

Pendleton rest areas

On Nov. 6, Pendleton's "right to rest" law went into effect, creating outdoor areas where homeless residents could legally sleep between the hours of 10 p.m. and 6 a.m. The areas are all public properties but exclude sidewalks, parking lots, alleyways and other property designated for pedestrian or vehicular travel.

