Statement of Interest – Bryan Wolf

Board of Trustees of the University of Oregon

As a native Oregonian my family and I have long enjoyed and benefited from all this state has to offer, including educational and employment opportunities, natural and recreational venues, and overall quality of life. We also believe it is important to do what we can to preserve and enhance these assets for our children's generation and beyond. My wife has leveraged her background and passion over the past two decades to advance K-12 educational opportunities in the state. I want to utilize my strategic and governance expertise to help facilitate opportunities in higher education through the Board of Trustees for my alma mater, the University of Oregon.

While I had the good fortune and opportunity to attend an out-of-state graduate school, the seeds of that opportunity were planted here in Oregon as a first-generation high school and college graduate. The quality of education I received at the University of Oregon was a springboard for my successful graduate studies, as well as my subsequent career with Intel Capital. Without financial assistance through the University and government, however, attendance at the University of Oregon would have been unaffordable. This is a perspective that has informed my life since, and one that drives my interest in working with the Board of Trustees. I want to work with the Board to ensure access, affordability and academic excellence for future generations of Duck graduates.

My career in finance and venture investing has provided a strong governance background for a position on the Board of Trustees, having served as a director or observer on approximately 20 private and public company boards over the past two decades. In addition to my work on audit and compensation committees, I have developed acumen in providing strategic guidance, helping companies develop operational rigor, driving ZBB and ROI analyses to prioritize programs and investments, instituting metrics to measure progress, and most importantly hiring, developing and supporting leaders to run these organizations. These are all relevant experiences that will contribute to executing the charter of the Board of Trustees, as well as our fiduciary duties to the University. I currently serve on a public company board alongside the former President of UNLV who will reference my contributions in these areas, and how they relate to the Trustee position under consideration.

The passage of Senate Bill 270 in 2013 was pivotal for the University of Oregon and higher education in this state. Becoming an independent public body with the ability to retain its own Board provides the University with a new level of autonomy and capability required to meet the ever-changing needs of students and the state of Oregon going forward. But it also comes with greater responsibility, accountability and transparency. I look forward to working with the Board to help the University deliver on its mission and fulfill commitments to its constituents.

Thank you for your consideration.
