Help protect wildlife during Baby Season

Wildlife Center of the North Coast Reminds Community to Respect Baby Wildlife During Spring and Summer

[Astoria, OR] – As the Oregon coast welcomes the vibrant return of spring and summer, the Wildlife Center of the North Coast is highlighting the importance of respecting and protecting baby wildlife, particularly birds, during this critical period. From April to September, the region experiences a surge in wildlife births, often referred to as “baby season,” which brings both joy and challenges for local wildlife.

During this time, many young animals, including birds, are vulnerable to human interference. It is crucial for the community to understand that finding a baby animal alone does not necessarily mean it is orphaned. In fact, many species, such as birds and mammals, often leave their young temporarily for safety or to forage for food, returning when it is safe to do so.

Wildlife Center of the North Coast encourages residents and visitors to respect wildlife by following these guidelines:

- Leave Them Alone: Unless an animal is clearly injured or in distress, it is best to leave it where you find it. This includes baby birds that may have fallen from nests but are not injured.
- Support Conservation Efforts: Help protect endangered species like the Western Snowy Plover by respecting nesting areas and following guidelines set by local conservation agencies.

- Educate Yourself: Learn about local wildlife and their needs during this sensitive period. Understanding bird migration patterns and nesting habits can help minimize human impact.

WCNC has been dedicated to promoting compassion, empathy, and respect for all life since 1997 by providing wildlife rehabilitation and environmental education in our community.

For more information, visit www.coastwildlife.org or follow WCNC on social media.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Special District Elections Take Place This May in Oregon

Special districts are a form of local government created to meet a specific need, such as fire protection, schools, ports or libraries. Curry County has approximately tens of special districts spread out over the entire county. Most special districts have boards of directors, who are elected by the residents who live in that particular district. Elections for those special districts are held in Oregon in odd-number years, which makes 2025 the year for special district elections. The ballot you receive in the mail (the first week of May) will include the special districts in which you have a vote.

You can mail your ballot to be post-marked by election day or return it in the ballot drop-box (in front of Brookings City Hall) by 8pm on Election Day, May 20, 2025. Other information about voter registration, candidate filings and ballot mail-out dates may be found on the www.currycountyor.gov website, under the “Government” tab and “County Clerk” section.

One of our Special Districts in South Curry County is the Chetco Community Library District, and two incumbents - Chair Pat Piper and Cora Rose – are running for reelection to the Board of Directors. We are running because we love our community library and believe that free societies read freely.

“Let Freedom Read”: RE-ELECT Piper & Rose.

Elmo Williams Day

By MARILYN HART

On Sunday, April 27, a celebration of Elmo will be held at “high noon” at the Capella by the Sea in Azalea Park. Williams built the beautiful Capella to honor his late wife Lorraine and donated it to the city in 2009.

Brookings will again celebrate its annual “Elmo Williams Day.” Williams is Brookings’s own Hollywood celebrity, having received two Oscars, a Mousecar from Walt Disney, and a life-time achievement award from the American Cinema Editors, among others.

After his long career as editor, director, producer, and film studio executive, he and his wife Lorraine retired to Brookings in 1983. Both did much to benefit the city in projects such as Azalea Park and the library. Williams lived in Brookings for over 40 years, passing away in 2015 at the age of 103.

Williams worked on many outstanding movies. His first Oscar was for editing the iconic Western “High Noon” with Gary Cooper which garnered a total of four Oscars including Cooper with an Oscar for Best Actor. During World War II, Williams and Ted Geisel (Dr. Suess) wrote

Oregon Gears Up for Massive Spring Cleanup, Volunteers Needed Statewide

PRESS RELEASE

Oregon is calling on its residents to join the annual Oregon Spring Cleanup, a statewide initiative aimed at beautifying the region and restoring natural habitats and spearheaded by Stop Oregon Litter and Vandalism (SOLVE).

Annually, SOLVE recruits, organizes, and guides volunteers through thousands of environmental projects and litter cleanup events to address a broader range of threats to Oregon's health, livability, and economic viability. Across the state, they unite diverse communities to improve the health and safety of neighborhoods and natural areas, including the coast, rivers, parks, and forests, according to its website.

With over one hundred events already listed on the SOLVE website, opportunities abound for individuals, families, and community groups to participate. Projects range from litter cleanups to habitat restoration, spanning diverse locations including Portland and Southwest Washington, the entire Oregon Coast, the Willamette National Forest, Southern Oregon, and even Eastern Oregon's Baker City.

"Earth Month is a great reminder to take action and continue to enhance our communities," said Kristen Sheeran, PGE's vice president of policy and resource planning. "This Earth Month, we're ready to roll up our sleeves with SOLVE and all of the volunteer partners to make a lasting impact on Oregon's natural spaces."

PGE, a longtime partner of SOLVE, continues to champion environmental volunteerism, underscoring its commitment to environmental stewardship.

How to Get Involved:

- Sign Up: Find a volunteer event near you and register yourself or a group at volunteer.solveoregon.org/.
- Lead Your Own Event: SOLVE provides resources, supplies, and disposal funds to facilitate hosting personal cleanup projects.
- Join the Trash Bag Challenge: Rally your school, company, or community group to participate in the new Trash Bag Challenge, encouraging friendly competition and community pride. Learn more at solveoregon.org/ challenge.

SOLVE, in partnership with the Oregon Parks and Recreation Department (OPRD) and with support from Knife River, has established seven coastal supply hubs to reduce the use of single-use plastics and streamline coastal cleanups. These hubs, located at various OPRD parks and other key locations, provide clean-up supplies for up to 20 volunteers.

lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to fee and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have the right to purchase this property after the trustee auction, pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 530-246-2727; Toll Free: 844-333-6766, or visit this internet website: calforeclosures.biz, using the file number assigned to this case: TS#24-3147, to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the street address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. Elmo Williams the original script for “Your Job in Japan” and then reconstructed it into “Design for Death” which went on to win the Academy Award for Best Feature Documentary.

As head of production at 20th Century Fox, Williams received a second Academy Award for “The French Connection” as it won the Oscar for Best Picture. Williams was also nominated for an Oscar for his editing in “20,000 Leagues Under the Sea” for Walt Disney. He did not capture that prize but received something he said he valued more than his Oscars, a Mousecar, Disney’s Oscar equivalent.

Williams also worked on such famous films as “The Longest Day,” “Tora! Tora! Tora!,” “Cleopatra,” and “Those Magnificent Men in Their Flying Machines.”

It is worth noting that the Wild Rivers Film Festival in Brookings, entering its third year August 14th to 17th, has named its award for the most promising new filmmaker, “The Elmo Award.”

In partnership with the Chetco Community Public Library, there will be a showing of “The Amazing Adventure” at the library in Brookings at 2 p.m. on the 27th. The 61-minute film was Cary Grant’s first starring role and the first major film Elmo edited. The movie will be followed by a short taped-interview about the film and the early days of the British film industry.

The interview was taped in 2007 at the Chetco Playhouse, conducted by Lon Goddard, filmed by Claire Willard, with Master of Ceremonies Mike Moran. Marilyn Hart, who has been involved with the annual “Elmo Williams Day” since its start in 2017 and is currently working on the project to preserve Elmo’s interviews on the Hawaii State Archives website, will host both of these free events. Coffee, tea, water and Lorraine’s famous cake will be served.

introduced the Trash Bag Challenge, inviting organizations and groups to challenge each other to participate in cleanups, fostering a sense of community and environmental responsibility.

SOLVE continues to be a leading force in environmental volunteerism, mobilizing thousands of volunteers across Oregon and Southwest Washington.

SOLVE started as an all-volunteer-driven organization to address litter and vandalism throughout the state. They were founded in 1969 by a charge from eco-pioneering Governor Tom McCall, who believed it was every Oregon citizen's inherent right to enjoy and take responsibility for the places where we live, work, and play, as listed on their website.

Registration is now open, with events scheduled from April 12th to 22nd, culminating in a major cleanup effort on Saturday, April 19th.

The Oregon Spring Cleanup 2025 is made possible by the generous support of PGE and other sponsors, including AAA, CareOregon, Clean Water Services, Fred Meyer, Holman Enterprises, KOIN 6, The Oregonian, Lam Research Corporation, Metro, Lithia Driveway, Intel, Oregon Parks and Recreation Department, Swire Coca-Cola, The Standard, and PepsiCo.
