

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

for the

District of Puerto Rico

United States of America

v.

Daniel García-Martin

Defendant

Case No. 25-431 (RAM)

ORDER OF DETENTION PENDING TRIAL

Part I - Eligibility for Detention

Upon the

- ☒ Motion of the Government attorney pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3142(f)(1), or ☒ Motion of the Government or Court's own motion pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3142(f)(2), the Court held a detention hearing and found that detention is warranted. This order sets forth the Court's findings of fact and conclusions of law, as required by 18 U.S.C. § 3142(i), in addition to any other findings made at the hearing.

Part II - Findings of Fact and Law as to Presumptions under § 3142(e)

- ☐ A. Rebuttable Presumption Arises Under 18 U.S.C. § 3142(e)(2) (previous violator): There is a rebuttable presumption that no condition or combination of conditions will reasonably assure the safety of any other person and the community because the following conditions have been met:
- ☐ (1) the defendant is charged with one of the following crimes described in 18 U.S.C. § 3142(f)(1):
- ☐ (a) a crime of violence, a violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1591, or an offense listed in 18 U.S.C. § 2332b(g)(5)(B) for which a maximum term of imprisonment of 10 years or more is prescribed; or
 - ☐ (b) an offense for which the maximum sentence is life imprisonment or death; or
 - ☐ (c) an offense for which a maximum term of imprisonment of 10 years or more is prescribed in the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. §§ 801-904), the Controlled Substances Import and Export Act (21 U.S.C. §§ 951-971), or Chapter 705 of Title 46, U.S.C. (46 U.S.C. §§ 70501-70508); or
 - ☐ (d) any felony if such person has been convicted of two or more offenses described in subparagraphs (a) through (c) of this paragraph, or two or more State or local offenses that would have been offenses described in subparagraphs (a) through (c) of this paragraph if a circumstance giving rise to Federal jurisdiction had existed, or a combination of such offenses; or
 - ☐ (e) any felony that is not otherwise a crime of violence but involves:
 - (i) a minor victim; (ii) the possession of a firearm or destructive device (as defined in 18 U.S.C. § 921);
 - (iii) any other dangerous weapon; or (iv) a failure to register under 18 U.S.C. § 2250; and
- ☐ (2) the defendant has previously been convicted of a Federal offense that is described in 18 U.S.C. § 3142(f)(1), or of a State or local offense that would have been such an offense if a circumstance giving rise to Federal jurisdiction had existed; and
- ☐ (3) the offense described in paragraph (2) above for which the defendant has been convicted was committed while the defendant was on release pending trial for a Federal, State, or local offense; and
- ☐ (4) a period of not more than five years has elapsed since the date of conviction, or the release of the defendant from imprisonment, for the offense described in paragraph (2) above, whichever is later.

☐ B. Rebuttable Presumption Arises Under 18 U.S.C. § 3142(e)(3) (narcotics, firearm, other offenses): There is a rebuttable presumption that no condition or combination of conditions will reasonably assure the appearance of the defendant as required and the safety of the community because there is probable cause to believe that the defendant committed one or more of the following offenses:

- ☐ (1) an offense for which a maximum term of imprisonment of 10 years or more is prescribed in the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. §§ 801-904), the Controlled Substances Import and Export Act (21 U.S.C. §§ 951-971), or Chapter 705 of Title 46, U.S.C. (46 U.S.C. §§ 70501-70508);
- ☐ (2) an offense under 18 U.S.C. §§ 924(c), 956(a), or 2332b;
- ☐ (3) an offense listed in 18 U.S.C. § 2332b(g)(5)(B) for which a maximum term of imprisonment of 10 years or more is prescribed;
- ☐ (4) an offense under Chapter 77 of Title 18, U.S.C. (18 U.S.C. §§ 1581-1597) for which a maximum term of imprisonment of 20 years or more is prescribed; or
- ☐ (5) an offense involving a minor victim under 18 U.S.C. §§ 1201, 1591, 2241, 2242, 2244(a)(1), 2245, 2251, 2251A, 2252(a)(1), 2252(a)(2), 2252(a)(3), 2252A(a)(1), 2252A(a)(2), 2252A(a)(3), 2252A(a)(4), 2260, 2421, 2422, 2423, or 2425.

☐ C. Conclusions Regarding Applicability of Any Presumption Established Above

☐ The defendant has not introduced sufficient evidence to rebut the presumption above, and detention is ordered on that basis. (Part III need not be completed.)

OR

☐ The defendant has presented evidence sufficient to rebut the presumption, but after considering the presumption and the other factors discussed below, detention is warranted.

Part III - Analysis and Statement of the Reasons for Detention

After considering the factors set forth in 18 U.S.C. § 3142(g) and the information presented at the detention hearing, the Court concludes that the defendant must be detained pending trial because the Government has proven:

- ☒ By clear and convincing evidence that no condition or combination of conditions of release will reasonably assure the safety of any other person and the community.
- ☐ By a preponderance of evidence that no condition or combination of conditions of release will reasonably assure the defendant's appearance as required.

In addition to any findings made on the record at the hearing, the reasons for detention include the following:

- ☒ Weight of evidence against the defendant is strong
- ☒ Subject to lengthy period of incarceration if convicted
- ☒ Prior criminal history
- ☐ Participation in criminal activity while on probation, parole, or supervision
- ☒ History of violence or use of weapons
- ☒ History of alcohol or substance abuse
- ☐ Lack of stable employment
- ☐ Lack of stable residence
- ☐ Lack of financially responsible sureties
- ☐ Lack of significant community or family ties to this district

AO 472 (Rev. 11/16) Order of Detention Pending Trial

- ☐ Significant family or other ties outside the United States
- ☐ Lack of legal status in the United States
- ☐ Subject to removal or deportation after serving any period of incarceration
- ☐ Prior failure to appear in court as ordered
- ☐ Prior attempt(s) to evade law enforcement
- ☐ Use of alias(es) or false documents
- ☐ Background information unknown or unverified
- ☐ Prior violations of probation, parole, or supervised release

Part IV - Directions Regarding Detention

The defendant is remanded to the custody of the Attorney General or to the Attorney General's designated representative for confinement in a corrections facility separate, to the extent practicable, from persons awaiting or serving sentences or being held in custody pending appeal. The defendant must be afforded a reasonable opportunity for private consultation with defense counsel. On order of a court of the United States or on request of an attorney for the Government, the person in charge of the corrections facility must deliver the defendant to a United States Marshal for the purpose of an appearance in connection with a court proceeding.

This matter arises from a search conducted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (“FBI”) pursuant to a judicially authorized warrant executed at the defendant’s residence. The warrant stemmed from an unrelated white-collar investigation involving the Governor of Puerto Rico and a property belonging to her family.

During the execution of the search, agents discovered three firearms and approximately 143 rounds of ammunition of the same caliber as the firearms located in the defendant’s bedroom. The defendant admitted ownership of all firearms, disclaiming possession by either his consensual partner or her ailing father, for whom he provides care. The defendant stands charged here with being a felon in possession of firearms and ammunition.

The gravity of the instant offense is accentuated by the defendant’s extensive and violent criminal history, coupled with his explicit awareness of his legal prohibition from possessing firearms or ammunition. The record reflects two prior convictions for murder: the first allegedly committed when the defendant was 14 years old, and the second—First Degree Murder—when he was 40 years old. The defendant, now 67, stated that the first homicide involved the killing of his stepfather in reaction to abuse committed against his mother, resulting, by his own account, in a probationary sentence. The 1998 conviction for First Degree Murder included an additional conviction for Carrying and Using a Firearm in violation of Puerto Rico’s Weapons Law, for which the defendant received one year of imprisonment on the weapons offense and twelve years on the murder charge. The government has proffered that the victim of the 1998 murder may have been his consensual partner. During the detention hearing in this case, counsel for the defendant alleged that the 1998 murder was committed by stabbing a person while he was high on crack cocaine. That scenario does not correlate with his 1998 conviction for illegally using and carrying a firearm. See page 4 of the Pretrial Services Report.

In 2011, the defendant was charged with making threats, though that charge was later dismissed pursuant to Rule 247B of the Puerto Rico Rules of Civil Procedure. During the recent search of his home, law enforcement seized $104,000 in U.S. currency. The defendant reported having attended school until only the fourth grade. He therefore possesses only limited literacy skills. He further acknowledged a substantial history of substance abuse, asserting that such history contributed to his 1998 conviction. His pretrial urinalysis, however, yielded negative results for all controlled substances.

The defendant contends that there are conditions of release that could sufficiently assure community safety. More specifically, he argues that the firearms in question were “vintage” and that the ammunition was located “in a sock.” The government disputed the latter claim, emphasizing that the ammunition, regardless of its location, remains lethal and matched the caliber of firearms discovered in the defendant’s possession. Counsel further proffered that the defendant is a great-grandfather, has been drug-free for two decades, possesses no passport, has never traveled outside the United States, and asserts that the $104,000 constitutes his life savings. The defendant therefore concurs with the pretrial services office’s recommendation for release under conditions.

Despite that recommendation, the Court finds that the government has established by clear and convincing evidence that the defendant poses a danger to the community. He shall therefore be detained pending trial. The Court does not find that he poses a serious risk of flight.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
