitation to if the facilities and properties to accommodate future use and growth. The 2020 Redevelopment Plan and all of the projects and their priority rank can be viewed at: <https://eventcenteronthebeach.com/redevelopment-plan>

Backyard Chicken Fees

The Council also considered a citizen request to lower the fee for a backyard chicken permit, which costs $100. After discussion and consideration of the request, councilors voted unanimously to keep the current fee in place because of actual costs to do the inspections and enforcement of rules.

Food Carts

The food cart ordinance drafted by staff after receiving direction during the September meeting, met the approval of councilors, with only one minor change, which added the industrial zone 5-I to the previous 4-C and 7-PF zones in the draft ordinance. The ordinance was praised by the Institute for Justice representative, which focuses on vending issues, as not being burdensome with regulations that would prevent people from opening a business.

Councilors voted unanimously to adopt the new vending rules with Resolution R2021-09 and also to lift the previously placed moratorium on new food vending carts.

Proposed Annexations

Finally, City Administrator Jodi Fritts announced an upcoming hearing for the November meeting to consider proposed annexation of several parcels within the Urban Growth Boundary into the City Limits. The City has been planning to annex its water intake and water treatment plant parcels due to upcoming capital projects. At the same time two adjacent property owners approached the city about annexing their properties.

The City hasn’t annexed any properties since 2007. Because the annexations are voluntary, an election isn’t required and the public hearing process is much easier.

The properties to be annexed in addition to the city-owned lots include the approximately 152-acre Old Mill site that extends on both sides of Jerrys Flat Road, and another 32-acre parcel adjacent to the southwest side of the Old Mill parcel. Both parcels are currently proposed to retain similar zoning to their current status, with the Old Mill site remaining mostly industrial with 20 acres zoned 4-C Commercial and the smaller adjacent parcel Residential 2-R. The City’s lots would be zoned 7-PF Public Facilities.

The hearing scheduled to be held in November is to designate the zoning on the parcels.

COVID-19 cases show slight decline

THE PILOT

For the week of Monday, Oct. 12 through Sunday, Oct. 18, OHA recorded 2,327 new daily cases, a 4 percent decline from the previous week’s pandemic high of 2,418. The Oregon Health Authority released its COVID-19 Weekly Report on Wednesday, Oct. 21.

The number of newly tested Oregonians rose to 28,960, as did those who tested positively, to 6.5 percent.

Twenty-seven COVID-19 associated deaths were reported during the week—compared to 25 during the previous week. One of those reported deaths was a Curry County resident from Sea View Long Term Memory Care in Brookings.

People hospitalized with the virus remained the same at 143.

The age group with the highest incidence of reported infection has been in persons aged 20 to 49. They represent 39% of Oregon’s population and they account for 56% of COVID-19 cases.

Hospitalization and death rates increase with age, with persons 80 or older accounting for 51% of COVID-19 associated deaths.

Curry County’s total number of cases is at 56, with one death as of Oct. 21. Oregon’s total number of cases has reached 40,443 with the death toll at 635.

Pedestrian dies after being struck by car on Highway 101

BROOKINGS—On Tuesday, Oct. 13 at approximately 10:10 p.m., Oregon State Police Troopers and emergency personnel responded to a vehicle crash on U.S. Highway 101 near milepost 358.

Preliminary investigation revealed a Toyota Camry, operated by Benjamin Demaris (64) of Crescent City, was southbound when he struck a pedestrian, Michael Christian (32) of Crescent

City, as he walked across the highway.

Christian sustained life threatening injuries and was transported to Sutter Coast Hospital for treatment and then to Rogue Valley Hospital.

Christian was pronounced deceased at the hospital.

OSP was assisted by Curry County Sheriff’s Office, Harbor Fire Department and Cal Ore Ambulance.

Oregon State Parks adds more hiker-biker pods

HILARY DORSEY
Country Media

The Oregon State Parks and Recreation Commission accepted during a meeting Wednesday, Sept. 16, a donation of $39,875 from Oregon Parks Forever for hiker-piker pods. Oregon Parks Forever had partnered with Oregon Parks and Recreation Department (OPRD) to install hiker-biker pods in six state parks along the Oregon coast: Fort Stevens, Nehalem Bay, Cape Lookout, Devil’s Lake, Cape Blanco and Harris Beach.

Robin Wilcox, planning manager for OPRD, said the pods have lockers that have charging stations inside of them. The goal is to have 11 hiker-biker pods with lockers, electronic charging stations and bike fix-it stations at 11 parks along the 362-mile long coastline.

“They’re very popular with folks that are hiking and biking along the coast,” Wilcox said during the meeting. “I think some folks who have been car camping have asked for some similar things in the tent camping sites.”

According to the staff report, Oregon Parks Forever secured $39,875 for three additional hiker-biker pods to be installed at three of the following five locations along the Oregon coast: Beverly Beach in Newport, Beachside in Waldport, Honeyman in Florence, Sunset Bay in Coos Bay or Humbug Mountain in Port Orford. OPRD is able to decide which of the three sites are currently the highest priority and most feasible.

Associate Director Chris Havel said OPRD currently has bike pods at Fort Stevens, Devil’s Lake, Cape Blanco, Harris Beach, Cape Lookout, Bullards Beach and Nehalem Bay. The lockers and other pod features are all first-come, first-served. The lockers provide a space for bicyclists to store their gear, secured with their own lock.

“The features of a standard pod – lockers, a place to charge devices, a tool station – fill in the gaps that many bikers experience since they travel so light,” Havel said. “Our standard hiker-biker sites are just a space to pitch a tent.”

These upgrades provide convenience and added safety, Havel added, as keeping cell phones and GPS devices fully charged for a long trip is important. Having a locker to store some possessions gives hikers and bikers the opportunity to explore the park or shower without worry of lost or stolen items.

We welcome your input

Dear Reader,

As your community newspaper, we provide a platform for local civil commentary. We also focus on local news and politics. As part of that focus, we are limiting published letters that lobby for a U.S. presidential candidate in the upcoming election.

By confining such letters to two per issue of the newspaper, we can ensure we have room for a variety of other content, both local and - to a lesser extent - national.

We are also establishing some new rules for letters to the editor. Any that contain name calling, baseless accusations, false or inaccurate information, or personal attacks will not be published. Letters intended only to inflame others, rather than foster community conversation, will not be published.

Letters to the editor

Support for Kim Thatcher

I write this letter in support of Kim Thatcher for Secretary of State. Although I am a registered Libertarian, I am crossing party lines and will vote for Kim Thatcher enthusiastically.

Throughout her political career, I have seen Kim Thatcher cross party lines to listen to different ideas, work with the people who hold them, and frequently accommodate their priorities (even when she does not share them) in the interests of good civics. These qualities are hallmarks of a great Secretary of State, and are especially important now because of the divisive nature of today's politics.

As the late Dennis Richardson proved, a Republican can serve constructively in a Democratic state like Oregon for the good of us all. Party labels notwithstanding, Kim Thatcher's brand of non-partisan governance is what will bring Oregonians closer together, making it possible to resume building on the best of what we are. For these reasons, I urge everyone across all party lines to vote Kim Thatcher for Secretary of State. Respectfully,

Richard P. Burke

"Lawn-slide" for President Trump

I haven't written a letter to the Pilot editor since its new ownership, so following guidelines, I'm doing so now. I'm amazed by the excitement and enthusiasm for our elected President: truck and boat parades and many thousands attending his rallies.

A Fox news contributor traveled through some battleground states claiming President Trump came in first with significantly more yard signs; the ex-VP Joe Biden came in third. There were more "Corn for Sale" signs than Biden and Harris signs. He called it a "Lawn-slide" for President Trump. He compared the enthusiasm for Trump to people dressing up as Chewbacca and attending a Star Wars movie.

I don't condone violence and stand proudly for our Constitutional Rights. I'm a Christian and know that someday we'll stand in front of our maker be accountable for our sins along with the leaders of the world. My wife and I feel good about sharing our retirement money with many charities and will continue to do so.

Good luck to all with our futures.

Supporting Kolen

I have recently moved back to Central Oregon. However, Curry County was my home for many years while I was District Attorney. I know that Renee Kolen is up for re-election as the Curry County Clerk and I encourage you to vote for her.

Renee is one of the most experienced, knowledgeable and trusted County Clerks in the State. She is a dedicated and competent public servant for the citizens of Curry County. When I was D.A. I had many occasions when Renee and her staff assisted me with work related matters. I can tell you that she and her staff have integrity and are well trained, helpful and pleasant. The Clerk's Office is important, and Renee Kolen's many years of experience count. Compare her experience to the challenger's as set out in the Voter's pamphlet and you'll see there is only one clear choice of rCurry County Clerk and that is Renee Kolen. Respectfully,

Everett Dial
Former Curry County District Attorney

Baseball Fan

A big Thank You to Clayton Dalrymple. What a great story about yourself, Joe Morgan and Gene Mauch. I'm a big baseball fan and enjoy stories of baseball past. I would enjoy hearing more baseball stories from you. Thanks again.

Voters Beware!

Attention Brookings City Residents! Do not let the Brookings City Council members allow builders/developers to build a 14-bed facility in your neighborhood. This is what happened in the Dawson tract after council members Hedenskog, Pieper and Hodges voted to approve a conditional land use permit for a developer. Council members Alcorn and McKinney voted no on allowing the permit. Business ventures do not fit into single family neighborhoods. Keep your neighborhood safe from business developments. Vote yes for Brad Alcorn in this election. Watch for recalls next year!

DeFazio Under Attack

Once again our Democratic Congressman representing Oregon's fourth district is under attack by the right wing money and distortion machine trying to get a foothold here. Republicans want to kill affordable health care, environmental protections, reduce Medicare, Social Security and dirty our air.

Peter DeFazio, chair of the House Transportation Committee, has been on the ground during the recent wildfires, helped secure infrared satellite imagery for firefighters, worked with others to get an Emergency declaration from the White House for Oregon in record time and hosted a fundraiser for relief efforts that raised more than $155,000 for United Way, Oregon Food Bank and Oregon Volunteer Association.

DeFazio supports Health Care for All and Planned Parenthood, both severely criticized by his opponent who has no experience running anything, much less a congressional district. DeFazio supports families, small business and frontline workers. His opponent thinks these things will just magically go away and presents myths and lies. DeFazio will follow the science regarding the pandemic and climate change to help prevent catastrophes in the future and he continues to address the needs of the fourth district. We can't take a chance on our future. Vote For Peter DeFazio, a proven asset.

Skarlatos' Speech Failed to Impress

In the book, "15:17 to Paris," to which congressional candidate Alek Skarlatos contributed, he candidly discussed his uneventful National Guard-Afghanistan tour, comparing himself to a "mall cop."

He admitted major blunders: Almost stepping on an unexploded mortar shell. About to take target practice on a derelict Soviet-era tank with .50-caliber armor-piercing rounds, he narrowly avoided killing numerous children. Losing his high-security GPS device could have caused him and his superiors to lose rank.

Spencer Stone, helped by his buddy Alek and four other Paris-bound passengers, disarmed an inept terrorist. In the excitement, Alek nearly accidentally killed Spencer, then took the Moroccan's AK-47 through their train. That could have precipitated a worse shoot out.

I asked Alek if Chris Harper-Mercer, killer of nine at Umpqua Community College should have bought and possessed guns? Skarlatos didn't recognize his name, exclusively faulting Harper-Mercer's "irresponsible" mother. Alek naively contended if everyone could carry guns, that would have prevented massacres, claiming prohibitions wouldn't help. Alek said he always carried at UCC, last attending in 2014.

Alek's stump speech champions deforestation, with him not vaguely understanding the causes and consequences of global warming.

Over 100 attended Alek's Florence outdoor speech: Only three, including myself, wore masks.

Skarlatos Is Clueless

To hear Alex Skarlatos—funded almost entirely by outside partisan interest groups—trash our Representative Peter DeFazio, I can only think: does this guy have any clue who or what he's talking about?

DeFazio is independent, smart, and tough and has always talked truth to power. He's fought against unfair trade deals, corruption in D.C., Wall Street bailouts, and the massive federal deficit. Now with experience and seniority in Transportation, DeFazio knows how to bring home the bacon. His hard work is why Highway 101 and its historic bridges on the South Coast are in such good condition, why our small ports and Coast Guard remain open. His office is always on hand to help our veterans and seniors, our county, towns, and ports.

I know we can count on Peter DeFazio for the things that matter most to everyone, which is why he's earned my vote.

John Herzog for Curry County Commissioner

I just finished reading about fraudulent allegations and a lawsuit that was filed against one of Curry's Commissioners. The Commissioner fortunately had documents that proved his innocence and all allegations and the lawsuit were dismissed.

The lawsuit was led by another Commissioner, Sue Gold. All the allegations were proven false but cost you, Curry County Taxpayers, money. The case and the complaints spanned at least two years and spent Curry County employee time while reviewing and investigating the false charges.

I read on the Board of Commissioners' website that one of the responsibilities of the commissioners is to "act as liaisons to assure the smooth coordination and functioning of all county offices and departments." I do not think that is what Ms. Gold had nor has in mind.

I'm not voting for that! I know a man who is not full of himself, always tries to do a good job, loves this community and has a moral code of ethics. I'm voting for John Herzog; he will work for Curry County!

Returning your ballot

Ballots were mailed to Curry County voters last week. Voters can mail their ballots free of charge, but should mail them by Oct. 27 to ensure they get back to the courthouse by election day.

The county also has three drop boxes where people can return their ballots. The official drop boxes are located at the Brookings and Port Orford city halls and at the Curry County Courthouse in Gold Beach.

Through Oct. 21, a total of 6,375 voters in Curry County had returned their ballots, which is 33.5 percent of the county's 18,907 registered voters, according to the county elections department. Statewide, 16 percent of voters had returned ballots, 495,082 voters in all.

What do you feel are the most important issues facing the state?

Affordable workforce housing and related state land use restrictions, Childcare related to Covid closures of schools, Wildfire mitigation and fuels reduction, Public and Mental Health

How would you try to address those issues?

I continue to draft and pass legislation to address the housing crisis in our communities and across the state that helps incentivize the construction of workforce housing, changes land use laws to allow for ADU and additional housing and grows job opportunities in the trade related career sectors.

The COVID closures have severely impacted our students and their families. Many parents have been forced to choose staying at home with their children or their job. Childcare funding must be allocated to our rural communities so that these parents can continue to work, knowing their children are well taken care of.

I continue to advocate, draft and pass legislation to address wildfire response, funding and fuels treatment. I worked to draft and pass the Good Neighbor Authority legislation, which focuses on forest fuels treatments in the Urban/Wildland interface and successfully advocated for and recently received $1.8 million dollars towards that effort a few short weeks ago. We were also successful in working with DEQ to increase the needed days allowed for prescribed burns.

Public and mental health are critically important to our communities and their residents, especially during the pandemic. I continue to work with our health partners to expand services and provide them with the needed resources to do so. I have been a strong advocate for the Curry Health Network (CHN) Emergency Department and recently, even with the economic hardships of the state, was able to secure $2 million dollars to support CHN Emergency Department operations in Brookings.

What would you like to accomplish if re-elected?

To continue my work on all of the above. Additionally, to continue to help our fishers, farmers and ranchers and their industries as well as better local access to the public for their products. To get our rural region the resources it deserves with regards to state & federal funding, rather than allowing Portland and larger cities to take more than their share.

How should the state address the current COVID-19/economic crisis?

The recent economic forecast projects that the state has an additional $200 million in revenues over it’s pre-covid forecast. This is some good news, but it is related to the majority party’s passage of the Corporate Activities Tax that increase the costs of goods and services to our residents. Further, our rural residents and communities already pay more for these goods and services, and do not see the rebound in economic recovery that the larger populated areas of the state do. We must work to bring more resources to our region, end the regulatory burdens that impact business and job growth to our communities and bring in the economic resources to our residents that others are receiving around the state.

What do you feel the relationship should be between state elected representatives and the public?

First and foremost, I work for the residents and constituents of House District 1 in the Oregon Legislature, and then the other 4.2 million people of Oregon. I have an open-door policy and listen to all opinions on any given issue. As the Chair of the bicameral bipartisan Oregon Legislative Coastal Caucus, I strive to work across the aisle on issues that impact our residents.

From bipartisan legislation holding big pharma accountable for prescription drug increases, to protecting our coastal waters from oil & gas exploration, to allowing our Oregon Department of Forestry Fire Personnel to fight fires on federal land rather than the Feds “managing of fire”, to coming up with sound Oregon solutions to reduce carbon emissions rather than a rural economically devastating Cap & Trade program, I will continue to work with and for the residents of House District 1 to better their families and communities. This bipartisan work and its accomplishments are evident with just the few examples above, in successfully bringing millions in project funding in a post COVID economic environment.

Women(1976). Litigation against two police forces to compel them to provide equal protection under the law to victims of domestic violence (Louisville, KY, 1989) Appearances and advocacy on behalf of LGBT families to the California Democratic Party Convention (1996) and members of the California legislature (1998-2008). Continuing to advocate for our rights to marriage (1988-2012). Advocacy for appropriate accommodations in public schools and home-based learning for children with learning disabilities (1993-2012).

What do you feel are the most important issues facing the state?

The climate crisis is upon us. Every policy that I may consider and join in crafting will first be viewed through its impact or neutrality in regards to Oregon’s response to the climate crisis. The state legislature has not been successful in boldly taking on its climate crisis responsibilities, stymied by the perception that this single most critical issue of our lifetime is a political issue that can be parsed about between parties and politicians. This is an outmoded and dangerous attitude.

How would you try to address those issues?

The Oregon Green New Deal could be the defining employment change of this century. Just Transition to 100% clean fuels and environmentally sound practices in the remaining extractive industries, environmentally sound enhancement of Oregon’s natural resources, redistribution of transportation centers, and impacted and malleable employment involved in all of these policy changes will be a part of our lives, or they won’t, depending on how successful we are in making them so.

Many voices will be critical in devising Just Transition strategies, including innovation across all sectors of the economy and state governance.

Rural economies, socially constructed through combined efforts of rural Oregonians, are integral to the success of the Just Transition envisioned in the Oregon Green New Deal. I will always keep this in mind.

What would you like to accomplish if elected?

Because it touches on every outcome in every challenge before us, I would like to help fellow legislators focus through a climate responsibility lens that will inform sound political decision making in all areas of our work together on behalf of our districts.

I would like to move Oregon towards well managed, equitable HealthCare for All Oregonians, and to take part in science-based decision-making regarding climate resiliency and upsurging a sustainable economy that we welcome, design, and implement. These are tasks the Gen-X and Millennials are well equipped to take on, and will surge forward with, despite the COVID-19 pandemic. I will do my part to hold the policy doors open for their strategies to be thoroughly considered, so we can more than begin the forward movement we are allied around.

I will work to dispel the urban-rural-divide myth, by making sure it is not practiced in state decision making. And I will stay and work until each session is finished, for, at maximum, 2 terms, before I retire (again).

How should the state address the current COVID-19/economic crisis?

Legislators should consult with their constituents to find what their needs are, then report that information to the governor’s office or other agencies involved in the relief efforts, to be certain the relief to the business community is at its maximum possible impact. They need to be following up in their districts to be certain the promised relief has found its way to the folks it is supposed to go to. Legislators should be following best healthcare recommendations themselves, for masking when in public, not touching faces, maintaining social distancing guidelines, washing hands often, self-quarantining if they have been exposed to virus, and setting other examples of best practices for members of the public and for businesses in their districts, especially the ones put in place by the governor. They should be discouraging public gatherings where attendees do not mask or maintain social distance. They should be certain the testing for people in their districts is readily available, easily accessed by everyone, and has a short turn around time. And recovery of economic well being should become focused through the Oregon Green New Deal, with Oregon made, from Oregon timber, food and other agricultural products, ocean and river harvests, hemp products, cannabis products, and any other made-and-sold-by-Oregonians-to-each-other-and-our-neighbors-in-the-western region, a priority re-employment of labor, not transportation, as the largest portion of the cost of goods in the state.

What do you feel the relationship should be between state representatives and the public?

State representatives specifically represent the interests of their districts. Involving local people in the decision-formation process is critical, as is forming alliances with people in surrounding districts that share regional sensibility and geographic proximity. Challenges that seem the same may need very different strategies to reach success in different locations. Local expertise is crucial in making informed policy decisions. I will strive for successful coalitions between Oregon neighbors, to stretch the idea of “local” into a regional thought process, to better utilize limited rural resources and connect remote, often weather-isolated populations into a thriving grid of such regions in our state.

The public should have access to state representatives through the mail, telephone, email, and in person wherever feasible. Social media and media access is also an important part of establishing ease and transparency of public access, although representatives should be able to maintain a private life not connected to their public service, which is increasingly challenging given the nature of social media. Representatives should make themselves available in Town Hall meetings with the general public, between every session of the legislature, in person if possible or by video with audience interaction easily accessed if in-person is not possible at the time.

PACIFIC VISION MEDICAL CENTER ANNOUNCES CHANGES TO EYE CARE IN OUR COMMUNITIES

After over 30 good years and due to a confluence of circumstances, we regretfully made the decision to close our Brookings office at the end of this year. We will continue to provide ophthalmology and optical services in our Crescent City office.

In addition to this change comes the retirement of our optometrist of almost 25 years, Karl A. Bruhns, OD as of December 31, 2020. He will be missed greatly by staff and patients. We congratulate him on a job very well done, and wish him all the best as he begins this new chapter in his life.

Finally, with Dr. Bruhns’ retirement our focus will now turn more specifically to ophthalmology (medical and surgical) services for those most in need of our skills. For many years we have participated with VSP (Vision Service Plan). This is an insurance that some local employers provide to their employees designed to meet routine vision needs including glasses and contact lenses. While we will continue to participate with Medicare and Medi-Cal, we will not participate in VSP as of January 1, 2021. There are several local optometrists who offer routine eye care for VSP patients.

We have truly enjoyed caring for our community for many years and look forward to our more focused role moving forward.

Coastal Home Health & Hospice has been ranked number 21 out of 100 for Best Nonprofits to Work for in Oregon.

Local nonprofit makes statewide list

LINDA PINKHAM
The Pilot

Coastal Home Health & Hospice ranked 21 out of 100 on Oregon Business Weekly’s list of 100 Best Nonprofits to Work for in Oregon.

Employees of non-profits participate in a survey conducted by the magazine. Employees rate their satisfaction with five features of the workplace: work environment; management and communications; mission and goals; career development and learning; and benefits and compensation. Participating nonprofits are also independently scored on their employee benefits. Coastal Home Health & Hospice, with 37 employees, scored 575 points out of 700 in the survey. “Workers at this hospice receive tuition and cell phone plan reimbursement, discounts to stores and gym memberships,” according to the Oregon Business website. “The organization increased financial support during the COVID-19 crisis, with staff receiving an extra week of vacation.” “It’s like family. Best place I have ever worked,” says one content staffer on the Best Nonprofits results web page.

“This is a huge honor for Coastal Home Health & Hospice and we are honored to represent Curry County in the Oregon Business Weekly magazine,” said Jamie Daugherty, Executive Director. “We are thankful to our staff members for participating in the survey. This is a prestigious list, and we are proud to have made the cut. It is because of all of their hard work, dedication, and passion that Coastal Home Health & Hospice is such a wonderful place to work! Working together and our passion for the people that we care for is really what makes this work experience a cut above the rest and put us in the top 100 Best Non-Profits to work for in Oregon.” Coastal Home Health & Hospice has been in operation for 51 years and served more than 566 families last year. Their goal is to provide comfort and dignity for people living with serious illness. Services include hospice, home health care, social services and bereavement and spiritual care for families. To learn more, visit their website at CoastalHHH.org for information on upcoming events, current career and volunteer opportunities or to make a donation.

UNLESS YOU TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT YOUR PROPERTY, IT MAY BE SOLD AT A PUBLIC SALE. IF YOU NEED AN EXPLANATION OF THE NATURE OF THE PROCEEDING AGAINST YOU, YOU SHOULD CONTACT A LAWYER. On 11/12/2020 at 11:00 AM, CLEAR RECON CORP, as duly appointed trustee under and pursuant to Deed of Trust recorded 1/4/2007 as Instrument No. 20070094 of Official Records in the office of the County Recorder of Del Norte County, State of CALIFORNIA executed by: ERNEST B CAPSHAW, A MARRIED MAN AS HIS SOLE AND SEPARATE PROPERTY WILL, SELL AT PUBLIC AUCTION TO HIGHEST BIDDER FOR CASH, CASHIER'S CHECK DRAWN ON A STATE OR NATIONAL BANK, A CHECK DRAWN BY A STATE OR FEDERAL CREDIT UNION, OR A CHECK DRAWN BY A STATE OR FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, SAVINGS ASSOCIATION, OR SAVINGS BANK SPECIFIED IN SECTION 5102 OF THE FINANCIAL CODE AND AUTHORIZED TO DO BUSINESS IN THIS STATE: At the Steps of the Southwest Entrance of the Flynn Administration Building, 981 H Street, Crescent City, CA 95531 all right, title and interest conveyed to and now held by it under said Deed of Trust in the property situated in said County and State described as: MORE ACCURATELY DESCRIBED IN SAID DEED OF TRUST. The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 480 AMADOR STREET CRESCENT CITY, CA 95531 The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein. Said sale will be held, but without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession, condition, or encumbrances, including fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust, to pay the remaining principal sums of the note(s) secured by said Deed of Trust. The total amount of the unpaid balance of the obligation secured by the property to be sold and reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale is: $223,612.48 If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee, and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. The beneficiary under said Deed of Trust heretofore executed and delivered to the undersigned a written Declaration of Default and Demand for Sale, and a written Notice of Default and Election to Sell. The undersigned or its predecessor caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (800) 280-2832 or visit this Internet Web site WWW.AUCTION.COM, using the file number assigned to this notice 088054-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. Said sale will be made, but without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to satisfy the indebtedness secured by said Deed, advances thereunder, with interest as provided therein, and the unpaid principal balance of the Note secured by said Deed with interest thereon as provided in said Note, fees, charges and expenses of the trustee and the trusts created by said Deed of Trust. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consent either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 916-939-0772 or visit this Internet Web site www.nationwide-posting.com, using the file number assigned to this case PFI-201471. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. WIDOW'S ADULT KIDS BEGRUDGE HER DATING A FAMILY FRIEND

DEAR ABBY: I was married for more than 30 years and have two grown children. The marriage wasn't perfect, and I admit there were times when I badly wanted to walk out the door. My husband was charismatic and talented, but he was also an addict. I covered up most of his bad behaviors so our children would be protected from being hurt. He passed away suddenly. My children adored him but never really knew how hard it was for me to keep our family together.

Fast-forward to today: I am dating an old family friend I'll call "Jeff," who knew my husband well. He saw my spouse at his best and his worst, so I don't have to sugarcoat my feelings with him. My issue is, I was so hurt during my marriage that I have a hard time trusting anyone. My anxiety is sometimes overwhelming.

Jeff is supportive and understanding and loves me despite my emotional behavior at times. My adult children are upset that I am dating and try to make me feel bad about it, which creates more stress. I don't want them to know all the hell I went through, but at the same time, I don't think their belittling me is appropriate. Is there a tactful way to explain to them that I just want to be happy and have the freedom to move forward? -- READY FOR THE FUTURE

DEAR READY: A polite, but assertive, way to convey your message might be to say: "I have just one life to live, kids, and I intend to live it to the fullest. Jeff and I are old friends -- he's not a stranger. I don't need your approval to move on with my life. If you can't stop belittling and second-guessing me and treat my friend with respect, you will be seeing a lot less of me."

DEAR ABBY: My brother has married a pushy woman who is incessantly forcing her way in where it is not wanted. With the recent death of our father, she has started sticking her nose into the family's business affairs. This is not about money; our father died in debt.

I finally took exception to her overbearing behavior, and now I'm afraid I have damaged my relationship with my brother. What can be done? -- CORNERED IN KENTUCKY

DEAR CORNERED: The "pushy" woman your brother married is now a member of the family. When there is a death in the family, emotions can run high. If you feel you were too rough on your sister-in-law, you owe her an apology.

DEAR ABBY: A young, attractive female co-worker of my husband's addresses him by his first name ending with "ly" (example: "Georgely"). When I asked how the name was acquired, both of them claimed they didn't remember. They know I do not approve, particularly on social media for the world to see.

I consider pet names a term

DEL NORTE TRIPLICATE & CURRY COASTAL PILOT of endearment, to be reserved for one's significant other. Am I out of line, or are they? -- NAME-DROPPING IN WISCONSIN

DEAR NAME-DROPPING: What the pet name may signify is that your husband and his co-worker may have a closer personal relationship than simply a professional one. And in most cases, that isn't good for business. That he would allow this to persist publicly, knowing it bothers you, is disrespectful, and THAT is what is out of line.
