THE DECADE

Ten years of navigating life without you,
We hope we have made you proud.

A decade without your phone calls, your embraces, and your presence at celebrations but carrying the lessons you left behind.

Yet, your sweet voice still threads through our every sentence, cheering our victories, big and small.

Though your soft hands are gone, they still steady us.

Your memory still runs through our veins,

In a fleeting fragrance,

In your handwritten letters,

Singing your favourite hymns.

Love did not fade, it rearranged.

Time has changed the scene, but we still live inside that love.

Now you are with Daddy,

Joined once more.

Until we meet again- we miss you and we love you.
