

Example of “downscaling” from a global climate model, a general circulation model (GCM), to a regional and more detailed scale to better show and understand high and low temperatures. Sources: Dr. Eric Compas, UW-Whitewater; Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory; USGS