

WITH RISING COSTS, MANY KANSAS HOUSEHOLDS ARE FINDING SAVINGS BY BUNDLING INTERNET & MOBILE

From longer drives between communities to summer heat pushing up energy use, everyday expenses are putting added pressure on household budgets across Kansas. Even for residents driving fuel-efficient vehicles—or working from home—costs like gas, utilities, and connectivity can add up quickly.

That's why more Kansans are looking for practical ways to simplify monthly bills, including bundling services they already rely on. One option worth considering: pairing Cox Internet with Cox Mobile for potential, meaningful savings.

Bundling internet and mobile services can help reduce monthly expenses. Instead of managing separate bills, combining services into one package can lower overall costs—freeing up money for what matters most, whether that's fuel for long drives, rising utility bills, or family priorities.

ENHANCED CONNECTIVITY

Bundled services often come with added benefits, such as faster internet speeds and unlimited data, helping households stay connected as more devices come online. From remote work and virtual learning to streaming and gaming, reliable connectivity makes everyday life easier.

CONVENIENCE AT HOME & ON THE GO

A bundled plan provides seamless connectivity both at home and wherever life takes you. With unlimited mobile data, customers can stay connected while traveling across the state, commuting between towns, or managing day-to-day activities—without worrying about data limits.
