Dear Dr. Haas and members of the School Board,

Today, as COVID-19 cases rise and our Governor warns of a return to tighter restrictions, we are writing to you as teachers of Albemarle County Schools to urge that you reconsider opening school face-to-face this fall and instead pivot to a virtual opening. We would have preferred a chance for ACPS staff and educators to provide feedback on the plans before they were presented on July 9th. As that did not occur, we want to be sure our voices are heard now.

While it should go without saying, we care deeply for our students and their learning. We are dedicated to achieving equitable outcomes for all students in our district. We are long-standing advocates who have pledged ourselves to careers in service of the holistic well-being of our community's youth, a value ACPS names as central. We want to return to school and our students in-person – when it is safe.

It is unequivocally unsafe for Albemarle County staff and families to begin the year with an in-person learning model. On July 10th, Governor Northam stated that Virginia would not be able to return to in person instruction if we aren't able to stay in Phase Three. In the Thomas Jefferson Health area, COVID-19 trends have plateaued at higher rates than expected. Black and Latinx communities are already experiencing higher rates of COVID-19 cases and deaths. Many of our families will have the resources and wealth available to choose online learning or private tutoring while we send our most marginalized communities, families, students, and teachers alike, into unsafe indoor environments. A return to in-person learning is a return to a traumatic environment and the inequities our district's students experience will increase. These data, coupled with local trends, inform our conviction that a virtual start to school is necessary.

Our community craves a sense of normalcy, perhaps none more than our children. A return to in-person learning at this time will not provide this. We are aware of the arguments in favor of opening schools in some type of in-person capacity. Many of us are parents ourselves. We understand the challenges families in our community face. We also realize our first iteration of virtual learning did not adequately serve all students and families. However, more important than a false sense of normalcy, is responsive leadership which protects our community's well-being for the future.

We believe that learning is essential and that we have the dedication to plan relevant, and rigorous virtual learning opportunities for all students. To make this model work we need time, planning, and training in research-based practices. Your leadership can make this happen. With that in mind, we call on you to pivot to a virtual reopening in the fall and partner directly with teachers and families so that we can prepare and design rigorous, equitable virtual instruction for all students.

Public schools and their teachers are tasked with mitigating the damage of ineffective social systems across our nation. We are the providers of first responses to illnesses of the body and soul, not to mention a source of nutritional and social stability for our most vulnerable community members. A plan for virtual learning is safest for our entire community. After our signatures, we have attached articles for your consideration and supplemental, unanswered questions which guide our determination to seek virtual learning for re-opening. After months of celebrating the ingenuity, exhaustive commitment, and expansive labor of educators, the district's leaders have a responsibility to put their support behind our staff.

We look forward to hearing from you,
