

Exhibit A

Stony Store

History

The Stony Store was originally operated by the Elmore and Sparks Families in Stony in western Denton County. Their daughter, Louise Taylor, inherited the store and was the last to run it with her husband Henry. After the store closed, Louise and Henry's son, Carman O'Dell Taylor became the sole heir. He married Elvia Vereranda in 2002. Carman Taylor died in 2006 leaving the store to his wife. Bill Marquis purchased the structure from Elvia Taylor by giving her approximately $800 from his pocket to save it from demolition and had it moved to his property.

Contents of the store

The contents of the store include the building, items original to the store, and items Bill Marquis has acquired in over 60 years of collecting. Items include, but are not limited to the following:

- Building
- Gas and kerosene pumps, original to the store
- Six counter
- Original meat counter
- Original postal desk
- Original ice box
- Stove
- Barber chair from Huntsville prison
- Cash register
- Various medicine bottles
- Various tobacco containers
- Various signs
- Various soda bottles
- Other various containers
- Various store fixtures
- Light fixtures
- Table and chairs
- Food containers
- Coffee boxes and grinders
- Scales
- Household items
- Butter molds
- Toys and musical instruments
- Clocks

- Baskets
- Glass jars
- Barrels
- Milk containers
- Cream separator
- Coke machine
- Miscellaneous store items