Tourism is hot again this year

Just ask

Traffic is crazy, along U.S. Highway 101 from Crescent City north up through Brookings-Harbor and Gold Beach.

Motels, campsites and vacation rentals are booked; restaurants are hopping; beaches and waterways are crowded.

Does that mean this season's visitor numbers are up over previous years?

Probably so, at least a bit. That's what an informal survey by the Del Norte Triplicate and the Curry Coastal Pilot shows.

Cindy Vosburg, recently named director of the Crescent City/Del Norte County Chamber of Commerce, reports a robust season there. "This has been a healthy season for our area businesses," said Vosburg. "We are as busy as ever."

"The Redwood National and State Campgrounds have been sold out for months, with all available campsites booked."

Redwood National and State Parks said their numbers have been equal to or slightly higher than last year, said Vosburg, with visitor center sales trending about 5 percent above previous year.

"The season isn't over yet, we just don't know, but my instincts are that tourism is up yet again," That's the opinion of Dave Lacey, owner and paddling guide at South Coast Tours, which is based in Gold Beach.

"South Coast Tours has been a little down for international travelers the last couple of years, but (we're) up overall by a significant amount. We were up by 73% from 2018," he said.

Meantime, Brookings-Harbor Chamber of Commerce president Greg Williams couldn't capture exact numbers because, he said, the chamber is restructuring somewhat and "the necessary vehicles to capture information" aren't currently available.

However, he added, "Tourism is up, as the weather this year has been amazing, events have been well planned and executed, and there's been very little to deal with from wildfires."

"Downtown traffic and out-of-state plates certainly attest to that."

Police chief leans into second year on the job

Jeremy C. Ruark

Brookings Director of Public Safety and Chief of Police Kelby McCrae is heading into his second year as Brookings' top cop with excitement and a strong vision for community service.

McCrae served 15 years with the police department, eight as a sergeant, before his appointment as chief Aug. 1, 2018.

He oversees 15 officers, a detective, K-9 team and seven dispatchers, as well as the Brookings Fire Department.

While his first year as chief has been fulfilling, McCrae said, it also has been challenging. "My greatest challenge has been constantly ensuring that the pieces of the puzzle are moving in the right direction and at the right pace," he said.

"We are a team, and none of what we need and want to do can be realized without work-

PIRATES TO BESIEGE BROOKINGS HARBOR

Linda Pinkham

The ninth-annual "Pirates of the Pacific Festival" is bringing mayhem and fun to the Brookings Harbor Boardwalk Aug. 9-11.

The free event will include sword fighting, mermaids, cannon fire, belly dancers, kids' activities, music, beer gardens, food, pirate gear and more.

Plan to encounter a variety of infamous pirates, both male and female, dressed in their finest pirate garb.

The "Pirates of the Pacific Festival" was created in 2010 by Bruce Ellis (aka Captain Curry) and Mike Moran (aka Captain Squishee).

For some five years, Ellis had been involved in a variety of roles with the "Virginia Renaissance Festival" on Lake Anna Winery in Spotsylvania, Virginia. He moved to Brookings in 2008, and in 2009 created the "Insider of Southern Oregon Entertainment Newspaper."

Moran has a long history in entertainment, working in theatre, radio, television and for Renaissance fairs.

Shortly after launching his newspaper, Ellis was overlooking the water at the Port of Brookings with Moran and the two came up with the notion of the community's first-ever pirate festival.

Since its creation, the festival has grown larger in size, as has the number

Solutions for Social Security Bar edge ahead

Linda Pinkham
Staff Writer

The Brookings City Council is moving forward with finding solutions for concerns voiced about the Social Security Bar.

Illegal activities there, coupled with complaints from adjacent residents, have been ongoing for years, according to the background report for an Aug. 5 Brookings City Council workshop.

Social Security Bar's name originated because the original owners would grant only retirees the access to fishing and boating through their property.

Recently, the site has been plagued by illegal dumping and fires, camping, late-night partying and off-road vehicle use, all of which have "overshadowed" daytime recreational activities, according to the background report.

The council has recommended that Curry County Parks Director Josh Hopkins put together a presentation, similar to the one prepared for the workshop, to be held during a future City Council meeting, allowing for public comment.

"The county's motivation is to get more south-county opportunities for recreation," Brookings Deputy Public Works and Development Director Jay Trost said.

Under a proposal presented previously by three dozen area residents, Curry County would develop 1.6 acres of city-owned property at Social Security Bar into an RV park with a camp host, restroom and shower building, and trash-removal services.

The city-owned parcel is adjacent to a Department of State Lands-owned gravel bar used by fishermen, boaters and swimmers.

The Department of State Lands favors providing a 15-year lease of the gravel bar for dry RV camping, to complement a developed facility on the city's property.

This isn't the first time such a proposal has been discussed. It had been raised on Mar. 6, 2014, Aug. 8, 2018 and Oct. 1, 2018, when the Brookings City Council indicated a willingness to explore a long-term lease rather than deeding the property to Curry County.

Long-term plans considered by the council have included using the site as a future water source, since it is above tidal influence.

During the Aug. 5 workshop, council member Ron Hedenskog said that regardless of whether the City of Brookings decides to lease or to sell the property, it should record a public right of way.

Individual council members raised a number of questions and concerns regarding the Social Security Bar's future. Council member Bill Hamilton suggested he would prefer that Brookings "keep the property and make the (RV camping) money ourselves," as opposed to selling it to Curry County.

Council member John McKinney noted that citizens already are calling 911 about the site, and asked how having a camp host and a developed RV park would make any difference?

On the other hand, said Curry County Parks Director Hopkins, his department's experience at Flores Lake Campground in Sixes was that the presence of a camp host issuing an initial warning curtailed 90% of complaints.

Hopkins added that regulations have been revamped to allow for a violation to be cited as a misdemeanor, with fines starting at $440 per violation.

Brookings Mayor Jake Pieper commented that the county could "probably do a lot more with this than the city could, and the number-one priority is keeping the bar open to public access."

Hopkins agreed, noting that Curry County has better resources for implementing an RV park because the county receives state RV license fees and lottery dollars to develop recreation sites. Those funds from the state are not available to city governments.

"The county already has experience operating an RV park and the city does not," Mayor Pieper said.

The gravel bar at Social Security Bar, which has become a center of public and governmental concerns, is a favorite fishing and boating access point. Photo courtesy Curry County Parks Department.

According to Hopkins, the county receives about $70,000 per year from the state in support of its two existing campgrounds, or roughly $1,000 per camp spot per year. The fees generated by an RV park at the Social Security Bar site would easily cover the costs of a camp host, septic pumping fees and trash services. Preliminary budget figures show costs for the proposal at $7,430 per year.

The councilors recommended moving the proposal forward to a regular City Council session and advertising that session to encourage public comments.

At the special council meeting held before the workshop, council members approved:

- Spending $70,668 to upgrade the UV disinfection system at the wastewater treatment plant.

- A bid for replacing a 2-inch water line in the area of Ransom Avenue and 3rd Street.

- Providing a letter of support to the Chetco Community Library for a grant proposal to fund a Holocaust exhibit.

In other business at the workshop, the City Council approved:

- Defining and exploring proposed revisions to land development uses for homeless resources, which would later be presented as a comprehensive zone change or overlay.

- Moving forward with updating a strategic plan to make text edits and compile various documents of individual updates to approved items.

Breaking the ice for kindergartners

The beginning of a new school year is just a few weeks away ... and that can be a daunting experience for kindergartners.

So this year, the Brookings-Harbor School District is launching a free Kindergarten Academy, designed to help children gain confidence and get off to a positive start.

The academy, available to interested parents of this year's kindergarten students, will be held from 8:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. Aug. 19-23 at Kalmiopsis Elementary School, 650 Easy St.

The district will provide six certified teachers and assistants in the six kindergarten classrooms at the school, said Principal Hellena Chirinian, who expects an estimated 60 children to attend.

"We anticipate that the first day of kindergarten will be a lot less stressful for both parents and students because of this academy, which will give students a great first exposure to our building without all the big kids around," she said.

During the five-day experience, children will be offered opportunities to practice their social and fine-motor skills, reading readiness, math activities, and science and art studies, while getting used to having a daily schedule of activities.

"We'll hold the Kindergarten Academy to introduce students to their new world at Kalmiopsis," Chirinian said. "They will learn how to eat lunch in the cafeteria, experience playing on the playground, practice traveling around our building, work on letters and numbers, and have some great fun with art and science activities."

Kindergarten Academy is funded through Title IA funds.

The academy's student drop-off and pick-up will be at the high school cafeteria, 625 Pioneer Rd. Bus transportation will not be available during that week.

Registration for Kindergarten Academy is now open.

The new school year for elementary students begins Sept. 4.

For more information or to register your child, call 541-469-7417, or email Hellena Chirinian at helenac@brookings.k12.or.us, or stop by the school at 650 Easy St.

Raining cats and dogs focus of nonprofit fundraising offer

The Rotary Club of Brookings-Harbor is seeking groups interested in partnering with the club by selling adoptions for Rotary's "Raining Cats & Dogs" fundraiser in September.

Up to 5,000 rubber cats and dogs will be dropped from a helicopter, flown by Dan Brattain of Cal-Ore Life Flight, onto a target painted on the kite field at the Port of Brookings Harbor at 2 p.m. Sept. 28.

The cat or dog landing closest to the center target pin will win the grand prize: $5,000 in cash and gift cards. Remaining prizes will be awarded in order of value, and by order of the cats or dogs closest to the target.

In the last six years, "Raining Cats and Dogs" community partners have earned more than $16,000 for their individual organizations. The community partners receive $1 for every adoption they sell. The top three partners receive an additional $1 for every adoption, plus the possibility of earning even more.

This is the seventh year that Rotarians have held the community fundraising event. More than $95,000 has been raised for local Rotary projects such as water-safety lessons for third-graders, support for the Food Bank and community kitchens, and scholarships for high school graduates.

Raffle ticket sales will begin this month. Partners will start selling adoptions six weeks before the event.

This year's leading sponsors for "Raining Cats & Dogs" are Rogue Credit Union, Harbrook Jewelers, Curry Community Health, Sea View Senior Living and Mini PetMart.

The media partners for this year's event are the Curry Coastal Pilot and KURY Radio.

If your local nonprofit organization has not been contacted and you would like more details, call Bonnie Jordan at 541-251-5000, or Judy May-Lopez at 541-661-2066.

has added an entirely new dynamic to his focus.

“Even after working with them for several years, my biggest challenge as the director of public safety has been learning and understanding those areas that affect the fire department the most, and where they are currently as a department, so we can make a plan for how to continue moving forward and growing.”

The fire department has a full-time chief and captain. The remaining firefighters are volunteers.

McCrae said the fire department’s leadership must remain cognizant of the fact that timely responses to calls for service depend greatly on the availability and experience of volunteers. “The reality is, we must understand and appreciate that we rely on those who already have a full-time job elsewhere, so they will not always be available to respond to fire calls.”

To maintain a strong firefighting force, McCrae said, recruiting and retention volunteers are key to effectively and efficiently responding to calls for service.

“We do this by maintaining the welcoming team atmosphere that already exists, while also continuing to make the training interesting and challenging, yet fun,” he said. “We want volunteers to look forward to each drill and call, by giving them a sense of value, purpose and belonging.”

Police staffing

McCrae said the Brookings Police Department, like law-enforcement agencies nationwide, continues to be challenged in finding qualified candidates for open positions.

“Even once we find the right person, it takes at least 10 months to get them through the background, the psychological testing, the academy and their field training before they are able to respond to calls on their own,” he said.

“We save a significant amount of time by hiring a lateral officer who has already been to the academy, but it is difficult to entice officers from outside of the area to move to Brookings and stay.”

McCrae said that providing police services 24 hours a day, seven days a week is challenging as well, when accounting for officers’ time away for court cases, training, vacations and sick leave.

“Fortunately, we have a selfless group of officers who have been very flexible with their schedules and off-duty time,” he said, “who ensured we were able to maintain 24/7 coverage.”

Calls for service

During his law-enforcement career, McCrae said, the most significant changes he has seen in calls for service are the increases in homelessness and those experiencing a mental-health crisis. These two categories have added to the call load received by dispatchers and handled by Brookings police officers.

McCrae said homelessness is a complex issue that can require assistance from many different agencies for each individual. He added that some members of the homeless population suffer from drug addiction or mental-health issues, further complicating possible solutions

“This increase in mental-health calls spurred my goal of getting officers enhanced training in dealing with those in a mental-health crisis,” McCrae said. “I want to give officers the tools they need to be effective, while also being able to provide the best possible assistance to those they are trying to help.”

Setting goals

In setting his goals for the Brookings Department of Public Service, McCrae lists:

- Establishing a countywide crisis intervention team to deal with and de-escalate those in a mental-health crisis. That training begins in September.
- Recruiting and training new officers.
- Enhancing the department’s K-9 drug-detection team.
- Reestablishing the school resource officer position in the Brookings-Harbor School District this fall.

• Promoting traffic safety and increasing the successful prosecution of drug-impaired drivers.

• And establishing an employee-wellness program within the department.

For fire services, McCrae lists:

- Developing effective relationships with local businesses that allow time away from work for their employees to serve as volunteer firefighters.
- Developing an aggressive volunteer firefighter recruitment campaign through social and traditional media.
- And building a training area for firefighters’ skill-building.

His takeaway

Despite the job challenges as director of public safety, McCrae said the rewards are many. “My law-enforcement career goal has been to be the chief of police for Brookings,” he said. “My family and I love Brookings and this is our community.

“My greatest reward is being given the trust to lead this great group of officers and dispatchers to focus on the priorities that I feel will have the greatest positive impact on the City of Brookings and the Brookings Police Department.

“I have had the support and freedom to do that, and that is rewarding.”

Tourism

that for the period July 2018-June 2019, that community’s overall occupancy figures for motels and vacation rentals were down by 2 percent.

That dip stems primarily from fewer visitors January through June because of higher rainfall and the Hooskanaden slide that closed U.S. Highway 101 in February, March and April.

Still, visitor numbers traditionally go up in July and August, said Fritz, and, “I’m not overly concerned.”

So how big is tourism?

To put the importance of local tourism numbers in perspective, the average tourist group (party size 2.5, length of stay 1.7 days) in Gold Beach plans to spend about $1,724 for their trip to cover lodging, dining, sightseeing and attractions, according to a variety of surveys.

Across this region, the anticipated spending is $1,281.

Those number add up astronomically when considering the total number of visitors passing through this area. At the Gold Beach Visitor Center, 30,253 visitor contacts were made in 2018. Through June of this calendar year, 12,882 people have been through the visitor center.

The taxable rents (lodging taxes) for last calendar year in Gold Beach were $7.83 million.

Statistics from the Travel Oregon Welcome Center at the Crissey Field State Recreation Site on the Oregon/California border showed that numbers for the period May-July were up from 13,904 visitors in 2018 to 14,200 in 2019.

According to Travel Oregon’s Linea Gagliano, “Tourism in the (south Oregon coast) generates $413 million in visitor spending, which directly employs 5,400 local residents.”

In Del Norte County, the figures for travel-related spending in 2017 show visitors spent $132 million, generating $10.5 million in tax revenue and employing 1,400 people. (Source: Visit California, authored by Dean Runyan Associates, Inc.)

So, by any calculation, tourism in Curry and Del Norte counties is big business ... vital to the wellbeing of the local economy and governments.

Who is coming and why?

“The largest percentage of our guests are from the (Willamette) Valley and NorCal,” said Debbie Branson, director of the Gold Beach Visitor Center. “Those are the people who come here on purpose to vacation.”

The Travel Oregon Welcome Center at Crissey Field confirmed that the top domestic visitor numbers are from Oregon, California and Washington, in that order.

Top international visitors come from Canada, Germany, Australia and New Zealand.

“What’s driving tourism is their desire to see our area and region, based on our marketing and promotional efforts,” said Gold Beach City Administrator Fritz.

“Most of our visitors are outdoor enthusiasts, and that means both passive and active. We have a lot of folks that come for hiking, biking, water sports such as kayaking and windsurfing, and fishing,” she said. “But we also have as many, or more, folks that just like to come and relax, unplug, view and be in, or experience, our exceptional outdoors.

“That is especially true in winter, when folks come to storm watch,” said Fritz. The City of Gold Beach is “doing everything and anything we can” to promote outdoor recreation.

“A lot of people are attracted by our unique weather here in southern Curry County,” said Brookings’ Williams. “Couple that with beautiful scenery and a host of owner-operated restaurants to enjoy, as well as downtown eclectic shopping, and it’s really quite a nice place to be.”

He said visitors to this year’s Brookings-Harbor “Azalea Festival” hailed from as far away as Southern California, Washington and even Nevada.

“The number-one reason people come to our region is for the redwoods,” said Crescent City Chamber director Vosburg. “We get people in from all over the world.

“Just this week, we talked to groups from Finland, England, New Zealand, Germany, Canada and, of course, all across the United States.

“We get families, young couples, retirees, cyclists, backpackers walking the Coast Trail. People love our coast and our redwoods.”

She said her organization has been focused on promoting its website, visitdelnortecounty.com, which launched a new brand just a few months ago.

Vosburg said the site is filled with current data valuable to travelers planning on visiting the region, including lodging, restaurants, places to visit and things to do.

“This site is a full, compre-

hensive look at our beautiful region, and brings travelers from all over the world to Del Norte County.”

Can more be done?

All of the tourism officials agreed that top-notch service, collaboration and cooperation among stakeholders are key components to building the momentum of this region’s tourism industry.

“We make sure to serve our travelers once they arrive, by having a good visitor center open seven days a week during this busy season,” Crescent City’s Vosburg said.

Brookings-Harbor is working on fostering a south Curry County environment where businesses and residents alike can come together with the goal of enhancing the area, according to Williams. “We need to make decisions based on facts and data, not perception, inclination or past practices.”

Agreed Gold Beach’s Fritz: “Because travel, tourism and outdoor recreation have changed dramatically in the past 10 years, we need to be strategic about data collection and analysis.”

She recommends making surgical decisions about what, where and how to spend tourism dollars, and to hire professionals to do that work.

“As a region, we need to continue collaborating with our regional partners and continue to support one another,” she stressed, noting that visitors can’t get to Brookings without going through Gold Beach or Crescent City.

“So, it only makes sense to collaborate and strengthen one another.”

Pirates

of people who attend — now at about 20,000 visitors over the three-day weekend. “Festival attendees usually fill up all the hotels in Crescent City, Gold Beach and Brookings-Harbor,” Ellis said.

The event is neither a nonprofit nor a fundraiser, they said. All of the funds that come in from the vendors and sponsors go to cover expenses and the festival’s entertainment.

“The event was designed for the community, to bring revenue to the area and provide activities that locals and tourists would enjoy,” said Ellis.

The re-enacting group Iron Dragon Trading Company will have an encampment at the festival complete with cannons, pirates and a bit of mayhem. Ironside Fitness will be performing sword fights throughout the weekend.

Two stages will feature live music that will include the Frankie Hernandez Band performing “Pirate Reggae,” and the Spence Bros. Band.

KCIW Radio will preside over a “Liar’s Contest” on Saturday at 3 p.m. on the main stage. Folks are invited to get up on stage and tell their best whopper — best liar wins.

Also, you can get a photograph with “Queen Meditrina” and her court of mermaid princesses.

More than 60 booths will feature local and visiting artisans and vendors, including merchandise that ranges from jewelry to pirate gear.

Several top-of-the-line food vendors will ensure the crowds stay properly fed. Two beer gardens, featuring Misty Mountain Brewing and the Cutthroat Inn, will quench thirsty adult pirates.

Meanwhile, the kids can take a ride in a “pirate ship” on wheels, watch a balloon artist in action, see demonstrations of pirate skills, maybe even (if they’re old enough) have the chance to shoot a real cannon.

The fun is scheduled from noon-9 p.m. Aug. 9, 10 a.m.-7 p.m. Aug. 10, and 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Aug. 11.

The festival has grown to more than 20,000 people attending over three days.

Opinion

Climate crisis should worry rural voters

Dear Editor:
State senators representing rural Oregonians walked off the job in June to prevent the state from addressing global warming. But effective action is overdue.
Rural Oregonians - and I am one, here six hours from Portland - stand on the front line of damage from climate change. We will suffer the worst from state inaction.
Red is the correct color to politically describe rural and southern Oregon, and it's also the right color to symbolize the effects that a hotter climate is causing.
Consider first the hazard of wildfire and the pall of smoke that southern Oregonians endure for months at a time.
Hotter, drier, windier summers have delivered fires that no one can control, and that make any prescription for forest management irrelevant.
Climate experts predict that global warming will further exacerbate incendiary conditions. Some elected officials are apoplectic about fire. Yet the same officials reject meaningful action to grapple with global warming, which is the principal cause of the heightened risks we face.
Not concerned about fire? Or perhaps you think we can cut down all the trees and somehow have the tangle of resulting volatile brush and incendiary thickets of young trees burn any cooler. Okay, then consider the rising ocean. The Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences project a worldwide sea-level rise of up to 6 feet within the lifespan of our children.
That - or even substantially less than that - will inundate real estate, estuaries needed for fisheries, and big portions of coastal towns, including all three here in Curry County.
We rural Oregonians are the people who will have to live with the effects of a rising ocean, saltwater intrusion of our drinking water, and landslides along 362 miles of U.S. Highway 101, not to mention ocean-view homes destined to fall into the sea.
Worse, the overload of atmospheric carbon sourced in fossil fuels triggers ocean acidification, spelling doom to crabs, clams and the whole food chain, destroying commercial and sport fisheries that drive rural economies such as ours.
Bad news, too, for freshwater fish: stream temperatures already climb to intolerable levels for salmon, steelhead, and trout - the foundation of our sport-fishing past-time and economy. Outbreaks of toxic warm-water algae foul our swimming holes and domestic supplies, and increasingly blanket the shorelines of the Chetco and our other rivers in summer.
Because global warming delivers less snow and more rain in western Oregon, floods will increase. This is important to rural Oregonians, because a lot of them live in flood zones or, if not, they depend on roads that will be made impassable when rivers rise.
Meanwhile, in eastern Oregon worsening droughts are predicted where water shortages already challenge farmers and ranchers trying to make a living while a harsher climate works against them.
Climate change favors forest pathogens and the invasion of exotic species, reducing timber productivity and making forests more flammable with nuisance plants like gorse. Drier, hotter summers make regeneration difficult, with prospects of whole forests becoming brushy chaparral instead - and it burns even hotter.
First in line here are our super-heated mountains east of Brookings.
To block Oregon Democrats' bill addressing the climate crisis, Republican politicians used fear about unaffordable gasoline prices to win the support of rural residents, then walked off the job, leaving the Senate without a voting quorum.
But through two years' worth of compromises, HB 2020 offered tax credits to offset gas prices for financially stressed people, exempted farm and forestry use, and prioritized multiple rural investments with money the program would generate (Oregon Cap-and-Trade—An Economic Impact Analysis).
All to no avail. In the end, the senators left us with no plan at all.
Without decisive action to curb global warming, the Oregon we know will be ruined. The world's leading climate experts say we have a dozen years to turn the tide. No one - least of all elected officials - should be walking off the job.
Our elected legislators should join in effective solutions to a problem that affects us all and that undermines our environment, our jobs, our communities and our lives. Those who said "no" in June of this year owe us an approach that will work.

Thanks to a morally strong policeman here

Dear Editor:
I moved to Brookings less than a year ago, and there are many things about this town and the people who live here that I enjoy and appreciate.
I was involved in a situation about two weeks ago and the police were called, because the guy who was invading our personal space was carrying a gun. He was loud, but not threatening, but it was clear that things could easily escalate.
The policeman who came to our rescue handled the situation quietly and with respect to all involved. The situation quickly de-escalated and everyone there felt safe and grateful to him for his positive intervention.
I have seen teachers bully and threaten children. Coaches, dentists, doctors, Boy Scout leaders, as well as child-care workers, have been involved in emotional, physical and/or sexual molestation.
I constantly read or hear about police brutality against minorities. I experience daily decisions made by politicians that hurt people and the planet. Most of these people operate from a level 2 morality. They enjoy having power and control over other people, as well as the ability to cause fear and pain.
Every day there is news about how the rich and powerful satisfy their own greedy needs, with absolutely no concern regarding the people they are hurting.
If everyone who had power over other humans and our planet Earth operated out of a moral development of level 5 ... what a wonderful world we would live in!
It would drastically change the world for the better, if these people were required to take a psychological test in order to accurately access their level of moral development. If they achieved a high level, then we could be sure they were operating out of real kindness and caring.
The policeman in Brookings who came to our rescue was obviously operating for a high level of moral development and we thank him for that.

New fire restrictions as conditions get very dry

As conditions continue to dry out and temperatures rise, the risk of wildfire increases across southwestern Oregon. Any fires that may start have the potential to become serious in size and complexity, according to a statement from the Rogue River-Siskiyou National Forest.

The national forest district announced it will impose public-use restrictions on Aug. 3.

Those restrictions will not apply to lands within designated Wilderness boundaries. And there are separate public-use restrictions for the lower Wild and Scenic Rogue River.

The forest district said the restrictions reduce the risk of human-caused fires by limiting where open flames may occur, and areas where smoking or operating internal combustion engines is permissible. The restrictions include:

- Limiting the building of campfires to Forest Service-constructed fire rings that are made of concrete or metal, and are located in designated recreation sites.

- Smoking is allowed only in vehicles, designated recreation sites, areas clear of vegetation measuring at least 3 feet in diameter, or aboard watercraft on waterways.
- Operating an internal combustion engine is allowed only in excepted areas that are specified in the official closure order.

- Welding or operating an acetylene or other torch with an open flame is prohibited.

The use of propane or liquid fuel-powered commercial stoves is allowed.

The district said that thus far in 2019, its officials have responded to and extinguished 10 small human-caused fires, mostly attributed to abandoned campfires.

Annual ‘Chalk Art’ event slated

Images will run wild Aug. 10 during the fifth-annual “Chalk Art” event

10 a.m.-3 p.m. at Crissey Field State Recreation Site.

Organizers said there is no age limit, with everyone invited to draw on the sidewalk and not be in trouble for it! The event offers prizes for the chalk artwork.

Along with the event, participants will be encouraged to enjoy the new shore bird displays onsite.

According to the Oregon State Parks website, Crissey Field is a 40-acre park between the California border and Winchuck River, south of Brookings.

It attracts thousands of visitors, primarily from Crescent City to the south stretching up to Gold Beach at the north, offering a visitor center surrounded by a sandy beach, plus wetlands and a small stand of mature trees.

The visitor center utilizes solar panels to heat water and to send as much as 20,000 kilowatt hours per year to Coos-Curry Electric Co-Op. The state parks website says the earth itself warms the building in the winter and cools it in summer.

Organizers said they have collected $39,856 from the Curry Health Foundation’s “High on Health Moonlight Over Mexico” fundraiser held in May, in partnership with the Rotary Club of Gold Beach.

“The foundation uses half of the proceeds, combined with interest from our endowment, to help fund county-wide health-related grants,” executive director Roseann Ismert said.

Recipients of the grant money raised in the past have included Curry County Search and Rescue, Oasis Shelter Home, Pistol River Fire Department, Wally’s House Child Advocacy, Agness Illahe Rural Fire Department, Meals on Wheels, Chetco Activity Center, and Good Samaritan Society/ Curry Village.

According to the Foundation’s mission statement, the group’s fundraising programs include “High on Health” in the spring and its annual appeal in November. The foundation’s outreach also includes participation in other non-fundraising events throughout the year.

Ismert said the “Moonlight

“We would like to thank our corporate sponsors Hart Insurance, Cal-Ore Life Flight/Reach, Daryn Farmer State Farm Insurance, Corner Drug and Gifts, Gold Beach Mobile Home Park, Gold Beach Lumber Yard, Inc.,

ReMax Ultimate Coastal Properties, and Zuber and Sons Logging, LLC,” Ismert said.

The Curry Health Foundation operates with an annual budget of about $50,000.

“This money is entirely from donations, fundraisers and interest from endowments,” said Ismert, “and has enabled the foundation to give health-related grants in our community for a total of over

Obituaries

“Papa” Earl Allen Koch April 27, 1927 - March 26, 2019

Earl Koch, 92, passed away on March 26, 2019 surrounded by family and friends at his home in Brookings, Oregon.

He was born to Abe and Velma Koch on April 27, 1927 in Cottage Grove, Oregon.

He is survived by the love of his life, Thelma Sarraatt, daughter Nancy Crawford, sister Darlene Gardner, brother Jim Koch, step-daughter Lorie Wilson, Dianna and Randy Morton, Zennetta (Zee) and John Yost and many grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his father Abe, mother Velma, daughter Peggy, sister Dorothy and brother Cecil.

Earl met the love of his life Thelma Sarraatt, daughter’s and husband’s, Dianna and Randy Morton, Zennetta (Zee) and John Yost and son Rudy Mercer in 1992.

Earl and Thelma loved the outdoors, mushroom picking, hunting, camping and loved taking rides in the mountains and also going to the beach and make very special memories.

Earl served in the Merchant Marines in 1944 and was stationed in the Catalina Island.

He moved to Brookings, Oregon in 1951 to help Walt Thompson build Thompson Lumber Company and worked there for many years. He also, worked 28 years at South Coast Lumber Company as a mill right until he retired.

We want to especially “Thank” hospice, Darlene Gardner, Zennetta Yost and Dianna Morton for the wonderful care of Ear.

A Celebration of Life will be held at his home at 264 Marine Drive, Brookings on Aug. 24, 2019 from 12 pm - 3 pm.

Please bring chair’s, your favorite dish and refreshment for a potluck if you can.

Kismet (Kibby) Winslow - She Changed Her Generation!

You are lovingly invited to a Celebration of Life for Kismet A. Winslow (Kibby)

who joined her husband of 52 years Albert (Scott) and their son Albert (Bert) in heaven on Feb. 23, 2019. She was 79 at the time of her death.

Service will be on her birthday Aug. 10, 2019 at 2pm in Azalea Park at the “Capella By the Sea” 294 N Bank Chetco River Rd., Brookings

Family and elderly have inside seating priority

Chairs will be available outside, as well as tent cover and speakers, so the memorial service can be heard. In lieu of flowers, please donate money or time at your local homeless or animal shelter.

Kibby lived in Gold Beach, Oregon, for almost 50 years. For nearly 40 years, she was the proud Owner and Licensed Denturist at PTL Denture Service in Brookings, Oregon. As the first woman Denturist in the State of Oregon, and Scott in the 1st class of Denturists, they were considered pioneers in their industry.

She loved her patients and greeted them with a hug and smile. She would point to the lights and say, “Because of you, I can pay my bills and feed by family”. She was humble and kind but tough as nails if you took advantage of others or made fun of the less fortunate. Oh, how she is missed! Kibby gave to others unconditionally, but always in private. She won many awards for helping the homeless, abandoned animals, and those in need. However, she refused to attend a single ceremony where she would receive public praise. She was blessed with a successful business she loved, but it wasn’t always this way.

As a homeless child with 13 siblings and a father dying of cancer, abject poverty was Kibby’s sure destiny. It had been the destiny of the past 2 generations of her family after the Great Depression left her wealthy family destitute. She dropped out of school in the 9th grade to help care for her siblings. She met and married “Scott” when she was only 15 but made him promise they could still care for her younger siblings. 4 years later they had a toddler and 2 babies. She was continuing down the path of generations before and it tore at her soul. It was at this time that she began to pray what has become our family manta, “Lord, please change MY generation”!

In the 1960’s, Kibby was the 1st woman in Oregon to work in the plywood mill where she faced profound discrimination. She put her head down and worked even harder. She worked overtime and did the jobs no one wanted like cleaning the bathrooms and lunchroom. She worked until her hands bled. She wrapped her cracked and sore hands around used textbooks and began to study for her GED. Her young children watched her every move and learned about determination and character. As plywood mills began to shutter their doors, she prayed even harder, LORD PLEASE CHANGE MY GENERATION!

Destiny once again tapped her on the shoulder reminding her what she learned as a child...Education was her ticket out of poverty and the only way to “change her generation”.

Kibby always put others first. In the late 1970’s she sent her husband to college as she continued to work in plywood mills and scrub toilets. She then sent her college age children to school. In the 1980’s, it was finally her turn to attend. Her professors told her she would never make it with only a GED and a 9th grade education. Many of us remember her tears; her embarrassment from being “an uneducated dropout that never went to high school”. Did that stop her? Absolutely not. Once again, she put her head down and worked ever harder. She hired Math and English tutors. Her essays became vivid and alive. They were raw and real; they were KISMET! Apart from a few grammar and punctuation errors, and despite the closed-mindedness of a few professors, she graduated with honors. She was speechless when those same professors approached her with tears and pleaded for forgiveness. They said she was a gifted writer and begged her to pursue a journalistic career. Her focus was not to be a journalist, but to CHANGE HER GENERATION. KISMET INDEED CHANGED HER GENERATION. With her husband, they sent the rest of their children and many grandchildren to college.

She was injured in a car wreck on January 2, 2016 (not her fault). In May of that year, she fell and became an instant quadriplegic. Did complete paralysis stop her? No! She again put her head down to contemplate her future. The first thing she said was that it was time to “open her toolbox”. When questioned on the meaning, she said “The most important thing in life is not money. It is God, love and family”. She continued, “Money is only a tool and I have a lot of tools in my toolbox and it is time to use them all. I need to work much harder than before”. Until the moment she died, her goal was to continue making dentures and other people smile at PTL Denture Service.

She is preceded in death by her husband Albert (Scott) Winslow, her son Albert (Bert) Winslow, and grandson Kevin Mayo. She is survived by her 3 daughters; Andrea (Lynn) Gillson & her husband Jim of Brookings, Monique (Chickie/Chicken) Eska & her husband Rick of Washougal, Washington, and Kismet (Kibby) Mayo & her husband Chris of Brookings. However, it was her grandchildren that she held closest to her heart: Tony Belisle, Mike Belisle, Ricky Eska, Brandon Eska, Monique Kelley, Dylan Jobe, Christopher Mayo and Sarah Mayo. She also loved her great-grandchildren too.

She adopted many people into her family, but none more than JoAnne Fritts, who was the reason she lived at home and not in a facility (she left her 3 cats to JoAnne to the relief of the rest of us). Her best friend Trina Forkner to whom she told everything; it didn’t matter that she was almost 40 years younger than herself. She also loved Trina’s partner for life Vinnie Colangelo...she loved his spaghetti and meatballs almost as much as she loved him! Renita Confer who was like a sister and daughter all wrapped into one who made her laugh when she needed it the most. Her “son” Randy Taylor who she couldn’t love more & his wife Suzy Taylor who she cherished and adored. Her family of Caregivers that lovingly cared for her in her home 24/7 and were with her until she passed...even when they were told they would still be paid if they left...they ALL stayed until her last breath. Her caregivers called her Mama and she called them her girls. Thank you for making Mama’s life worth living; Anne & Dwayne Washburn, Tami Kennedy, Sharlette (AKA Charlie) & Ted Aguirre, Alicia & Polo Pedraze, and Sandi Jordan. Of course, I must mention her furry kids: (Cats) Lilly, Sweetie, Iris and her constant companion Willy Winslow, her dog son.

Kibby’s life wasn’t always perfect, but it was filled with adventure, love, laughter and sheer determination. All families fight and hers was no different, but she never once quit loving and adoring ANY of them. She would often look around with pride (just like she is at this very moment) and see University & College educated Nurses, Denturists, Business Executives, and even an Attorney. She left this world knowing that SHE CHANGED HER GENERATION!

I guess you can call it KISMET (fate)! Perhaps it was her grit and never give up attitude that made the difference, but she would argue that it was PRAYER THAT CHANGED HER GENERATION! She would repeat what has become our family verse; Jeremiah 29:11, “For I know the plans I have for you,” declares the LORD, “plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future”.

We sure miss you Mama!!

PS She cherished her GED above the rest and displayed it on her office wall next to her Denturist License and certifications in Advance Oral Pathology, to name a few.

Jane Ann Cuvreau July 9, 1938 - April 21, 2019

Jane Ann Cuvreau was born on July 9, 1938 and passed away on April 21, 2019 at Shasta Regional Hospital in Redding, California.

Jane was born in Henryetta, Oklahoma to Robert Fox and Arlene Emily Fox. She was the first born of seven children, 6 girls and 1 brother. Sisters- Mary Ellen, Sharon, Kathy, Frances, Cindy and brother Robert Lee.

Jane left home at 18, and went to work in Seattle, Washington as an executive secretary. On her lunch breaks and after work she would shop, which she loved to do for the finer things in life, crystal, clothing, jewelry, wine and most of all high heels which she wore every-day to work.

She also had a beautiful brooch collection she bought and received from friends, wearing a different brooch everyday, even at home. She always looked nice.

She loved to cook and bake. Jane was very proud that she brought a home on her own in Seattle where she worked. Married twice, moved to Brookings in the 90’s when she married Lorin Cuvreau. They they moved to Newport and then back to Brookings in 2007 buying a home in Harbor.

Jane worked at Oceanview Storage for several years, then volunteered at the Catholic store. Jane was very proud of her Catholic French Canadian Heritage.

After moving back to Brookings, she would lament about how often it rained on her birthday in July. Well Janie ...it rained on your birthday again this year! We thought of you all the more... we love and miss you Jane.

Rest in peace dear friend and God Bless and keep you and Sara your doggie.

‘Brookings Second Saturday Art Walk’ ... For-sale forgeries, books and Jay Mosby tribute

The “Brookings Second Saturday Art Walk” for Aug. 10 will provide a variety of art displays and special events, all happening 3-6 p.m. downtown.

Certain special events will take place at specific times, such as:

- The 4 p.m. “For Sale Forgeries” multiple-artist interview at PBAA/Manley Art Center;
- The 4:30 p.m. Brian Gibbons interview at Brian Scott Gallery;
- And the 5 p.m. tribute to Jay Mosby and portrait giveaway at Wright’s Fog & Fine Art.

Others events will be ongoing, including the Georgia Cockerham book-signing event at Forecastle Books and, at Semi Aquatic, the presentation of Spencer Reynolds’ new Harris Beach painting. Most sites will provide free refreshments and live music in various musical styles. There are no admission charges and no obligation to buy. Numerous downtown merchants remain open and welcome visitors during the art walk.

Among the venues are:
Ambiance by the Sea, 530 Hemlock St., 541-254-4097. Will feature resin art by Trish Roman, as well as paintings by the late Liz James, driftwood and glass art, and other craft items. Music by Toni Land.
Brian Scott Gallery and Signatures, 515 Chetco Ave., 541-412-8687. Special Event: 4:30 p.m., interview with featured artist Brian Gibbons, maker of sea-life paintings, sculptures and agate boxes. This multi-level gallery includes Signatures, a gallery within the gallery. Live music by Robert Kosslyn.

The recently completed Del Norte County Fair featured four days of sensory overload. Visitors were treated to a bonanza of returning attractions of rides, animals and food. Then, there was the unexpected ... such as when headliner Mark McGrath pulled from the crowd Crescent City singer Holly Wagner to the main stage and they performed a duet of "Ice, Ice Baby." Bulls, trucks, horses and livestock contributed timeless county fair memories. Fun for all! Photos by David Jeffcoat, Michael Zogg and Mike Cuthbertson

EVEN EXCHANGE

Even Exchange by Donna Pettman

Each numbered row contains two clues and two 6-letter answers. The two answers differ from each other by only one letter, which has already been inserted. For example, if you exchange the A from MASTER for an I, you get MISTER. Do not change the order of the letters.

MOMENTS IN TIME

* On Aug. 25, 1835, the start of a six-part series announcing the discovery of life on the moon appears in the New York Sun newspaper. Sales of the paper soared as readers believed the tales about unicorns, two-legged beavers and furry, winged humanoids. Even Yale University scientists were fooled.

* On Aug. 24, 1873, William Henry Jackson takes the first photographs of Colorado’s elusive Mount of the Holy Cross, providing reliable proof of its existence. The phenomenon formed after thousands of years of erosion of two deep ravines, which by sheltering winter snow from the sun created a perfect cross.

* On Aug. 19, 1909, the first race is held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. After the unstable rock and tar track caused the deaths of six people that day, the surface was replaced with 3.2 million paving bricks.

* On Aug. 21, 1920, Daphne Milne, wife of writer A.A. Milne, gives birth to a son, whom they name Christopher Robin Milne. He would be immortalized in A.A. Milne’s books “Winnie-the-Pooh” and “The House at Pooh Corner.”

* On Aug. 20, 1975, Viking 1, an unmanned U.S. planetary probe, is launched from Cape Canaveral, Florida, on a mission to Mars. On July 20, 1976, the Viking 1 lander touched down on the Chryse Planitia region, becoming the first spacecraft to successfully land on Mars.

* On Aug. 22, 1989, Nolan Ryan of the Texas Rangers becomes the first pitcher in major league history to record 5,000 career strikeouts. Ryan would go on to compile 5,714 strikeouts, a record that still stands.

DEAR ABBY

LONGTIME ATTRACTION IS STILL STYMIED BY AGE DIFFERENCE

DEAR ABBY: I have been seeing a woman who is 21 years younger than I am. She says she loves me, but I am hesitant because of our age difference.

We have known each other for years. She had a crush on me when she was 16, but I was married at the time, and she was too young. We made love a couple of times when she was in her 20s because I was divorced and she was single.

Now it’s 10 years later. I’m in my late 50s; she’s in her 30s. We are both single, and she wants to take care of me for the rest of my life.

She brings me lunch every once in a while, which I am amazed at because it’s a long drive from where she lives. I worry about what other people will think, but she doesn’t care and says she wants to love me and care for me because she knows what I am about. I grew up with her uncles and aunts and am good friends with them.

She’s tired of dating people her age because she says they are immature. She has three kids and has never been married. I love her and want to take care of her, too, for the rest of her life. Should I listen to my heart? -- AGE IS A NUMBER, IN NEW MEXICO

DEAR AGE: You have known this woman for many years. It is not as though she’s a stranger with three children who has approached you. Are the fathers of the children contributing to their support? If they are minors, what will be your role in their lives? These are important considerations. But how other people feel about your union should not affect your decision.

Dear Abby is written by Abigail Van Buren, also known as Jeanne Phillips, and was founded by her mother, Pauline Phillips. Contact Dear Abby at www.DearAbby.com or P.O. Box 69440, Los Angeles, CA 90069.

To receive a collection of Abby’s most memorable -- and most frequently requested -- poems and essays, send your name and mailing address, plus check or money order for $8 (U.S. funds) to: Dear Abby -- Keepers Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, IL 61054-0447. Shipping and handling are included in the price.

PAWS CORNER

Road Trip!

DEAR PAW’S CORNER: I’m taking my cat “Frederica” on her first long road trip, across three states to my parents’ house. Do you have any tips for keeping cats calm and safe in the car? -- Anne in Buffalo, New York

DEAR ANNE: I sure do! Traveling with pets can be much easier with some planning and forethought. A pet restraint or carrier is essential to keep them safe inside the car, but that’s just one of the things to consider.

Check these off your to-do list:

* Make sure Frederica’s vaccinations and license are up to date, and that the tags are on her travel collar.

* Put an LED pendant on her collar in case you need to take her out at night.

* Include a sturdy leash, and always put Frederica on the leash when she’s not in her carrier.

* Make copies of her vaccination record and a list of medications.

* Prepare her carrier ahead of time: Make sure it has a comfy cushion in the base (one that doesn’t slide around), a favorite toy and a no-spill water dispenser.

* If your cat gets super-anxious during car trips, talk to the veterinarian about giving her medication.

* Staying overnight in a hotel? Search for pet-friendly hotels online.

* Never leave Frederica alone in the car -- take her with you during stops and breaks.

* Call your parents and ask them to prepare a space for Frederica’s bed and a spot for her litter box. She’ll settle in much faster when you put those two items in place as soon as you get there.

Send your comments, questions or tips to ask@pawscorner.com.

Notice of Public Hearing

The Brookings-Harbor School District 17C Board of Directors will conduct a public hearing before the Local Contract Review Board at the normally scheduled Board meeting.

In the Matter of Exemption Request of Brookings-Harbor School District 17C Azalea Middle School Gym Seismic Rehabilitation)

FINDINGS OF FACT

ORS 279C.335(1) requires, with certain exceptions, that all Public Improvement contracts be based on competitive bids and, under ORS 279C.375, awarded to the lowest responsive and responsible bidder. ORS 279C.335(2) permits the Local Contract Review Board, as the Brookings-Harbor School District 17C contract review authority, to grant, under certain conditions, specific exemptions from the requirement for competitive bidding upon the approval of specified findings.

OAR 137-049-0620 allows the Local Contract Review Board to exempt a Public Improvement contract from the requirements to be competitively bid, provided written findings supporting the use of non-competitive bid process show compliance with OAR 137-049-0600 to 137-049-0690 and applicable statutes.

Pursuant to such statutes and regulations, the Brookings-Harbor School District 17C Board of Directors has drafted findings that justify taking an exemption from competitive bidding requirements and utilizing the Design-Build contract delivery methodology to obtain proposals for the Azalea Middle School Gym Seismic Rehabilitation.

The hearing for the purpose of taking comments on the Board's draft findings for an exemption from the competitive bidding requirements will be held at 5:00 PM on Wednesday, August 21, 2019 at the Kalmiopsis Elementary School Library located at 650 Easy Street, Brookings, OR, 97415, as published in the public notice section in the Curry Coastal Pilot on August 7, 2019 and the Daily Journal of Commerce on Aug 7, 2019.

Any interested person may appear and present comment on these findings. Copies of the findings may be obtained upon request.

Notice of Petition to Administer Estate of Mark Thomas Gall

Case number: CVPB-19-7045

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of RICH ARD THOMAS LAWRY AKA RICK LAWRY:

A Petition for Probate has been filed by: Malia Gall in the Superior Court of California, County of Del Norte.

The Petition for Probate, requests that: Malia Gall be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions with out obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the author

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows:

Date: 08/30/19 Time: 10:00 a.m. Dept.: 2 Address of court: 450 K St. #209, Crescent City, CA 95531

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Pro bate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Use the Kid Scoop Secret Decoder Ring to discover the name of this book by Stuart Gibbs, which is available at the library.

This is a thriller starring a group of kids trapped inside a moon base. When one of the top scientists turns up dead, Dash jumps into action to find the killer. This chapter book is a fast paced/murder mystery/science fiction read and the first in a series of space thrillers.

To discover the name of this book, find the letter on the outer ring, then replace it with the letter below it on the inner ring.

Reasons to love your library:

- Going to a library regularly will result in you reading more.
- Owning a library card teaches you the responsibility of looking after it and the responsibility of looking after the books you take home and returning them on time.
- The wealth of choice in books, movies and tapes allows you access to more information that you otherwise would ever be able to reach.
- Children’s librarians are a great resource steering you to more books and topics than you might otherwise have considered.
- Children’s libraries everywhere have programs that encourage reading, researching and exploring mind-expanding information.

This week’s word:
HOLLOW
The adjective hollow means having a space inside.

The bird made its nest in the hollow of a tree.

Try to use the word hollow in a sentence today when talking with your friends and family.

Make Space for Reading the Newspaper Every Day!

Read the newspaper for a few minutes every day and you will be on your way to success in school and life! Kid Scoop is fun to read once a week, but what can you do on the other days of the week?

This week, use Kid Scoop all week long. We have created a fun newspaper reading game for each day of the week!

Travel the Solar System!

Each time you read 10 column inches of the newspaper, color in a planet in our solar system. When you reach Neptune, cut out the sun and wear it as a badge to let everyone know you are a star reader!

DAYS 1-3 Planet Adjectives

Read the short description of each of the eight planets, plus the dwarf planet, Pluto. Each day, look through the newspaper for adjectives that describe three planets. Glue the adjectives near the planet they describe.

Standards Link: Grammar: Identify adjectives.

MARS

The Romans named Mars after their god of war, because its color reminded them of blood.

VENUS

Covered with a poisonous acid, Venus is the hottest planet in our solar system. The planet’s thick clouds let the heat in, but not out! This is called the greenhouse effect.

JUPITER

Jupiter is the largest and heaviest planet. If it was hollow, more than 1,000 Earths could fit inside.

NEPTUNE

Hold on to your hats! Neptune is storms, storms and more storms!

MERCURY

Closest to the sun, Mercury’s days are a whopping 800° F and at night the temperature drops to 300° F BELOW zero!

EARTH

Not too hot and not too cold, it is the only planet where we know there is life.

URANUS

Uranus has rings just like Saturn, but the rings go around the planet up and down like a ferris wheel. Through a telescope, this icy planet looks greenish-blue.

SATURN

Saturn is nearly as big as its neighbor, Jupiter, but it is not so heavy. Scientists say that if you could find an ocean big enough, Saturn would float.

DWARF PLANET PLUTO

Farthest from the sun, Pluto is colder than all the other planets and dark all the time, even during the day.

Standards Link: Earth Science: Students know that each planet has unique characteristics.

Extra! Extra!
DAY 5

Pretend you are sending a package into space that, if life exists on other planets, will tell about life on Earth. Look through today’s newspaper to find pictures and articles that you would put into your package. Tell why you selected each one.

Standards Link: Earth Science: Students know that Earth has distinct characteristics.

12 +  =  tons

22 -  =  tons

+ 9 =  tons

DAY 4

How heavy is the asteroid?

Asteroids are space rocks that orbit the sun between Mars and Jupiter. They come in all shapes and sizes.

Look through the newspaper for a number to put into each of the boxes on the asteroids. Do the math and find out what each asteroid weighs!

Standards Link: Number Sense: Compute sums and differences.

Kid Scoop Puzzler

DAY 6 Satellite Story

The moon is a satellite. A satellite is a smaller object that orbits around a larger one. Some satellites, like moons, are natural. Others are man-made. People have launched man-made satellites into orbit around the Earth to take pictures of clouds and land forms, and to study space.

Natural or Man-Made?

Look through the newspaper and find five things that are natural. Then find five things that are man-made.

Standards Link: Earth Science: Students know that the Moon orbits the Earth; some objects moving in the sky are natural and some are man-made.

DAY 7

Find words in the newspaper that begin with the first letter of each of the eight planets in our solar system. Use the words to write a sentence that will help you remember the order of the planets. (For example: My Very Eager Mother Just Served Us Nachos.)

Standards Link: Vocabulary: Recognize beginning sounds.

How do robots shave?

ANSWER: With a laser blade.

Write On! Exaggerate!

I can race as fast as a rocket to Mars! Make up your own exaggerations.
